Mrs. Edward Orton, Jr., Director General in Charge of the Report to the Smithsonian Institution.

GENERAL SURVEY.

A general survey of the history of the society and its work since its origin was given in the sixteenth report (see S. Doc. 524, 63d Cong., 2d sess.) and therefore it will not be necessary to repeat it here.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE TWENTY-THIRD CONTINENTAL CONGRESS.

The most important activity during the year of the society as a whole was the meeting of the Twenty-third Continental Congress during the week in April in which the date of the Battle of Lexington falls.

The sessions were held in Memorial Continental Hall and the congress was called to order Monday morning, April 20, 1914, at 10.30 a. m., by the president general, Mrs. William Cumming Story.

Since the condition of the society as a whole and its activities are best shown by the reports of the national officers, extracts from some of these reports here follow:

Report of Credential committee.

Mrs. Joseph E. Ransdell, chairman of the credential committee, reported that there were 1,395 chapters and, counting the regents and delegates from these chapters, 2,031 were entitled to vote.

Memorial Continental Hall committee.

Mrs. William Cumming Story, president general, as chairman of Memorial Continental Hall committee, reported as follows:

As chairman of the Memorial Continental Hall committee I come to you with the report of this, the central and most precious possession of our great society.

As the years roll by and we approach nearer and nearer the fulfillment of our dreams and we see our memorial more perfected and made more lovely through the devotion of our members, our enthusiasm deepens, our devotion to it grows deeper, and we long to cry aloud, "It is perfect; it is complete; and it is ours."

It is a pleasure to report to you of the care that has been given to your home. The new superintendent really loves his work and the details have been thoroughly cared for. Some time ago when I was privileged to visit Mount Vernon, I was offered by Mrs. McCleary, regent of our Washington State, a plant of ivy from the grave of Washington. Then it occurred to me that if that gracious gift could be increased to 13 plants it would be such a beautiful opportunity to unite in sentiment the two most hallowed objects—Washington's grave and our own Memorial Hall—by planting the ivy near the 13 columns that represent the 13 original colonies, which support the southern portico of our hall. My suggestion met with a very generous response, and, not only were the 13 plants sent to us by the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association, but Mrs. Ball, one of the regents, most graciously lent her presence on the occasion of the planting. It was not only from Mount Vernon that a quick and kind response was made, for each one of the 13 States sent a representative to plant the ivy, and your own home and grounds committee, under the able direction of the chairman, Mrs. Richardson, at once took up the arrangements and a most unique and inspiring occasion was the result when this historic ivy was placed as near as practicable to the 13 memorial columns.

Your Continental Hall committee has been faithful in the discharge of its duties and the building is in admirable condition. It may at times seem to some of our members or the public that there are a number of restrictions in the matter of exhibiting the hall, but these restrictions have been carefully thought out and are prompted by a desire to guard and protect from injury this precious temple that you have intrusted to their care.

Personally my heart swells with pride and happiness when I see the number of people who visited our hall, and I know that these people will many of them return to their homes and tell of the work our beloved society is doing and will hold in their memory a picture of this great and beautiful monument to the ideals of true Americanism.

Day by day some tribute of love is given, some detail is perfected or made more lovely. My daughters, do you realize that it is you who have achieved this great work? Where is there anything that can compare with it? So full of sentiment, so rich in artistic beauty. Look at it in the bright noon sunlight with the clear blue sky back of it; look at it in the lovely violet sunset and when the moon's soft light is on it; always it is lovely. Oh, my daughters, love it and love all that it stands for, for it is your own. This is the thing that we hold in union; it is the thing that we own together; it is the tie that binds us close to each other, coming from North and South and East and West, and bringing our tributes of love and loyalty to this altar of your ideals. In memory of the men and women that you delight to honor, I ask your donations, your contributions, for the liquidation of the debt on Memorial Continental Hall.

Report of the Chaplain General.

The report of the chaplain general was largely a report of those who have passed away during the year:

Madam President General and Members of the Twenty-third Continental Congress:

We have reached the point where we must make a record of some of the active members of our society who have passed from us since we last met in this hall. Among those deceased were two ex-presidents general, Mrs. Charles Warren Fairbanks, Mrs. Adlai Stevenson; Mrs. John R. Walker, Kansas City; Mrs. Charles H. Deere; Mrs. George H. Shields, first secretary; Mrs. Henry H. Cumings, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Elizabeth Towson Bullock, former chaplain general; Mrs. Maria Purdy Peck, Iowa; Mrs. S. W. Sydnor, of Texas; Mrs. Abigail Jane Hitchcock Dyer, of Vermont; Mrs. Luther B. Benton, Maryland; Mrs. Isaac R. Sherwood, wife of Congressman Sherwood, of Ohio; Mrs. Rebecca Warren Brown, of Massachusetts; Mrs. Catherine S. McCartney; Mrs. Hanneberger, of Virginia.

Report of Recording Secretary General.

Madam President General, Officers, and Members:

During the year 10 board meetings have been reported, one a special meeting. For the first time in the history of the national society, minutes of the board meetings have been gotten ready by the recording secretary general for publication in the magazine the following month.

In response to many questions asked the recording secretary general and also the editor, the recording secretary general hereby states that the reports of all officers and chairmen after being approved by the board must, by the ruling of the board, appear entirely unchanged in the magazine, both as to context, diction, and arrangement. This ruling applies to all motions passed by the board as well.

At the request of the board, copies of all the rulings of each board meeting were prepared for each national officer instead of only the rulings pertaining to each particular office, as heretofore.

Nine meetings of Memorial Continental Hall committee were also reported by this office and the minutes prepared, in addition to the meetings of the executive committee.

Since the twenty-second congress we have to report that 3,101 certificates have been issued and mailed.

ABBIE WILLIAMS R. BOYLE,
Recording Secretary General.

In addition to these, 1,312 constitutions, with proposed revision and proposed changes in the revision of the constitution, were mailed to the State and chapter regents within the time limit prescribed by the constitution.

Respectfully submitted.

The number of admissions during the past year is an increase over the greatest number ever admitted in any previous year, and the addition of so many volumes will make it necessary to increase the shelf space.

It has been found absolutely necessary during the past year to insist upon a more rigid enforcement of the rule that dates and places of birth and death of the Revolutionary ancestor with name of wife, lists of children, and dates down the line be supplied. This has been found necessary because in comparing new papers with the old records we have found in some instances that brothers had been named as father and son, and when the correct dates were supplied the father appeared to be but two years older than the son. In many instances the correction of these mistakes has proven that the applicant was not eligible, not being a direct descendant of the Revolutionary soldier; in other cases, we have been able to cut out a generation, and thus make the application correct.

Respectfully submitted.

CATHERINE E. B. BRUMBAUGH,
Registrar General.

The following vice presidents general were elected at the Twenty-third Continental Congress: Mrs. George Maynard Minor, of Connecticut; Mrs. Joseph S. Wood, of New York; Mrs. Eliza Ferry Leary, of Washington; Mrs. Charles Clemence Abbott, of New Hampshire; Mrs. Alvin B. Lane, of Texas; Mrs. George T. Smallwood, of the District of Columbia; Mrs. Samuel W. Jamison, of Virginia; Mrs. Charles R. Davis, of Minnesota; Mrs. Edmund F. Noel, of Mississippi; Mrs. William H. Crosby, of Wisconsin.

GIFTS TO THE SCCIETY.

Gifts, other than money, presented to the national society during the Twenty-third Congress:

The State regent of Maryland, Mrs. Robert G. Hogan, presented, on behalf of Maryland daughters, a bronze portrait tablet of the late State regent of Maryland, Mrs. Catherine Grosh Thom. The tablet is the work of Hans Schuler, and is to hang in the Maryland room of Continental Hall. Mrs. Hogan also presented a portrait, on behalf of the Thomas Johnson Chapter of Maryland, of Gov. Thomas Johnson, the first Federal governor of Maryland. The portrait is a copy from a family group of Charles Wilson Peale, now in the gallery of the Maryland Historical Society in Baltimore.

The Baltimore Chapter presented two volumes of the "Calvert Papers," the basis of early Maryland history, as a tribute to Miss Alice Key Blunt, first regent of the chapter. The chapter also presented to the library the thirty-third volume of the Maryland Archives. This collection was started by Mrs. Thom, and the chapter will continue it as a tribute to Mrs. Thom.

Mrs. George O. Jenkins, State regent of Massachusetts, presented a history of 114 real daughters of Massachusetts.

Miss Julia A. Alexander presented a copy of the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence.

A marble bust of Hon. Hugh Vernon Washington, a memorial, the result of contributions by the members of the society, was presented.

Mrs. Charles W. Richardson, State regent of the District of Columbia, addressed the Congress on the subject of the State flags, which adorned the auditorium, stating that honor was due to Miss Catherine B. Barlow, who originated the idea of having flags presented.

A portrait of Joseph Winter was presented by Mrs. A. H. Alfriend, regent of Piedmont Continental Chapter, of Atlanta Ga., and a great-granddaughter of Joseph Winter, who was an "ensign" in New York City Militia in 1775 and a member of committee of safety on Washington's staff. He was also a member of the Provincial Congress, and one of the two chosen by the Congress to number and sign the issue of paper currency authorized by the Provincial Congress on March 5, 1776. It was he who read the Declaration of Independence to the people of New York City July 18, 1776, at the time when the king's arms were torn from the front of the City Hall.

Mrs. William Oscar Roome, of the District of Columbia, presented a silver tea service which had been a wedding gift to her from some of the daughters, to the president general's room in Memorial Continental Hall, with the wish that Mrs. William Cumming Story be the first to use it.

Mrs. Abby Farwell Ferry, of Illinois, presented an emblem to be used at the last sad rites of departed members, and which consisted of a draped flag, with a bouquet of flowers, the State or chapter flower to be used, if desired, and tied with a white ribbon bearing the insignia of the society and the name of the chapter.

It was announced that the result of the "rally day" contributions to Memorial Continental Hall fund was $12,423.79 in money, with pledges of $6,355.95, making a total of $18,779.74. The congress acted upon the recommendation of the treasurer general that $20,000 be transferred from the current fund to the permanent fund. This enabled the treasurer to take up six bonds, amounting to $30,000, and reducing the debt on the building from $115,000 to $85,000.

The reports of the standing committees (too long to be given here) showed a most encouraging activity and progress in the work of the society.

During the week of the congress two memorial services were held in honor of two presidents general who have recently passed away—Mrs. Charles Warren Fairbanks, president general from 1901 to 1905, who died October 24, 1913, and Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson, president general from 1893–1895, 1896–1898, who died December 25, 1913.

This, in brief, is an account of the proceedings of the Twenty-third Continental Congress.

REAL DAUGHTERS.

Since the organization of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1890 the total number of real daughters admitted to March, 1914, has been 727. The number deceased since the last Congress is 17; the number of pensioners during the past year, 41; the total number living March, 1914, 101.

These real daughters are scattered over 30 States of the Union. Massachusetts and New York lead as the home States of these honored women, each State having 11 real daughters. Michigan comes next with 8, followed by Pennsylvania and Ohio with 6 each. Maine, Connecticut, Indiana, and Illinois have 5 each; Wisconsin and Iowa, 4 each; New Hampshire, New Jersey, Virginia, and Kansas, 3; Vermont, South Carolina, West Virginia, 2; and there is 1 each credited to the District of Columbia, Rhode Island, Maryland, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas, Missouri, Minnesota, Nebraska, and Utah. Of these 101 daughters, 13 are members at large. (See Appendix B, sixteenth report, for complete list of real daughters, both living and deceased.

Dorothy Q. Chapter, of Crawfordsville, Ind., reports the death, October 17, 1914, of its real daughter, Mrs. Lucinda McMullen.

Peoria Chapter, Peoria, Ill., has marked the grave of Lydia Moss Bradley, real daughter and member of the chapter. Lydia Moss Bradley was the daughter of Zealy Moss, born in Virginia in 1755, and served as wagon master in the commissary department in the Revolutionary War. Her grandfather, Nathaniel Moss, served as chaplain in the Revolutionary War. Mrs. Bradley was born in 1816; died in 190–.

The Mercy Warren Chapter, of Springfield, Mass., has marked the graves of Mrs. Pauline Dibble Deyo, born in October, 1817, died April 28, 1903; and also Miss Mary Stebbins Cooley, born 1817, died February 14, 1911.

The Abiel Fellows Chapter, of Three Rivers, Mich., has placed a tablet to the memory of Mrs. Sarah Fellows Huyck. It was unveiled at Nicholsville, Mich., October 3, 1914. Mrs. Huyck was a daughter of Abiel Fellows, for whom this chapter was named. She was a member at the time of her death.

Mrs. Huyck was Michigan's last real daughter, and the story of her life is very interesting. It is best told in her own words furnished by the Lansing Chapter, D. A. R., two years before her death, in 1909, as follows:

MY DEAR SECRETARY: When I received your letter asking me to write you a history of my life, I said, "Why, I have no history," for, while I have lived an unusually long life, it has been an uneventful one. However, such as it is, since you ask it, I will give it to you, trusting there may be some point of interest in it for you of the days so long gone by.

I am the daughter of Col. Abiel Fellows, a Revolutionary soldier who enlisted from Canaan, Conn. I was born March 19, 1818, in Luzerne County, Pa., and was one of 13 children. My father was a farmer, and we lived in the Shickshinny Mountains, a spur of the Alleghenies.

In the year 1829, when I was 11 years old, we moved to Kalamazoo County, Mich. I shall never forget this journey, made with two prairie schooners—one drawn by three horses and the other by two. We were 20 days on the road, camping at night at the most convenient places. I remember very distinctly crossing the Cuyahoga River at Cleveland, Ohio, on such a strange looking bridge, which they called a float bridge. I remember, too, of the three long days in the Maumee swamp, where the mud seemed to have no bottom. It was in this swamp I saw my first Indian, which, perhaps, helps to enhance the unpleasant memories of the place.

After leaving Toledo we had no wagon track to follow and were obliged to follow the Indian trail. We found one house at Coldwater and a very small collection of houses at Monroe. It was here that my father, who had gone to Michigan the year previous to prepare a place for us, met us. So this place will always stand out clear in my memory. It was at Monroe that my father purchased 30 bushels of wheat which he left to be ground into flour. Later on we had many calls for a little flour to make a wedding cake or something else equally important.

After a hedged-in life among the Pennsylvania hills, the western prairies seemed boundless, and I expected to find everything on an equally extended scale. But when we reached the home prepared for us (a little log house with only two rooms) I wondered where we were ever going to stow ourselves. Immediately I made up my mind that I should always have to sleep in the wagon—a thing most heartily despised. Indeed, I have wondered all my life how my mother, with such an unusually large brood, managed in such pinched quarters, leaving as she did a large and convenient house.

As I remember we never suffered for any of the necessities of life. The soil was fertile, the small fruits grew rapidly, and we soon had an orchard started. The second year we raised more grain than we needed and had a quantity to sell. To be sure, going 135 miles on horseback or in lumber wagon for supplies would now seem almost an impossibility, but it was not so bad, or at least did not seem so bad, for we always had horses to spare, and boys, too, for that matter.

There was one thing, however, we did miss, and that was the clear, sparkling spring water that gushed from the rock or gurgled over the stony bed of the creek. We had never before known what hard water meant, and when I was stricken with the inevitable chills and fever I thought if I could only have a drink from the old spring out of the gourd dipper I would certainly get well.

The first post office in Kalamazoo County was at our home, and my father was postmaster. He received his commission from Gen. Jackson. I very well remember the first mail he brought from White Pigeon. There was a bushel and a half of it. Father had to pay 25 cents for every letter given in his charge; but he never lost anything, for everyone was only too glad to hear from the home folks "back in the States" not to be willing to refund the amount of money paid. If a large amount of money was sent in the mail—for instance a $50 or $100 bill—it was cut in two and one piece sent at a time.

I remember very well the great meteoric shower of 1833, which we were called up to witness by our doctor, who was making a professional call in our neighborhood.

But I think you would rather hear something about my father than so much of myself, so I will tell you about a little incident that happened in the excitement of the Black Hawk War, which proved my father's courage.

In the spring of 1833 the colonel of the First Michigan Regulars, whose regiment had been ordered to the front, had important papers and money he wished carried to Detroit. It was considered a most perilous journey at that time, and I distinctly remember Col. Daniels asking my father to carry these papers, saying he had been unable to find a man who dared undertake the trip. My father was at this time 70 years of age, but nevertheless he readily consented to go. He took the valuable papers and put them in his saddlebags and made a successful trip in six days, meeting on the way 10 Indians to every one white man. The Indians around us at home were very friendly and often came to us for favors. I once saw the noted old Indian, Shavehead, whose boast was that he had the scalps of 99 white people and was waiting for the one hundredth one. I saw him at Flowerfield, a mile and a half from home. I knew it was my scalp he was waiting for, so I tied my sunbonnet strings clear to the ends, thinking I would make him all the trouble I could in getting my scalp, and then ran every step of the way home.

The first district school in Kalamazoo County was in our neighborhood and I married its third teacher, Richard J. Huyck. We commenced housekeeping in the village of Kalamazoo, where my husband was employed as salesman and bookkeeper in the only dry goods store of the place. One year later we moved to Cass County and bought the farm I still own. I am the mother of seven children, five of them and my husband having gone to the other shore. My two remaining children and I are living together in the village of Decatur..

In writing of these past days I can scarcely realize that the little girl who, back in the Pennsylvania hills, rode the workhorses to the creek for their noonday drink, and thought it the greatest happiness conceivable, can be the aged woman whom my mirror reflects, and who will be 90 years old next March, and is the only living person who came to Kalamazoo County in 1829.

In reply to my grandchildren, who say so often, "Grandmother, would you like to be young again?" I say "No;" yet, save the loss of friends, I have had a very peaceful, happy life, but I am getting tired, and amid the lengthening shadows I would rather go on to the end in the appointed way than to go back over the long road again. I rest in assurance that whatever the great change brings "I shall be satisfied."

Emily Virginia Chapter, Hastings, Mich., has placed a tablet on the grave of a real daughter, Mrs. Emmeline Walton, at Maple Grove, Mich.

On October 6, 1914, the Marquette Chapter placed a bronze D. A. R. marker in the Park Cemetery, Marquette, Mich., on the tombstone of our real daughter, Mrs. Caroline Whipple Eddy.

On the same date a portrait of Mrs. Eddy, bearing the inscription "Caroline Whipple Eddy, daughter of Elnathan Whipple, Soldier of the American Revolution," was hung in the Peter White Public Library of Marquette, Mich.

Mrs. Caroline Whipple Eddy was born in Fairhaven, Vt., April 29, 1821, and died March 8, 1906. She was the daughter of Ethan Whipple, who was born in Providence, R. I., February 13, 1758, and died in Fairhaven, Conn., December 18, 1836. He served in the Continental Army of Rhode Island with the rank of sergeant at intervals during 1776–1779. His widow's number in the pension record is 25,994.

Gan-e-o-de-ya Chapter, of Caledonia, has placed a marker on the grave of a real daughter, Mrs. Susan Furbush Richardson Kelsey, who was a member of Deo-on-go-wa Chapter, of Batavia, N. Y., but lived in Caledonia, N. Y.

Granite Chapter, of Newfields, N. H., has had for several years the care and comfort of a destitute real daughter of the Revolution in the person of Mrs. Saphronia Watson Yorke, daughter of David Watson, of New Market, a New Hampshire soldier who served under Gen. Washington at the siege of Yorktown. In the work of benevolence the chapter has been aided by other chapters, both by contributions of money, clothing, and small personal articles. The MEMORIAL GATES, PLAINFIELD, CONN.

National Daughters of the American Revolution granted Mrs. Yorke a pension of $8 per month, and the State Daughters of the American Revolution founded a burial fund. Mrs. Yorke died January 21, 1914, and the local chapter attended her funeral. Several years ago, when in more affluent circumstances, Mrs. Yorke procured and had set for herself a gravestone, making it unnecessary for the Daughters of the American Revolution to procure one for her.

Oberlin Chapter, of Oberlin, Ohio, proudly claims a living real daughter, Mrs. Nancy Wolcott Squire. During the Ohio State conference Mrs. Squire gave a dinner of handsome appointments, of 40 covers, entertaining the State officers, ex-State officers, and distinguished guests of the conference. The place cards bore, in addition to the name of the guest, the date, October 27, 1914, and the name of the hostess, all written by herself.

Mrs. Squire is a much loved and prominent member of the Oberlin Chapter and the town of Oberlin.

Phebe Bayard Chapter, of Greensburg, Pa., reports:

A real daughter bronze tablet was placed on the gravestone of Mrs. Margaret Campbell Craig.

A real daughter granite headstone was placed on the grave of Mrs. Ann Heckler, Hillview Cemetery, near Greensburg, Pa.

A real daughter granite headstone was placed on the grave of Mrs. Elizabeth Ross, in the cemetery near Pleasant Unit, Pa.

GRAVES OF REVOLUTIONARY SOLDIERS.

Much work has been done by the chapters in locating the graves of soldiers of the Revolution. Many of the graves have been marked with an iron marker and the marble marker furnished by the Government. Where more imposing monuments have been erected with special ceremonies it seems best to give an account of them by States, as follows:

CONNECTICUT.

At "Plainfield Burying Hill," Plainfield, Conn., iron gates with posts of field stone have been erected. The bronze tablet marking the gates bears the following inscription:

> In memory of the Revolutionary soldiers who enlisted from the town of Plainfield, 1775–1778. Erected by Deborah Avery Putnam Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, 1914.

Sarah Williams Danielson Chapter, of Killingly, Conn., has restored an old cemetery at Dayville Four Corners. In this cemetery are the remains of two Revolutionary soldiers that have been verified, and there is a possibility of there being other graves belonging to soldiers of the Revolution.

The stone wall inclosing the cemetery has been rebuilt, and an attractive gateway erected at the eastern entrance. At the right of this gateway is a bronze tablet containing this inscription:

> Restored by the Sarah Williams Danielson Chapter, D. A. R., of Killingly, A. D. 1913.

Old gravestones were cleaned and placed in their original positions and the underbrush removed. This work of restoration was done at an expense of $185, the town of Killingly paying $60 of that amount. At the completion of the work appropriate exercises were held, to which the chapters of Putnam, Plainfield, and Jewett City were invited.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The John Hall Chapter, of District of Columbia has marked the grave of Lieut. Dan Johnson, in the Center Street Cemetery, in Wallingford, Conn. Lieut. Dan Johnson was born in Wallingford, Conn., March 24, 1746, and died September 2, 1830; was one of the first to represent his town in the assembly after the Revolution, and a lieutenant in Capt. Yale's company in the Revolution. He was an ancestor of the regent of John Hall Chapter, which accounts for its marking by a chapter in another State.

The State historic committee placed a marker on the grave of Gen. James Jackson, a soldier of the Revolution, from Georgia, buried in the Congressional Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

GEORGIA.

The inscription on the handsome slab unveiled by Henry Walton Chapter reads as follows:

> Benjamin Fitzpatrick, pioneer citizen of Morgan County and Revolutionary soldier, to whose memory the Henry Walton Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution dedicate this stone, July 4, 1912.

(Not previously reported.)

During the year 1913–14 the Savannah Chapter erected and dedicated a memorial arch in Colonial Cemetery, Savannah, to the memory of the Revolutionary patriots buried there. The arch is of a very handsome design, of gray granite, surmounted by a bronze eagle resting on a large bronze ball. Underneath the ball on the arch are the initials D. A. R. in bronze. On each of the two columns is a slab of Italian marble. One of them bears the inscription: "Erected by Savannah Chapter, Daughters American Revolution, 1913." On the other is inscribed: "In memory of the patriots of the War of the American Revolution, 1775 to 1783, in Colonial Cemetery." This arch was dedicated and unveiled with fitting ceremonies on February 12, 1914.

BOWLDER MARKING GRAVE OF NATHANIEL PRENTICE, INDIANA.

MONUMENT ON GRAVE OF TIMOTHY BROWN, IOWA.

On November 6, 1914, the Major General Samuel Elbert Chapter, of Tennille, Ga., unveiled two markers to the memory of two soldiers of the Revolution—John Jordan and Moses Newton. Signs pointing to these graves are placed along the road, that any who chance to pass that way may know where these Revolutionary soldiers lie.

ILLINOIS.

Peoria Chapter has placed three tablets, with the following inscriptions:

Bazel Meek. A soldier of the Revolutionary War, Virginia Troops. Peoria Chapter, D. A. R.

Eliot Gray. A soldier of the Revolutionary War, Massachusetts Troops. Peoria Chapter, D. A. R.

INDIANA.

Bloomington Chapter, Indiana, reports as follows:

In a little graveyard surrounded by the campus of Indiana University are buried the three Brewster sisters, Eleanor, Agnes, and Jeanette, who aided very materially in the establishment of American independence. Bloomington Chapter considers it very fitting to honor the memory of these noble women in some way, and our special work for the coming year is the reclaiming of this cemetery. When the land which is now the campus of Indiana University was bought by the State the owner, Mr. Moses Dunn, a descendant of the Brewster sisters, refused to sell the little plat, which contained the graves of his ancestors; hence it has been uncared for until the local chapter of the D. A. R. became interested in it. The committee which has charge of the work of reclaiming this little cemetery consists of descendants of the sisters who are buried there, and its work will be to have the ground put in good condition and surround the same with a stone wall and place suitable markers at the graves.

The Brewster sisters lived in Virginia at the time of the war, and for six weeks Washington's army was very near their home. They worked day and night spinning and weaving and making clothes for the soldiers, cooking their meals, and moulding bullets. It was said their oven was never cold, and they melted all their silver spoons, etc., to make bullets. Later these sisters were married and came to Indiana with their families. They are buried side by side in the little Dunn cemetery.

In Prentice Park, Martin and Sixth Streets, Ligonier, Ind., May 22, at 2.30 p. m., a large bowlder was placed over the grave of Nathaniel Prentice by Nathaniel Prentice Chapter, D. A. R. The bronze tablet bears the following inscription:

Nathaniel Prentice. 1764–1839. A soldier of the Revolution. Erected by the D. A. R.

It bears the D. A. R. emblem; also the Masonic emblem.

IOWA.

Washington Chapter, of Washington, Iowa, has placed a monument on the grave of Timothy Brown, a soldier of the Revolution.

KANSAS.

Hannah Jameson Chapter, of Parsons, Kans., has erected a gateway to Oakwood Cemetery in memory of a Revolutionary ancestor of members of the chapter.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The John Paul Jones Chapter, of Boston, held, on August 31, 1914, in York Village, Me., suitable exercises, under the direction of Mrs. Marian Longfellow, of Boston, in the old cemetery where lie buried many Revolutionary soldiers and sailors. A 13-starred flag was placed at the grave of Esaias Preble, one of the sailors under John Paul Jones during the great sea fight December 24, 1778.

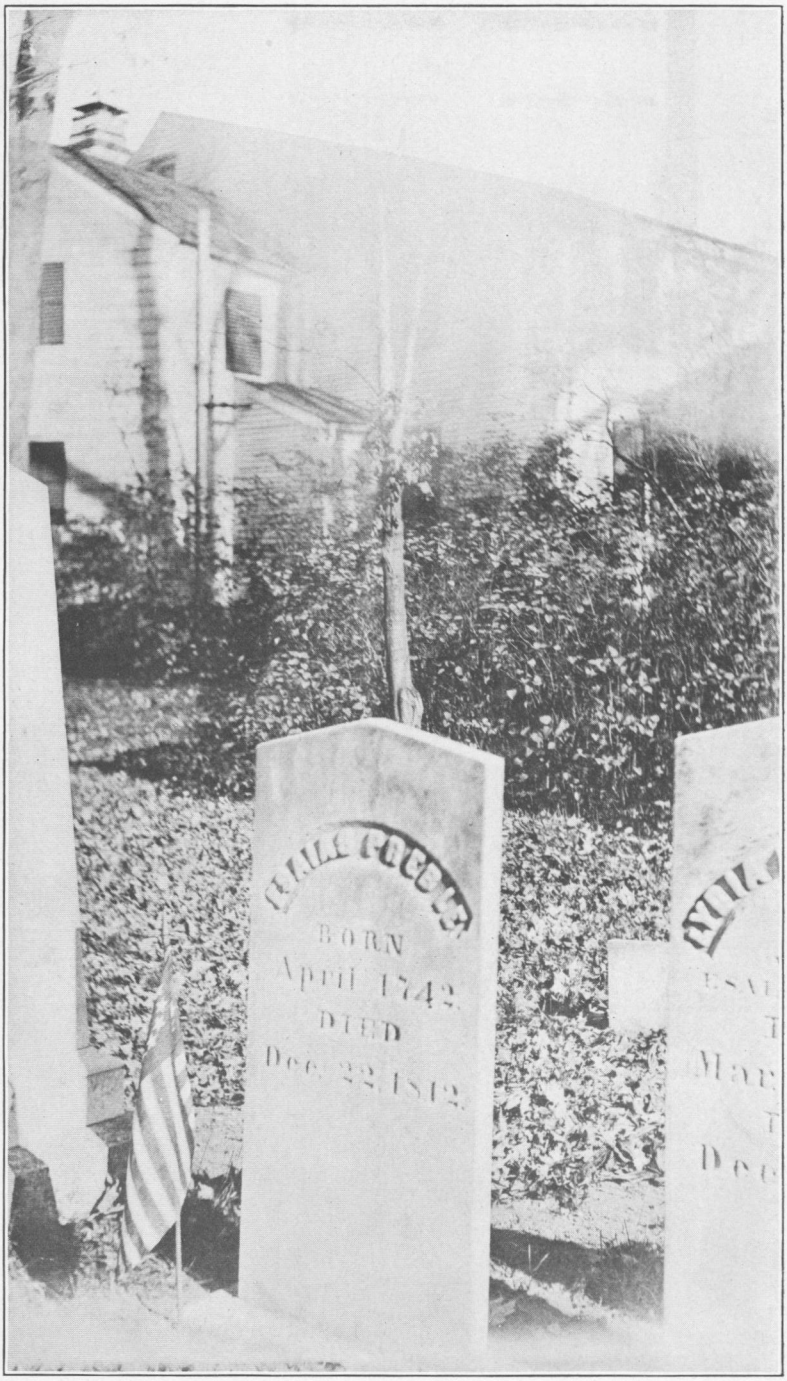

Mrs. Longfellow was made honorary member of the chapter in consequence of this and other patriotic work at that time.

The Mercy Warren Chapter, of Springfield, Mass., has marked the graves of Lieuts. Benjamin Ashley, David Ashley, and Pvts. John Ashley, Moses Ashley, Aaron Bagg, Oliver Bagg, Dea. John Bagg, and Medes Champion.

The Molly Varnum Chapter, of Lowell, purchased a lot in the Lowell Cemetery, in which to erect a monument to soldiers and sailors of the Revolutionary War that lie in unknown graves.

The Samuel Adams Chapter, of Methuen, reports as follows:

> One hundred and fifty men went at the first call to meet the British at Concord and Lexington out of 252 poll-tax payers. A company from Methuen bore an important part at the battle of Bunker Hill the June following.
> In 1902 a committee was appointed by Samuel Adams Chapter to try to locate the graves of Revolutionary soldiers. Fifty-one were found and marked with special markers prepared for the purpose, and each Memorial Day since a flag has been placed over the grave of each soldier. Near the entrance of the three cemeteries of the town a bronze tablet has been placed, stating that these graves were thus marked by Samuel Adams Chapter. We have not a list of the names of those whose graves are thus marked.

Thayer's regiment in 1780, and marched to West Point. Buried in Ashwood Cemetery, Weymouth, Mass.

MICHIGAN.

The General Richardson Chapter, of Pontiac, has marked with a Revolutionary soldier's marker, August 19, 1911, the grave of Lydia Potter in Baldwin Cemetery, Oakland County, Mich. Lydia Potter did not carry a musket, but she served her country by working day and night to clothe the destitute soldiers at Valley Forge. General Richardson Chapter thus honors her memory.

Also placed a Government marker at the grave of Capt. Archelous Perkins of the Virginia line. On the shore of Lake Ontario is a little rock-bound island called Spy Island, where rests the remains of a soldier and spy of the Revolutionary War whose name was Silas Town. When the call to arms was heard at Lexington and Bunker Hill, he joined the Army, and being bright and eagle-eyed his services were soon sought by the Government as a spy, and he was sent out on some of the most hazardous enterprises. He was connected with Arnold's expedition to attack Quebec and was a hero in many secret missions in Canada and elsewhere. The inscription on his monument reads:

> Erected July 4, 1871, to the memory of Silas Town, an officer under Washington. Died 1806.

The island has been given over to the care of those Daughters of the American Revolution whose chapter bears the name of Silas Town, at Mexico, N. Y. The chapter has improved the island by the planting of shrubs and trees, and also a beautiful flag and pole has been placed upon it. The chapter holds one meeting a year, usually in June, upon the island, which is across the river or creek from a summer resort.

Washington Heights Chapter, of New York City, on May 19, 1914, marked the grave of a Revolutionary soldier, Capt. Engle, in the cemetery of the Old Dutch Reformed Church at Ridgefield, N. J.

Andrew Engle was enrolled in the Twelfth Pennsylvania Continental line October 1, 1776. On December 20, 1778, he was promoted to captain-lieutenant in the Third Pennsylvania under Col. Thomas Craig. He fought at the Battles of Brandywine and Germantown; was wounded at Valley Forge and again at Monmouth, but served till 1781. He married in 1782, and a very interesting and valuable authentic colored print of Capt. Engle and his bride can be viewed in the room of the Washington Heights Chapter, at Washington headquarters, One hundred and sixtieth Street and Jumel Terrace. It represents them watching the skating at Collect Pond, in the vicinity of Canal and Center Streets, New York City. It is loaned to the museum by a direct descendant—a great-granddaughter, Miss Margaret M. Tracy, New York City.

OHIO.

Cincinnati Chapter, of Cincinnati, Ohio, reports:

> After many delays the beautiful bronze tablet (reported last year) given by the chapter to mark the reservation of old Fort Washington was unveiled Saturday, March 16, 1914, with most impressive ceremonies. The tablet is placed on the new Guilford public school building, which is built on the northeast corner of the reservation. This building is in the nature of a monument to Nathan Guilford, who was instrumental in giving free schools to Ohio.

Hetuck Chapter, of Newark, records that the marker placed at the grave of Eldad Steele was broken and a new marble marker secured.

The grave of Thomas Seymour could not be marked, but the remains were removed to Cedar Hill Cemetery and marked.

Lima Chapter, of Lima, reports the placing of a monument, sent from Washington, over the grave of William Chenoweth, the only Revolutionary soldier whose grave has been established in Allen County. The inscription reads: "Serg. Wm. Chenoweth V. Mil. Rev. War."

The above is the correct inscription on the Government marker of William Chenoweth, whose burial place is in the "Ton'y Nose" Cemetery, 2 miles east of Lima, Ohio.

The marker was permanently set in a heavy concrete base at the grave on November 3, 1913, by Isaac Mumaugh, E. W. Mumaugh, and Dr. Shelby Mumaugh, the two last named being direct lineal descendants (great-grandchildren) of said soldier.

Dicey Langston was born and lived in Greenville County. Her grave is the only one the chapter has been able to locate up to this time. Her father and brothers fought in the Revolutionary War, and history tells of three occasions on which she rendered able assistance by frustrating the plans of a band of Tories, each time at the risk of her life.

> In memory of the soldiers of the Revolution buried in Wood County: Captain James Neal, Captain John Jones, Lieutenant Samuel Bell, Orderly Sergeant Francis Laugfitt, Bailey Rice, Richard Mayhew, Mather Haddock, Spencer Sharp. These men freely offered on the altar of their country their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor. Erected by the James Wood Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, 1908.

HISTORIC SPOTS.

The following account does not confine itself entirely to the marking of historic spots connected with the Revolution. In the far west there is no Revolutionary history, and so the chapters have made general history the subject of investigation. But, wherever possible, Revolutionary history has been given the preference.

ALABAMA.

General Sumter Chapter, of Birmingham, has placed a tablet on the walls of the courthouse of Talladega by the Horseshoe Bend anniversary committee to commemorate the famous battle with the Creek Indians, March 27, 1914. The Government has marked the scene of the battle with a monument. The land was donated by Mrs. Nora Miller, Daughter of the American Revolution.

CALIFORNIA.

The Copa de Oro Chapter, of Alameda, on June 17, 1914, presented to the city of Alameda a bronze tablet set in stone to commemorate the discovery of Indian mounds in that city. The inscription reads as follows:

> One thousand feet due west was a prehistoric mound 400 feet long, 50 feet wide and 14 feet high. The remains of 450 Indians, with stone implements and shell ornaments, were found when the mound was removed in 1908. Erected by Copa de Oro Chapter, D. A. R., 1914.

Addresses were made by the regent and other members of the chapter; by Prof. T. T. Waterman of the ethnological and anthropological departments of the University of California; and by various city officials. The tablet was unveiled by Ishi, the last of the Deer Creek Tribe of Indians.

CONNECTICUT.

Deborah Avery Putnam Chapter, of Plainfield, reports that "Burying Hill," Plainfield's old town cemetery, had fallen into desolation. A petition to the town by this chapter, signed by the required number of signatures, resulted in its restoration, and a good approach was made. This chapter marked the spot by stone posts, iron gates, and bronze tablet.

March 15, 1711, at a Plainfield town meeting, it was voted "that the place which has been for several years improved by the inhabitants for a place for burying of their dead; that it shall abide and remain for the aforesaid use." Inscription on tablet:

> In memory of the Revolutionary Soldiers who enlisted from the Town of Plainfield, 1775–1778. Erected by Deborah Avery Putnam Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, 1914.

Mary Clap Wooster Chapter, of New Haven, has marked two historic spots:

1. Landing place of British under Gen. Tryon on east shore of New Haven Harbor, at (present) Lighthouse Point. The attack on New Haven was made July 5, 1779.

2. A memorial, similar in design to No. 1, placed at the western end of the city on Edgewood Park to indicate the defense of the town near the spot on July 5, 1779. The attacking party was from the force which landed at the west shore of the harbor, and which had attempted the passage of West River at another point earlier in the day, but had been repulsed. A young, brave, and manly British officer had been killed during the first attack (Adjt. Campbell); and a monument erected by Connecticut citizens marks his burial place in recognition of his courteous treatment of the residents of New Haven. After marching round to the western side of the town the British were successful in crossing West River and making an attack in the town itself.

Both of these memorials preserve British cannon, and are so finely placed as to be historic lessons read by passers-by.

Sarah Riggs Humphrey Chapter, of Ansonia, joined with the Elizabeth Clark Chapter, of Ansonia, and placed a granite marker on the dividing line between the towns of Derby and Ansonia, the east side of the Naugatuck River, on the Old Town Road, which was the Post Road between New Haven and Albany, at a place which was originally the center of Derby. This marks the division line between the two towns, and the inscription on the Derby side of the stone is as follows:

> Erected by the Sarah Riggs Chapter, D. A. R.

GEORGIA.

The Kettle Creek Chapter, of Washington, Ga., reports:

> We have bought the battlefield on which the battle of Kettle Creek was fought, and have now before the Library Committee in Washington, D. C., a bill for an appropriation for marking this battlefield.

The Stephen Heard Chapter, of Elberton, reports:

Our chapter owns 11 acres of land where Nancy Hart performed the brave act of killing six Tories during the war of the Revolution. We have a sufficient fund with which to mark this spot and have contracted to erect a drinking fountain in our city park to her memory. Nancy Hart's home site, which we own, is located 9 miles from Elberton in Elbert County, about one-quarter of a mile from public highway running parallel with Elberton & Eastern Railroad.

INDIANA.

The Hoosier Elm Chapter, of Corydon, has marked with a tablet the elm tree under which the State constitution of Indiana was drafted.

The John Paul Chapter, of Madison, has continued to beautify and maintain its John Paul Park, named to perpetuate the memory of one of the founders of Madison, who gave this site to the town for a cemetery. It had been long disused and sorely neglected until reclaimed to its present use.

IOWA.

Stars and Stripes Chapter, of Burlington, sends the following account:

Black Hawk Spring at Crapo Park was marked, in November, 1914, with handsome bronze tablet, bearing the following inscription:

> Black Hawk Spring, named in honor of the famous warrior, Chief Black Hawk, who, with his tribe, used this spring when camping in this vicinity. Erected by Stars and Stripes Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Beneath this legend is placed the emblem of the Daughters of the American Revolution. At the top an Indian head represents Black Hawk, beneath which are crossed arrows, tomahawk, and peace pipe. The border framing the whole consists of alternate stars and Indian arrowheads, and the outer beading represents wampum. The spring is located in a picturesque ravine not far distant from the hillside where Zebulon Pike, a real son of the American Revolution, August 8, 1808, for the first time at Burlington unfurled the Stars and Stripes. On August 18, 1908, Stars and Stripes Chapter erected a bowlder with bronze tablet marking the site. A descendant of Zebulon Pike sent greetings and regrets that she could not assist at the unveiling.

No new monument to the soldiers of the Revolution has been erected by the chapter, but Stars and Stripes Chapter preserves and reveres the spot in Aspen Grove Cemetery where lies buried John Morgan. A fine monument is here erected to the memory of this Virginia soldier of the American Revolution, placed there through the efforts of Stars and Stripes Chapter by the State of Iowa. Miss Abbie MacFlynn and Mrs. Cate Gilbert Wells, chairman, were a committee to find out the necessary lore and influence legislation in the passage of the bill granting appropriation for the monument.

KANSAS.

Captain Jesse Leavenworth Chapter, of Leavenworth, has preserved the old stone wall at Fort Leavenworth, which was used in pioneer days, as a defense against Indians. The wall was built of native limestone. The part remaining is about 70 feet long, and 9 feet high, and contains loopholes for the firing of guns. The wall has been pointed up and repaired and the chapter is now awaiting permission from Congress to place a bronze tablet on it.

Esther Lowry Chapter, Independence, has located and recorded the history of the scene of a battle and massacre of Confederate soldiers and Osages on neutral territory during the Civil War. The tradition verified and history of the same recorded.

Location of the site of treaty of 1870 between the Osages and the Government on Drum Creek, opening the "Osage ceded reserve" to white settlement.

The General Edward Chapter, of Ottawa, has succeeded in getting the Indian Mission Cemetery deeded to Ottawa College. It was owned by private parties and sadly neglected. It is the most historical spot in Franklin County. Besides about 100 Indians buried there, including the chief (born 1781) who took the Chippewa tribe there from Canada, are Tecumseh Jones, an early missionary to the Indians and the founder of Ottawa College; Miss Clara Morse; and Mr. and Mrs. Jotham Meeker. The latter had his home and a chapel built there. He brought the first bell that ever rang in Kansas, and also brought and used the first printing press.

KENTUCKY.

Elizabeth Kenton Chapter, of Covington, reports as follows:

In our city is a small park, at Front and Garrard Streets, near the mouth of the Licking River. Through our efforts this park has been named for Gen. George Rogers Clark, who rendezvoused here with 1,000 mounted riflemen (among the number, the pioneer and Indian fighter, Simon Kenton), preparatory to Clark's expedition against the Indian village on the Scioto River.

A flagpole has been planted and a large American flag purchased. Arrangements have been made that on anniversaries of patriotic days the flag is hoisted as a reminder to the citizens and school children of the brave deeds of the men who established our country.

MAINE.

The Abigail Chamberlain Whipple Chapter, of Solon, erected a tablet at Caratunk Falls, Solon, marking the landing place of Col. Benedict Arnold and his 1,100 men. Inscription:

> Landing place of Colonel Benedict Arnold and his eleven hundred men on their expedition to Quebec October 7, 1775. This tablet placed by Abigail Chamberlain Whipple Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, 1913.

Tablet placed in the town of Eustis, Franklin County, Me., has the following inscription:

> To commemorate Col. Benedict Arnold's Expedition to Quebec in 1775. This Tablet is Erected by Mrs. Sarah Lambert Prescott for Colonial Daughters Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution Farmington, Maine 19 [insignia] 13.

MARYLAND.

The Ann Arundel Chapter, of Millersville, Md., reports the following:

Indian Landing, on the Severn River, 12 miles above Annapolis, Md. On July 4, 1914, a liberty pole was erected and a large flag placed upon it, at Indian Landing, in commemoration of one raised upon that spot May, 1783, by 100 of the residents of the vicinity, to celebrate the proclamation of peace. A copy of the account, which was published in the Maryland Gazette of that date, was made, framed, and presented by the chapter to the Indian Landing Boat Club, which at present owns and occupies this property.

The Peggy Stewart Tea Party Chapter, of Annapolis, has placed a bronze tablet upon the old tulip poplar, known as the "Old Liberty Tree," stating that the treaties with the Susquehannock Indians were made beneath its shade and that Washington and Lafayette also rested beneath its branches.

This remarkable old tree, said to be the largest tree in this country outside the redwood belt, and at least 600 years old, has recently been preserved by filling it with 53 tons of cement. It stands upon the campus of St. John's College, one of the oldest schools in America, founded (as King William's School) in 1696.

Another interesting tablet has been placed upon one of the old cannon brought over by the first settlers to Maryland, March 25, 1634. Its history is told on the tablet:

> This cannon was brought from England by the first settlers, March 25, 1634. Mounted on the walls of the Fort at Old St. Marys. Recovered from the St. Mary's River, 1822. Presented to the State 1840 by Rev. Joseph Carberry. This tablet is placed by the Peggy Stewart Tea Party Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Maryland Day, March 25, 1908.

The statue of Chief Justice Taney stood for years in its prominent position in front of the old statehouse, unmarked. The chapter simply called the attention of the legislature to the fact, and they gladly inscribed it with his name and deeds.

The chapter is also contemplating marking the grave of Lieut. Col. Truman J. Skinner, a Revolutionary officer and ancestor of five members of the chapter.

On Maryland Day, March 25, 1914, this chapter unveiled with appropriate ceremonies a large bronze tablet upon the outer wall of the old assembly rooms, Annapolis. Part of the old building has recently been modernized, and this spot, so full of interesting history, was in a fair way toward losing its identity. The inscription reads as follows:

> This tablet Erected by the Peggy Stewart Tea Party Chapter, D. A. R., Marks the building in which General Washington was entertained at dinner by Congress of the United States on the 20th of December, 1783, when he came to Annapolis to resign his Commission as Commander in Chief of the Continental Army. Three of the original walls remain. "Maryland Day," March 25, 1914.

MEMORIAL ON TRAINING GREEN, BROCKTON, MASS.

This chapter also obtained one of the old cannon used at the bombardment of Fort McHenry at the time the Star Spangled Banner was written, and recently dredged up from Patapsco River.

As its part in the Star Spangled Banner Centennial the chapter marked the cannon and presented it to St. John's College, Annapolis, where it was placed in an ideal spot, on a hill, directly in front of the flagstaff, on the very ground often pressed by the feet of Francis Scott Key when a student there.

It was unveiled September 14, 1914, by Miss Ellen Key Habersham, a great-granddaughter of Francis Scott Key, the occasion being one of great historic interest. Mrs. Anna Key Bartow, granddaughter of the poet, read a beautiful and interesting paper. The Secretary of the Navy was present. The tablet reads thus:

> This cannon of the type used in the defense of Baltimore in the War of 1812. Presented to St. John's College, the Alma Mater of Francis Scott Key. Through the Peggy Stewart Tea Party Chapter, D. A. R., and the National Star Spangled Banner Commission, Sept. 14, 1914.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Colonel Henshaw Chapter, of Leicester, Mass., on September 23, 1914, dedicated a bowlder with bronze tablet, marking the "Old Training Field." The tablet bears the names of 42 minutemen, 32 Standing Militia Company, and 3 officers, in all 77 men, who marched from this spot on the afternoon of April 19, 1775, to join the Continental Army at Cambridge.

The Deborah Sampson Chapter, of Brockton, has also placed a bowlder on the green in front of the First Congregational Church, Brockton, with a bronze plate bearing the following inscription:

> This memorial marks the training green from which Revolutionary soldiers marched 1775–1783 Placed by Deborah Sampson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Old Oak Chapter, of Grafton, placed a bronze marker on old oak tree, for which the chapter was named, June 14, 1914 (Flag Day). History tells us that under this old oak tree every seventh man in the town of Grafton was drafted for the Revolutionary War.

Wayside Inn Chapter, of Sudbury, has also placed a bowlder suitably inscribed to mark the old "training field," in East Sudbury, set apart in 1720; also site of Government storehouses for storing ammunition during the Revolutionary War. These were important spots, as Sudbury was a frontier town.

MICHIGAN.

Hannah McIntosh Cady Chapter, of Allegan, is giving its attention to the marking of the old tollgates on the old plank road, as it passed through Allegan County. Such marking is to be done with native bowlders, on which copper plates with proper inscriptions are embedded.

MINNESOTA.

Captain Richard Somers Chapter, of St. Peter, has marked the site of the "Treaty of Traverse des Sioux" with an 8-ton bowlder, on which was placed a bronze tablet with the following inscription:

> This marks the site of the "Treaty of Traverse des Sioux," which took place July 23, 1851. Erected by the Captain Richard Somers Chapter, D. A. R., June 17, 1914.

Old Trails Chapter, of Minneapolis, reports:

Our chapter held a meeting July 14, at which the survivors of the "Treaty of Traverse des Sioux" were present. They were Gen. William Le Duc, 92 years old, member of Hayes's Cabinet, lawyer, orator, and author; Mrs. Gideon Pond, wife of one of the first missionaries to Minnesota, aged 90; and Mrs. Mary Chute, a member of this chapter, wife of one of the first fur traders. Their picture was most interesting. The treaty was signed in July, 1851.

May 16, 1914, we had a talk from Mrs. Margaret Hern about how she saved Fort Ridgely during the Indian uprising. She is the only living woman who has a Government medal for what she did herself.

February 22, 1914, we also had Mrs. Mary Schmid give an account of her six weeks' captivity among the Sioux Indians during the Indian outbreak in 1862.

Our work is to discover and mark the old trails of Minnesota and collect all State historical facts from the living pioneers. We have only been organized a year.

MISSISSIPPI.

Hic-a-sha-ba-ha Chapter, of Starkville, has assisted in the State work of marking the "Natchez Trace." It has located the ground of the original Indian camp that afterwards became a white settlement and finally the town of Starkville. The chapter historian is making a record of all available early history of the community, with a view to preserving it in the records of the chapter.

NEBRASKA.

Thirty-Seventh Star Chapter, of McCook, has located three historic spots. These spots are not marked and have only recently been located:

1. Massacre of the Nelson Buck surveying party, about 2 miles west of Marion, Nebr. This party came from Illinois about July or August, 1869.

2. Massacre Canyon, 4 miles north of Trenton, Nebr. A band of Sioux massacred 69 Pawnees August 5, 1873.

3. First settlement of Red Willow County, Nebr., 2 miles north of Red Willow, on Red Willow Creek. Expedition of Royal Buck came from Nebraska City in the fall of 1871 and spent Thanksgiving there. Though they did not stay, a permanent settlement was made the next spring.

NEW JERSEY.

The Continental Chapter, of Plainfield, in the year 1912 completed an undertaking begun some years before, namely, the erection of a memorial at "Washington Rock," an historic spot on the Watchung Mountain, north of Plainfield, in Somerset County, N. J.

In the spring of 1777, Gen. Washington, guided to the rock by Edward Fitz-Randolph, a farmer of the neighborhood, watched the movements of the British on the plain below. This fact is authenticated by local tradition; by the diary of Dr. Philip Dakin, written in 1830, and still in the possession of a member of the Vail family, of Plainfield, in which diary there is a record of a visit to Edward Fitz-Randolph, who was still living at that date, and who gave the doctor an account of the incident; also, it is referred to in Lossing's "Field Book of the Revolution," volume 1, page 324, and in "Historical Collections of the State of New Jersey," by John M. Barber and Henry Howe, in which book there is a woodcut of the rock.

The memorial, which was erected by popular subscription during the regency of Mrs. Edward Griffin Read, is a cairn of rough stone forming the base for a flagstaff from which floats the American flag.

On the face of the cairn is a bronze tablet bearing the inscription:

> From this rock General George Washington watched the movements of the British forces during the anxious moments of May and June, 1777. Erected by the Continental Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and the people of Plainfield and North Plainfield. 1912. "Lest we forget."

Below the cairn is a low wall uniting the rocks—for there are two, known as Washington and Lafayette rocks—and forming the guard for a stone platform between them, from which there is a magnificent view.

The whole was erected at a cost of a little over $2,500.

Since the erection of the memorial the ground on which the rock stands—27 acres—has been given to the State for a public park by a citizen of North Plainfield. The park is now under the care of the Washington Rock Park Commission, appointed by the governor of New Jersey, three members of which are members of the Continental Chapter.

Paulus Hook Chapter, of Jersey City, has placed a tablet with the following inscription:

> Erected Nov. 21, 1903, by Paulus Hook Chapter, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, to commemorate the Battle and Capture of Paulus Hook by Major Harry Lee, August 19, 1779.

NEW YORK.

Adirondack Chapter, of Malone. Under the auspices of this chapter, February 22, was given a patriotic service at the Congregational Church, at which were present Company K, First Infantry, National Guard of New York; the Brennan and Pangborn Grand Army Posts and Relief Corps.

Cherry Valley Chapter, of Cherry Valley, within the last year has marked a historic spot called "Brant's Rock." The inscription on the marble inserted in the concrete marker is as follows:

> From behind this rock Joseph Brant shot and killed Lieut. Wormuth, May, 1778. Erected by the Cherry Valley Chapter, D. A. R., 1914.

Fort Washington Chapter, of New York City, celebrated the one hundred and thirty-eighth anniversary of the battle of Fort Washington, November 7, 1914. The noon service at St. Paul's Chapel, Trinity parish, where Gen. Washington worshiped, was well attended. On behalf of the late regent, Mrs. Fay, Miss Isabella McAllister presented to the chapter a link from a chain which was stretched during the Revolution across the Hudson River from West Point to Constitution Island, to prevent the passage of British ships. It was part of Arnold's traitorous bargain with the British to lower this chain.

Ganawauges Chapter, of Richfield Springs, has been working since last May on the restoration of a very old, neglected cemetery which lies in the center of our town. It has straightened about 250 tombstones and at present has just completed the erection of an iron fence for its front inclosure.

Kayendatsyona Chapter, of Fulton, N. Y., reports Historic Battle Island, in the Oswego River between Fulton and Oswego, has been obliterated by the building of the large canal.

Melzingah Chapter, of Bacon, has erected no new monuments or marked historic spots, but the monument erected on Mount Beacon, the site of the signal fires of Revolutionary days, dedicated July 4, 1900, having been struck by lightning several times and partially destroyed, was replaced by the chapter at an expense of $100.

Sagoyewatha Chapter, of Seneca Falls, reports:

> A fountain has been erected in our village park to mark the site of the encampment of Gen. Sullivan's Army during his famous raid, 1779. The inscription is as follows:
> "Erected by Sagoyewatha Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to mark the encampment of General Sullivan's Army, 1779—1911."

Saranac Chapter, of Plattsburg, reports the following sites located and marked:

Site of Dead Creek Bridge located. Here was stationed to resist the advance of the British (Sept. 6, 1814), Capt. Sproul, with 200 men of the Thirteenth Regiment and two field pieces; Lieut. Col. Appling's command was stationed in advance. These detachments having been withdrawn, the bridge was removed, but remains of the abutments may still be seen.

Location of first office of Plattsburg Republican, the first number of which was issued April 13, 1811.

Spot where the academy boys, whose ages ranged from 14 to 18 years, organized Friday afternoon, September 4, 1814, the band later known as Aiken's Volunteers. These boys gave a good account of themselves in the fighting that followed, each one being an unusually fine marksman. They were discharged from the service September 12, and a few years later Congress voted each a rifle in consideration of his gallantry.

Inscription on tablet erected in Riverside Cemetery by the centenary commission. This was composed by the regent of the chapter, who was a member of the centenary committee for the marking of historic spots:

> In memory of the brave dead, British and American, who sleep in this hallowed ground—Commodore Downie and four officers of the Royal Navy; Colonel Wellington and three officers of the British Army; Lieutenants Gamble and Stansbury and Sailing Master Carter of the United States Navy; Lieutenant Runk of the United States Army, and with these more than four-score patriots and those women and children who by acts of bravery aided in the defense of their homes during the siege and battle of Plattsburgh, Sept. 6–11, 1814, thus materially assisting in securing to us all the blessing of American Independence.

Government marker placed at grave of Samuel Beman, a Revolutionary soldier and early pioneer of Shoreham, Vt., and Plattsburg, N. Y. He was the father of Nathan Beman, who piloted Ethan Allen into the fort at Ticonderoga. We were fortunate in locating this grave for the curbing of an adjoining lot encroaches upon the grave and the footpath passes over the graves of Samuel and his wife and his wife's father. Both sides of the stone are inscribed. On one: "Samuel Beman, Simsbury, Connecticut, July, 1727, Plattsburgh, New York, August, 1821; aged 94 years." On the other: "Samuel Beman, Warner's Vt. Mil. Rev. War."

The regent, as a member of the committee for the marking of historic sites of the Plattsburg centenary committee, assisted in the location of many such places, selecting also sites to be photographed for the illustration of the book issued by the State education department entitled "The Plattsburgh Centenary." A committee of the chapter has been engaged in locating soldiers' graves in Clinton and adjoining counties, and has begun a card catalogue for the preservation of this data.

OHIO.

Ripley Chapter, of Ripley, has placed a monument, made of native bowlders, on the face of which is a tablet with this inscription:

> Erected by Ripley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, June 17, 1914, to commemorate the first permanent settlement in Brown County, Ohio, made by Belteshazzar Dragoo in 1794.

This marks the historic spot 4 miles from Ripley, Ohio.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Bradford Chapter, of Canton, states that the nearest to this subject comes the preserving of an old elm tree by having an expert examine and treat it. The oldest native residents of the past have been unable to give any estimate of its age. Chains have grown through the center of it where its limbs had been fastened together, no telling how many years ago.

The chapter had a photograph made, and as it stands in front of the home of the oldest native resident, also oldest Daughter of the American Revolution in that State, they have included her in this photograph, standing under its spreading limbs, which has been her shade from earliest memory.

They have cleared off underbrush and weeds, and graded the oldest cemetery—the plot wherein the first burial in that township was made; have straightened the stones and located the graves of three Revolutionary soldiers. It is thought more are buried there, but so far they have not been located. However, the committee is unremitting in its efforts, and much is hoped for. Government markers have been ordered for several graves. This cemetery, known as "The Old Griffin Cemetery," is located on a farm just outside the borough limits, and was in a terrible state of neglect. There is now a permanent and attractive fence around it, and it presents a very different appearance.

Canadohta Chapter, of Titusville, has nearly completed its work in marking the spot where the oil industry was inaugurated. The first well was drilled by Edwin L. Drake, with money given to him by Mr. R. D. Fletcher and Mr. George H. Bissell, and oil first flowed from it on August 27, 1859. It is located 2 miles south of Titusville, and is easily seen from the Pennsylvania Railroad. The chapter has been working since 1907 to raise funds for a suitable monument to mark this spot. At last a large native bowlder has been moved from a neighboring hillside and now rests on a foundation of numerous smaller stones, forming a mass about 20 feet long, 15 feet wide, and 20 feet high. A bronze table, 3 by 4 feet, is now being cast with an inscription, and is to be placed on one side of the bowlder. The land (an acre) had been given to the chapter by Mrs. Susan A.

Emery, and it is hoped to make a park out of this as soon as the finances permit. A roadway leads to this ground from the main road, and it is also the intention to improve this.

Dial Rock Chapter, of West Pittston, reports that the monument marking the site of the massacre of the Harding brothers, at Harding, Pa., erected the preceding year by the chapter, has been inclosed with an iron fence at a cost of nearly $100.

Fort McIntosh Chapter, of Beaver, Pa., reports:

> We have four historic sites to mark. They are Fort McIntosh, built by Gen. Lachlan McIntosh, 1778, on the bank of the Ohio River, at Beaver, Pa.
> The Broadhead Road, running from Fort Pitt, at Pittsburgh, to a point opposite Fort McIntosh, on the Ohio River.
> The Block House at New Brighton, Pa., which was erected in 1778, after Fort McIntosh was demolished.
> The site, at Legionville, where Gen. Anthony Wayne went into winter quarters in 1792.
> We are doing all in our power to secure possession of these historic spots, with the intention of placing markers on the same.

Harrisburg Chapter, of Harrisburg, Pa., has marked Silver Spring Graveyard, in Cumberland County, gateway and bronze tablets, containing the following inscription:

> A memorial to the Heroes of the Revolution and the War of 1812. Erected, A. D. 1914, by the Harrisburg and Carlisle Chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Harrisburg Chapter of the Daughters of 1812.

The following names are those of soldiers who fought in the American Revolution who lie buried in the Silver Spring Graveyard, Cumberland County, Pa., and engraved on the tablets placed there by the chapters mentioned:

Quemahoning Chapter, of Johnstown, made a pilgrimage, September 26, 1914, to old Portage tunnel. This was the first railway tunnel in the United States, built in 1826. The railway connected the two parts of the old canal over the mountains from Hollidaysburg to Johnstown.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Hobkirk Hill Chapter, of Camden, S. C., has erected a monument on the spot of the battlefield of Camden, where Baron De Kalb fell, mortally wounded. Indian, colonial, and Revolutionary relics have been collected from this spot. Four Revolutionary cannon have been placed around the monument. The colonial courthouse has been bought and partially paid for, and then presented to the chapter by the county of Kershaw, through special act of the legislature. The courthouse has been repaired and furnished. An acre of land on the battlefield of Camden has been deeded to the chapter by —— Edwards.

Kings Mountain Chapter, of Yorkville, erected in May, 1914, a large granite monument on Kings Mountain battle ground. This was placed side by side with one erected long years ago to heroes of the battle. The inscription has become so defaced and the monument weather-stained that this method of preserving the record was used.

William Thomson Chapter, of Matthews, has marked the place where John Adam Treutlen was killed by the Tories, with a granite bowlder. This chapter has also placed a bronze tablet in the Calhoun County courthouse.

John Sevier Chapter, of Johnson City, has marked "Boone Tree," where Daniel Boone in 1768 carved the following: "D Boone cilled bar on tree in year 1768." A large crowd was present and appropriate exercises held. The marker was built from stone from the creek, named for Daniel Boone, which flows near.

WASHINGTON.

Esther Reed Chapter, of Spokane, Wash., reports:

In May, 1858, while Col. E. J. Steptoe was in command of Fort Walla Walla, Wash., the Indians stole some stock belonging to the Government. Since the officers had definite knowledge that the Indians were hostile to the white men, that they were forming a confederacy among the most powerful tribes, and that the fort itself was menaced, this incident demanded immediate action. Under these conditions Col. Steptoe set out in pursuit of the Indians with five company officers and 152 enlisted men. The Palouse Indians were near Al-pow-way, in the Nez Perce land, and the troops moved to this point. Timothy, a Christian Nez Perce chief, ferried them across the Snake River.

The enemy fled north, and the troops followed them. On May 16, near Te-hots-nim-me, in the Spokane country, the troops were confronted suddenly by 1,000 or 1,200 Indians, representing the Spokane, Coeur D'Alene, Palouse, Yakima, and other tribes. The Indians pursued their usual tactics of warfare with the white man, making promises they never intended to keep, using strategies of all sorts to delay action during the day, etc. After a severe battle and a loss of several men, our troops had to retreat, and under cover of darkness, were led by Timothy and two of his associates over a well-known Indian trail to his village, where the men were cared for by the squaws. Reinforcements joined the troops at this point and all returned to the fort.

Esther Reed Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, realized the importance of this battle to the Spokane country, and has been striving for 12 years to accumulate funds sufficient to erect a monument commemorative to the brave men who lost their lives in the battle of Te-hots-nim-me. The result of their efforts has been the erection of a beautiful shaft of Barre granite, 25 feet in height, on the field of battle, near Rosalia, Wash. The unveiling took place on June 15, 1914, as flag day, June 14, came on Sunday. The officers and men of Fort George Wright acted as escort of several thousand people.

The following inscriptions are engraved on the monument, one on each side:

> Sacred to the memory of the officers and soldiers of the United States Army who lost their lives on this field in desperate conflict with Indians in the battle of Te-hots-nim-me, May 17, 1858.
> Killed in conflict: Co. C., Capt. O. H. P. Taylor, Alfred Barnes, Victor Charles De Moy; Co. E., Lieut. William Gaston, Sergt. William C. Williams; Co. H., James Crozet, Charles H. Harnish; all of the First Dragoons, United States Army.
> In memory of Chief Tam-mu-tsa (Timothy) and the Christian Nez Perce Indians, rescuers of the Steptoe expedition.
> Erected by Esther Reed Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Spokane, Washington, June 14, 1914.

ATTENTION GIVEN HISTORIC BUILDINGS.

The society is much interested in the preservation and restoration of historic buildings. Many chapters buy these houses; when possible, restore them, furnish them with historic furniture and relics, and make of them chapter headquarters and museums.

When the chapters can not purchase these historic buildings, or they are not suitable for headquarters or museums, they mark them with tablets and thus preserve their history.

ALABAMA.

The Peter Forney Chapter placed a bronze tablet on one of the public-school buildings of Montgomery, Ala., with the following inscription:

> Near this spot Governor Israel Pickens officially welcomed to the State of Alabama General Lafayette, April 3, 1825. To commemorate this event and as a tribute to the distinguished patriot this tablet is erected by the Peter Forney Chapter D. A. R., April 3, 1914.

By order of the school board the name of the school was changed to the Lafayette School.

ARKANSAS.

The Martha Baker Thurman Chapter, of Fort Smith, Ark., is actively engaged in preserving the Old Commissary Building, at the corner of Rogers Avenue and the Frisco Railway.

Of the old fort there remains the jail, the hospital, and the Old Commissary Building. These were built on the Vanbanne system in 1830-1839, the original early fort being on a high rock bluff at the junction of the Poteau and Arkansas Rivers, which junction was said to be higher up or about where the national cemetery is now. The old jail location and jail still belong to the Government.

The chapter is planning to mark the home of Gen. B. L. E. Bonneville, 1838, and sends the following account:

Washington Irving joined an expedition to the west in company with three commissioners appointed by the Government to treat with the Indians. He passed through Fort Smith on his way to Fort Gibson. While residing at the country home of John Jacob Astor, Irving met Capt. Bonneville of the United States Army. He took quite a fancy to Capt. Bonneville and with the assistance of his maps, papers, etc., began writing, while at the Astor home, "The Adventures of Capt. Bonneville," completing the manuscript at Tarrytown on the Hudson.

Gen. Bonneville's first wife is said to be a niece of Washington Irving. The old silver and mementos of Bonneville place testify to her connection with the Irving family.

The parents of Gen. Bonneville were French and came to this country about the beginning of the last century. They were well known to Gen. Lafayette, and when the latter visited the United States the last time the acquaintance formed in Paris was renewed. Among the papers of Gen. Bonneville is a letter from Lafayette to the mother of Gen. Bonneville, written at this period, which will be read with interest, not that it contains anything of special importance; but everything connected with Lafayette's name carries us back to the Revolution, when the young Frenchman came to our rescue, and, side by side with Washington, assisted us to free ourselves from British oppression and establish a government, the proudest the world has ever known.

The letter below was written to Madame Bonneville and the M. De Bonneville referred to was her husband. They were the parents of Gen. Bonneville, who was then a young man and a lieutenant in the United States Army. It seems that he had asked for leave of absence that he might again visit France, and his mother had written to Gen. Lafayette, asking him to intercede in behalf of young Bonneville, which he promised to do, as will be seen by his letter. The original, which is among the possessions of the wife of Gen. Bonneville, is written in French. To Mr. Charles F. Robinson, a brother-in-law of Gen. Bonneville we are indebted for the copy below, translated from the original:

ON BOARD THE NATCHES,
On Mississippi, April 24, 1825.

MADAME: I received the letter you wrote me December 2d and I answer you at a great distance from Washington where I can perform your commission. I have been well received, traveling up the Mississippi, bordering on the Arkansas Territory, but Fort Smith being very far from the mouth of the Arkansas River, I find it impossible to pay you a visit. I shall write to my friends, the good Brown, commander of the troops of the line, and Mr. Barbow, Secretary of War. I hope they will present to the new President your son's leave of absence, and I will ask them to do so. I will be in Washington at the end of July, and if he would start for France at the end of the summer, after having received his leave of absence, I would be very glad to travel with him.

I am very sorry to hear from you that M. De Bonneville is in a bad condition, and I would be happy if I could contribute to him, as well as yourself, madame, the pleasure of seeing a son just leaving the admirable school of West Point.

The fact that he always conducted himself well there can not fail to give you all possible satisfaction.

I offer my friendship to his father.

LAFAYETTE.

After the Civil War Gen. Bonneville returned to Fort Smith and married Miss Sue Neis. A little later he built a lovely old southern home just below Hawthorne Hill at Bonneville Place. Mrs. Sue Bonneville was the daughter of Anton Neis and Catherine Sengel. Both Anton Neis and the parents of Catherine Sengel were born in Alsace, France. Mr. George Sengel of the Fort Smith Business Men's Club was a cousin of Mrs. Sue Bonneville. His father served 14 years in the French army during the deposition of Louis Philippe. Mr. Sengel kindly had a typewritten copy made of the above letter to Madame Bonneville, mother of Gen. Bonneville, for our society.

Among the old heirlooms at Bonneville owned by Gen. Bonneville are a sword inscribed on one side, "Thomas Bonneville, Midshipman Reindeer, Captured June 28, 1814." Engraved below this, two ships, one English the other American, engaged in combat. On the opposite side of this sword in Latin is, "Higher they will go and to higher things will they strive." Another sword in the collection had "U. S." engraved on one side, "The entire Union" on the other. There is also an ivory walking cane, made of an elephant's tusk, that was presented to Gen. Bonneville's grandfather by Louis XVI. It had been presented to that monarch by an eastern potentate. The general's grandfather was grand chamberlain at the palace at Versailles when he received the cane from the ill-fated king. Among other relics is a beautiful silver coffee urn, a tray, and two cups; an old colonial teapot with "I" engraved on one side; two exquisite silver salts engraved with a garland of roses that, tradition says, were presented by Lafayette to Gen. Bonneville; an old linen tablecloth with the name "William Irving, 1773," embroidered in red linen thread in one corner. The stains on the tablecloth showed more than one wine had been served when it had last been used.

COLORADO.

An event not previously reported was marking, October 26, 1912, of Old Fort Morgan by the Fort Morgan Chapter, of Fort Morgan, Colo. The following history of the fort appeared at the time:

In 1849, when the country west of the Missouri was a vast unknown plain, a sea on whose broad surface no mariner but John C. Fremont had coursed with chart and compass, thousands of brave men threaded the desert prairie and passed on into the rocky defiles of the mountains in a feverish rush for the gold diggings of California. The trail followed the South Platte Valley to Julesburg, there crossing the river and proceeding northwest into Wyoming in ordinary weather, but when the river was high the trail followed the Platte to within a short distance of Greeley, thence going northwest through Virginia Dale, and joining the more traveled route at Fort Steele. Ten years later, in 1859, the chance idler, dropping his pick at a gateway of the Rockies, reawakened the West with the cry of "Gold in Colorado" just as the fever of the California excitement was dying out.

The Argonauts of '59 followed the southern or South Platte trail, but very near the present site of Fort Morgan established a "cut-off" by the way of Living Springs to Denver, thus saving some weary miles of travel. This "cut-off" necessitated the making of one dry camp and therefore less used by the heavily freighted trains of wagons drawn by oxen going west than by the mule teams and empty freight wagons returning east for supplies.

From 1859 to 1864 the Argonauts passed the plot on which Fort Morgan is built—an unending stream, in vehicles of all kinds, pausing always to camp on the broad plateau, which offered excellent feed or water for the jaded stock. With the exception of the adobe or sod stations, 20 or 30 miles apart along the river, the country was still a wilderness. Indians and buffalo roamed the plains, coyotes howling on the track of the weak or disabled animals. The great north and south trail of the Cheyennes and Arapahoes crossed the Platte near the narrows. The trail the gold seekers wore was from 80 to 150 feet wide, and thousands of cubic yards of earth were worn out of this roadway, which could plainly be seen miles away 25 years later, the gay yellow sunflower blossoms growing high above the sage brush and cactus. To straggle from the trail or fall behind was death to a white man, and in 1864 the Indian became so troublesome that to protect the emigrants and the United States mail service the Government established a military post on the Morgan flats. This was on the brow of the hill above the remains of the old ranch house of Sam Ashcraft, who dispensed "pine knot," "forty red," and other brands of liquid pick-me-ups to the traveler during the seasons from 1861 to 1864. Mark Boughton later occupied the place.

H. S. Tracy's roadhouse was at the mouth of the Wild Cat, and a young couple, whose claim was on the Little Beaver, 5 miles east, cooked Sunday dinners for the officers of the fort in 1865–66.

The initiatory steps for the protection of the immigrants culminated in Camp Tyler which was established by Gen. Sam Browne, commander of the Department of Colorado, in 1864. Soon a detachment of "galvanized" troops (rebel prisoners discharged from prison under agreement to enlist under Union officers to fight the Indians) under Capt. Williams was called "Camp Wardwell," and in 1866, after some substantial sod and adobe buildings had been erected, it occupied the little tent city. The post was christened Fort Morgan, and the Government took control of the post. The buildings were erected by a detachment of Missouri Cavalry, Lieut. Col. Willard Smith commanding. During its occupancy from one to six companies of cavalry and infantry were stationed here. The commander of the fort was an autocrat of the country and was sometimes the most hated, sometimes the most revered of men.

Lieut. John Mandeville, an esteemed citizen of Fort Collins, who served as provost marshal at the fort, holding the immigrants until 50 teams were collected, and whose company, the Twenty-first New York Cavalry, was stationed at the post during the winter of 1865–66.

It has often been wondered why the fortifications were not built near the river to prevent the Indians cutting off the water supply. Doubtless the wide view from the famous plateau up and down the Platte Valley gave it a strategic advantage, and investigations show that an abundance of good water was furnished the garrison by a well discovered within the stockade itself.

L. H. Cornforth, of Denver, describes the buildings at the fort as being surrounded by an earth embankment 5 feet high, and the cannons, two 3-inch rifled Parrott guns, as mounted in two elevated rooms at the northeast and southwest corners of the inclosure. This may have been true of the grounds at a later date than the time Lieut. Mandeville's sketch represents.

The fort was the scene of activity until 1868, when the building of the Union Pacific Railroad and the decrease of immigration overland lead to its abandonment. It was occupied occasionally until 1870. Then the buildings began to be rifled of their timbers to supply lumber for the houses and barns of sheep and cattle men who inaugurated the second era in the history of our town and county.

On the summit of a little bluff overlooking the river about a quarter of a mile east of the fort site is the military burying ground, formerly kept in order by the soldiers. Nothing remains but a few broken mounds to mark the spot where soldier and civilian, miner and desperado, were "planted" with their feet to the sun. These graves were 13 in number when the town was platted. As the ground was used as a cemetery until 1891 by the early settlers of the town, some of the graves now to be seen are those early inhabitants which, through the removal of the other members of the family, have been placed in the present cemetery.

The Zebulon Pike Chapter, of Colorado Springs, Colo., gives an account of two historic buildings:

"The Barracks," a pretentious brick house also south of Montrose, is the same home that was established by Mr. James Fenlon among the red men in the early history of this county, and stands on the ground once known as Fort Crawford and also used as an Indian trading post by Mr. Fenlon, who came to this valley with the United States soldiers under Gen. McKenzie in 1879, when the soldiers occupied the old fort as a protection for the white settlers from the Ute Indians. Mr. Fenlon's widow still owns and lives at "The Barracks," so christened in honor of the soldiers, whose military life she and her pioneer husband shared.

The home of Chief Ouray, located 4 miles south of Montrose, Colo., is the old home of the Indian chief of that name, who lived there and was very friendly with the whites during Colorado's early history. His wife, Chipeta, less civilized than himself, refused to share a house with the chief, and occupied her own wigwam a few feet from her husband's domicile. Chipeta is now living on the White River Agency and visits Montrose occasionally.

CONNECTICUT.

The Anna Warner Bailey Chapter, of Groton and Stonington, Conn., have marked the following houses, which are an important part of the history of Stonington:

Peleg Brown house, built in 1796. Here was born Nathaniel B. Palmer, who, when a lad of 19, made the discovery of the great Antarctic Continent, to which was given the name of Palmer Land.

Zebulon Stanton house, built in 1776, a silversmith establishment where many a spoon was made out of the Spanish dollars (milled) of Revolutionary days.

Elkanah Cobb house, old in 1814; suffered in bombardment of Stonington.

Samuel Denison house, built in 1785.

Jonathan Palmer house. Jonathan Palmer was made surveyor of the port of Stonington by Washington.

Amos Sheffield house, built in 1788.

The Eells house, erected in 1785.

The Charles Phelps house. To this house repaired many from the borough in 1814, when the attack began.

The Waldron house, built in 1783.

The Jabez Holmes house.

Capt. Joseph Smith house, built in 1800.

The Poplars. Here was built the first church of Stonington Point.

Elisha Palmer house, built in 1760.

Site of Capt. Nathaniel Palmer house; was burned in 1850. Served as headquarters of Gen. Isham, who had charge of the Army in this part of Connecticut.

The Green Woods Chapter, of Winsted, Conn., has preserved and appropriately marked the site of the first meeting house in the town, where the original stepping stone still remains.

The Sarah Whitman Trumbull Chapter, of Watertown, Conn., has erected a tablet marking the site of the first place of public worship in the town. Inscription:

> On this spot was erected in 1741 the first Watertown Meeting House. The Parish originally included in Waterbury was set apart by the General Court in 1738 as Westbury Society, and in 1739 was embodied in Church estate. The first minister was Reverend John Trumbull, whose grave is in this Burying Ground. This tablet was placed here in 1914 by the Sarah Whitman Trumbull Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The District of Columbia has contributed to the fund of the restoration of the pulpit in the old St. John's Church, Piscataway, Prince Georges County, Md. This church was founded in 1693, and is known as the old Broad Street Church.

The Ruth Brewster Chapter, of Washington, D. C., has been interested since its organization in the attempt made by the Francis Scott Key Memorial Association to save the old mansion in Washington, the home of the author of the Star Spangled Banner, to the American people. Sufficient money was raised by the chapter to remove, by painting over, the obnoxious signs disfiguring the side walls of the mansion, but before this could be done the memorial association, of which the former regent, Mrs. Greenawalt, was a member, dissolved, and the home was remodeled into a business house. It was generally thought that the house had been demolished, but in February, 1914, Mrs. Frank Greenawalt, who was then the chapter regent, discovered much of the old home remained. Only the front had been rebuilt. The side and rear walls, containing the original colonial windows, were intact and the foundation walls were the same, and in the basement, which was the family dining room, were the original doors, windows, partitions, etc. Mrs. Greenawalt, in March, 1914, reported this matter to the attention of the District of Columbia committee on historic spots and asked that the building be suitably marked and a flag placed there. The flag was voted at once, and the regent was made chairman of a committee to purchase and place the flag. This was done in the impressive ceremony in September on the one hundredth anniversary of the writing of the national anthem.

GEORGIA.

The regent of Augusta Chapter, Mrs. H. P. Burum, sends a rare picture of the original St. Paul's Church in Augusta, Ga.

The Nathaniel Macon Chapter, of Macon, unveiled a tablet during the Georgia State conference, February 16–18, 1914, marking the site of Fort Hawkins. Upon the recommendation of Col. Hawkins to the War Department in 1802 Mr. Jefferson insisted in all the treaties upon the privilege of establishing a fort and trading post on the old Ocmulgee fields. The fortifications consisted of two large blockhouses surrounded by a strong stockade. The fort was built in 1806. During the Creek War of 1812–1814 Fort Hawkins was a prominent fort for the rendezvous and disposition of troops. In 1815 Fort Hawkins was the principal depository for Army supplies, and was distributing rations for the army of Indians under Col. Hawkins at Fort Mitchell. Fort Hawkins was named in honor of Hon. Benjamin Hawkins, a United States Senator from North Carolina. The old blockhouses of Fort Hawkins are now destroyed; only the site remains.

ILLINOIS.

The Abraham Lincoln Chapter, of Lincoln, sends the following:

There is still standing on what is called "Postville Hill" the first courthouse of Logan County, and occupied as such in the year 1839, and became a landmark and historical spot in the records of the county for the reason that Abraham Lincoln, then a circuit rider, pleaded cases regularly there at each term of court. The town was then called Postville; but the name and business center were changed at the time the Chicago & Alton Railroad went through, and the new town, Lincoln, named in honor of Mr. Lincoln, a friend of the men who were its founders. The old courthouse was a commodious building for the time in which it was built—two stories high, 38 by 28 feet in dimensions. The rocks were brought from Rocky Ford, 4 miles distant. The lower floor was divided into rooms for county offices and the upper floor thrown in one big room for court purposes. The building is almost intact as it was in the early day. The solid walnut timbers show but little sign of age. It is the most historic building in Logan County. It was the courthouse of the pioneers, the church assembly room, and lecture hall. Here Abraham Lincoln laid the foundation for his future greatness. Here also the famous Peter Cartwright held services, and many others whose names are honored in the history of Logan County were wont to attract by their eloquence.

General Henry Dearborn Chapter, of Chicago, reports:

Fort Dearborn in Chicago was named by and for Maj. Gen. Henry Dearborn in 1803. Gen. Dearborn at that time was Secretary of War in the Cabinet of President Jefferson.

His portrait, painted by Gilbert Stuart, is now in the Art Institute of Chicago, recently placed there at a cost said to be $10,000. Gen. Henry Dearborn's portrait was painted by Stuart, Peale, Trumbull, and other less distinguished artists. With the exception of Washington, more portraits were painted of Gen. Dearborn than any other man of Revolutionary times. The chapter intends placing a bronze likeness of Gen. Dearborn on the building now occupying the site of old Fort Dearborn, and hopes to create sentiment in Chicago, in order that the city may purchase the site and build a building commemorating the spot, for the use of a museum of relics of old Chicago.

IOWA.

Washington Chapter, of Washington, Iowa, has a very interesting chapter house—a log cabin built by Alexander Young about 1840, donated to the Daughters of the American Revolution, who had it rebuilt in Sunset Park in that city and furnished with old-time furniture.

KANSAS.

Molly Foster Berry Chapter, of Fort Scott, through a member, has marked the site of post sutler's store and post office. Inscription:

> Post sutler's store, 1842–1853. Post office, 1842–1856. Marked by Mrs. Elizabeth Clay Wilson Goodlander, a charter member of Molly Foster Berry Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. She is a granddaughter of a Revolutionary soldier, Samuel Wilson, of Virginia, and a daughter of Col. Hiero Tennant Wilson, Fort Scott's first citizen. In 1843 the Secretary of War appointed him post sutler, which position he retained until the post was abandoned in 1853.

Old Government well: Mrs. Goodlander has restored the canopy over the well on the parade ground of the old fort, installing therein a public drinking fountain.

Historic gavel: Mrs. Goodlander also has had made for the chapter a gavel from walnut pillar of the house wherein was born (Sept. 29, 1848) the first white child, Virginia Taylor Wilson, a sister of the donor.

MAINE.

The chapters of Maine have united in placing a bronze tablet on the home of Gen. William Whipple, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, who was born June 14, 1730, in Kittery, Me.

UPHAM HOUSE, RESTORED, MELROSE, MASS.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Colonel Timothy Bigelow Chapter, of Worcester, has purchased an old estate known in history as "The Oaks," located at 140 Lincoln Street, for use as chapter house. The house has very little Revolutionary history, but is one of the oldest attractive houses still standing on its original site in the city. It was built by Judge Timothy Paine in 1774, before the beginning of the Revolution, but the work had to be suspended until more peaceful days and was completed in 1778. Dr. William Paine, son of Timothy Paine, lived there from 1793 until 1833. In 1820 the house was somewhat altered in detail of inside, and again in 1836 enlarged to its present size. The property contains 57,000 feet of land and is assessed for $15,600. It is very completely furnished with valuable old furniture, loaned by the last owners.

Martha's Vineyard Chapter, of Edgartown, has placed two brass tablets on the Edgartown Inn, a house built about 1800 by Capt. Thomas Worth, father of Gen. William J. Worth. One tablet bears the inscription, "Major General William J. Worth lived in this house when a boy." The other bears the names of three distinguished men—Daniel Webster, Charles Sumner, Nathaniel Hawthorne—who have been guests at this house. It was then known as the Gibbs House.

The Old Colony Chapter, of Hingham, Mass., has imported from Hingham, Norfolk, England, an old clock 200 years old.

Old North Chapter, Boston, Mass., through its regent, Mrs. Marian Longfellow, has located the house where Lieut. Joseph Tucker, of the Cincinnati and collector of the port, was born in York, Me. Mrs. Longfellow is a great-granddaughter of Lieut. Tucker.

Old State House Chapter, of Melrose, Mass., sends the following account through its regent, Mrs. Franklin P. Shumeway:

Old State House Chapter has taken for its work the restoration and furnishing of the "best" room in the old Upham House. This house, purchased by the Melrose Historical Society, was built in 1703, and Phineas Upham, who owned the house, served in the Revolution. It was through our chapter the historical society was formed. I called the influential men of our city to my home, the question of forming the society was talked over, and a few weeks later the society was formed. The chapter has expended, the past summer, $133.57 on the restoration of the fireplace in our room. It is a good-sized room, with three windows, and the fireplace is 8 feet long. I am inclosing a postal card showing how the house looked when the society purchased it a year ago, and the small picture showing the work of the society in restoring the outside. I have marked the card showing "our room."

MARYLAND.

The Janet Montgomery Chapter, of Rockville, Md., has located the home of Alexander Magruder, where Hon. William Wirt boarded while attending school, conducted by Rev. James Hunt, at "Tusculum," the first school in Montgomery County, Md. The chapter has also located the grave of the Rev. James Hunt schoolmaster.

MICHIGAN.

Lansing Chapter, of Lansing, Mich., Mrs. J. M. Twiner, regent, has placed a tablet marking the site of the old capitol building. It was built during the summer of 1847, and occupied first by the legislature which convened January 1, 1848, upon the removal of the seat of government from Detroit, which had been the Territorial capital and had so continued for the first 10 years of Michigan's statehood, until, according to the constitution, the legislature of 1847 should decide on a location in the interior of the State and more nearly central.

Lansing, then unbroken wilderness, with only one log house upon its present site, was chosen and claims the unique distinction of being a city built for a capital.

The time selected for the dedication was during the meeting of the Pioneer and Historical Society, as it was thought many of the pioneers of the State would be interested and able to be present.

MINNESOTA.

The chapters of the State are uniting in the preservation of the home of the first governor of the State, Gen. Henry H. Sibley, of Mendota, 7 miles from St. Paul, the first stone house built in Minnesota, the work of Indian laborers; 1,600 persons visited the place last year, and a museum is developing there.

Fac simile of grape arbor built in 1835 on the grounds of the historic Sibley House at Mendota has been presented by Mrs. George C. Squires, State regent.

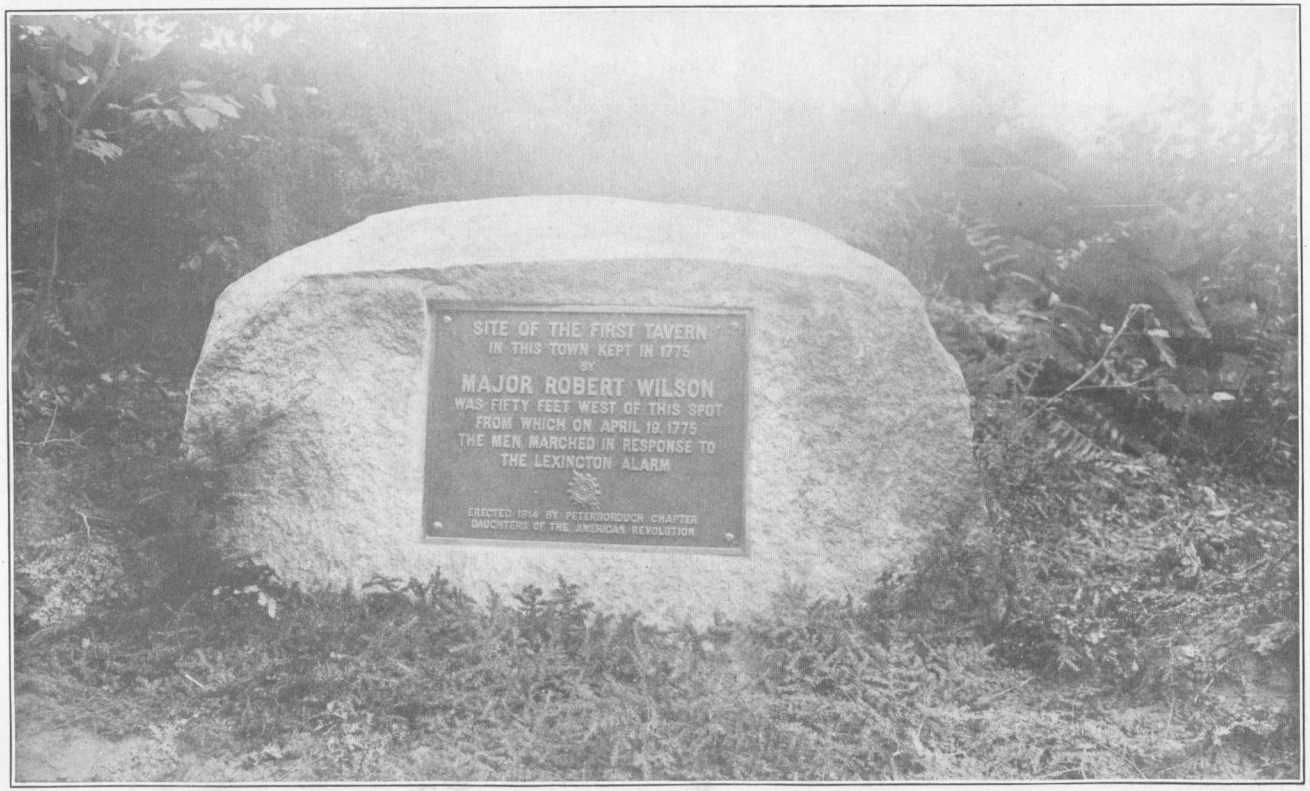

Fac simile of outside stairway to same house, restored by Mrs. E. Freeman Walsh, former chapter regent.

Boat landing on Minnesota River, in front of Sibley House, erected in 1914 through the efforts of Mrs. J. D. Du Shane, chairman of publicity committee of St. Paul Chapter.

Winonah Chapter, of Winona, Minn., has a plate upon which is printed a picture of Sibley House, made by the Wedgewood Pottery Co., in England. It is a beautiful plate, with the following inscription on the back of same:

> The Sibley House, Mendota, Minn. Dedicated June 14th, 1910. Owned, Restored, and Maintained by Minnesota Daughters of the American Revolution As an Historical Museum. General Henry Hastings Sibley, First Governor of the State of Minnesota, built this house for his home in 1835, later it was the Executive Mansion, where negotiations with Indian Tribes were made, and Legislative business transacted. This, the only historical house in the State, is beautifully located on the Minnesota River, and has been styled the "Mount Vernon of Minnesota." Made for Wenonah Chapter, D. A. R., Winona, Minn.

The proceeds from its sale are to benefit the D. A. R. of Minnesota.

SITE OF FIRST TAVERN IN PETERBOROUGH, N. H.

NEBRASKA.

Fort Kearney Chapter, of Kearney, is prepared to mark the site of the Old Fort Kearney. The funds are in hand, but monument not yet received. This was one of the important forts in this part of the country in the early days of the settlement of the West.

Nikumi Chapter, of Blair, reports as follows:

We have marked (with iron stake as yet) a spot which was a cellar hole of one of the fort buildings, and have preserved some of the brick made at that time and place, and used there in buildings, which we intend using in a marker for this historic spot in the future. This Fort Atkinson was located on the Missouri River in 1819 to 1827, and since changed name to Fort Calhoun, in Washington County. It is from here our chapter derives its name. Ni-ku-mi, daughter of the Indian chief, married the Navy surgeon, Dr. Gale, an Englishman, and from this union came Mary, who became a power of much good and uplifting to the Omaha Indians, and her children still survive and are very intelligent persons on the agency of our State, doing much spiritual and medical work.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Peterborough Chapter, of Peterborough, has marked the site of Wilson Tavern. This was the first tavern in Peterborough, and in 1775 was kept by Capt. Robert Wilson, and it was from this tavern the soldiers marched in response to the Lexington alarm. When the news reached Peterborough Capt. Robert Wilson had a company well drilled, and at almost a moment's notice was on his way to Concord and Lexington. On reaching Groton, they learned the result of the fight and were ordered home, but in less than two months they joined the patriot forces and were in the battle of Bunker Hill.

In 1777 Capt. Robert Wilson was promoted to major in Gen. Stark's division; had the honor of commanding the guard to escort 600 Hessian prisoners of war from Bennington to Boston.

Maj. Robert Wilson died December 25, 1790, age 57 years, and was buried in the Old Street Cemetery at Peterborough, N. H.

September 8, 1914, about 100 people assembled at the site of the Wilson Tavern to witness the ceremonies at the unveiling of a memorial tablet erected by the Peterborough Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution. On this bronze tablet, which is 21 by 29 inches, set in a native granite bowlder, is the following inscription and the insignia of the D. A. R.:

> Site of the first Tavern in this town kept in 1775 by Major Robert Wilson was fifty feet west of this spot, from which on April 19, 1775, the men marched in response to The Lexington Alarm. Erected by Peterborough Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

The unveiling of the tablet was done by Miss Jennie S. Scott, of Peterborough, N. H., a great-granddaughter of Maj. Robert Wilson, and the historical address was given by Rev. J. L. Seward, D. D., of Keene, N. H., who is also a descendant of Maj. Robert Wilson, his great-grandfather, Daniel Wilson, being a brother of Maj. Robert Wilson.

NEW JERSEY.

On April 3, 1914, Jersey Blue Chapter, of Brunswick, unveiled with proper exercises, a tablet, which was placed on the building occupying the site of an inn kept by Maj. Egbert, and where Gen. Washington stayed. This old inn was known to generations of New Brunswick people as Washington's headquarters, but it hardly deserved that title, as Gen. Washington remained in New Brunswick only a short time on each of his visits. The tablet is of bronze, bearing a bas relief of the inn and the following inscription:

> Under the rooftree of the inn which occupied this site, General Washington tarried when in New Brunswick. On the adjoining square, upon the arrival of the express rider, the Declaration of Independence was acclaimed by all loyal citizens on July 9th, 1776. New Brunswick was the third town in which the document was read. Erected by the Jersey Blue Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, 1913.

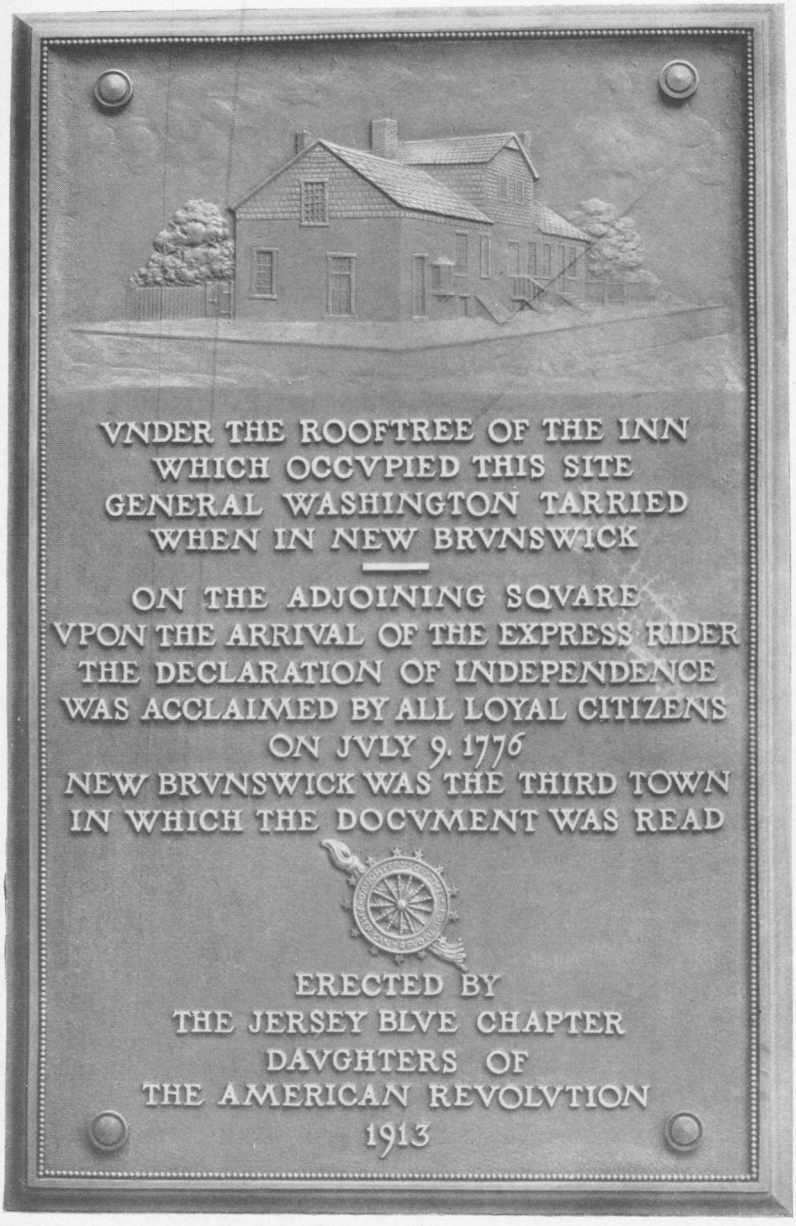

The tablet was the gift of the regent.

The chapter is also interested in another historic building.

Anthony White, the father of Brig. Gen. Anthony Walton White, built, about 1740, a fine large house on the banks of the Raritan River, just outside of the town of New Brunswick. During the Revolution the fortunes of the house were, like the times, troublous. Sometimes tories were the tenants, again staunch patriots, like the Janeways, who took refuge there while the British occupied New York. After the war the place was purchased by Dr. Moses Scott, a surgeon in the Continental Army, who named the place "Buccleuch," in honor of his Scotch ancestry. It remained in the possession of the Scott family until recently, when the entire place, mansion and 88 acres of land, were given to the city of New Brunswick for a park by Mr. Anthony Dey, a grandson of Col. Joseph Warren Scott. The Jersey Blue Chapter has joined with the park commission in keeping up the old mansion. Three rooms have been set aside as belonging entirely to the chapter, and in addition thereto it has entire charge of the whole house. Many beautiful pieces of furniture and oil paintings owned by the Scotts were left in the house. The chapter already has quite a collection of furniture and rare antiques. Gifts are being received continually, and by another year "Buccleuch" will have become one of the noted places of the State, if not of the Nation.

NEW YORK.

Caughnawaga Chapter, of Fonda, N. Y., has erected a memorial to the Protestant Dutch Church built in 1763, razed 100 years later (1863). The old church figured conspicuously in the history of this section. Much regret remains to-day that it was allowed to be taken down. Inscriptions on the four sides:

INN WHERE GENERAL WASHINGTON TARRIED, BRUNSWICK, N. J.

> In loving memory, presented by Caughnawaga Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.
> Genl. Schuyler and Col. Herkimer and their armies encamped here January 16–18, 1776.
> This memorial marks the site of Caughnawaga church organized 1758, erected 1763.
> On the north, in Low Dutch, is the text from Isaiah 2:3: "Come ye and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of His ways and we will walk in His paths."

This inscription appeared over the entrance of the church.

Fort Oswego Chapter, of Oswego, N. Y., has dedicated a plot of ground located in the city of Oswego, site of or closely adjacent to Fort George, an outwork of Fort Oswego, built in October, 1755, by Lieut. Col. Mercer, of First American Regiment of English Troops; captured and destroyed by French and Indians under Marquis of Montcalm, August 14, 1756. Col. Mercer was killed and buried near. Ground owned by the State of New York. In 1913, by an act of the legislature, was placed under the custody of Fort Oswego Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution. Dedicated September 30, 1913, with appropriate ceremonies. It is to be improved and beautified by Fort Oswego Chapter for use as a public park.

Jane McCrea Chapter, of Fort Edward, Hudson Falls and Glen Falls, N. Y., unveiled on September 16, 1914, at Fort Edward, N. Y., a bowlder marking the site of old Fort Edward.

During the Plattsburg centennial celebration, of which a further account will be given under the heading of "Historic Spots," the Delord House was thrown open to visitors and an account of its history and list of its contents was furnished each visitor by the Saranac Chapter, of Plattsburg. The history follows, but the list of contents is too lengthy for insertion here:

> It is safe to say that the Delord House has no counterpart. Built for James Kent, afterwards chancellor, by Nathan Averill, sr., a New England carpenter, and sold in 1810 to Henry Delord, whose business interests had brought him here from Peru, this house has since that time known but two mistresses, Madam Henry Delord and her granddaughter, Frances Delord Hall (Mrs. Francis Bloodgood Hall).
> The main structure is practically unchanged since its earliest years, and though occupied by British officers during the siege and Battle of Plattsburg and standing within sight of the terrific conflict on the lake and almost within reach of the enemy's guns, it nevertheless escaped serious injury. Many a shot found lodgment in its outbuildings, and a British battery stood just east of the house.
> Only one birth has ever taken place in this home—that of Frances Henriette Delord, only child of Judge and Mrs. Delord, born October, 1813, three months after Murray's raid. Here the little Frances grew to womanhood and from this hearthstone went forth the bride of Henry Livingstown Webb, of Albany.

The house follows closely the New England colonial type. Nathan Averill, its builder, whose wife, Roxana, was the first white woman in the settlement, came here from New Preston, Conn., with the Platts, whose home was in Dutchess County, N. Y., just across the river. The woodwork is of the ordinary kind, and hinges and bolts handwrought, for the new town was in the wilderness and far from the older settlements.

The hospitality of the house has been proverbial, and during the lifetime of Judge Delord among the many distinguished guests here entertained were the following: Govs. Yates, Clinton, Tompkins, Flint, and Seward; Chief Justices Spencer, Van Ness, Platt, and Yates; President Monroe and suite (1817); officers of the Army and Navy—Gens. Scott, Brown, Wilkinson, Wool, Izard, Macomb, Brady, Townsend, Eustice, Totton, Pike, Worth, Commodore Macdonough, and Paulding; the wives of the above generals, Mesdames Scott, Brown, Macomb, Brady, Pike, Worth, Eustice, and Wool; of the chief justices, Mesdames Spencer, Platt, and Hunt; Mrs. Macdonough. Besides these, colonels and majors of the Army and their wives.

[NOTE.—This list is taken from one made by Madam Delord Swetland, September 28, 1858.]

OHIO.

Fort Findlay Chapter, of Findlay, Ohio, has placed a bronze tablet, set in a slab of white marble, on a building situated on the northwest corner of Main and Front Streets, in Findlay. The upper half of the tablet has a reproduction in bas-relief of Fort Findlay. The inscription is as follows:

> This tablet marks the site of Old Fort Findlay, built in 1812, by Col. James Findlay, in whose honor it was named and used as a depot of supplies. [Insignia.] Erected by Fort Findlay Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution in 1912.

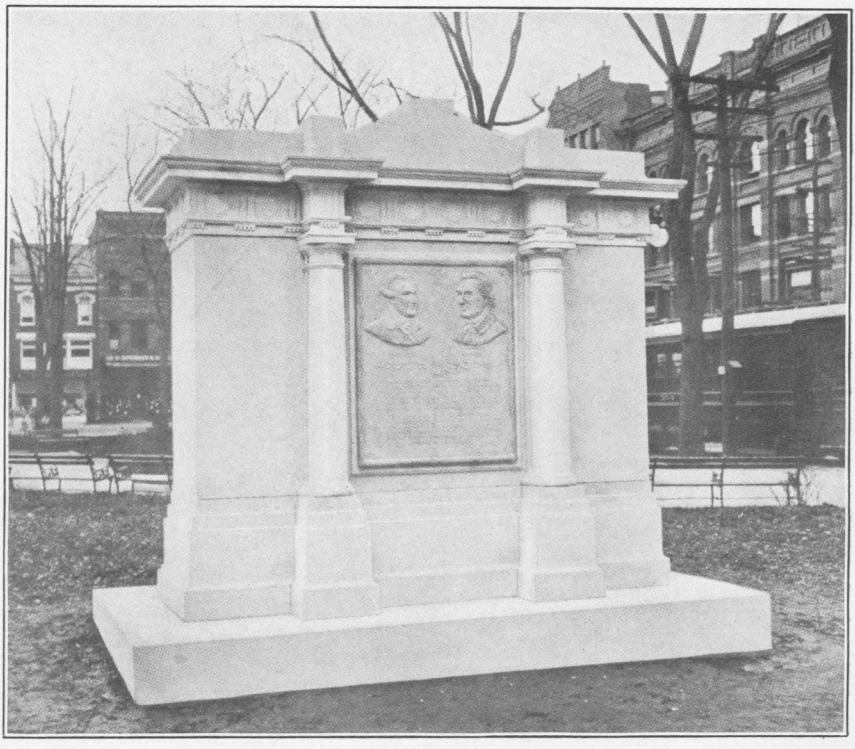

The old log cabin formerly called Newcom Tavern, was preserved for the city of Dayton by the Jonathan Dayton Chapter. The tavern was built in the year 1799 by George Newcom, one of the first settlers, and was the first house in the town. It was used as a hotel, church, courthouse, and jail.

During the last year the Daughters of the American Revolution protested against the selling of the Old Brown Street fire bell. The city intended to sell it for junk. The bell was cracked and it became necessary to dispose of the old one. The old bell had been rung for more than 50 years, not only for fires, but it has warned its citizens many times during disasters.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Berks County Chapter, of Reading, has unveiled a tablet, June 6, 1914, commemorating visit of George Washington to Reading in 1794, while on his way to Carlisle to quell the "Whisky Rebellion." This bronze tablet is 20 by 30 inches and contains the following inscription:

> The Federal Inn, in which George Washington, while President of the United States, was an honored guest, October 1, 1794. Placed by Berks County Chapter, D. A. R., 1914.

SITE OF FORT WILKES-BARRE, PA.

The D. A. R. seal follows, with the dates of the existence of the inn—1763–1814.

The Mahantongo Chapter, of Pottsville, Pa., has placed a bowlder at the site of the colonial Fort Lebanon, near Auburn, Pa., which bears the following inscription:

> Upon this site stood Fort Lebanon, built in 1755, by Col. Morgan, as a defense against the Indians. Placed by the Mahantongo Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Tunkhannock Chapter, of Tunkhannock, Pa., makes the following statement:

Before the establishment of a D. A. R. chapter in Lackawanna County, Mrs. Margaret D. Cooper, of our chapter, was chairman of the memorial fence committee, which brought about the restoration of the historic Presbyterian Church and Cemetery in Taylor, the oldest settlement in Lackawanna County. We contributed, as a chapter and as individuals, to the work. This is especially noteworthy as being the first work of historical preservation accomplished in Lackawanna County. We claim only a connection with this work, as stated above. The local work was done by Mrs. Cooper, through the W. C. T. U., of Taylor.

In May, 1914, Warrior Run Chapter, of Milton, Pa., marked with a granite marker the site of Freeland Fort, situated on Warrior Run in Northumberland County. This fort was destroyed by the British and Indians a few days after they destroyed Wyoming Fort. All the men, except a few who were either killed or escaped, were marched to Niagara, and never heard of again. Some of their descendants are members of Warrior Run Chapter.

The most important work of the Wyoming Valley Chapter, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., during the past year is the placing of a monument to mark the spot where Fort Wilkes-Barre stood in 1778 at the time of the Wyoming massacre.

A bronze tablet with the bas reliefs of Hon. John Wilkes and Col. Isaac Barre, two prominent Englishmen, members of the British Parliament, whose sympathies were with the Colonists at the time of the American Revolution, and for whom Wilkes-Barre is named, is placed on one side of the monument.

The Sons of the Revolution assisted the chapter in raising funds, and an outlay of $4,000 now commemorates the historical spot.

RHODE ISLAND.

Gaspee Chapter, of Providence, has placed a tablet on the house where Admiral Esek Hopkins lived in Providence, R. I., on April 19, 1914.

The large elm that had been in front of the house 150 years was blown down and Gaspee Chapter planted another elm to take its place. On the house near the elm a bronze tablet was placed, bearing this inscription:

> This tree, to replace one that stood for 150 years on this spot, is dedicated to the memory of Esek Hopkins, the first admiral of the American Navy, by Gaspee Chapter, D. A. R., April 19, 1914.

Pawtucket Chapter, of Pawtucket, contributes the following account:

The historic spot around which our chief interests are centered is in the care and improvement of the historic Dagget House, located in the heart of the Slater Memorial Park of our city. The name of the park is to keep ever fresh in our memory the fact that it was in our city that Samuel Slater erected, in 1790, the first cotton mill in America.

As a tablet of our organization records, the house was erected in 1685, remodeled in 1790, and repaired in 1905 by Pawtucket Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, as a memorial to their Revolutionary ancestors and the brave patriots of 1776. A John Dagget of this house served as a member of the committee on correspondence in the Revolutionary War.

The Ten-Mile River, overarched by trees, winds in and out through this farm, a large natural pond, a fine old grove of pines, a colonial house, shaded by ancestral elms, and the adequate date tells the story of this spot.

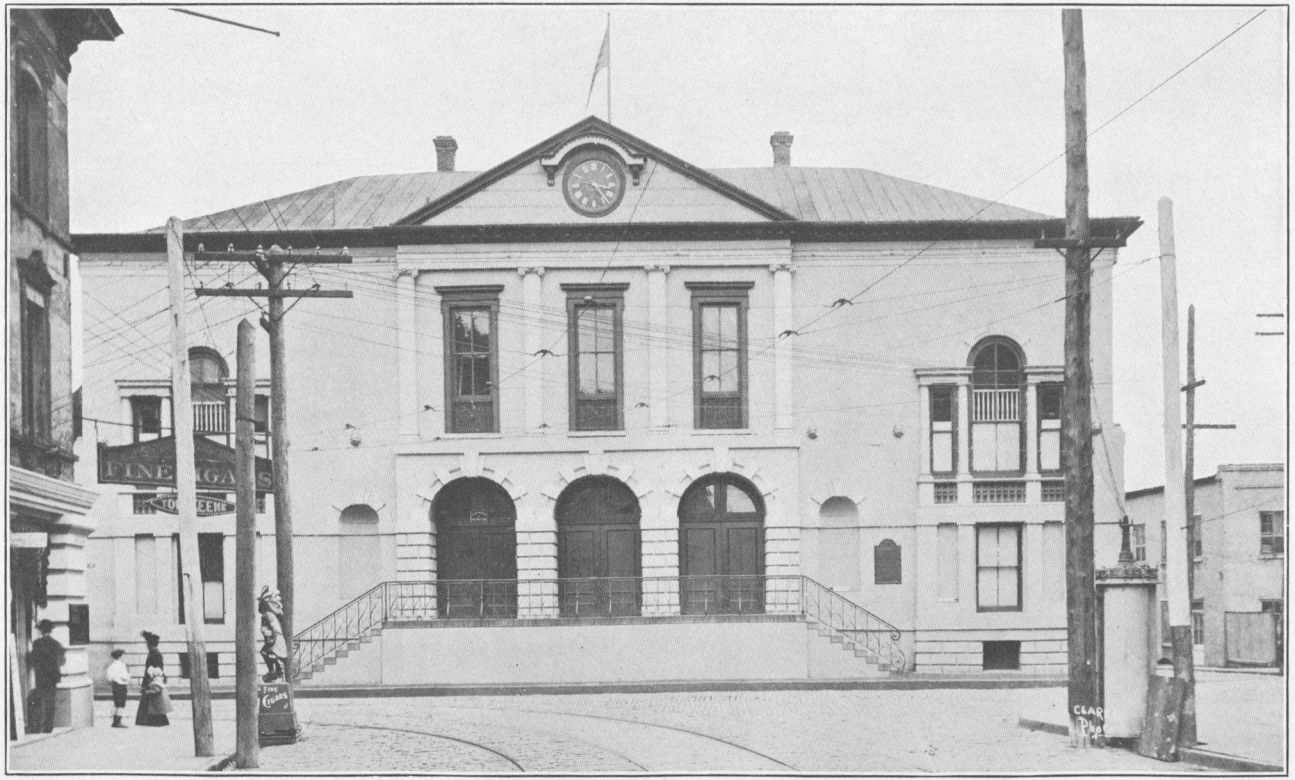

The people of the city have taken great interest in assisting with the restoration of Dagget House, contributing rare and choice relics worthy of the inspection and criticism of any judge. Visitors of note from far and near enjoy visiting the house and examining the collection of colonial pewter, pottery, fireplace furniture, crockery, firearms, mortars, tables, chairs, rugs, laces, embroideries, counterpanes (both stitched and woven), samplers, and a rare collection of mirrors, pictures, and lamps. The value can easily be recognized when we state that the insurance carried is $3,000, and the repairs for restoration about $2,000. To keep the house and contents in a perfect state of repair is our aim, and a constant effort is ever made in this direction. The educational merit of this work is the true merit of it. Groups of children go from object to object with intense interest, as do children of an older growth, not only from our own clime, but from that of foreign countries. These visitors have brought along an interpreter, who works in unison with our custodian for the day. Thus, the story of our country is told as no book can ever tell it, and the impression is made in the mind, and true patriotism has been installed, never to be unrooted.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Rebecca Motte Chapter, of Charleston, is custodian of the "Old Exchange," of Charleston. This historic edifice is more than 200 years old, and within its walls has transpired much that bears upon South Carolina history. A bill, donating the building to the Daughters of the American Revolution for a museum successfully passed Congress in 1913, and the Rebecca Motte Chapter has taken the initiative in fitting it up as a relic house. This building is located on East Pennsylvania at the head of Broad Street. On this site stood the place-at-arms, or guide post, of the colonies of South Carolina in 1680. In 1718 Stede Bonnett and other pirates were placed here for safe-keeping. The present building was erected as an exchange or customhouse in 1767. The hated taxed tea was stored in its cellar. Here the Provincial Congress was assembled, setting up the first independent government in America in 1774. The martyr, Isaac Haynes, was imprisoned here, and from here lead to execution. Many brilliant assemblies were held within its walls, the grandest being when George Washington was entertained by his grateful countrymen in 1791. The post office is now one of the oldest in the United States.

VERMONT.

Lake St. Catherine Chapter, of Wells, Vt., has marked with a bowlder, flagstaff, and flag the site of the first church in Wells.

The William French Chapter, of Bellows Falls, Vt., sends the following account of a celebration in which the chapter participated:

On Monday, June 8, 1914, "from early morn till dewy eve," the breezes sported with Old Glory in front of the Morgan homestead on the Rockingham Road. It was the one hundredth anniversary of the use of that remarkable old building as a residence of Quartus Morgan and his descendants—a family famous in the history of Bellows Falls and the town of Rockingham. The day was made memorable by the present occupant, Miss Harriet B. Morgan, a granddaughter of Quartus Morgan, and member of William French Chapter, D. A. R., and invited guests uniting in celebrating the occasion.

Quartus Morgan was born January 14, 1766. During the Revolutionary War he was private secretary to the distinguished officer, Baron Steuben. He came to Bellows Falls in the spring of 1798, from West Springfield, Mass., making the journey with his wife on horseback. Their household goods came by the flatboat that then plied between Hartford, Conn., and Bellows Falls.

Mr. Morgan had already purchased, through the influence of his brother-in-law, Leverett Tuttle, who was part owner of the line of Connecticut River boats, the building now known as the Frost Block, located on the west side of Rockingham Street, the second building north of the opera house. This building, Mr. Morgan often said in later years, was an old one at that time, and had been for some time used as a tavern.

Mrs. Morgan continued it as a tavern until 1814, when, Mr. Morgan having died, in 1810, and Mrs. Morgan having erected the Morgan homestead at the north end of the village, she sold the tavern property, and moved out of it June 8, 1814.

During their ownership the Morgan Tavern became one of the most popular and best-known taverns between New York and Montreal, its fame often being discussed in both cities. During the ownership of the Morgans an assistant, well known to the traveling public and very efficient, was one Susie Fox. The quaint sign, promising good "Entertainment for Man and Beast," is still preserved.

He married, October 29, 1788, Lorana, daughter of Titus Tuttle, born in Fairhaven, Conn., May 16, 1769. She died in Bellows Falls, August 24, 1857. He died in Bellows Falls, March 10, 1810. Both are buried in the old cemetery at Rockingham.

VIRGINIA.

Hampton Chapter, of Hampton, has unveiled a rough stone cross to commemorate the former church edifice erected in 1624. The Kecoughtan Church was the first known church in Elizabeth City parish, this being the second church building erected in Virginia, the first being on Jamestown Island. On one side of the base of the monument are inscribed the names of first ministers, from 1611–1624, and on the other side of the base of the monument:

> Here Stood The First Known Church At Kecoughtan Erected 1624 Jonas Stockton, Minister—William Guantlett, Edward Waters, Church Wardens.

The discovery of the site of this old church and the unearthing of its foundations was the work of Mr. Jacob Heffelfinger, who, after careful investigation, discovered that it was built west of the forts—Charles and Henry—and on the glebe lands. At this point there were a few graves and a clump of trees, marking the site of an ancient graveyard. After much sounding the foundation was discovered and entirely unearthed. In the chancel were found a few fragments of a yellow, glazed tile, which would lead to the conclusion that they once covered the chancel. These ancient foundations have lain undisturbed for almost three centuries, since the time when the white man first came to these shores and English civilization was begun on American soil; and now, after all these years, within the ancient foundations, the same service so familiar to the God-fearing founders of our Republic is again being said.

WISCONSIN.

La Crosse Chapter, of La Crosse, has placed a memorial tablet on the site where Nathan Myrick, the first settler of La Crosse, built his cabin in 1842. He spent several years trading with the Indians, and was a good citizen. He passed most of his life in La Crosse. The city has a large park named in his honor.

WYOMING.

Sheridan Chapter, of Sheridan, has placed a granite bowlder marker to mark the site of the first cabin built in what is now the city of Sheridan. Appropriate ceremonies were participated in by the members of the Daughters of the American Revolution and various other organizations, as well as many citizens of Sheridan. The presentation of the monument to the city and the unveiling exercises took place on May 11, 1914.

According to the best authority this site is on the south bank of Big Goose Creek, very near the home of Mrs. Mary Thurmond, on North Brooks Street.

When J. D. Loucks, the founder of the city, came here in 1881 he was not the first resident of what is now Sheridan. He found here two log cabins beside Big Goose Creek, but both were vacant. One of these cabins was about 14 feet square, while the larger was about 14 feet wide by 16 or 18 feet in length. Both had dirt roofs. They were built in 1878 by a man named Mandell, who came here with two others of his family in 1878, from Laramie, and erected the cabins. Harry Fulmer of this city, who drove the stage line established by the Patrick brothers, one of whom now owns the PK ranch, between Rock Creek, on the Union Pacific, and Junction City, Mont., on the Yellowstone, remembers the old cabin very vividly, stating that the stage line ran within 10 feet of the cabin. He drove the stage over that road from 1879 to 1884. The Mandells occupied their cabins but a few months and then returned to Laramie City. Just what the intentions of the Mandells were we are unable to say, but it is thought that they were planning to take up a large lot of land in this country.

When Mr. Loucks settled here and the town was laid out in 1881 he occupied the old Mandell home. Here he ran a small store, and a little later the first post office of Sheridan was in the larger cabin. Mr. Loucks and his family occupied these cabins for some time, finally vacating them. One of them was later used as an ice house. About 10 or 15 years ago the smaller structure was torn down. Later the larger structure was demolished, but some of the lumber from its walls was used in constructing a frame building that was erected on Main Street where the First National Bank building now stands. Later this frame structure was moved back on Loucks Street a few feet, and it is now occupied by T. B. Freeman as a paint shop.

This is the history of the first log cabin in Sheridan as nearly as it could be gathered.

Sheridan (Wyo.) Chapter has also been directly interested in having the following forts marked:

Marker, lettered "Fort Halleck, U. S. Military Post, July 20, 1862, July 4, 1866. This monument is erected by the State of Wyoming and the Jacques Laramie Chapter, D. A. R., 1914."

Marker, lettered "This monument marks the site of Fort Sanders. Established September 5, 1866. Abandoned May 18, 1882. Named in honor of Brigadier General William P. Sanders. Erected by the State of Wyoming and Jacques Laramie Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, June, 1914. From July 10 to September 5, 1886, known as Fort John Buford."

Bronze tablet, lettered "Camp Walbach. U. S. Military Post, September 20, 1850, to April 19, 1859. Marked by the State of Wyoming, the S. A. R. and D. A. R. of Cheyenne, Wyoming, 1914."

Bronze tablet, lettered "Fort Bridger, established as a trading post, 1834. U. S. military post on the Overland Trail, June 10, 1858, to October 6, 1890. This monument is erected by the State of Wyoming and a few interested residents, 1914."

Bronze tablet, "Fort Casper, U. S. Military Post. Established about 1864 by volunteers. Abandoned October 19, 1867. Situated one mile west of this spot. Marked by the State of Wyoming, 1914."

LOCAL HISTORICAL INVESTIGATIONS OF CHAPTERS.

Much valuable history is being rescued from oblivion by efforts of the chapters. Aside from the celebration of patriotic dates, the chapter programs are largely filled with discussions on American history through the medium of papers prepared by the members.

Many of these are valuable original contributions and the research necessary for their preparations adds still further to the store of history unwritten until then. In this manner Indian and pioneer history has been discovered, tombstone inscriptions deciphered, valuable relics collected, Bible and court records investigated, historic sites located and their stories told.

Many of the chapters have become so impressed with the value of their work that they are keeping scrapbooks of current local history, which may greatly lighten the labors of the historian of the future.

ARKANSAS.

Colonel Martin Pickett Chapter, of Batesville, Independence County, Ark., gives some early history:

Batesville was the first land office in the State of Arkansas. Town lots were sold here in 1812. The Old Ringo House, which was built in 1812, is still standing, and occupied—a beautiful old place. There is an Indian trail that runs through the town. The Chickasaw Indians crossed Polk Bayou at this place, and the ford is still known as Indian ford. This bayou is a mountain stream, which was misnamed.

Pine Bluff Chapter, of Pine Bluff, Ark., gives a bit of history in the regent's report:

When my great-grandfather came to this State (John Harvie Marks) in 1833 there was on his land a fortune in walnut trees at the present price of that wood. He had a sawmill and brought a cabinetmaker from Georgia. He had chairs, beds, tables, etc., all made of solid walnut. One of his folding tables was not less than 22 inches wide. He made numbers of these—one for each of his children. In 1858 he built a handsome home. All of the doors, window facings, sash and base boards were of solid walnut. When he lived on Bayou Bartholomew his negro cabins were built of split logs of sassafras and walnut. Can any of us compute what this would be worth to-day in walnut veneering? This is only one of the many instances of needless waste of nature's best.

CONNECTICUT.

Eunice Dennie Burr Chapter, of Fairfield, has employed a skilled genealogist and prepared a complete index to the probate records of Fairfield from 1648 to 1800. This has been installed in a steel file and presented to the town, to be kept in the probate office for the use of all. The earlier volumes contain the probate records of Stratford, Stamford, Norwalk, Woodbury, and other Connecticut towns near here. This cost the chapter $924.95.

Nathan Hale Memorial Chapter, of East Haddam, Conn., has come into possession of the original survey map of "Cover Hill Burying Ground." This map was made in 1802. It has been placed in the State library, where it will be of great service and less liable to injury or loss than it would be if kept in town. The first interment in this cemetery was made soon after the year 1700.

Orford Parish Chapter, of South Manchester, Conn., and 32 other contributing chapters have replaced the Connecticut stone in the Washington Monument. The cost of the stone was $195, of which Orford Parish Chapter paid $123.50. The stone which this replaces was a Portland brown stone, which became so badly disintegrated that some of the inscription could not be deciphered. The new stone is of Millstone granite, a Connecticut product. It is 4 feet long, 2 feet wide, and 8 inches thick. In relief on the face of the stone and surrounded by an ornamental border is the State coat of arms, with the word "Connecticut" in large letters arching the emblem. This design is a reproduction of that on the old stone.

GEORGIA.

Stone Castle Chapter, of Dawson, sends the following articles, the work of the State historian, Mrs. John Statham Yowrey.

The regent, Mrs. J. G. Dean, writes as follows:

I am inclosing, as per your request, "Jackson's Trail." It is a pleasure to send it. We are proud of it, as compiled by one of our members. It represents not months but years of research, and you may depend absolutely in its correctness. It is considered a valuable paper by the State, and I am glad you considered it of sufficient interest to ask for a copy.

JACKSON'S GEORGIA TRAIL.

One of the live subjects in D. A. R. circles just now is "Jackson's Trail," the route Gen. Andrew Jackson took through Georgia with his small army on his way to fight the Seminole Indians in Florida in 1818.

The importance of locating this trail is twofold:

First. The national D. A. R. movement to build a coast-to-coast old trail road or boulevard over which automobiles may encircle the United States over historic stage roads and trails has revived interest in all old trails and roads and set many to examining their records for the history of the old roads in their county.

Second. It is important as a means of locating historic spots, camping places, villages, forts, etc., all of which the Daughters of the American Revolution hope some day to mark.

EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS.

Extracts from letters written by Gen. Andrew Jackson to the Secretary of War; State papers; military affairs.

"Nashville, January 20, 1818.—I will leave this place on the 22d instant for Fort Scott, via Ft. Hawkins."

"Ft. Hawkins, February 10, 1818.—I reached this place last evening, when I learned by sundry communications received from Brevet Major General Gaines that the Georgia Militia under General Glasscock had all returned home, leaving the frontier in a very exposed situation."

"Hartford, Ga., February 14, 1818.—I arrived at this place on the evening of the 12th and here met with General Gaines."

"Ft. Early, February 26, 1818.—The Georgia detachment marched from their encampment near Hartford on the 19th instant.

"The excessive rains have rendered the roads so bad that I ordered the troops on their march here to take their baggage on the wagon horses and abandon the wagons. This facilitated their march to this place, which they reached to-day, and eleven hundred men are now here without a barrel of flour or bushel of corn."

"Ft. Gadsden, March 25, 1818.—At 7 o'clock p. m. on the 9th instant I reached Fort Scott, with the brigade of Georgia Militia, nine hundred bayonets strong, and some of the friendly Creeks, who had joined me on my march a few days before.

"I assumed the command on the morning of the 10th, ordered the live stock slaughtered and issued to the troops with one quart of corn to each man, and the line of march to be taken up at 12 meridian. Having to cross the Flint River, which was very high, combined with some neglect in returning the boats during a very dark night, I was unable to move from the opposite bank until 9 o'clock on the morning of the 11th, when I took up my line of march down the east bank of the river for this place.

"On the morning of the 14th I ordered the boats down the river to this place, whilst I descended by land and reached there without interruption on the 16th."

"By some strange fatality, unaccountable to me, the Tennessee Volunteers have not yet joined me. They promptly left their homes, and through the inclement weather reached Fort Mitchell, where I ordered them supplies, and where Colonel Hayne, who led them, met my instructions to pass by Fort Gaines, where he would get a supply of corn that would enable him to reach Fort Scott; but the idea of starvation had stalked abroad, a panic appears to have spread itself everywhere, and he was told that they were starving at Fort Gaines and Fort Scott, and he was induced to pass into Georgia for supplies."

Extract from James Gadsden's report (topographical engineer):

"From Hartford General Jackson moved with the Georgia brigade and was reinforced on his march to Fort Scott by about six hundred friendly Creeks."

The following information is the result of a search through the Andrew Jackson papers in the Library of Congress, Washington, D. C.:

"On the evening of February 4, 1818, Jackson reached Jackson County, Georgia.

"February 9, p. m., he reached Fort Hawkins.

"February 13 he was at Hartford.

"February 20 he encamped at Creek, 4 miles south of Hartford.

"February 23 he was at Fort Early.

"February 27 he was encamped at Creek, 1 mile south of Fort Early.

"March 1 he encamped near the Chehaw village.

"On March 6 Colonel Arbuckle addressed a letter to Jackson at Chicasawhache, near Flint River.

"On March 8 Arbuckle's letter to Jackson addresses him as near Fort Hughes, Flint River."

To those who desire to study the life of Andrew Jackson, I take pleasure in citing the references to which I have had access:

"State Papers—Military Affairs," Congressional Library, Washington, D. C.; "Life of Andrew Jackson," by Parton (this is the most detailed account of Jackson's march through Georgia, in 1818, that I have been able to find); "Andrew Jackson's Papers," in Library of Congress, Washington, D. C.; photographic copies of old maps can be obtained from Library of Congress (map department), which are invaluable in the study of old trails.

Mrs. John Statham Yowrey,
State Historian, D. A. R.

Excerpts from "Itinerary" of route located by Capt. Hugh Young, assistant topographical engineer, Gen. Andrew Jackson's Army, 1818.

This part of the report contains sketches of the routes of the Army from Hartford, Ga., to Fort Scott.

From Hartford to Fort Early.—Hartford, in the present Pulaski County, on the Ocmulgee (not fordable). Thence 3½ miles to a creek. Crossed a small creek in the first mile. The creek at the end is a branch of the Ocmulgee. When we crossed it the water was greatly over the banks, presenting a river of 150 yards in width, but in common stages is not more than 25 feet wide.

Six and three-fourths miles to another creek.—Cross a branch in the sixth mile. The creek at the end runs also at the foot of a flinty hill. It is fordable at common stages of water, but was over the south banks when we crossed and had to be bridged.

Seven and three-fourths miles to a creek.—A reedy branch in the second mile, a small open branch in the sixth; neither of them difficult. The last creek has some red clay on its banks; fordable and not difficult.

Eighteen and one-half miles to Cedar Creek.—Ascending the dividing ridge between the Gulf and Atlantic waters the road continues on the ridge 2 miles. It then crosses the hollows of Flint. From the ridge the route is through flat pine woods for 6 miles, crossing one small but miry creek, generally fordable.

Thence to Cedar Creek, down which the road runs for 3 miles. Cedar Creek rises E.S.E. from Fort Early and enters Flint 6 miles above the fort. When we crossed it the rains had swelled it into a formidable river. Where the old road crosses it the swamp is almost impervious and the creek at high water impassable, but at the ford below the banks are open, and although miry the Army was enabled, by felling trees over the deeper parts of the stream, to cross in one night.

Six miles to Fort Early.—Fort Early is situated on the east side of Flint River, on a high hill. The general course of the road from Hartford to Fort Early is S. S. to the distance of 41 miles.

From Fort Early to Fort Scott.—From Fort Early the path runs through sand and pine to the Flint, which intersects 4½ miles below the fort, crossing a creek in the second mile and a small, thicky branch one-fourth mile farther; thence to the crossing place. The Flint at the ferry is 180 yards wide. From the crossing place the path goes up the river one-fourth mile to a place where the open pine woods is near the bank, but separated from it by a bayou with a deep, rapid current and a width of 20 yards. This had to be bridged.

From Flint to Chehaw Town.—The Chehaw village was situated on Mucollee Creek, 8 miles from where it enters Flint. It consisted of 15 to 20 cabins, with a large council house in the center, which on our arrival was decorated with the white flag. There are two bayous between the creek and high ground, one of which is not fordable in freshets.

Five and one-half miles to another large creek, on which Canards village is situated, 3¼ miles above the point where we crossed it. The creek is 90 feet wide.

From this point the route lies for 25 miles through the finest body of land I had seen since leaving Monticello, Ga. Foul Creek is 3 miles from Canards Creek. On the south side are the remains of an ancient and very large town. Large trees are growing on innumerable little mounds disposed with some regularity, and on which the houses were probably built.

Eighteen miles from Foul Creek there is a small Indian village, situated among some handsome branches and ponds, with good land under cultivation. Four miles from this point the fertile country terminates; thence 6¼ miles to Echenoche Creek. Struck the creek 5 miles from its junction with Flint; its general course S. 30° E.

Echenoche at the crossing place is 87 feet wide, water 22 feet deep, in summer 5 or 6. In 4½ miles the road crosses another creek, a branch of Echenoche, entering near its mouth. It is one-third the size of the main stream; fordable.

Struck the river in 1½ miles farther, the road going down to the last creek. From this point the route continues down the river (generally in sight of) to Fort Scott. The path intersects the road from Fort Hughes, 9½ miles from Fort Scott.

Fort Scott is situated on the west bank of Flint, 8 miles above the mouth of the Chattahoochee.

IDAHO.

The Idaho Pocahontas Chapter, of Caldwell, is studying its county (Canyon), gathering data of historic events, as there has been no history yet written. It sends some of the material gathered of the the history of Caldwell.

Idaho was a part of the "Northwest Territory," or Oregon County, which was organized as separate territory March 3, 1863, and admitted as a State April 3, 1890. The State was divided into four subdivisions, of which Boise County formed one division. Its boundaries, created by act of legislature in 1862–63, were devised February 4, 1864. The present site of Caldwell was located in this (Boise) county, but in December 22, 1864, a section called Ada County was cut off from Boise County. Then on November 19, 1892, Canyon County, in which Caldwell is located, was created from Ada County.

The first marriage in this section was October 19, 1864, when Sarah Cox and John Levander were united by Rev. B. F. Morrow. No license was required and no records kept at that early date. The first child, Eddie Pierce Fuller, was born in 1866.

Caldwell was located by the Oregon Short Line Railway Co. in 1882, under the supervision of Robert E. Strahorn. The town was named for Senator Alexander Caldwell, of Leavenworth, Kans. The title for the original town site was received September 24, 1883.

The first child born in Caldwell, October 1, 1883, was Adelbert Caldwell Huntington, who received a lot on Sixth and Main Streets.

The first marriage in Caldwell was that of James Alexander Dement and Malinda Cathrine Callaway, on February 21, 1884. Witnesses, Mrs. A. E. Callaway and Dr. Dawforth; Rev. T. H. Callaway officiating.

The first marriage that is recorded in Caldwell was the marriage of Aaron E. Watkins and Sarah R. Shaw, which took place November 28, 1892, with Swain Beaty officiating and C. E. Lee and W. E. Mosby as witnesses.

The will of Frank A. Randall, dated June 12, 1889, was recorded November 21, 1900. The first will recorded in probate court, May 18, 1893, was that of G. M. Carter.

INDIANA.

The Pottawatomie Chapter, of Gary, sends the following statement:

The local history of this region is being worked out under the leadership of an historical research committee, which, up to the present time, has been unable to locate the graves of any Revolutionary soldiers, and thinks it doubtful if it will be able to do so, owing to the fact that the first real tide of settlement came as late as 1834. We have some evidences of French exploration in Lake County. Mr. Dan Kelly, of Valparaiso, Ind., reports having found half a silver laborium near three old springs at the headwaters of the Grand Calumet River at Millers, Ind. About 12 miles south of this location, on the banks of Cedar Lake, Ind., some woodsmen, upon felling a giant oak tree, estimated to have been approximately 250 years old, found in the very heart of it a small steel instrument (now in the possession of the family of the late Timothy Ball, at Crown Point) which they think must have been used by La Salle or Marquette in marking their trail.

Our history is further noteworthy in that there is located near Chesterton, Ind., an old French homestead. This was established by Joseph Bailley de Messein about 1820 as an Indian missionary post, and the chapel and several buildings are still preserved. Frances R. Howe, Chesterton, Ind., a granddaughter of the virtuous and brave Joseph Bailley and his wife, Marie de la Vigne, his equal in valor published in 1907 The Story of a French Homestead in the Old Northwest (Columbus, Ohio, Press of Nitschke Bros.), which gives one an excellent idea of life in this old Northwest Territory. In geneology the chapter is taking steps to have the marriage records of Lake County copied, since they date back to 1837 and are complete from 1842.

Mrs. John O. Bowers, of 525 Van Buren Street, Gary, Ind., has in her possession a muster roll of Capt. Elijah Blackman's Company in the Continental Army, in the years 1777 and 1778, which company was composed of residents of Connecticut. The roll consists of the names of 86 enlisted men, their ages in years and months; their height in feet and inches; place of birth (town and county); physical description, giving color of hair, eyes, and complexion; date of enlistment and term thereof, together with memorandum of casualties.

This paper has been handed down through the Blackman family continuously since the days of the Revolution. Henry Elijah Blackman, who recently died at his home near Allegan, Mich., at the age of about 94 years, and who was a grandson of the said Capt. Elijah Blackman, had this paper and the commission appointing Elijah as captain, together with other official documents, in his possession for many years.

Mrs. Bowers, who is a daughter of Henry Elijah Blackman, is a member of the Pottawatomie Chapter, of Gary.

The following is a copy of the roll, excepting that the months in the ages, the physical description, the term of enlistment, and the casualties have been omitted. The spelling of the names and the form of the roll are followed as accurately as possible. Most of the men enlisted for three years. The roll, excepting the aforesaid omissions is as follows:

On the back of the roll is an indorsement in the following words and figures: "Descriptive Roll of Capt. Elijah Blackman's Compy. in Col. Sherburn's Regt. 1777 & 1778."

John Wallace Chapter, of Bedford, Ind., through its regent, Mrs. Thomas J. Brooks, gives the following account of Bedford:

The town of Bedford was named after Bedford, Tenn., as Mrs. A. C. Voris's father, Joseph Rawlins, was called in to help the board decide, he having just returned from a trip there. Palestine was the county seat, but its location near White River caused so much illness that it was changed to the present location in 1828, and the name became Bedford. Rev. John Wallace, my great-grandfather, for whom the chapter is named, was the first Methodist circuit rider in this county, his circuit being 400 miles through the wilderness. He settled in Maysville, Daviess County, Ind., in 1808, built the first church, and was its pastor. From there to Patoka, Vincennes, Vigo County, Green County, Palestine (Lawrence County), Hindostan (the old county seat of Martin), back home. In 1815 he and his relatives formed Liverpool (now Washington), the county seat of Daviess. It was platted by Galland and Curtis. As Mr.

Flora, the owner, could not sign his name, the deed was witnessed by Rev. John Wallace, my great-grandfather; by Hon. William Wallace, my grandfather; and by Mr. Emanuel Van Trees. An epidemic called "the plague" caused three counties to change the county seat: Palestine moved to Bedford, in Lawrence County; Hindostan to Mount Pleasant, in Martin; Maysville to Liverpool, in Daviess County.

KANSAS.

Emporia Chapter, of Emporia, reports that the chapter has collected, from early settlers, sketches of early days in this vicinity. These are more in the nature of reminiscence and anecdote than of actual history, but they possess a certain value, and have been typewritten and placed in charge of the chapter historian.

Eunice Sterling Chapter, of Wichita, Kans., has compiled an illustrated history of the pioneer days of Wichita, covering the period of history between the dates 1868 and 1880.

Captain Jesse Leavenworth Chapter, of Leavenworth, Kans., has added many relics to the collection in the historical room in the courthouse, notably among them being an autograph letter from Gen. Henry Leavenworth to Mrs. McNeil, sister-in-law of President Pierce. Gen. Henry Leavenworth established Fort Leavenworth in 1827, and is the son of Capt. Jesse Leavenworth, the Revolutionary officer for whom the chapter is named. A number of genealogical books have been added to the library there, which is in the historical room.

Samuel Linscott Chapter, of Holton, Kans., reports that the "Battle of the Spurs" of the Civil War was fought in the northern part of Jackson County.

MARYLAND.

The Daughters of Maryland have established a quarterly magazine, the first number appearing September, 1914. It is entitled "The Patriotic Marylander," and is dedicated to the memory of Maryland patriots and to the great events in Maryland history. The following invitation has been sent to all Marylanders:

> In the hope of bringing to light many valuable contributions to the biographical and genealogical history of the State, as well as unfamiliar bits of local history, the editor invites all who have family Bibles, tombstone inscriptions in family burying grounds, or other classes of inaccessible information to send it for publication in the Patriotic Marylander. Copies of old diaries, muster rolls, or any kind of record of people or events will be welcome.

Janet Montgomery Chapter, of Rockville, Md., has copied records for the library of Continental Memorial Hall, as follows:

First 100 marriage license records of Loudoun County, Va.

First 100 marriage license records of Frederick County, Md.

First 300 marriage license records of Montgomery County, Md.

Births and baptisms as recorded in St. Peter's parish register, Montgomery County, Md., 1799 to 1830.

Marriages in St. Peter's parish register, 1822 to 1854.

One hundred marriage records from family Bibles in possession of Mrs. Margaret C. Loughborough, Bethesda, Md.

Hezekiah Willson's diary (Montgomery County, Md.), 1777 to 1803.

Copied and compared with licenses issued in Montgomery County, Md., the list of marriages performed by Rev. Thomas Read, of Rock Creek parish, Md., as published in Thomas's Chronicles of Colonial Maryland, and corrected an error in said list.

Copied family Bible of Richard Phillips, of Pennsylvania and Maryland, and Bible of Thomas Randolph Hall, sr., both in possession of Thomas R. Hall, jr., Poolesville, Md.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Ausotunnoog Chapter, of Lee, held its first meeting July 17, 1913, and was officially organized in December of the same year, Mrs. Albert B. Clark, organizing regent. It sends the following account:

The name that was adopted was the one given by the Indians to the river that flows through the town, the meaning of which is "River Among the Mountains," a name borne also by a tribe of friendly Mohegan Indians, who rendered good service in this region during the Revolution, and were feasted and praised at its close by those whom they had materially assisted.

Our town, incorporated October, 1777, was made up of many villages, hamlets, and little settlements. Off on the mountain side where signal fires gave the alarm to Stockbridge, 4 miles away, when danger from Indian attacks were imminent, was Dodgetown. Down near the Tyringham Valley lay the Hoplands, favorite resort of the Indians in maple-sugar time. What is now our village center was called "Glass Works Grant," and Grenock, Hartwell, and Washington were all included in the new town.

Partly because of the reverence felt by our people for everything European and partly because of our misapprehension of his real character, Charles Lee was in this section the hero of the hour, his aberrations being either unknown, owing to scantiness of information, or misinterpreted by those prejudiced in his favor; in fact, it was not until our own times that sufficient evidence was produced to brand him as a traitor. The new town was therefore proudly christened "Lee," in the sincere belief that that name would ring gloriously in the ears of future generations.

Our people were chiefly of Pilgrim stock. We regret to say that we have no historic sites. Some of our minutemen started for Bennington, Vt., about 40 miles away, but arrived only to find the battle over. A battered cannon ball was found by a sexton about 6 feet below the surface, but it tells no tales.

Among our members is found colonial furniture, china, and rare coins as well as delicate handwork of a century ago, while one of them possesses the very tablecloth which was spread upon the table at the famous dinner where Hamilton formed the Order of the Cincinnati, and we cast longing eyes at an old powder horn, carved with the name of the owner and the date, "1777," picked up near the Stockbridge line and owned by a friend of the chapter.

We have listened to several papers dealing with the history of the Revolution, searched out interesting old letters written in the "long ago," have begun an investigation concerning the oldest houses in town, and exchanged comments in regard to our Revolutionary ancestors and any special services they may have performed. One was at New London when it was burned by the British. Some had wild and adventurous escapes while acting as privates, and one helped drag the cannon to fire on Arnold as he boarded the ship Vulture after his treason had been discovered.

Betty Allen Chapter, of Northampton, has published a book, entitled, "Early Northampton," being a series of articles or historic papers concerning colonial and Revolutionary days; 233 pages, 23 illustrations.

The Hannah Goddard Chapter, of Brookline, Mass., sends the following account of an old home:

The Edward Devotion House was built in 1680 by John Devotion, or his father, Edward, for him, as a home for his bride, Hannah Pond, of Dedham. It later came into possession of the second Edward Devotion, a son of John, who was born and who grew up in the house, and lived in it for some years after his marriage. He afterwards built another house in Brookline village, which became his winter home, the earlier house, 2 miles from the village, being more suited to the life in summer time. Edward Devotion had no children and at his death he left the sum of £739 4s. toward building or maintaining a school as near the center of the town as shall be agreed upon by the town. The money was never used for this purpose, but of late years the town has built a handsome schoolhouse or collection of school buildings (to which has been given his name), which stand on either side of and behind the old farmhouse. The house is furnished as far as possible with articles of bygone age, mostly things which belonged in Brookline, and there are several pieces of furniture, pewter, and many books belonging to the Devotion family, descending from the original owner of the house, John Devotion.

Old Colony Chapter, of Hingham, Mass., has adopted a unique method of teaching local history to the school children of Hingham. A small folder has been prepared by Mrs. Frank Nash. This is to be pasted in the American history schoolbooks. It gives an account of all points of historic interest in the town as follows:

Originally the plantation of Bare Cove, this name was changed to Hingham, in September, 1635.

A bowlder, on which is a bronze tablet, marks the place of landing of Rev. Peter Hobart and other early settlers. It stands at the corner of what is now Ship and North Streets. Here the first religious exercises were held.

The old meeting house, erected in 1681, is the oldest in use and continuous service in the United States; on Main Street, opposite Elm Street. In the burying ground behind the old meeting house is an old fort, used as a means of defense against the Indians, a circular mound of earth dating probably from 1635. In the center of this space stands the monument to the memory of the first settlers. A similar fort may be seen in the burying ground at Fort Hill.

In the old burying ground are also the graves of Maj. Gen. Benjamin Lincoln, Gov. John A. Andrew, and the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument, erected by the town in memory of those who fought and died in the Civil War.

The home of Maj. Gen. Benjamin Lincoln, a distinguished officer in the Revolutionary War, is situated on the corner of North and Lincoln Streets. He was appointed by Gen. George Washington to receive the sword of Cornwallis at the surrender of Yorktown.

The Garrison house, built about 1640, is said to be the oldest in Hingham. Originally used as a defense against the Indians, it has sheltered generations of the same family, on North Street, next the Cushing house. There are also other Garrison houses in different parts of the town.

A type of the earliest colonial architecture, of which but few examples survive to-day, is represented by the cottage owned by Miss Susan B. Willard. It stands well back from the road on Main Street and was built during the period of 1640–1670.

Another type of early colonial architecture is the John Tower house, built in 1664. John Tower was very friendly with the Indians, who lived in the swamp back of his house, which is situated on the left of Main Street near Ripley's Hill.

The "Old Ordinary," Andrew's Tavern, later known as Wilder's Tavern, was built in 1650, and stands on Lincoln Street, the third house north of the New North Meeting House.

The Wompatuck Club, named after the Indian chief Wompatuck, grantor of the original deeds of the town, occupies one of the oldest houses in Hingham, dating back to about 1690. The original owner of this house was John Thaxter.

At the corner of Main and South Pleasant Streets, South Hingham, stands the notable mansion built in 1762 by Rev. Daniel Shute, first pastor of the South Hingham Meeting House. The house is now occupied by one of his lineal descendants of the fifth generation. Rev. Daniel Shute's son, Daniel Shute, M. D., was on the staff of Maj. Gen. Lincoln at the surrender of Yorktown.

The Gay house, on North Street near Ship Street, was occupied by Rev. Dr. Ebenezer Gay, third pastor of the parish, whose term extended from 1718 to 1787.

The site of the Anchor Tavern, where Lafayette was entertained in 1778, is located on the easterly corner of South Street and Lafayette Avenue.

The South Hingham Meeting House was built in 1742, on Main Street, South Hingham. Rev. Daniel Shute was first pastor of this parish, from 1746 to 1799.

The New North Meeting House, a fine example of Bulfinch architecture, built in 1806, is located on North Street. In it can be seen the so-called "slave galleries."

Derby Academy, founded in 1791 by Madame Sarah Derby, is located on Main Street.

The Old Grain Mill, erected about 1643, still grinds grain into meal between stones, in the original way. It is located at the harbor.

The memorial bell tower, erected in memory of the founders of the Plantation of Hingham, on Main Street near the old burying ground, contains memorial tablets and the ancient Druid stone sent from Hingham, England; also a room called the Peter Hobart room. The tower was dedicated November 25, 1912.

Old Mendon Chapter, of Mendon, Mass., reports that the regent, Mrs. C. W. Buck, and one member, Miss Towne, have done two years' work, card indexing the unpublished records of Mendon, which represents about 4,000 cards so far. These dates go back into 1600.

John Paul Jones Chapter, of Boston, reports:

This Chapter is sending a large collection of valuable relics to the Panama-Pacific Exposition through the Massachusetts commissioners, who have assumed responsibility for same. These were exhibited and had special mention at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904. They include: Piece of Charter Oak, Revolutionary buttons, handmade nails from Faneuil Hall, wood from ships in four wars, replica of Paul Jones medal given by Congress, plaster from Betsy Ross House, miniature of John Paul Jones, photographs of his birthplace in Scotland, piece of Surrender Tree at Santiago, piece of flag on John Paul Jones' ship, oak from frigate Constitution; also long nails, piece of flag from the Olympia, gift of Admiral Dewey, Spanish officers' war epaulets, etc.

MICHIGAN.

Abiel Fellows Chapter, of Three Rivers, Mich., states that the literary work of the chapter has been historical. Some excellent original investigation of "Old Bertrand" was done by Mrs. H. P. Barrows, chapter registrar. Old Bertrand, once a thriving trading post of the St. Joseph River, is now a deserted village, but is rich in legends of a vanished past. Other historical papers were given in the past year. The registrar, Mrs. Barrows, also has worked upon 11 genealogical lines during the year, among them, Turner, Willoughby, Greenwalt, Leland, Moore, Cole, Hathaway, Wood, Lozier, Larned, and Yale.

Ypsilanti Chapter, of Ypsilanti, has done the research work necessary to write a history of Ypsilanti from 1809, when three Frenchmen, Gabriel Godfrey, Francis Pepin, and Louis LeChambre, established a trading post here, to the present time. This is to be published in book form in the near future.

MINNESOTA.

The following account of an important work has been received:

"Old Rail Fence Corners, the A B C's of Minnesota History," is the unique name given a book just put on the market by a committee composed of members of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution in Minnesota. Each chapter in the State is represented on this committee, with Mrs. James T. Morris, of Minneapolis, as chairman.

Years ago Mrs. Morris conceived the idea of collecting from the old settlers, still living, personal accounts of their early pioneer life, their hardships, their trials, their joys, their sorrows, or any incident in their lives in the early days of our grand State of Minnesota. Each year so many of these hardy sons and daughters are passing away and with them these personal anecdotes, which soon we can not recall, and which as the years go by will be so dearly prized by old and young alike. She at once began to have personal interviews with these early pioneers, and it is through her untiring efforts that to-day "Old Rail Fence Corners" is made possible. She has spent years of labor, hours of travel and worry, and much money for this cause, and to-day, with the help of her committee, she has placed this book into the hands of the Minnesota Daughters of the American Revolution, who can share with her the honor of publishing a history of life in Minnesota the like of which has not before been in print. Here will be found a map, compiled by Mr. George Ralph and Mrs. Morris, giving a true location of the Indian trails and the stagecoach roads that were in existence in the forties, fifties, and sixties. The three great routes for the "Red River carts" to St. Paul from Pembina and Fort Gary, are shown; one through the Sauk Valley, and the one most used of all through the Crow Wing Valley, by way of Leaf Lake. These carts came as early as 1808 to the headwaters of the Mississippi as shown by Capt. Alexander Henry's diary about the Red River country, and he says there were, in 1808, 1,500 of these carts bringing furs into Minnesota.

The book is made up of personal anecdotes and experiences from nearly 200 old settlers, including the following, the date after each name showing the year in which that individual arrived in Minnesota: Eli Pettijohn, 1842; Capt. Stephen Hanks, 1844; Gen. Wm. Le Duc, 1850; Elijah Nutting, Faribault, 1852; Mrs. Nancy Lowell, Faribault, 1854; Mrs. Wilder, Morristown, 1854; Mrs. James A. Winter, Faribault, 1855; Frank Slocum, Cannon Falls; Mrs. T. B. Walker, Minneapolis; Maj. S. A. Buell, St. Peter, 1856, tells of an incident where Edward Eggleston was on the winning side of a debate, "Has love a language not articulate"; Edwin Clarke, 1856, United States Indian agent; Capt. Isaac Moulton, 1857; George A. Brackett, 1858; Mrs. C. A. Smith, early settlement of Carver County; Maj. C. B. Heffelfinger, 1858; Mrs. Margaret Hern, who received a medal from the governor for valiant services rendered at Fort Ridgeley; Chas. M. Loring, 1860; Loren Fletcher, telling of prices in early days; ex-Gov. Samuel R. Van Sant, 1857; Col. Levi Longfellow, 1851; Maj. Benj. Randall, 1849; Miss Sara Faribault, Shakopee; Judge Lorin Cray, 1859; Mrs. Mary E. Partridge; Judge Loren C. Collins, 1852; Judge Thomas S. Buckham, Faribault, 1856; and August Larpenteur, St. Paul, 1843.

These are a few of the ones whose names are familiar, but the accounts given by the many women and men of less prominence are none the less interesting, and withal the book is, from cover to cover, full of reliable information from those who have made the early history of our State.

The incidents recorded include such things as experiences of all kinds with the Indians, at first friendly and later their uprising: Fort Snelling and St. Anthony in an early day; first meal in Minnesota, as told by August Larpenteur; trips up the Minnesota River to Traverse des Sioux, now St. Peter; a guest of Gen. Sibley's and a description of a meal, by Eli Pettijohn; "Pemmican," a description of it and how it is made; an election in St. Paul in 1843; Capt. Stephen Hanks, an own cousin of Abraham Lincoln, 94 years old, tells of his steamboat race up the Mississippi in 1857; Mrs. Caleb Doerr and Mrs. Nancy Lowell tell of dances held in St. Anthony and Faribault; James McMullen tells in detail his trip from Maine by steam cars at Augusta to the Erie Canal, then the canal trip to the Lakes, through to Chicago, by train to Galena, and up the river to St. Paul. Among the interesting topics is the description of a school back in the fifties, etc.

Every item in this book has been taken personally from a pioneer. "Each one is a mesh in a priceless lace fabric, that fabric Minnesota history. If each mesh is not flawless, if age has weakened them, does not the pattern remain?"

MISSOURI.

The State regent, Mrs. Mark S. Salisbury, of Independence, Mo., sends a very remarkable account of the local historical investigations of the chapters of Missouri:

Concerted work among chapters in the State is collecting unwritten history of Missouri; taking views of all historic homes, old buildings, churches, taverns, etc.; collecting history of same so as to have illustrated history of our State, names of all roads in each county, why the name, any views or history of road, same thing regarding streets in every town or city, etc.; inscriptions from all old tombstones in the State, views or history of same, views and history of every old trail in the State; copy of first thousand marriage records in each county; copy old wills or letters; slides to be made and each county slides shown all school children in the State. In this way we expect to have our children know the history of our early settlement and pioneer men and women. Endeavor to create a sentiment in the State to have graves of our pioneer men and women preserved as the sacred landmarks of our State. Select some place in each county that is not good for agricultural purposes and have county court purchase same and save for a park or open place in the county. It will be a good place to save the plants that are common to each locality and a home for the birds. Recommending each chapter to start a scrapbook—start with name, why named so, pictures, and data regarding every member in the chapter, etc. Locating and marking graves of all Revolutionary soldiers, locating and marking all historic sites. At present locating and getting ready to mark the Kings Highway, a road ordered blazed by King Charles III of Spain, and the road given to the people.

Alexander W. Doniphan Chapter, of Liberty, Mo., reports as follows:

During the year 1913–14 the Watkins farm of 1,600 acres has been established as one of the historical places of Clay County, Mo. The row of old log cabins brings to memory the slave days; the old brick factory or mill, whose products for years were known and used far and wide, where the celebrated "Watkins cloth," blankets, and other goods were made, is perfectly preserved. Beginning in 1860 this mill was operated for some quarter of a century, and now stands idle with all its machinery intact; the engine room contains a large boiler formerly used on a Mississippi River steamboat which sank in 1860; with the attic, there are four floors, and on each floor are rows of machines that made the best woolen goods used in the long years the factory was running. In some of the rows are 10 or 12 machines. Nothing seems to have been changed or moved during the long idleness of the plant. On the walls of the mill are such signs as "No admittance," printed in wood type which was in the Tribune office at Liberty, probably 40 or 50 years ago, and some of the same type is in the office now and is used frequently.

This suggests that our Liberty Tribune is one of the oldest and best preserved publications in the northwest Missouri. It is circulating now every week throughout our small towns and county, and is also sent to all parts of the world to subscribers who once were citizens of Liberty. The paper began to be edited April 4, 1846, by John B. Williams and Robert H. Miller, and continued by Mr. Miller for 40 years. Complete files from 1846 to 1914 are in the W. J. C. Library, proving more and more valuable because they contain all the events of current importance, and are referred to frequently.

William Jewell College:

After much controversy among the Baptists of Missouri, a ministerial institution was located in Liberty in 1850, the citizens subscribing $7,000, Dr. William Jewell, of Boone County, giving $10,000 in land, and other persons interested gave sums up to a total of $59,432. Meanwhile, instruction was held in Liberty Academy, and in September, 1850, the school was moved to the basement of the Second Baptist Church. In 1853 the college moved to its new building, which was completed in 1858, and stands as a substantial memorial to Dr. William Jewell, "in whose heart and head the enterprise had first taken definite form." It is now an endowed college and one of the oldest landmarks, and Liberty is most proud of it.

Bowling Green Chapter, of Bowling Green, Mo., has had copied the early marriage records of the county. These have been printed in the county papers, and the records from a number of old family Bibles have been copied.

Douglass Oliver Chapter, of Kirkwood, Mo., reports that during the past year it has made a study of the history of Missouri. A committee on historical sites has located many places of interest in St. Louis County, and taken pictures of them.

Elizabeth Benton Chapter, of Kansas City, reports:

Through efforts of one of our members, a scene depicting Thomas Benton's prophecy of the future of Kansas City was painted on the drop curtain of our new Northeast High School. In the foreground is represented an Indian on horseback standing on an Indian mound overlooking the river. The middle ground shows a trail of prairie-schooner settlers coming along the river bottom, and in the clouds faintly shown the spires and sky scrapers of the present city. Below all in inch type, is the quotation of Thomas Benton: "Here where these rocky bluffs meet and turn aside the sweeping current of this mighty river; here, where the Missouri, after pursuing her southern course for nearly 2,000 miles, turns eastward to meet the Mississippi, a great manufacturing and commercial community will congregate and less than a generation will see a great city. Thomas H. Benton, 1852."

Howard County Chapter, of Fayette, Mo., copied the first two will books dating from 1818 to 1836, and also the first marriage book and most of the second, dating from 1816 to 1834.

Mexico-Missouri Chapter, of Mexico, Mo., has copied all marriage records from organization of county, 1837 to 1860; also will and guardian records copied from county records.

Patsy Gregg, Chapter, of Napton, Mo., reports:

For the past year the Patsy Gregg Chapter has devoted itself to the study of early colonial history, and the causes leading to the Revolution. Napton (formerly Jonesboro) was the first county seat of Saline County, Mo. As the town had the first flour mill and also the first general store in the neighborhood it was a favorite place for traders to load their wagons here, and join the general caravans of Santa Fe Traders at Independence, the common starting point. County seat was later moved to Marshall, and the town of Napton fell into decay.

Rachel Donelson Chapter, of Springfield, Mo., makes a varied contribution to the subject under consideration, and reports having traced in a crude way the Old White River trace and Indian trail to Harmony Mission, the latter also called the "Big Road." The White River trail passed through an Indian town called Deleware-town, about 8 miles southwest of the City. It has also sent the first hundred marriage records of Greene County and a list of soldiers from Virginia with Col. William Campbell at the battle of Kings Mountain, copied from the family records now in the State library at Madison, Wis.

Rhoda Fairchild Chapter, of Carthage, Mo., has purchased an old parchment land grant signed by president John Adams. Also sends the following bit of local history entitled, "An Interesting Old Landmark and Some Jasper County History by E. Blair Wall."

Kendrick Town, in this county, is the center of the great quarries of this part of the State—the quarries that are producing the marble that will go into the new capitol up at Jefferson, if the best judgment of the people and the commissioners prevail. That, however, is a matter of the future. As to the past, Kendrick Town is waking up to the fact that she possesses a fascinating historical mystery. About half a mile from the "Old Kendrick Mansion" and in an almost straight line from its front door to the courthouse tower, far back in a field, stands a massive old stone chimney. That chimney has "seen things" in Jasper County.

The house of the chimney is known to have been a double log cabin, with a narrow covered passage between. The cabin was found there, unoccupied, with no clue to its builder, unless indeed, one was vainly offered by the troubled ghost that beat its pleading tattoo on the door, then moaningly led the searcher out to the old spring. Sinnett Rankin found the house when he came to this country in the early forties. In 1846 he secured a patent from the Government for 1,200 acres of land, which included that on which the house stood, and it became the family home. In 1857 title was vested in Thomas Dawson, a son-in-law of Rankin, who built and moved into the "Big House" that same year. The house of the chimney seems then to have become the nucleus of the old "quarters," though it is certain that other settlers coming into Jasper County did at times occupy it.

Udolpha Miller Dorman Chapter, of Clinton, Mo., reports:

This chapter has Continental money paid for service of Maj. Miller, for whom it is in part named; also copy of his commission as first major of fourth battalion of Maryland, and his naturalization papers. We have collected photos of the first white child born in Henry County, viz, Susan Jane Avery (Mrs. William H. Roberts) and of her home, the first house built of hewn logs. In it was held the first term of court. The first white child to set foot in our town was Katherine Nave (Mrs. Tully), whose father built the first residence, also the first mill; and of her sister, Lizzie Nave (Mrs. D. C. Stone Hall), first white child born in Clinton, Mo. Photo of Judge J. G. Dorman, fourth white man to set foot in Clinton, and at one time had the only stock of general merchandise in the county. He was captain of the Home Guard. We have his court-martial and military commission muster roll, passport, and countersigns; his home the first in the town built of brick. Photos of a number of houses built in 1832–1855. We have bills of sale of slaves, copies of old land grants, etc. Our side lights on local history consist of reminiscences and letters of pioneers and Civil War notes designating exact location of the commissary departments; Mr. Keck, the stage driver in those days, and three soldiers, told us "The Old Military Road" began in Jefferson City, passed through Georgetown, Sedalia (then Belmont), Green Ridge, Windsor, Calhoun, Clinton, Double Branches (on forks of the Osage), Germantown, Nevada, Fort Scott, Carthage, Joplin, on to Fort Gibson, Indian Territory. Also we are told by John H. McGinnis, of Company F, Seventh M. S. M. Cavalry, that the old Missouri trail passed through Boonville, Sedalia (then Belmont), Fort Lyons, Brownington, Osceola, Bolivar, Springfield, southwest to Old Grandby Lead Mines, south of Joplin.

MISSISSIPPI.

Bernard Romans Chapter, of Columbus, Miss., reports:

Bernard Romans, the explorer, for whom our chapter is named, has furnished a bit of local history. He made a voyage or "fluvial expedition" down the Tombigbee River in 1770–71 and camped near the mouth of Luxapalila Creek, which is 1½ miles below Columbus. He was the first white man to explore this river, and was a man of no mean ability, having been prominent in the Colonial Army as a civil engineer and enjoying the respect and friendship of Gen. Washington. He was a writer of some note. There are extant about 12 copies of his Natural History of Florida, the price of these books ranging from $1 to $300.

Shuk-ho-ta Tom-a-ha Chapter, of Columbus, Miss., has located the exact spot where the "Treaty of Dancing Rabbit" was signed and sends the following account:

The treaty ground of Dancing Rabbit, embracing both the camping ground and the council ground proper where the treaty was made and signed, is in Noxubee County, Miss., and is situated between the two prongs of Dancing Rabbit Creek.

The council ground proper is situated in the northwest quarter of section 3, township 13, range 15 east. In this quarter section is the well-known Dancing Rabbit Spring.

There was a council house on the treaty grounds, but it seems not to have been used. Dancing Rabbit was selected as a treaty ground on account of its being so well known to the widely scattered Choctaw people and on account of its accessibility.

On the morning of September 15, 1830, the commissioners, Maj. John H. Eaton and Col. John Coffee, left the Choctaw agency in their carriages and the same day reached Dancing Rabbit Creek. They had no instructions from President Jackson except one, "Fail not to make a treaty."

Upon their arrival they found a large number of Indians assembled—about 6,000 men, women, and children.

Shuk-ho-ta Tom-a-ha Chapter also reports:

The historians do not agree as to the exact place where De Soto crossed the Tombigbee River in Mississippi. Some think it was 5 miles above Columbus, others 20 or 30 miles above. But they agree that he entered Lowndes County, State of Mississippi, at what is now McCrary Station, on Mobile & Ohio Railway, 9 miles from Columbus. This spot is only a few hundred yards from the Pickens County line, Alabama.

Another spot of historical interest is "Cedar Log Fort" or "Fort Choctaw," now known as Plymouth, 5 miles from Columbus. This Fort Choctaw was established by the Spanish in about 1790, under the instructions of Baron de Carondelet, governor general of West Florida. From Spanish records secured by the department of archives and history at Jackson, Miss., the broken firearms, silver spoons, and Spanish coin found there are no longer a mystery, but mute testimonials of a once active and businesslike enterprise.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The Samuel Ashley Chapter, of Claremont, N. H., sends through the historian the following account of Gen. Lafayette's visit:

There are 57 Revolutionary soldiers buried in Claremont whose graves bear the bronze markers of "U. S. A."

In these days of historic celebrations, what priceless history they could add to our own meager details! There are unwritten pages of the days "when you and I lived under the king," and records of much value of later years when we "would none of him." If only we had taken down the "old folk tales" of our grandparents we listened to so carelessly in our childhood years, we should be far richer now in historic lore. Perhaps we might wish to forget some lines, for those early settlers were apt to rule with an iron hand, both at home, in the high courts, and on the seas. Their religion was of an unyielding, intolerant type, with little charity for others.

The following story of Lafayette's visit, given by John Tyler, who was the last survivor of 60 horsemen who went to the town line June 27, 1825, to meet Gen. Lafayette as he came from Newport, was found in a drawer at the old Tyler homestead at West Claremont, where it had lain for more than 35 years.

They waited at Maj. Deane's tavern on the old road at the top of the hill. From 9 a. m. they looked for their guest. Dr. Richards had a speech of welcome prepared to read as he entered the town. There was the military man, the medical and divinity men, the "town fathers," and the boy with bare feet and tow pants. Gaily they waited at first, and as time passed various devices, wise and otherwise, were resorted to to pass the time.

Newport had planned two receptions—one at each end of the town—thus preventing Lafayette's arrival until 10 p. m.

Dr. Richards advanced to stop the driver so he might deliver his speech: "Drive on, drive on, I am tired. I won't stop here," commanded Lafayette. The coachman lashed his horses into a run, and the escort had hard work to keep up as they entered the square. Bonfires of welcome were burning on the hills, and Dr. Leonard Jarvis had a speech of welcome which he delivered at the Tremont House, recently completed, to the distinguished guest. A ring was formed about the doorway and Lafayette shook hands all round. Some of the most beautiful young ladies in town had been attired to represent States at the reception, which was much shortened owing to the late hour and the weariness of the guest. Among the rare treasures of to-day is a large silk-mesh veil of great beauty, of silver embroidery, owned by Mrs. White, which was worn by her mother, Lucy Barrett, afterwards Mrs. William Rossiter, who was one of these maidens of honor. Another veil, identical with this, was recently discovered by the present D. A. R. regent, Mrs. Anna Tyler L. Barrett, in the possession of a descendant of Louise Tyler, in Vermont, another of the State's maidens. Our grandmothers were not as careful of dress economy as has been represented to their grandchildren, as the valuable heirlooms of that day are neither few nor poorly constructed. It is said that the wardrobe of "the Father of his Country" would compare favorably with the court dress of his ancestry.

In the morning Dr. Jarvis took their guest to Windsor in his private coach. They stopped for refreshments at the "Old Tavern House" of the day, known at that time as the Cook Tavern. A reception had been planned there for the evening before, and the Dartmouth students had come down, but the belated general did not arrive. It stood opposite the old Cook homestead, now owned by Mr. Densmore. The Samuel Ashley D. A. R. have placed a granite marker at the edge of the old foundation where some of the bricks may still be seen. At the dedication some fine historical and most interesting papers were given, especially a history of the Old Tavern by Miss M. E. Partridge, whose mother was born at the Cook homestead, where the exercises were held. Mrs. Charles Long and Mrs. George Long are also descendants of the Cook family, who owned the fine estate, including the once famous Revolutionary Tavern. These old taverns, which mark the road along the Connecticut River through several States, stored much of Revolutionary interest.

Mary Torr Chapter, of Rochester, N. H., has found an old plan for a canal, the proposed canal to extend from Piscataqua River to Lake Winnipisauke and thence to Lake Champlain. Money was appropriated for this canal in 1819, but as far as known no work was ever done. The chapter has also located an old trail road running from Cochee River to the Salmon Falls River.

NEW JERSEY.

Kate Aylesford Chapter, of Hammonton, N. J., sends the following account of the woman for whom the chapter was named:

"The Romance of Kate Aylesford" was written by Charles J. Peterson about 50 years ago. Most of the characters were real persons, but the names are fictitious. The work was first published in serial form under the title of "Kate Aylesford, or The Death Shot," and later in book form, when the title was changed to "Kate Aylesford, or The Heiress of Sweetwater."

The events upon which the story is founded were these:

About the year 1762 an English gentleman, the Mr. Aylesford of the story, established an ideal country home near the headwater of the Mullica River. This estate was named Sweetwater and appears to have included nearly all the land now occupied by the village of Pleasant Mills.

Kate, the daughter and only child of Mr. Aylesford, was sent to England at the age of 16, to complete her education. During her absence her father died, leaving her sole heiress to his fortune. In 1778 she returned to America in company with her aunt, a Mrs. Warren. The vessel in which they took passage was wrecked at Short Beach, near Little Egg Harbor Inlet, but the crew and passengers were rescued by a party of sailors and shoremen, led by a young American officer who figures in the story as Major Gordon.

On reaching her ancestral home, Kate was persecuted by the attentions of her cousin, Charles Aylesford, who was desirous of obtaining control of her fortune. It may be mentioned here that all the Aylesfords were Royalists, with the exception of Kate, whose sympathies were with the patriotic side.

At the Forks, a mile below Sweetwater, was a depot for the storage of prize cargoes captured by the American privateers. This was protected by a battalion of Continental troops commanded by Major Gordon, who was a frequent and welcome visitor to the Aylesford home.

Charles Aylesford became furiously jealous of his cousin's attachment for Major Gordon and provoked the latter to a duel, which was interrupted by Uncle Larry, a noted character of the neighborhood, who followed the twofold occupation of hunter and farmer.

At the instigation of Charles Aylesford, Kate was abducted by the notorious refugee leader, Ned Arrison, and conveyed by him to his retreat, in "Hemlock Swamp," lying between Pleasant Mills and the present village of Elwood. She contrived to escape and was pursued by the outlaws with bloodhounds, but at the last moment she was found and rescued by a party of friends, headed by Uncle Larry, who scattered the refugee band and killed their leader.

Charles Aylesford, while passing down the Mullica River was mortally wounded by a shot from an American battery on the shore.

Major Gordon and Uncle Larry took an active part in the battle of Chestnut Neck, October, 1778, and the former was wounded and captured by the British, but finally escaped with the assistance of a friendly English sailor.

After a variety of adventures he and Kate were united in marriage in 1780. I have no data relative to Christ Church, where the ceremony is said to have taken place, but am of the opinion that such may be obtained by application to the Pennsylvania Historical Society.

The Aylesford mansion: There is probably no building in Atlantic County more worthy of note or of greater interest to the student of local chronology than the old mansion house at Pleasant Mills. This historic edifice was erected in 1762 and stands upon a level piece of ground partly surrounded by the waters of Nescochague Pond.

It has, of course, undergone many alterations, but enough of the original structure remains to recall a thousand memories of the past. Had its walls a voice what thrilling tales could they tell of colonial days and of the Revolutionary period, "the times that tried men's souls." Here occurred many of the incidents immortalized in Peterson's romance of Kate Aylesford; here that lovely heroine was wooed and won by the gallant Major Gordon and here Gen. Pulaski and his brave dragoons rested for a short time while marching against the British in 1778.

The appearance of the house and its environs is highly pleasing. Its verdant lawns and stately shade trees form a most attractive picture, to which the graceful curve of the Nescochague gives an additional charm. May it stand as a memorial of our country's heroic age for a hundred years to come.

NEW YORK.

Fort Stanwix Chapter, of Rome, N. Y., contributes the following local history:

At the siege of Fort Stanwix, Rome, on August 3, 1777, the Stars and Stripes were first unfurled in battle. On the seventh day of the preceding month of July, Congress had adopted the form of the flag, and when the news reached Fort Stanwix it was standing off a siege by St. Leger's forces. The white shirt of a soldier, a petticoat for the red, and the blue of an officer's overcoat were sewn together and flung to the breeze over the fort, where it proudly floated until lowered by friendly hands; for Fort Stanwix was an exception to every other fortification in the "Old Thirteen" in that it never surrendered.

In colonial times Fort Stanwix guarded the carrying place from the basin of the Mohawk and Hudson Rivers to the streams which drain to Lake Ontario. The portage was about 3 miles long, the Indians making use of a somewhat shorter one when "going light." The forts to the north had fallen and the Mohawk Valley was guarded only by this one fort, Col. Gansevoort, with 750 men, commanding. The battle of Oriskany did not bring relief. It was the report of Benedict Arnold's advancing forces, "numberless as the leaves of the forest," brought by a half-witted Tory, and the stubborn fighting of defendants of the fort that finally sent the British back to Canada. The flight once begun became a panic and their path was strewn with arms and accoutrement thrown aside. It was thus that the carrying place was preserved to the American arms and a decisive blow given, preventing the union of St. Leger's and Burgoyne's forces and the cutting in two of the colonies.

The old portage was from the Mohawk River, a short distance below East Dominick Street, past Fort Stanwix (now Rome Club) and the present post office westward to Wood Creek, canoes coming up about as far as the present Jay Street pond, while barges were unloaded near the site of Fort Bull. Fort Bull on the Ontario slope of the divide was built and used in the French and Indian Wars. The flight of the British from Fort Stanwix was past this point, and large quantities of war equipment have since that time been recovered from the creek bottom, from which the water was diverted on the building of the Erie Canal.

In 1797 the Western Inland Lock Navigation Co. completed a canal which skirted the then southerly margin of the village connecting the navigable waters of the Mohawk River and Wood Creek. This canal was 2 miles long, had a brick lock at each end and a feeder from the Mohawk River in the center, and boats of 40 tons burden were by it enabled to pass the entire distance from Oneida Lake to Schenectady.

On the 4th of July, 1817, ground was first broken at Rome for the excavation of the Erie Canal. The place selected for the ceremony was a few rods west of what was then the United States arsenal, near Wood Creek, and to Oneida County Judge Joshua Hatheway, of Rome, was assigned the honor of casting the first shovelful of earth.

More recently Rome has added to its historic interest by the erection, 4 miles north of the city, of the Delta Dam, which confines the water of the Mohawk, preventing the annual floods in the valley and conserving the water to feed the Barge Canal when completed. Important as a transportation point in early times, its extensive industries, particularly in brass and copper, of which it uses one-tenth that manufactured in the United States, have continued its importance in more recent times.

Johnstown Chapter, of Johnstown, N. Y., contributes the following:

Johnstown was founded by Sir William Johnson. The Indian name for Johnstown was Ko-lan-e-ka in 1750. We have the only baronial mansion built by him in 1762. It is now owned by the State. The first free school also in New York State, founded by Sir William Johnson, was in Johnstown in 1764. The house built for the first free-school master (1763) is still standing and occupied. The first church north of Mohawk River was built by him in our colonial cemetery in 1760. The old courthouse, still in use and good preservation, built by Sir William in 1772. The original triangle to call court is also used. It is the oldest courthouse in the United States. Jail built by him, which was used at first by all the State west of Schenectady County. The last battle of the American Revolution was fought here, October 25, 1781, six days after the surrender of Cornwallis, and is marked with bowlder and tablet.

Saranac Chapter, of Plattsburg, N. Y., has published a history entitled "Three Centuries in Champlain Valley," compiled from the history and literature of the valley and from original documents in the possession of members and friends of the chapter, by Mrs. George Fuller Tuttle, regent.

Staten Island Chapter, of Richmond Borough, New York City, sends the following:

Having seen in the newspapers that an old cemetery at Richmond, Staten Island, in which lie five generations of one of the old Staten Island families, was to be sold, the chapter entered a protest, and we are gathering the history of the family to have preserved for the future. We shall have oversight for the cemetery hereafter, to prevent any desecration or attempt to destroy its identity. We have conducted pilgrimages with groups of school children to local places of interest historically, giving prizes for the best written account of the historical event for which each place is noted. The "Pilgrims," about 40 in number, have visited Stony Brook, the site of the first settlement on Staten Island (a spot we hope to preserve in a little park); an old Dutch house, where the committee held their meetings during the Revolution (a hope to preserve this we dare not yet express); sites of two battles, or skirmishes; Old Queen Ann's Church at Richmond, partly destroyed during the Revolution; Old Dutch Reformed Church, nearly destroyed by the British; Black Horse Tavern, headquarters of the British officers; site of Rose and Crown farmhouse, where Admiral Howe and Sir William Howe read the Declaration of Independence."

Willards Mountain Chapter, of Greenwich, N. Y., reports:

We have located the exact point where Burgoyne and his army crossed the Hudson, September 13–15, 1777, and the remains of the breastworks thrown up by Burgoyne north of Mr. Dix's house, town of Greenwich.

We know the Continental road used by Burgoyne and his army from Fort Edward to Bennington passed through the town of Greenwich. We have located parts of it, but not the whole yet; will try to mark it when sure.

We have also located and taken the inscriptions from 45 graveyards, 43 of these abandoned yards, getting 914 names. These have been printed in our local paper, the Greenwich Journal, and a complete file of these up to date have been given by request to the Greenwich Free Library, Troy City Library, and State library in Albany.

OHIO.

Ripley Chapter, of Ripley, Ohio, has made through its historian (Mrs. Maude Wylie) the following research contribution:

The Elk River Trail.—All roads through the West, in early times, as we know, were but woodland paths traced by the forest denizens, the elk, deer, and buffalo, with here and there a beaten trail made by the Indians.

We are told by Howe, in his history of Ohio, and Collins, in his history of Kentucky, as well as by tradition, that the Indians frequently encamped and hunted within the limits of what is now Brown County, and often crossed the Ohio near the present sites of Ripley, Logans Gap, and Aberdeen for the purposes of hunting, stealing horses from the Kentucky settlers, and distressing them in every imaginable manner.

One of these trails, in Indian times, was known as the Elk River (now Eagle Creek) Trail, in pioneer days as "Yorks Trace." The Elk River Trail was formerly well defined throughout its course across Brown County, from the mouth of Elk River, on the Ohio, in Union township, to the eastern edge of Jackson township, where the trail enters Adams County.

Tradition tells us that an old trapper and hunter named York blazed the trees along the Indian trail, and that it became subsequently known as "Yorks Trace." I have been told by reliable parties, to whom the information had been handed down from their ancestors, that as late as 1818 some of York's old bear traps were to be seen along the trace in a fair state of preservation.

It has been my privilege to traverse miles of the trail through Brown County, sometimes afoot, other times riding as near the route as we could get, now in an auto, again driving, but at no time far distant from the original trace. At this late date it is wholly impossible to follow the entire course of the trail accurately, because the action of the winds, rains, and snows upon the earth has caused the trace to be obliterated in many places. It is truly marvellous how very distinct the trail remains on its course through parts of Jackson Township, especially near the famous Indian salt wells on the Samuel McNown lands on Eagle Creek.

The true course of the trail from its beginning, at the mouth of Elk River, to the Adams County line, as the crow flies, is northeast. It ran up Elk River on the left bank to the Indian spring, or lick, where we are told in history, Boone, Kenton, and Washburn, and their fellow huntsmen were wont to slake their thirst. A little farther upstream they crossed the water to the right bank, supposedly at or near the Logans Gap ford, keeping to the right of the stream until near the site of what is now called the "Iron Bridge." From here the trail, after crossing the stream, ran through the farm of the late Alexander B. Martin, sr., up over the high ridge between the house and the little branch of Eagle Creek known as "Lafferty." This stream, by the way, was named in honor of the first owners of what was later known as the A. B. Martin farm, and the pioneers were buried in a very beautiful part of that estate. During the lifetime of both my greatgrandfather, Capt. Elijah Martin, and my grandfather, A. B. Martin, the burial place was not allowed to be molested.

From the Ohio the Indians seem to have kept to the valley of the Elk River, but from Lafferty on they kept to high ground, as was their custom when traveling, so as to be the better able to scan the country round. They seem to have chosen the lower flats for their camping ground, generally, in order to be the more secure from observation.

From Lafferty the trail crossed Vineyard Hill, an exceptionally high prominence on the Martin lands. On this hill were found many Indian graves, which were covered with mounds of limestone rocks, supposedly to prevent their being disturbed by wild animals. During the lifetime of my great-grandfather, Capt. Elijah Martin, the Vineyard Hill was covered with a heavy growth of magnificent forest trees, whose crown of foliage ever wafted a requiem over the silent dead. He never permitted the trees or the graves to be disturbed, and grandfather was equally as watchful. But some 60 years ago he was told by a hunter on his farm that the graves had been opened recently, and that parts of human skeletons had been found near them. Upon investigation they found things as reported, and in addition to the skulls and bones, found a number of Indian relics, which had been interred with the bodies, according to the racial custom, but which had been left by the marauders in their haste to escape detection. They afterwards learned that there had been parties scouring this part of the county in the interest of some historical society, procuring all possible remains and relics of the Indians who had roamed these forests and valleys, where, as James Kirker Paulding wrote:

"Nothing appeared but Nature unsubdued,
One endless, noiseless woodland solitude."

From the Martin farm the trail crossed the Samuel Dragoo lands. Here have been found graves rock covered, as were all of them, which when opened disclosed skeletons of red men of unusual size.

Mr. Daniel Dragoo, a descendant of the Dragoo who owned the land at the time the graves were opened, says that in one particular case the grave seemed quite large. It was covered with a huge pile of limestone rocks of irregular shape. They were lying flat, one upon the other, as one piles shingles. After getting below the surface they found large flat slabs of stone, standing erect, forming an inclosure which was about the depth of an ordinary grave. Inside this stone recess reposed an Indian skeleton of unusual size, and with it many trinkets, flints, and Indian implements.

From the Dragoo land the trail ran up "Deer Lick," now known as "Indian Lick," to a salt lick or spring which was on or near the McPherson farm. This "lick" or spring is the real source of Deer or Indian Lick. Mr. Nelson Martin, one of our oldest and most reputable citizens, tells me quite an interesting story, which was handed down to him, as to how and why the original name of "Deer Lick" was changed in pioneer days to "Indian Lick." He tells me that along "Deer Lick" was the Indians' favorite trail, and that deer abounded in that region because of its proximity to the salt lick. He says that on one occasion when the settlers were stalking for deer, Neil Washburn being one of the company, they followed up the stream coming out in sight of the spring. There they saw a deer drinking, and lurking near was an Indian ready to fire upon them. The settlers were some quicker than he and they fired upon and killed the Indian. In memory of this event they thereafter until now called the stream "Indian Lick."

From Indian Lick the trail runs across the northeastern corner of Union Township into Byrd Township and follows the highlands along Elk River above Neal's post office. The nearest I could approach the trail was in an auto, hence could not vouch for the exact direction at this point, but we know the trail follows the West Fork of Elk River through Byrd Township, and that there are many evidences of the red men having roamed in that locality.

On the land formerly known as the John Baird farm I am told by one of the oldest and most reliable citizens in Brown County, Mr. Ab. McNown, of Jackson Township, there was a large Indian camping ground. He tells me that he has found on this estate, while plowing, many implements, pipes, flints of fine quality and color, and a variety of spear heads. One spear head, which was uncommonly large, was made of bronze. From there the trail follows the uplands bordering the creek until, when about 6 miles from that point, positive signs of the old trail are again visible.

On the McNown estate, in Jackson Township, within plain view of Eagle Creek, we came upon one of the famous Indian "salt wells," two such being on the McNown lands. This well has been almost entirely filled up with leaves, earth, and broken boughs, and gives evidence of having been partially filled with logs in the beginning.

A short distance above this depression were the salt springs, now not plainly visible, the ground being some marshy. From the springs the water drained to the well. When sufficient had accumulated, the Indians had a stone furnace within sight of the well, over which they boiled the water to obtain their salt. The remains of this furnace were to be seen within the memory of some still living. From this "salt well" one follows the well-defined trail, which, in places, has no signs of soil upon it, having been worn down to coarse gravel by the tramp of the red men and forest inhabitants in their journeyings across the county.

The trail now runs just back of the Potts estate and again crosses the McNown lands, here on very high ground. In many places along here the soil was completely worn away. Only at a comparatively recent date has it been that even weeds or small shrubs would take root on this trail. As we walked along the route, known beyond doubt to have been traversed by the race long since gone, we could not but comment upon the changes time has wrought upon places and peoples since the long last march of the red man along the lonely path. Finally we reached a ford which the Indians had of necessity used in crossing a little tributary to Elk River. Here were stepping-stones which made the crossing easy, and we now move upon the benchlike formation on the other side, on which are the upper "salt licks" on the McNown lands. Here in the marsh the salt water oozes from the soil constantly. No matter how great the drought may have been, that time never was known when it was not so. This fact has been handed down from generation to generation. We walked close to the swampy, salty sod, and everywhere, in little puddles, the water was standing sparkling in the winter sun. What looked strange was that there was so much ice formed about us, but none of the springs were frozen.

A little farther on we came to what appeared to have been a stone furnace of some sort. Upon inquiry I found that until not many years ago this furnace, on which the Indians had boiled the water from the salt licks to make the salt for their use, had been just as they had last used it. Lately the stones were torn down, some left lying near by, and where the bottom of the furnace was many of the stones are to be seen protruding from the ground. By hard knocking and pulling our guide succeeded in procuring for me a rock from the center of the bottom of the furnace. This rock I shall present our chapter when it has a niche for relics in some suitable place.

A little distance farther on we came to a circular well, excavated to the depth of 20 feet, and some 10 feet in diameter. This the Indians are known to have used in which to drain the salt water from which to make salt. This well is almost filled now with huge logs to prevent cattle, horses, or sheep falling into it. At the time it filled there was about 6 feet of water in it. As we know, most Indian works are circular in form, and this well is so fashioned. It is quite a curiosity, unlike any the white men made, flaring at the top with the earth thrown up higher than the surrounding ground at the top, forming a sort of rim. From this spot the trail ran up over the highlands again, and in less than 3 miles from there passed into Adams County.

A few miles below Aberdeen and two and a half miles from Ripley, on the north side of the Ohio, is a gap in the river hills which is known as "Logans Gap."

To the majority of persons this name has little or no significance, but to him who is interested in local history—and in such we are indeed rich—the name stands for much.

Through this gap the Elk River or Eagle Creek valley is easily reached. Although the hills are quite steep at this point, the road across is always passable, and we found the walk across the gap from the Ohio to the Eagle Creek ford a most enjoyable one.

Ohio and Kentucky history tells us that Col. Benjamin Logan's army, the most important one which passed through this country in the campaign of 1786 against the Indians, passed through this cut, now called Logans Gap, on its way to destroy the "Mack-a-Cheek" Indian towns in what is now Logan County, Ohio. I say Ohio, for our sister State of Kentucky has also shown the colonel honor by bestowing his name upon one of her counties.

In the fall of 1786 Gen. George Rogers Clark ordered Col. Logan to raise a force and march against the Indian towns on the headwaters of the Great Miami. Logan succeeded in raising 400 or 500 mounted riflemen, with whom he crossed the Ohio River near where Maysville now stands, and, coming down the river, passed through what was later called Logans Gap into the Elk River valley, keeping to the north through Brown into Clinton County, then on into Logan County.

Col. Logan would have succeeded in surprising the "Mack-a-Cheek" towns had it not been that one of his men deserted him about 3 miles from what is now Wilmington, Clinton County, and gave the Indians warning of his approach. Col. Logan did succeed in destroying the towns and taking many dozen prisoners. He returned in about two weeks to Limestone (now Maysville) by way of Elk River valley and Logans Gap.

History tells us that such historical characters as Daniel Boone, Col. Robert Patterson, Simon Kenton, and William Lytle (he who was afterwards general) were among this expedition. Among the prisoners taken by Col. Logan on his return to Kentucky, according to Howe's History of Ohio, were an Indian woman, a sister of the famous Indian Cornstalk, and an interesting Indian lad of 16 years, who was adopted by Col. Logan as a member of his family and afterwards known as Capt. Logan. He speedily rose in rank because of his many moral and intellectual qualities. Capt. Logan's appearance was very commanding, being 6 feet in height and weighing about 200 pounds. He was the true friend of the Americans and assisted the white men in all their battles. He died in 1812, being universally esteemed for his fidelity to the white man's cause, his great bravery, and his noble nature.

While walking across the Gap road on our way to the Eagle Creek ford, we were told by our guide that the schoolhouse which is built in Gap was erected directly over a well-preserved stump of a tree on which an Indian was beheaded during the famous Indian campaign of 1786. This must be true, as the fact seems well established, having been transmitted from generation to generation from pioneer days in more than one of our best families.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Bradford Chapter, of Canton, has discovered and carefully copied 87 of the first marriages performed in Canton by Justice Asa Pratt, between the years 1828 and 1841; also 43 performed by Justice Edw. J. Eldred, of Eldredsville, Lycoming County, years 1808 to 1843. These old record books were found in attics. They were secured by the historian and corresponding secretary, copied, and sent to the county historical society, which published them.

Cannonsburg Chapter, Cannonsburg, Pa., states:

Near the center of the old part of this town is the site of the Old Black Horse Tavern, which was the favorite resort of the leaders of the "whisky insurrection" and here occurred in 1794 the robbery of the mail sack by those who were willing to sacrifice the Government to advance their own personal gains.

General Joseph Warren Chapter, of Warren, Pa., whose regent, Mrs. Willis Cowen, was the first member of the society in Warren County, Pa., October, 1892, and who was indorsed for membership by Miss Eugenia Washington, founder, sends the following pioneer history prepared by a member of her chapter, Mrs. S. A. Cramer, the first school-teacher in Warren County, Pa.

PIONEER SETTLERS.

John Marsh.—In a little Quaker Church John Marsh and Phebe Allen of the township of Goodbury, Middlesex County, N. J., declared their intention of marriage with each other before several monthly meetings of the people called Quakers at Rathway on the 26th day of August, 1790, and in the presence of 51 witnesses did, according to the custom among them, take each other by the hand and declare that they took each other for husband and wife, promising by the Lord's assistance to be faithful unto each other until death should them part.

On the 10th of March, 1795, Joseph Marsh was born to them. In 1800, when Joseph was 5 years old, the parents saw the opportunity to secure a new and cheap home in the lands which had been deeded to the Commonwealth by the Seneca Indians, who then occupied this part of Pennsylvania. They left their old home in New Jersey and started for the wilds of northwestern Pennsylvania. They carried their family and goods in oxcarts drawn by oxen. Slowly they wended their way along through rough and hilly roads until they reached Franklin, where they unloaded their goods and placed them in keel boats, as there was no road up the river at that time, and pushed them up the river to Warren; their cattle being driven over the hills and through the woods to Warren, where their goods and wagons were disembarked from the boats and they proceeded as before until they reached their destination in what was known as Beechwoods, later Pine Grove—our Farmington Township—on the 15th day of October, 1800.

In the year 1803 John Marsh taught the first school in Warren County in a part of his own house, the pupils being his own and his brother Hugh's children.

Joseph Marsh, their son, born on the 10th of March, 1795, was married to Ruth Sheldon October 20, 1820. There were born to them 10 children, 4 sons and 6 daughters. On the 8th day of May, 1844, the wife died. October 20, 1844, Joseph was again married to Betsy Track, of Middleport, N. J.

Mr. Marsh always retained a good share of the Quaker belief, as he was reared among them, his parents being of strict Quaker faith. He was one of the oldest settlers of Warren County, having lived there for nearly 81 years.

Robert Miller and Janet Todd were married in the city of Glasgow, Scotland, December 31, 1829, came to America in 1832, settled in Farmington, 1843.

Riley Preston and Emily Northrop were married in the year of 1820 in Farmington Township.

Levi Phillips and Phebe Marsh were married the 12th day of February, 1824, by Frederick Miles, justice of the peace, at Sugar Grove, Warren County, Pa. They made their bridal trip on horseback.

Julius Preston and Jane Jones were married January 18, 1831.

Garret Burget and Abagail Root were married in Oxford, Shenango County, 1796, and moved to Farmington the 28th day of May, 1815.

Montrose Chapter, of Montrose, Susquehanna County, Pa., reports:

We have on file several interesting papers on the early history of Montrose, written by the older members of our chapter. We also have complete and comprehensive histories in Emily C. Blackman's History of Susquehanna County, published in 1873; R. H. Stocker's History of Susquehanna County, published in 1887; E. A. Weston's History of Brooklyn, Susquehanna County, published in 1889.

These histories contain the names of all pioneers possible to obtain, with such incidents connected with their settlements as were thought worthy of presentation. They also contain warrantee maps, lists of land titles, and names of warrantees; the early lines of travel, old roads and trails; a civil list, including Members of Congress and members of the legislature who represented the county, though not always resident therein; a list of Revolutionary soldiers, numbering over 150; a muster roll for the War of 1812 and a list of men and officers sent to the War of the Rebellion.

Although no part of Susquehanna County was engaged in the Pennamite War, yet it was a portion of territory contended for and the early settlements were made largely by Revolutionary soldiers.

Individual work on family genealogy is now being done by all chapter members.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Star Fort Chapter, of Greenwood, S. C., sends an account of the old Star Fort, written by Mrs. Mary Montague White:

How shall I write of Ninety Six or her traditions? How must I spin her romances that others may catch the thrill and feel the glow I felt as I stood in the midst of that old Star Fort and beheld the ruined hotel, the British spring in the valley, the graveyard in the woods near by, railed around with iron, the Kate Fowler branch (of which I shall say more later)—all had voices to me, and each in its own way told its tale. A series of low mounds and relics scattered athwart the hillside attest the Indian's presence, for it was in this region the red man reveled. Here he shot the deer and turkey; here he had arrows to trade with the coast tribes; here held councils of war and danced the war dance; here wooed the maiden of his choice, and here at last was gathered to his fathers, with his dog, bow and arrow, and food beside him for his long journey to the "happy hunting grounds." Here the Cherokees had a powerful village; here the forest furnished a variety of delicious fruits and nuts; the deer, bear, catamount, panther, and wolf lurked in its gloomy recesses. Call of turkey and chirrup of the squirrel made answer to babble of brooks. Shad, herring, and trout abound in the streams, while over the expanse of prairie herds of buffalo and elk grazed at will. This was the "golden age" of that ill-starred race. Beautiful Ninety Six must have been then, and beautiful yet, though for a century and a half man has defaced it. In 1730 Capt. Jas. Francis, his son, Allan Francis, and three brothers of Capt. Francis, Henry, Gowdy, and Savage, built a trading post at Ninety Six. Their relations with the Indians at first were friendly, but the children of nature were treacherous in temperament, and it was not long before they held councils and decided on a war of extermination. Kruga was king of the Cherokees. His daughter, Cateechee, had met and conceived a passion for young Allan Francis. The story told me on my recent visit to the beautiful town of Ninety Six was that she (Cateechee) set out secretly at night for the white man's settlement to make known their plot. Arriving at the post footsore and weary, she said, "I have just come 96 miles to warn you of your danger," so to this day the place is called Ninety Six in memory of Cateechee. Whether this part of the legend be true or not, the settlement was warned and ready for the attack when it came. I will add that Cateechee became Allan Francis's wife, and tradition affirms made him a true and loving companion.

The abundance of game about Ninety Six attracted numbers of roving hunters, who were shiftless, devoid of character, resorted to force and fraud in their dealings, were capable of almost any crime, and gave much annoyance to law-abiding citizens. The Tories of the Revolution were largely recruited from this class, and perhaps this is why the Ninety Six region has the melancholy boast of having so many desperate Tories. Chiefest of them is "Bloody Bill Cunningham," dark and awful name, girt in mystery and dabbled in blood, and will be so recorded as long as the pen of the historian is able to write. But it is understood Ninety Six did not furnish Tories alone; some of the stanchest Whigs did she send for the defense of liberty. Many of the names have come to us. Yea, some live yet in their descendants—Pickens, Logans, Calhouns, Creswells, Maysons, Nobles, Wardlaws, Butlers, Simkins, and others equally noted, whom for want of space I can not mention; but there are some of the true and tried men who stood fast in this hour of trial.

In 1778 Gen. Andrew Williamson erected a pallisade fort at Ninety Six as a recruiting point and further to protect the jail, which contained prisoners of war. The post was held by the Americans until the fall of Charleston, May 11, 1780, when it was of necessity abandoned. The year that followed was a dark one in the history of Ninety Six. The British being now strongly fortified in the fort, together with the Tories, committed all manner of depredations. Ninety Six was the key to the possession of interior South Carolina. The British could not be dislodged so long as it was so well garrisoned and in communication with Charleston. Gen. Cruger, the commandant, had constructed a star-shaped redoubt, and in the center of this star I stood gathering pebbles, and I have bullets that bear marks of having done good service; these I will preserve to present to the Nathaniel Greene chapter, as it is probable that some of his command may have fired them. The importance of taking the fort was suggested to Greene, for with this barrier removed from his path the occupation of the State would be an easy matter. Greene decided to effect a juncture with Lafayette and march to Ninety Six, arriving there in a splashing rain, May 22.

Gen. Greene, with his chief engineer, Kosciusko, reconnoitered the works to observe the extent of the fortifications, but before they completed their circuit were hailed and fired upon by the sentinels. Lee and Pickens arrived at Ninety Six June 8. Lee at once urged Greene to shut off the supply of water (in which case despair would force a surrender), the little rivulet in the valley furnishing water to the besieged, but this plan was rejected as not feasible, and the garrison were allowed to send their women for water, and they were not in any way molested until men donned in women's clothing were seen coming out. Then orders were issued to fire on all persons irrespective of sex. It is believed Gen. Cruger was ready to surrender the fort on certain conditions, when at this juncture he (Cruger) received news that Lord Rawdon had reinforcements at Charleston 2,000 strong, and was marching for the relief of Ninety Six.

Around this a romance is entwined. Historians state that Kate Fowler, the ill-starred heroine of this episode, had formed a matrimonial connection with a British officer, Capt. Reagan. The girl dined with Gen. Greene and in some way got possession of the important news that Rawdon was advancing, communicated it to a young loyalist, who rode through the American lines under fire and apprised Cruger.

Kate Fowler is said to have been beautiful and only 17 years old, so her young heart soon yielded to the studied and unscrupulous art of the soldier (the same story reenacted). She became his mistress with the delusive hope of one day becoming his wife. But those were her few bright days; the rest were storm strewn. The story goes that among the crowd that left Ninety Six a short time afterwards was Kate Fowler, Capt. Reagan having promised to marry her when they reached Charleston, but when the British army embarked for England, when the vessels diminished to mere specks on the horizon, a solitary figure, that of a woman, was seen on the shore moaning and wringing her hands, who turned sadly into the city, without a friend, desolate and forsaken. In a few months she walked from Charleston to Ninety Six, broken in health and with an infant son in her arms.

After several troubled years had passed Kate Fowler slept the long sleep. Her remains lie under the willows by the stream that still bears her name. The curious may see any day the foundation of her last abode and the grave that holds her remains; for I was one of the curious, and can you imagine my feelings? Her son grew to manhood, and his descendants, under an assumed name, still live in South Carolina. Pardon this digression, but this is the version of how Cruger got the intelligence on 16th of June. I will add that the Kate Fowler stream running lazily through the beautiful town of Ninety Six will soon turn the spindles of a fine cotton mill being erected by our townsman, Capt. Cagle.

But let us return to the old Star fort, for it was here there had been an opportunity for wide-reaching results in a victory almost in the grasp of the Americans, but had faded like a will-o'-the-wisp. Rawdon's march, 200 miles, from Charleston to Ninety Six in 10 days had thwarted Greene's plans. Greene wished to effect a juncture with Lafayette, and it became necessary to send a message to Sumter ordering him to bring up his troops, join the commander in chief, and assist in a pitched battle against Rawdon. The distance of 50 miles through a country infested with Tories was a perilous mission, and capture meant death, but it was then Emily Geiger, a maiden of 18 summers, offered to go, and we are all familiar with her sublime act.

We know but little more of Emily Geiger, yet that little can not fail to be interesting. She married a Mr. Theevits and settled in Lexington County, where her descendants still live. After another bloody war, when peace had come and our country was prospering, Marquis de Lafayette paid his last visit to America in 1824. On the occasion of his coming to Charleston all hearts and homes were ready to receive him. At the request of Marquis de Lafayette, a coach fit for a queen was sent to Lexington, and this patriotic woman, though well advanced in years, was brought to Charleston, where she attended the ball. The marquis himself led her forth in the first minuet. France and Carolina were both thus represented by a noble son and a devoted daughter. The dress and shawl worn by her on this occasion are in the possession of a lady in Barnwell County.

One of the most interesting spots at the Star Fort to-day is the forked tunnel just outside of the embankmant.

Kosciuzko persuaded Gen. Greene to allow him to try to tunnel under the fort in order to blow it up. The tunnel was started a quarter of a mile from the fort to keep the knowledge of the undertaking from the British. After working weary days and nights with no other implements but pick and shovel, the workers thought they were almost under the fort; a survey was made, and it was found that in some way a mistake had been made, and true it was that they were within a few yards of the well, but going parallel with and not toward the fort.

Having to go back and dig another fork caused a delay, and this was the cause of the failure of the well-laid plan, for Lord Rawdon, with the reinforcements, came before the new prong of the fork was long enough. Lord Rawdon's army marched 200 miles in 10 days.

In some way the garrison within the fort became aware of the plan of the Americans (it has been said that they could hear the sound of the picks in the stillness of night), and they threw up another embankment within the fort and dug a well. The remains of the well and inner wall can yet be seen.

WISCONSIN.

Janesville Chapter, of Janesville, Wis., through its regent, Mrs. Francis C. Grant, sends the reminiscences of David Sayre, aged 94, whose two daughters are members of the chapter.

Jean Nicolet Chapter, of De Pere, Wis., was instrumental in having the name Fort Howard added to that of Green Bay on the C. & N. W. R. R. station at Green Bay, Wis., in order that the identity of the fort might not be lost to the traveling public.

The fort at La Baye, built prior to 1718, was known by the name of Fort Francis till it passed from the hands of the French to that of the English in 1761, when it was renamed Fort Edward Augustus.

In August, 1816, the United States took possession, constructing new buildings, which were occupied till 1852 and known by the name of Fort Howard.

In 1909 the Brown County Historical Society erected a flagstaff and tablet to mark the site of the old fort.

Wau Bun Chapter, of Portage, Columbia County, Wis., has sent a history, entitled "The Family Tree of Columbia County." A special edition has been published for use in the school libraries of the county.

MARKING THE TRAILS.

The Daughters of the American Revolution have devoted themselves to marking the great arteries of civilization of the country—the highways. In the East they have followed the footsteps of the soldier; in the West, the wagon of the pioneer; and in the course of time will literally write their history in bronze and stone.

CALIFORNIA.

Eschscholtzia Chapter, of Los Angeles, reports that three bells were erected and marked on El Camino Real or Kings Highway. Two were presented as personal gifts by members of the chapter, Mrs. Frank E. Kidder and daughter, Mrs. Enoch Pepper and daughters; and one was given by Eschscholtzia Chapter at a cost of $32. These bells on El Camino Real commemorate the road established more than a century ago by Padre Junipero Serra, who placed a chain of missions extending one day's journey apart from San Diego to San Francisco. Being a part of the earliest history of California, every motive of patriotism and of historic justice would cause the marking and the opening up of this historic and picturesque highway. Eschscholtzia Chapter has taken pleasure in acting with an association formed for this purpose. An address on this subject was given on December 2, 1913.

COLORADO.

Arkansas Valley Chapter, Pueblo, has placed a very handsome granite marker on the site of the old Santa Fe Trail at La Junta, Colo. The inscription on the marker is as follows:

> Santa Fe Trail, 1822–1875, marked by the Arkansas Valley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, 1908, of Pueblo, Colorado.

Centennial State Chapter, of Greeley, Colo., tells the following sad little story:

Upon the Overland Trail, as established by the Government in 1863 as its official stage route, near Greeley, is the grave of a child. The story told the chapter was that a family traveling to California had reached a point near where Windsor now stands when the child was taken ill, and the family decided to leave the emigrant train and turn back to attempt to reach medical aid at the nearest point (Denver), 60 miles distant. They had proceeded but a few miles when the child died and was buried under a cottonwood tree on the south bank of the Cache la Poudre River in Weld County, Colo., near where Greeley is now located. A paling was constructed around the grave and brush piled against it to prevent desecration by coyotes. This paling remained for many years. The grave is now in the public highway. This year the Centennial State Chapter placed an iron railing around the grave with a brass plate attached to the fence bearing this inscription: "The grave of a child who died on this branch of the Overland Trail before the founding of Greeley in 1870." The chapter had appropriate exercises at the unveiling of this marker.

Uncompahgre Chapter, of Montrose, Colo., reports:

The chief work done by the chapter this year is the marking of the "Rainbow Route." This includes part of the old Mormon trail over which the Mormons entered Utah with their pushcarts. It also uses a portion of the famous Gen. Marshall Road, and the section that crosses Cerro Hill and Blue Mesa is over the old State route, the first road into Montrose.

This last-named piece of the route is the connecting link for automobile travel across Southern Colorado. Some one has said a road is the nearest thing to a bit of nature of anything man made.

This is particularly true of some parts of this "Rainbow Route," which we have personally inspected on foot.

Few know the difficulties encountered in building this seemingly impossible highway. How to cross the Lake Fork of the Gunnison? How to move great stretches of solid rock? How to get the money to pay for this expensive work? These and other questions were met and solved.

The road is now open, and is from 12 to 14 feet in the solid rock, with 20-foot turnouts, and travel from State's eastern slope to the Utah line is regularly made.

The "Rainbow Route" is equally useful to the automobile and the loaded truck.

From a scenic standpoint the Blue Canyon is one of the most picturesque features of this thoroughfare. It is so named from the Blue Spruce and Blue River. One could camp and fish in numerous places in taking this trip.

IOWA.

Keokuk Chapter, of Keokuk, reports:

In October, 1913, in connection with the meeting of the State Society Daughters of the American Revolution, the Keokuk Chapter unveiled a statue of Chief Keokuk, in the city park, on a high bluff commanding an extensive view of the Mississippi River. John Keokuk, a descendant of the chief, was present and participated in the exercises.

Miss Nellie Walker, of Chicago, herself a native of Iowa, and a Daughter of the American Revolution, designed the statue. Lorado Taft, who assisted in the unveiling ceremonies, praised Miss Walker's work most highly, and Dr. F. W. Gunsaulus, who saw the statue later, pronounced it one of the finest Indian statues in America.

The statue itself is 10½ feet in height, placed upon a base of native brown stone 18 feet high, and properly proportioned. One side of the base carries a marble tablet bearing a quotation from a noted speech of Chief Keokuk; another, the original tombstone, marking the chief's grave in Kansas, from which his bones were removed several years ago, and placed under the stone monument which was remodeled to receive the statue; upon another a bronze tablet placed by the State Society Daughters of the American Revolution to mark the beginning of the "pioneer trail;" on the fourth a corresponding tablet of bronze bearing the names of the monument committee of the Keokuk Chapter and a quotation from the war speech of Keokuk, the spirit and eloquence of which led his tribe of Sac and Fox Indians to make him their chief.

The cost of the statue was $4,230, which was raised by contributions from the members of the Keokuk Chapter and the citizens of Keokuk.

The daughters are very proud of this beautiful memorial, and we hope that in future years the citizens of the great Keokuk, which is to be, will point to this statue to show how vital was the interest of the Daughters of the American Revolution in 1913, in the traditions of the past and the civic art of the future.

In connection with the erection of the monument to Chief Keokuk, the State Society Daughters of the American Revolution placed in one face of the pedestal a bronze tablet to mark the beginning of the "pioneer trail" across the State of Iowa, used by the early pioneers, and by the Mormons in their flight to Salt Lake. This tablet cost $234.

The statement as to the purpose of its place in the monument is followed by the quotation of Whittier's inspiring lines:

"They crossed the prairies, as of old
The pilgrims crossed the sea,
To make the West, as they the East,
The homestead of the free."

KENTUCKY.

Fort Jefferson Chapter, of Paducah, has given a marker to outline the old route of the Boone trail, the road made by Daniel Boone from Cumberland Gap to Boonesboro. There is a road which follows it from Cumberland Gap through Middlesboro, Pinesville, Barberville, London, Hazel, Livingston, and Pine Hill. Here the old trail is lost in the mountains, and the present road goes up through Mount Vernon, then north, striking the trail again 7 miles north of Round Stone Creek, then through Boone's Gap, Berea, Richmond, to Boonesboro. The trail through Kentucky is to be marked in similar manner as the part which North Carolina has finished marking, with iron plates 19 by 28 inches, set in bowlders, with the following inscription:

> Daniel Boone's Trail from North Carolina to Kentucky—1775. Erected by Kentucky Daughters of the American Revolution.

MICHIGAN.

Mary Marshall Chapter, of Marshall, has marked the course of the "Old Territorial Road" through Marshall, by the erection of a large bowlder containing a handsome bronze tablet, bearing the following inscription:

> This stone marks the "Old Territorial Road," one of the two trails over which emigration came into Michigan. Mary Marshall Chapter, D. A. R., dedicates it to the pioneer men and women of Calhoun County, 1912. [Insignia.]

The first road surveyed through Calhoun County was ordered by the legislative council of the Territory of Michigan, November 4, 1829. It was known as the "territorial road" and started in Michigan Avenue, Detroit, following the course of the old Chicago military road as far as Plymouth, where it diverged, passing directly west through Jackson, Albion, Marshall, and on to St. Joseph on Lake Michigan, following a deeply worn Indian trail.

Ypsilanti Chapter, of Ypsilanti, with the assistance of the Ypsilanti Federation of Women's Clubs, has placed a bowlder where the "old Chicago road" passes through the city. The inscription is as follows:

> 1828 1914 The Old Chicago Road Dedicated to the Pioneers of Michigan by the Ypsilanti Federation of Women's Clubs.

This road was surveyed by Orin Risdon in 1825 from Detroit to Chicago, and the plan was to make it a military road, 100 feet wide, from Detroit to the Mississippi River. It was opened as far as Chicago in 1828, but there is no record of any further work done upon it.

MISSISSIPPI.

The State Society of Mississippi has been especially interested for several years in restoring and marking the historic roads, of which there are several in Mississippi. During the past year a bowlder has been placed on the Natchez Trace at Port Gibson, and another will be unveiled in a few weeks at Tupelo, Miss. By request of the State department of archives and history, a special committee has been appointed in the collection and preservation of historical records and documents. This committee is actively at work and the papers collected will be placed in the State Capitol. The old Natchez Trace through Mississippi was the old highway leading from the southern part of the State to Nashville, Tenn., over which came old land travelers from Kentucky and the Carolinas to Mississippi and Louisiana. Much of the old road is still used, and the Daughters of the American Revolution of this State and Alabama are preserving the route by markers every 20 miles. Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians traveled much of it when making their exit from their lands to the Indian Territory. Armies knew its course during the War of 1812. Men who have been distinguished in Mississippi history traveled it on horseback to college in Kentucky and Virginia. Aaron Burr marched over part of it in his course through the State.

The Mary Stuart Chapter, of Tupelo, Miss., sends the following account of the history commemorated by a bowlder placed 4½ miles from Tupelo on the Belden Road.

This monument marks a stage in the course of the Natchez Trace through Mississippi. Over this first highroad came a tide of the best population of the older Southern States seeking homes in the Southwest.

After the treaty of Pontotoc, October 20, 1832, between the American Government and the Chickasaw Indians, came the settlers of the fair Chickasaw lands.

Bienville fought the battle of Ackia with the Chickasaw Indians near this spot May 26, 1736. Of the race that repulsed him let it be recorded here: "They die well who die for faith and home and native land."

Presented to the City of Tupelo and the County of Lee by the Mississippi Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, November —, 1914.

Here, where the untaught savage's hope but dimly lit the paths he trod, Diviner love and holier faith discern the very God.

MISSOURI.

Jefferson Chapter, of St. Louis, has marked the starting place of the Boone's Lick Road, northwest corner courthouse yard. The city of St. Louis placed a marker on the same road, in St. Louis County, in cooperation with the Missouri Daughters of the American Revolution Chapters.

Lafayette-Lexington Chapter, of Lexington, Mo., has marked three historic spots on the Santa Fe Trail, in Lafayette County, with granite monuments. One is placed in the courthouse square in Lexington. The inscription on this monument is as follows:

Santa Fe Trail 1821–1872 Marked by the Daughters of the American Revolution and the State of Missouri, 1909

One monument is placed on the Santa Fe Trail, 8 miles east of Lexington, near Tabo stream, and a third is placed in the public square of Wellington, Mo., 7 miles west of Lexington.

St. Charles Chapter, of St. Charles, Mo., reports a very extensive marking of "Boone's Lick Trail" in Missouri, between St. Charles and New Franklin, Mo. The following invitation and list gives an idea of the extent of the undertaking:

Dedication of the "Boone's Lick" Road Markers. The honor of your presence is requested at the unveiling of the "Boone's Lick" Road Markers. Under the auspices of the appointees of the Governor, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Boone's Lick Road County Committee, the Advisory Committee, the city, town, and county officials.

Sarah Bryan Chinn Chapter, of Wentzville, Mo., gives further particulars of the Boone's Lick Trail marking:

Drove stakes at historic spots on the Boone's Lick Road where granite markers, furnished by the State through work of the Daughters of the American Revolution, were placed in November, one being placed at Pond Fort, where the Boone's Lick stage coach stopped in pioneer days, the site of one of the forts built as a protection against Indians in the War of 1812; another at the junction of the Boone's Lick and Femme Osage Roads, which latter leads to the historic Judgment Tree and the home of Nathan Boone on Femme Osage Creek, 12 miles distant, where Daniel Boone and his wife Rebecca Bryan lived and died in St. Charles County, Mo.; another was placed at the second relay station out from St. Charles at Kenner's Tavern in Pauldingville on the Old Trail.

NEBRASKA.

Elizabeth Montague Chapter, of Beatrice, Nebr., sends the following account:

Granite monument, 8 feet in height, marking the place where the Oregon trail crossed the Kansas-Nebraska State line, 2 miles west of Lanham, was unveiled Tuesday afternoon, May 12, 1914, with about 2,000 persons in attendance.

Gov. J. H. Morehead, of Nebraska, and Gov. George H. Hodges, of Kansas, representatives of the historical societies and citizens of both States took part in the unveiling ceremonial.

Elizabeth Montague Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, were instrumental in raising funds for the erection of the monument.

The monument was erected by the State of Nebraska, the people of Washington County, Kans., Gage and Jefferson Counties, Nebr., and the Beatrice Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Quivira Chapter, Fairbury, Nebr., participated in May in the dedication and unveiling of the Oregon trail marker, which was erected on the Kansas-Nebraska State line by the citizens of Washington County, Kans., Jefferson and Gage Counties, Nebr., and the Elizabeth Montague Chapter, of Beatrice, Nebr.

NEW JERSEY.

General Frelinghuysen Chapter, of Somerville, N. J., has erected a marker near the Somerset County courthouse, Somerville, N. J. It was unveiled, with appropriate exercises, on Saturday, June 20, 1914.

The marker is one of six which General Frelinghuysen Chapter will erect, to mark the share allotted to this chapter, of Washington's line of retirement, from Princeton to Morristown after the battle of Princeton.

The tablet was unveiled by five youthful descendants of Gen. Frelinghuysen and one small descendant of a prison-ship martyr.

> By this route Washington with his army retired after his victory at Princeton January, 1777. Erected by General Frelinghuysen Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

NEW YORK.

Camden Chapter, of Camden, has placed a bowlder on the State road bearing the following inscription:

> Here stood for more than a century the last remaining cedar mile post marking the route from Rome to Sacketts Harbor, over which troops marched in the War of 1812. Erected by Camden Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, October 31st, 1913.

OHIO.

On June 14, 1914, Cuyahoga Portage Chapter, of Akron, Ohio, with appropriate ceremonies, placed a huge granite bowlder to mark the historic Portage Path, that winds its way through beautiful Perkins Park. Upon the face of this bowlder is a bronze tablet reading thus:

> Erected June 14, 1914, by Cuyahoga Portage Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to mark the old Indian Trail between the Cuyahoga and the Tuscarawas Rivers. The Portage is seven miles long, and in 1785 was the western boundary between the United States and the Indian Nations.

WASHINGTON'S LINE OF RETIREMENT FROM PRINCETON TO MORRISTOWN, N. J.

TABLET AND BOWLDER MARKING THE ROUTE OF GENERAL SULLIVAN ON HIS EXPEDITION AGAINST THE SIX NATIONS, WYALUSING, PA.

The bowlder was taken from a field in Tallmadge Township, in Summit County. Portage Path in 1785 was the extreme western boundary line of the United States, Portage Path, so called from the fact that the Indians used it to Portage from the Cuyahoga River Valley to the Tuscarawas River Valley. The Indians coming down from the Great Lakes came this way in order to reach the Ohio River, which gave them access to southern waters.

On October 29, 1914, the Oberlin Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in the presence of the State conference assembled, unveiled a bowlder of glacial granite together with a bronze tablet to mark the crossing of a branch of the Harrison trail. This road was located by Dr. George Frederick Wright, president of the State Historical and Archaeological Society of Ohio. It was cut through the dense forest in 1812 by a detachment of men under Col. Moonsinger at the order of Gen. Wm. Henry Harrison, and was used for the movement of troops in protecting the lake shore and forts west. The bowlder stands at the side of the main market road from Cleveland to Toledo at a point 1½ miles west of Oberlin.

The bronze tablet is inset upon the bowlder and bears the following inscription:

> Crossing of the Harrison Military Road from Ashland to Oak Point. Built in 1813 by Col. Moonsinger. Located by G. F. Wright, president of the Ohio State Historical Society. Erected by the Oberlin Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Ursula Wolcott Chapter, of Toledo, Ohio, has erected a monument to mark the path of the great trail through Toledo; dedicated June 14, 1914. The monument bears the following inscription:

> This tablet marks the path made previous to the French and Indian War by the Indians, who called it the Great Trail. It extended from Detroit to Pittsburgh and was used by the French and British and by General Harrison in 1812. It was regarded as the most important early route of the Middle West.

The monument was unveiled by Samantha Morrison Flint, a real daughter and member of the chapter.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Machwihilusing Chapter, of Wyalusing, Pa., on July 8, 1914, unveiled a granite bowlder at Laceyville, Pa., 10 miles from Wyalusing. A bronze tablet, made by the Gorham Co., was placed on the bowlder and its inscription reads thus:

> Over this road August 5th, 1779, passed the army of Major General John Sullivan on the expedition against the Six Nations of Indians. Erected by the Machwihilusing Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution of Wyalusing, Pa., 1914.

On August 5, 1914, 135 years after the visit of Maj. Gen. John Sullivan to Wyalusing, a granite bowlder was placed and unveiled

TENNESSEE.

The regent, Miss Mary Temple, of Bonny Kate Chapter, of Knoxville, sends the following account of the marking of the Boone trail:

In April, 1912, Mrs. Lindsey Patterson, with whom the thought of marking the Boone trail originated, first presented her idea to representatives of North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and Kentucky during the Continental Congress in Washington. The matter was taken up with much enthusiasm, and no history that could throw any light on the subject was overlooked, and no authority was unconsulted. Besides many personal interviews, countless letters and cards were written to chapters, historians, engineers, railroads, lawyers, county courts, stone cutters, foundries, quarrymen, woodmen, old residents, farmers, congressmen, the geographical survey for maps, and to others. It is, in fact, beyond the widest stretch of the imagination to have dreamed of the many different lines of investigation which this work entailed.

The trail in North Carolina covers a space of 150 miles from the Yadkin to Zinnville, and 13 markers point the way. The trail in Tennessee extends from Trade, a half mile from the North Carolina border, 86 miles to Big Moccasin Gap, Va. It was decided to have nine markers along this stretch, and the Virginia daughters planned to have seven on their part of the trail, from Big Moccasin Gap to Cumberland Gap, a stretch of 76 miles, mostly through the southern part of Lee County, Va., and parallel with the northern Tennessee line.

The tablets which were attached to natural or concrete bases, which were variously used, as was found most feasible, were cast in Knoxville—a design being worked out by the chairman herself after ineffectual attempts to have it done right. In size and wording they were patterned after the North Carolina markers in order to preserve uniformity along the trail, but differed in lettering and design. The wording is:

> Daniel Boone's trail North Carolina to Kentucky 1769 Marked by Tennessee Daughters of American Revolution.

The date of 1769 was a middle date chosen from among the many dates between the years of 1760, the time of Boone's first hunting trip to Kentucky, and 1775, when, after the treaty with the Indians and purchase of Kentucky land by Col. Henderson, Boone led his band of settlers into that unexplored region, having made five trips in all. Subsequently he went many times back and forth to North Carolina. In fact, in nothing does the undaunted spirit of the brave hunter and backwoodsman more clearly manifest itself than in the frequency and evident love with which, as a bird of the air winging its flight from peak to peak, he journeyed over the rivers, mountains, and dense forests that separated the remote border settlement of Kentucky from the government of North Carolina.

The markers were unveiled in August, 1914, and created much interest.

TEXAS.

The chapters of Texas have marked the old San Antonio road, or king's highway, with bowlders, one to each 5 miles, and each bowlder marked by the chapter contributing it. This road is sometimes called "Camino Real" and runs from Natchitoches, La., to San Antonio, Tex.

VERMONT.

Palestrello Chapter, of Wallingford, Vt., on August 15, 1914, dedicated the monument erected on the lawn north of the Congregational Church, directly over the ancient highway that was the direct road for moving freight from this section to Boston. The monument is of white Vermont marble, 6½ feet high, 4 feet wide, 3¼ feet thick. At the top is the insignia of the society; beneath is this inscription in half-round, raised letters:

> In grateful memory of the Revolutionary Soldiers who went from the town of Wallingford, Vermont. Erected by Palestrello Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, 1914.

WASHINGTON.

Rainier Chapter, of Seattle, is working with the rest of the State chapters, marking different posts on the old Oregon trail in the State of Washington. This trail started at St. Louis, passed through the States of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Utah, Arizona, Oregon, and Washington, and ended at Olympia, the capital of Washington.

WISCONSIN.

Rhoda Hinsdale Chapter, of Shullsburg, has placed a fine granite marker on the old Chicago state road—once the only thoroughfare in mining region from Chicago to Dubuque, Iowa, and Freeport, Ill. It has been placed 2 miles south of Shullsburg at the historic old tavern built by Fortunatus Berry in 1829. The building is now a farm residence and in fine state of preservation.

WYOMING.

The Jacques Laramie Chapter, of Laramie, Albany County, Wyo., reports the following:

July 18, 1914, Fort Sanders was marked by a handsome shaft of granite. The United States military fort was erected to protect the builders of the Union Pacific Railroad, the emigrants who were coming to and going over the Laramie plains, and the few settlers who had made their homes in the vicinity of the present site of the old fort. On the stone were these words inscribed:

> This monument marks the site of Fort Sanders. Established September 5, 1866. Abandoned May 18, 1882. Marked in honor of Brigadier General William T. Sherman. Erected by the State of Wyoming and Jacques Laramie Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, June. 1884. From July 10, 1866, to September called Fort John Buford.

The monument was placed in June but the ceremonies were in July as indicated. Gov. Joseph M. Carey at this time spoke of "The Pioneer" and Mrs. Lida Eaton Fitch, former regent of the chapter, told of "Marking historic landmarks." Fort Sanders became a most important station and many of the military heroes of the country assembled there 18 months before the planting of the present city of Laramie. Gen. Gibbon was in command of the fort, 1866. Gens. Grant, Sherman, Sheridan, Harney, Rawlins, and Dodge were also there. They had all met to consider the future progress of the building of the Union Pacific Railroad, the progress of which was contested every foot of the way across the plains and mountains from Omaha to Ogden by the red men.

A stone was placed in July marking the site of the old Rock Creek stage crossing on the overland stage trail, 1862–1868. (Fremont's survey, 1843.) This is at Elk Mountain, Carbon County, Wyo. The granite monument was erected with the help of Mrs. Inez Kortes.

There was marked also in July, 1814, Fort Halleck, United States military post, July 20, 1862–July 4, 1866. The State of Wyoming assisted the Jacques Laramie Chapter in the expense of this monument. This is near Elk Mountain, Carbon County, Wyo.

Through the interest the Daughters of the American Revolution aroused there was also erected in Carbon County a granite shaft by Mrs. R. D. Meyer, Hanna, Wyo., marking the site of the old Cherokee trail.

The Jacques Laramie took the initial steps toward obtaining the legislative appropriation of $2,500 for marking the old Oregon trail in Wyoming. This work is now completed.

TABLETS AND OTHER MEMORIALS.

Memorial activities during the past year have taken a variety of forms.

The society paid tribute to the illustrious dead during the twenty-third congress at a special memorial service held in Memorial Continental Hall on the evening of April 21, 1914. The service was in honor of two past president generals of the society: Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson, who died December 25, 1913, and Mrs. Charles Warren Fairbanks, who died October 24, 1913.

It was an impressive occasion. Glowing tributes were paid to memory of these fine women by Mrs. George A. Lawrence, of Illinois to Mrs. Stevenson, and Mrs. Charles H. Masury, of Massachusetts to Mrs. Fairbanks.

CALIFORNIA.

Cabrillo Chapter, of Los Angeles, Cal., has given a bronze panel in memory of Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo, the Portuguese navigator who was the first white man to explore the harbors of the Pacific coast in 1542. The panel is in relief, giving a marine scape with two ancient caravals. It is the work of the sculptor, W. A. Sharp. It will be placed in September, 1915, 373 years after Cabrillo discovered California.

CONNECTICUT.

Abigail Wolcott Ellsworth Chapter, of Windsor, has placed a tablet on the Windsor High School Building in memory of Roger Ludlow. Inscription:

> In memory of Roger Ludlow, a founder of Windsor. Deputy governor of Connecticut; framer of the Fundamental Orders (the first written constitution of a self-governing people), 1639; author of Connecticut's first code of laws, 1650. This tablet is erected by the Abigail Wolcott Ellsworth Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, 1914.

The Freelove Baldwin Stow (Incorporated) Chapter, of Milford, reports as follows:

A bronze tablet presented by the chapter, and placed in the parlor of the chapter house was dedicated at our September meeting to our late regent, Mrs. Mary A. Hepburn Smith. Mrs. George Maynard Miner, vice president general from Connecticut; Mrs. John Laidlaw Buell, State regent; and Mrs. Charles Bissel, State vice regent, were present.

The site upon which this building stands was a gift from her. This tablet is placed by Freelove Baldwin Stow Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Milford, Connecticut, September 2, 1914.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Katherine Montgomery Chapter, of Washington, D. C., sends the following account:

This chapter has worked principally to have painted the portrait of Miss Mary Desha as a memorial to her. Miss Desha was one of the founders of the society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was an ex-officer of the national society, and at the time of her death in January, 1911, was regent of Katherine Montgomery Chapter. The chapter undertook the raising a fund for the portrait and contributed $100 toward the amount. A committee was formed, a treasurer elected, and sufficient money collected through the efforts of the chapter. Miss Alene Solomans, herself an ex-officer of the national society, a personal friend of Miss Desha and an artist of merit, was selected by the committee, with the chapter regent as chairman, and we have a fine portrait of an honored founder of our society as she appeared at the time the society was first formed, a portrait of which the chapter feels justly proud to have placed in our beautiful hall.

This portrait was unveiled and presented to the national society during the twenty-third Congress, held in April, 1914, by the regent of the chapter, Mrs. S. J. Croissant, and accepted for the national society by the president general, Mrs. William Cumming Story.

The chapter now holds $185 to be used in marking Miss Desha's grave.

Martha Washington Chapter, of Washington, D. C., made in May, 1914, the last payment and the name plate placed on the marble bust of Martha Washington contributed by this chapter to Memorial Continental Hall. Total cost of this gift, $502.50, raised by the chapter in four years.

ILLINOIS.

Elder William Brewster Chapter, of Freeport, Ill., reports that at the suggestion of Mrs. Charles D. Knowlton, State historian, the chapters of the State undertook the work of perpetuating the memory of the persons after whom the various counties of Illinois were named, and Stephenson County is the first one of the counties that is to see her plan carried out.

Through the untiring research work of Mrs. Charles D. Knowlton, Mrs. Elizabeth Lane Mitchell, and others, it was learned that Col. Benjamin Stephenson was the honored pioneer patriot for whom Stephenson County was named. A photograph and a short biographical sketch were obtained. A bronze tablet in commemoration of the civil and military services of Col. Stephenson, in the early settlement of Illinois, is placed on the outside wall at the left of the south entrance to the Stephenson County courthouse, and a portrait of the colonel is hung in the main corridor of the substantial stone building, by the Elder William Brewster Chapter, D. A. R., of Freeport, Ill. Appropriate and inspiring exercises were held on the south portico of the courthouse on June 4, 1914, by our Elder William Brewster Chapter. Directly after the close of the past regent's (Mrs. R. R. Tiffany's) presentation address, Miss Virginia Winchester Freeman, of Chicago, great-granddaughter of Col. Stephenson, pulled the cord that unveiled the beautiful bronze tablet.

Judge A. J. Clarity, in his speech of acceptance by the county of the tablet and portrait said:

> No words of mine can describe what the early settlers endured to lay the foundation upon which is built the prosperity, the education, the culture which we to-day enjoy, and no more fitting place can be found to place this tablet than at the doors of this temple of justice of the county which bears the name of the man who so impressed his noble character upon the great Commonwealth of Illinois that the lawgivers of this State should unanimously choose his name as the name of this county as their tribute of respect to the memory of Col. Benjamin Stephenson; and this portrait of Col. Benjamin Stephenson will bring to notice daily the man whose character so helped to frame the destinies of this great Commonwealth of Illinois and will be an inspiration to us to emulate his worthy example.

INDIANA.

In connection with the celebration of the centennial of the organization of Princeton, Ind., the General John Gibson Chapter, of Princeton, Ind., erected and dedicated a bronze tablet in the courthouse yard in honor of Judge William Prince, after whom the town was named. This dedication was on May 30, 1914. The unveiling of the tablet was by the four-year-old daughter of Floyd and Celeste Biggs. She is the great-great-granddaughter of Judge Prince. The tablet bears the following inscription:

> Erected 1914, Centennial year, by General John Gibson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in honor of Judge William Prince, after whom Princeton was named.

MAINE.

Rebecca Emery Chapter, of Biddeford, Me., during the past year erected a bronze tablet in the new school building in Biddeford, which stands upon the site of the old Summer Street Grammar School building, to the memory of a former teacher. The inscription on the tablet reads as follows:

> "Their Works Do Follow Them." In Memory of Thomas H. Emery, M. D. For 40 years teacher in the Public Schools at Biddeford, Maine, twenty years of which he was principal of the Summer Street Grammar School. A man whose untiring devotion to the cause of education, whose daily example and high ideals were inspiring influences that live in the character of hundreds of men and women who were under his instructions. This tablet erected by Rebecca Emery Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, former pupils of Mr. Emery, teachers and pupils of the public schools of this city and friends. 1914.

Members of the John Adams Chapter, of Boston, made a pilgrimage to Marshfield, June 27, 1914, and on the green opposite the Congregational Church unveiled and dedicated a bowlder memorial to Daniel Webster. The stone is of Quincy granite 4 feet high and is taken from land once owned by John Adams. Miss Floretta Vining, regent of the chapter since it was founded, presented it to the town. It was accepted by William L. Sprague, chairman of the selectmen of Marshfield. Mrs. Charles D. Holmes, vice regent, unveiled the bowlder and disclosed a tablet of bronze bearing the inscription—

> This tablet is erected by John Adams Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in patriotic remembrance of Daniel Webster, 1782–1852. A fearless debater, a brilliant orator, a profound constitutional lawyer, a patriotic American citizen. "I pray to know who is to put beneath my feet a freer soil than that upon which I have stood ever since I have been in public life." 1913.

MICHIGAN.

Lucinda Hinsdale Stone Chapter, of Kalamazoo, Mich., has placed a tablet on bowlder near site of Old Branch School, where Mrs. Lucinda Hinsdale Stone first taught in Michigan:

> To Lucinda Hindsdale Stone, educator, organizer, philanthropist, friend of woman, this tablet is placed in grateful memory September 30, 1914, the centenary of her birth, by the daughters of the chapter, D. A. R., which bears her name.

MONTANA.

The Montana State Daughters of the American Revolution placed a bowlder with bronze marker at Three Forks, Mont., in honor of the memory of Sacajawea, the Indian woman who guided Lewis and Clark on their expedition to the coast. The face of the fountain bears the insignia of the Daughters at the top, followed by the inscription:

> Erected by the Deborah Avery Chapter in honor of Mary M. A. Stevens. 1914.

The fountain was unveiled with appropriate exercises on the evening of June 17, 1914, the eighteenth anniversary of the organization of the chapter.

In the new Fontenelle Hotel, the Major Isaac Sadler Chapter, of Omaha, will place for sale near the marker (in commemoration of Logan Fontenelle) a small card bearing a brief history of him and his relationship to the history of Nebraska.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Ruth Page Chapter, of Lancaster, N. H., reports that "the grave of Ruth Page has been put into better condition by raising and resetting the stone that originally marked the spot. The lot has been filled in and turfed, and an iron fence placed around it. Ruth Page, for whom our chapter is named, was the first white woman to come into our town. She was a woman of great energy and strength of character, and left her impress forcibly stamped upon a large progeny."

BOWLDER AND TABLET IN HONOR OF SACAJAWEA, THE INDIAN WOMAN GUIDE FOR THE LEWIS AND CLARK EXPEDITION, MONTANA.

NEW YORK.

Bronx Chapter, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., has erected and unveiled a tablet at Tuckahoe, N. Y. This tablet was erected to the memory of and on the spot where Capt. Sam. Crawford was killed in a skirmish with the British 136 years ago. The tablet stands on a spot opposite the site of Stephen Ward's tavern, a very notable place in Revolutionary days.

The tablet was unveiled by the great-great-great-grandson of Capt. Samuel Crawford. Inscription:

> This tablet marks the spot where Captain Samuel Crawford was killed in a skirmish with the British troops November 18, 1777. He was a soldier and a statesman; Deputy from Westchester County to the Provincial Congress; committeeman from Scarsdale; seconded the resolution to make New York a State. Erected by Bronx Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, November 22, 1913.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Anson-Stanly Chapter, of Ansonville, N. C., purposes to memorialize in some way a negro Revolutionary soldier, "Patti Frank" Dunlap, who accompanied his master, Capt. George Dunlap, of Lancaster County, S. C., through that war, and who died on the Dunlap plantation in Anson County, N. C., in 1833.

VIRGINIA.

Frances Bland Randolph Chapter, of Petersburg, Va., has erected a monument to Gen. Phillips in Blandford Cemetery, with the following inscription:

> Sacred to the memory of Major General Wm. Phillips of the British Army, who died at "Bollingbrook" 13 May, 1781, and whose remains lie buried in this churchyard. Erected by the Frances Bland Randolph Chapter, D. A. R., Petersburg, Va., 1914.

And sends the following account:

In order to preserve a most interesting relic of Petersburg's storied past, and one worthy of mention in Howe's history, we have placed in Central Park Pocahontas's basin that for centuries rested in the north bank of the Appomattox River, within the city limits. This stone was solitary, and lifted itself about 3 feet above the ground. In the top is an oval excavation about 12 inches across and about 6 inches in depth, and except in very dry weather is seldom without water. According to tradition, this was the wash basin of Pocahontas. It is placed in a pedestal of rough granite stones, cemented together to form the base, which, including the basin, is about 5 feet high. It has the following inscription:

THE FLAG.

In reporting the work of the chapters, with regard to the flag, naturally work to prevent the desecration of the flag must be considered first.

Thirty-six States have passed laws forbidding desecration of the flag, but so far our National Congress has not adopted one. The full strength of the national committee of 130 members has been exerted to secure such a law, but as yet without success.

The chapters have exerted themselves to prevent local desecration of the flag, as the following reports show:

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

John Hall Chapter, of Washington, D. C.: Through this chapter thousands of advertisements have been suppressed and four flags preserved.

IOWA.

Clinton Chapter, of Clinton, reports:

A captain of Company A, the first battery of artillery organized in Iowa, gave us a talk on "Our Flag" and "Our National Anthem." This was in response to our request, as we had felt that our school children and many of the older people were forgetting the respect due to the flag as our national emblem; for instance, the flag in our high-school building was never lowered at sunset, but, when once raised, flew to the breeze as long as there was anything left to fly, because it was too much work for the janitor to raise and lower it.

In our Y. M. C. A. building a large flag used as a drapery between two rooms was trailing 3 or 4 feet on the floor. Both the school directors and the secretary of the Y. M. C. A. were interviewed, with good results. In the meantime, one of our members brought from the East a brochure on the flag, a copy of which I have also inclosed, and we thought it so good and so fitting for the point that we wish to emphasize that we ordered 13 copies on cardboard, about 36 by 38 inches in size, with the flag in color in the center. These we have had framed and placed in the several school buildings and one in our public library.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Pittsburgh Chapter, of Pittsburgh, upon recommendation of the committee to prevent desecration of the flag, Mrs. House, chairman, again had 1,000 copies of the State law to prevent and punish the desecration of the flag printed for mailing to retail, wholesale, and manufacturing firms. Each copy of the law mailed by the committee was accompanied by a note from the chapter, requesting cooperation in the effort to have the law enforced. Four hundred copies of the flag code were secured and distributed.

The committee has been very active during the entire year watching for cases of desecration of the flag, speaking to business men found using the flag for commercial or advertising purposes, and realizing that never before during the same period of inspection and observation have there been seen so many cases of desecration of the flag in our city, or so much use made of it for commercial and advertising purposes, presents the recommendation that:

> The Pittsburgh Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution having observed that the flag of the United States is being used in the city of Pittsburgh for commercial and advertising purposes, hereby petitions the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh and the several boards of trade to urge all business men to cease such misuse of the flag of this country; that the city council be asked to enact an ordinance by which the law of the State of Pennsylvania to "Prevent and punish the desecration of the flag," enacted in 1907, can be enforced.

The committee feels that all people residing in this country should remember that the flag does not represent any individual interest but our country. We urge its use and display on our national holidays and upon occasion of historical and patriotic interest, but not the every day service to which it has been put during the past year.

There are schools in some of our adjoining counties where no flag flies, but there are anniversary sales and fire sales in the shops of our own city where the flag is used to attract custom.

Efforts to prevent desecration have been made by Ripley Chapter, of Ripley, Ohio; Wayne Chapter, of Honesdale, Pa.; and La Crosse Chapter, of La Crosse, Wis.

RHODE ISLAND.

At the request of the Gaspee Chapter, of Providence, R. I., the following bill was framed and passed by the Rhode Island Legislature and became a law April 8, 1914:

> SEC. 48. No flag shall be carried in any parade unless said flag is accompanied by the flag of the United States; and no flag, banner, ensign sign being in itself or having upon it an inscription opposed to organized government, or which may be derogatory to morals, shall be carried in any parade or displayed in a public manner within this State. Whoever violates any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100, or by imprisonment for not more than three months.
> SEC. 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage.

In the endeavor to prevent desecration of the flag an earnest effort has been made to inculcate reverence for it, and Mrs. Ida Louise Grannis Gibbs (Mrs. John Mellen Gibbs), 15 Church Street, Waltham, Mass., prepared the following set of rules with regard to it:

THE AMERICAN FLAG—ITS USE—ITS FORBIDDEN ABUSE.

The American flag is the symbol of the brotherhood of man. It stands for courage, for chivalry, for generosity, and honor.

No hand must touch it roughly; no hand shall touch it irreverently.

Its position is aloft, to float over its children, uplifting their eyes and their hearts to its glowing colors and splendid promise, for under the Stars and Stripes are opportunities unknown to any other nation of the world.

The Government commands the people to honor their flag; men and boys should uncover as they pass the vivid stripes, which represent the lifeblood of brave men, and the stars, which shine on forever.

It must be raised at sunrise, lowered at sunset. It is not a plaything of the hour; it is a birthright of privilege and integrity.

It may not be used as a staff, whip, or covering.

It shall not be marred by advertisement nor desecrated on the stage.

It was born in tears and blood; it was baptized in blood and tears.

It has floated since June 14, 1777, over a country of benevolence, refuge, and progress.

It must always be carried upright.

To bear the Star Spangled Banner is an honor; to own one, a sacred trust.

It is the emblem of freedom, of equality, of justice for every person and creature as it floats unvanquished, untarnished, over the open door of free education.—Ida Louise Gibbs, chairman committee on prevention of desecration of the flag, Daughters of the American Revolution, Massachusetts, 1912.

These leaflets have been distributed by thousands in the public schools, to be pasted in the histories (inside the cover), and memorized by the pupils or framed and placed on the walls of the schoolrooms.

Flag Day, the 14th of June, birthday of the flag, is universally observed. Many chapters have a special meeting with a program on the day. As the date occurs in warm weather many of the chapters celebrate the day in the country.

Eleven chapters report lectures on the flag. The number of flags presented by chapters to schools, playgrounds, parks, boy scouts, and missions has been very large.

The following instances of flag activities by the chapters are given because they are typical of the work of all the chapters. The number is too great to present every chapter in detail.

INDIANA.

Flag day was appropriately observed at the June meeting of the Fort Harrison Chapter, of Terre Haute, Ind. An interesting story hour was held for children in the Fairbanks Library. The story of the flag was told and illustrated with views of the flag. Each child was presented with a card giving the names of the holidays when the Stars and Stripes are to be displayed. A small flag also accompanied each card.

The telegraph poles on the national road from the State line in Seeleyville have been marked with the national colors, thus marking this section of the old roads trail.

IOWA.

Jean Espey Chapter, of Fort Madison, sends the following:

Flag day is always celebrated by a garden party. The flag, which is always displayed at chapter meetings, was made and presented to the chapter by the granddaughter of Betsy Ross; the wood base which holds the flag stick was taken from the historic barracks at Trenton, N. J.

KANSAS.

The Atchison Chapter, Atchison, Kans., reports:

In 1909, the chapter gave a large flag to the high school of Atchison, and on May 22, 1914, this flag was unfurled and 500 tiny flags fluttered from the folds of the large flag to the ground. All the school children of the city took part in the exercises, and a large crowd of people attended to hear the speeches and music.

Samuel Linscott Chapter, Holton, Kans., observed flag day by inviting all the early settlers of the county to a party and each one gave reminiscences of early days. A large bunting flag was presented to the home college. Twenty cotton flags (5½ by 8) were given to city and rural schools, 90 per cent of whose pupils learned America and the Star-Spangled Banner.

MARYLAND.

Anne Arundel Chapter, of Millersville, Md., reports:

On July 4, 1914, a liberty pole was erected and a large flag placed upon it at Indian Landing (on the Severn River, 12 miles above Annapolis), in commemoration of one raised upon that spot, May, 1783, by 100 of the residents of the vicinity to celebrate the proclamation of peace. A copy of the account, which was published in the Maryland Gazette of that date, was made, framed, and presented by the chapter to the Indian Landing Boat Club, which at present owns and occupies this property.

Flag day was observed on June 15. The Revolutionary graves in the vicinity were decorated. A large framed flag code was presented to the public school at Severn Cross Roads, and addresses made to the children by Mrs. Robert G. Hogan, State regent, and others. This occasion was followed by a chapter meeting, where the "Flag" was the theme.

The John Eager Howard Chapter, of Baltimore, cared for an aged descendant of William Bachelor, who carried Old Glory in the battle of Cowpens under Gen. John Eager Howard, from the first part of January until the time of her death in October. A reproduction of this same flag was made by this chapter, and it also contributed to the beautiful State flag presented to the national society.

Peggy Stewart Tea Party Chapter, of Annapolis, reports:

Indirectly this chapter has been the cause of Old Glory and the other flags of the Revolution and War of 1812 being repaired and saved from destruction. The chapter presented a bill in the legislature of 1914 for this object, but the "Star-Spangled Banner commission," after informing itself on this subject, incorporated the preservation of the flags in its bill, thus helping to popularize it and insure its passage.

MICHIGAN.

Anne Frisby Fitzhugh Chapter, of Bay City, "celebrated in a wonderful way flag day, June 14, by presenting to the city a splendid national flag and staff, with elaborate ceremonies, making it an object lesson in patriotism and loyalty to the flag, 2,000 children carrying flags in line of march; also Civil War veterans, members of National Guard, drum corps, Thirty-third Regiment Band."

MINNESOTA.

Rebecca Prescott Sherman Chapter, of Minneapolis, reports:

Star-Spangled Banner anniversary observed by presenting to the Immigrant Home, 72 Marginal Street, East Boston, a wool flag, size 6½ by 10 feet. The flag was presented with appropriate ceremony by Hon. John E. Gilman, past commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, who acted as our representative. Mr. Gilman arranged a splendid program and was assisted by several members of the G. A. R. The service was held at the home on Peace Sunday, October 4, 1914.

St. Paul Chapter, of St. Paul, sends the following:

Seven flags presented to this chapter by Mr. Frank Scott, of Minneapolis, to be placed in the Sibley House, as follows: First, old historical flag used at Bunker Hill (replica); second, replica of one of the first flags this Government took from the English; third, Betsy Ross flag; fourth, the Red Cross flag of to-day; fifth, Union Jack, changed from English to American; sixth, flag with 48 stars and 13 stripes; seventh, a flag for use in decorating when a member of our chapter dies.

MISSOURI.

Carrollton Chapter, of Carrollton, reports the following observance of Flag Day:

The chapter was entertained by the regent inviting all the little children of town to come, and presented each with a flag. Marching to band music, they encircled the courthouse, and coming through the east entrance the smaller children were left on the high stone steps, and rendered the operetta "Betsy Ross" amid the waving of flags and beating of drums, which brought round after round of applause. The entire town displayed the flag. June 23, 1914, the chapter gave a patriotic picture show that proved a grand success. The one hundredth anniversary of the "Star-Spangled Banner" September 14, 1914, was celebrated by inviting the Daughters of 1812 to be present with us. At our request the public school celebrated the date also.

NEW YORK.

Ketewamoke (Inc.) Chapter, of Huntington, Long Island, reports:

The chapter float portrayed the exhibition of the flag to Gen. Washington, Robert Morris, and Hon. George Ross by Betsy Ross. On the afternoon of September 12, in commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the writing of the "Star Spangled Banner," a flag and staff was presented to the town of Huntington by Ketewamoke Chapter (Inc.), D. A. R., and Huntington Chapter, S. A. R.

OHIO.

The Lagonda Chapter, of Springfield, Ohio, celebrated Flag Day with an especial musical program and the reading of an original poem by its secretary, Mrs. Forrest E. Wiggins.

OREGON.

The Multnomah Chapter, of Portland, reports:

Between 3,000 and 4,000 Flag-Day notices were placed in the circulating books of the city library. The churches held special services, banks displayed flags. Moving-picture houses presented flag slides. The stores decorated their windows; hotels and cafés decorated their menus with flag emblems, the orchestras played "The Star Spangled Banner." The public and private schools had special programs. About 60 copies of "My Flag" were distributed among the principals of the public schools.

The Francis Scott Key, or Star Spangled Banner Day, was fittingly observed by a reunion of the Multnomah and Williamette Chapters.

In the evening a moving-picture house invited the chapters to witness a film of the Star Spangled Banner, the house being beautifully decorated with flags.

RHODE ISLAND.

Rhode Island Independence Chapter sends the following:

May 24, Memorial Sunday, this chapter presented to the Church of the Transfiguration in Edgewood, R. I., a stand of colors, in honor of Mrs. George A. Arnold the first regent of the chapter, and present vice State regent. The gifts were large, silk flags, the National and State, and cost $125. They were hung permanently on the columns of the church. Mrs. Charles W. Lippet made the formal presentations, and the senior warden accepted the gift in behalf of the rector, the vestry, and members of the church.

On Memorial Day the decoration of graves with flags by chapters is very general. Frequently the chapters unite with other patriotic organizations in the performance of this pious duty.

The chapters offer prizes for the best essays on the flag, also to the school which gives the best rendition of the national anthem, the Star-Spangled Banner.

During the Twenty-third Continental Congress the States having State flags presented them to the society and they were hung in the auditorium, and during an evening session the State regents explained their symbolism.

NATIONAL CELEBRATIONS.

A celebration which was national in character was the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the writing of the song, The Star-Spangled Banner. The following account of the occasion was written by the State editor of Maryland Daughters of the American Revolution:

It was most natural that the national celebration of the centenary of the writing of the Star-Spangled Banner should have been held in Baltimore, its author, Francis Scott Key, having been a native of Maryland and the song written upon a vessel lying off Fort McHenry. That this event should take precedence over the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of the successful defense of the city against invasion by land and water has been generally accepted. The abandonment of the fort by the War Department shortly before this time aroused the patriotism of the citizens to the point of urging the Government to set it aside for a public park, to be dedicated as such on the anniversary of its bombardment. Great activity on the part of foremost Marylanders finally resulted in the appointment of a national commission with Hon. James H. Preston, mayor of Baltimore, as president, and the governors of the 18 States that formed the Union in 1814 as vice presidents. With National and State appropriations increased by a generous fund subscribed by residents of the city, a week of events was planned and carried out which was enjoyed by visitors from all parts of the country and of which all Baltimoreans are proud. Memorials were presented and the social events given by the many organizations vied with each other in interest. An historical loan exhibit was always crowded with visitors and was kept open some time after the centennial. Day and night parades enlivened the streets, made beautiful by expert decorators. The old frigate Constellation, which was built and launched in Baltimore in 1797, was brought back under an escort of modern warships. With interesting ceremonies a buoy was placed to mark the spot where the Minden lay the night of the bombardment.

Tablets were placed upon the house in which the original Star-Spangled Banner was made; the site of the first railroad station in America; the site of the house in which the first telegraph message was received; of the encampment of the army of the Count de Rochambeau on its return from Yorktown; besides a number of local interest.

The national board of management of the Daughters of the American Revolution was asked by the State regent of Maryland, Mrs. Robert G. Hogan, to assist in making the celebration of nation-wide interest. Invitations to all daughters were extended through their State regents. Mrs. Hogan appointed a committee of 50, of which she was the active chairman, to plan and execute the part taken by the State society. Temporary headquarters were opened in a convenient location, where visitors were welcomed at all times and tea was served each afternoon. Committees of daughters visited the large hotels and kept in touch with visiting members of the patriotic societies. Their memorial consists of a large tablet sunk in the wall of the old Star fort, on which is chiseled its colonial and revolutionary history, as well as its most important event, and which bears the profile of Francis Scott Key in bronze. The day of its dedication rises most pleasantly in the minds of all daughters. A subscription breakfast, having national presidents of all the women's patriotic societies, the governor of the State, and others as guests of honor, was attended by daughters from all parts of the country. All were then conveyed in a body to Fort McHenry, where an interesting and instructive program was followed by the unveiling of the tablet by the granddaughter of the author, Miss Alice Key Blunt, honorary State regent of Maryland. A most picturesque reception then took place, the receiving line being inside the Star fort which was brilliantly decorated.

Peace services were held in all the churches the following Sunday, when Key's hymn, "Lord, with Glowing Heart I'd Praise Thee," was sung at the request of the State executive board of the D. A. R.

A memorial of a different nature was conceived by Mayor Preston, who called together, on September 11, a meeting of the delegates and visitors with his coworkers, which resulted in the formation of the Star-Spangled Banner Association of the United States of America.

Another celebration of national significance was the celebration of the centenary of the Battle of Plattsburg, at Plattsburg, N. Y. The Saranac Chapter and its regent, Mrs. George Fuller Tuttle, were particularly active in this.

The Battle of Plattsburg was the last battle fought between fleets of English-speaking nations. The celebration was on an extensive scale lasting five days, from the 6th to 11th of September, 1914.

The history of the Delord House, occupied by British officers during the siege and battle of Plattsburg, was written, and the house, with its collection of relics, placed on exhibition during the celebration. It was in charge of Saranac Chapter.

A very handsome book was issued by the State educational department, entitled "The Centenary of the Battle of Plattsburg." For this the regent worked many days, selecting sites to be photographed, and later labeling the pictures and correcting proof—a labor of love. The regent was also a member of the pageant committee—a very impressive performance.

PATRIOTIC EDUCATION.

This may be broadly defined as "any education which promotes good citizenship," and the society has so understood it.

There is a national committee which has arranged its work under three heads:

The Southern Mountain schools.

Immigration—the book "La Guida."

Immigration—the school.

The following is an extract from the report of the chairman on department of Southern Mountain schools, Mrs. Katherine Braddock Barrow:

The census of 1900 stated that the population of the Southern Mountains was 3,921,535, collectively considered, the people of the Southern Mountain region would populate a State the size of Ohio. These mountain people are pure American citizens, many of them of excellent Revolutionary ancestry. The census records show that whereas in other sections of the country the percentage of foreign-born population ranges as high as 40 per cent even in the New England States, in the Southern States the proportion is often less than 1 per cent, that of North Carolina being 0.2 of 1 per cent. In the mountain ranges of the Alleghenies and Blue Ridge there are no foreign-born people at all. This population is in about the same condition that the same class was in at the time of the Revolutionary War, because of the unusual conditions surrounding them, owing to their geographical position among inaccessible mountains and their seclusion from the influences of the outside world, modern progress has not touched them at all.

Several thousand dollars are now being expended annually by the Daughters of the American Revolution to aid these worthy people to get an education. Scholarships have been furnished in the Maryville College, Tennessee; the Berry School, Georgia; the Matthew T. Scott, Jr., Academy, Kentucky; Ozark School, Missouri; Albemarle Industrial School, North Carolina; Asheville Industrial School, North Carolina; Christ School, North Carolina; Dorothy Sharpe School, North Carolina; Willard School, South Carolina; Tennessee D. A. R. School, Tennessee; and the Helen Dunlap Industrial School at Winslow, Ark.

The immigration work is being furthered in two ways, viz, by the use of "La Guida" and by the American International College for Immigrants.

Of the "Guide to United States for the Immigrant," Miss Clara Lee Bowman, chairman, says:

This little book, published by the Connecticut D. A. R., has already met with national success, and it is earnestly hoped that it may become a universally recognized part of the work of the national society. It is published in Italian, Polish, Yiddish, and English, and has already been extensively advertised in Italy, by the fact that His Majesty, the King of Italy, has conferred upon the author of the book, Mr. John Foster Carr, the Cross of the Order of the Crown of Italy, and also by the fact that the book was awarded the diploma of the gold medal and the medal of honor at the International Exposition at Turin and again at Rome.

It is fast becoming a well recognized Workman's Baedecker, and in order to take advantage of the publicity and popularity already achieved, it is the aim of your committee to urge upon different sections of our great country the publication of special editions of the book which may have the local coloring desired and also appeal to the different nationalities.

THE AMERICAN INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE FOR IMMIGRANTS.

Its aims.—Thousands of people from other lands are daily becoming residents of America; it is essential to the welfare of our Nation that they be taught to become loyal American citizens.

The American International College aims to teach foreign-born young men and women to know our country, obey its laws and respect its institutions, and to fit them to become leaders in good American citizenship among their own countrymen in the United States.

Its student body.—The college is rightly named, for its students come from every land, and they go out to work among their people in all parts of our country.

This is the only college in the country which these students can enter without a previous preparation in English which they have neither time nor means to acquire; the only college in which foreign-born young men and women are especially trained for patriotic educational work. The applicants represent the brightest and best of our foreign-born element who, if given an opportunity, may become of valuable assistance in the solution of the "immigration problem."

Where located.—This college is located in Springfield, Mass., a city of American homes, in a State whose population is 40 per cent of foreign birth. Springfield is well situated for such an institution on account of its close proximity to two of the great gateways through which so many of the immigrants enter our land, and its excellent railway accommodations. It is a city in which municipal pride and patriotism is of the highest order, and its influence upon these students is of such a character as to inspire them in respect and reverence for all American institutions.

Its work.—The school receives students from 16 years of age upward. The average of those in attendance is 22 years. There are 17 different nationalities enrolled this year. To meet the needs of these students there are three departments—the introductory, academic, and collegiate.

Introductory department.—There are those who come to the school almost and sometimes wholly without knowledge of the English language. The introductory classes are so organized that students of this character may during the first year attain a sufficient knowledge of the language to enable them not only to use it with fair freedom and understanding, but to acquire through it an acquaintance with the fundamentals of American history, arithmetic, and other basal matters.

The greater part of the students have had more or less instruction in schools in their own lands before coming to American International College, and being able to advance rapidly in English and citizenship, under the special methods employed here, are prepared to enter the academy in a very short time.

Academy.—The courses in the academic department are of the highest order. Our certificates are recognized by the New England certificate board, and admit holders to all colleges accepting such certificates.

College.—The college is incorporated under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts with full power to grant all customary degrees.

Those who have availed themselves of its courses, and after taking their degrees have desired to further equip themselves for professional work have found that the training received here has adequately prepared them for the work of the best American professional schools.

The purpose of the college is to give to the country a body of educated men and women who are fitted to enter upon the real activities and share in the real responsibilities of the Republic. To emphasize this special activity of the American International College, we call particular attention to the department of American citizenship, which has special courses in connection with all of the other departments.

American citizenship department.—In view of the size and significance of the incoming tide of newcomers, a double duty confronts the American people, namely, the preservation and perpetuation of the American spirit in our institutions of government and society, and the inculcation of that spirit into the life of those from other lands. For this reason the American citizenship department was established.

The patriotic motive behind this department is to teach the newcomers our language and to impart to them the kind of knowledge about our country that they need in order to understand us and to be like us. It is the practice of the Golden Rule in matters patriotic. Other departments have the same spirit, so that throughout the institution attitude and action are sympathetic. In fact, all kinds of knowledge that aid in making intelligent and upright citizens are laid under contribution to the end that the foreign born shall be as the best of the home born in conserving the best type of citizenship.

A fund has been started for a D. A. R. building for the college, and a number of contributions have been received (see classification for amount).

Another form of patriotic education is the giving of lectures on American history and institutions to foreigners in their own languages. This work originated in 1899 with the Buffalo Chapter, which yearly spends $1,500 for the work. It has been very successful and other chapters have taken it up.

The plan of educating the children of foreign parents in patriotism originated with Mrs. John A. Murphy, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Under her able guidance it became and still is work done by a national committee. The Chicago and Cincinnati Chapters have especially distinguished themselves in good work along this line and clubs have been formed by chapters all over the country. Paid directors for this work are advocated and the lack of funds has prevented growth somewhat. The meeting places are school rooms, Sunday-school rooms, and parish houses. In some places they have united with the Boy Scouts. Michigan is the banner State, with 27 clubs.

There are in all 140 clubs, by States as follows: Michigan, 27 clubs; Illinois, 20 (18 of these in Chicago); Ohio, 15 (9 in Cincinnati); Iowa, 8; Pennsylvania, 9; Missouri, 5; New York, 2; Louisiana, 6.

Framed copies of the Declaration of Independence, and the flag code, are given to the public schools as means of inculcating patriotism.

Medals and prizes are given to school children for best essays on American history. Pictures of historic interest and busts of national heroes are also given for the purpose of arousing patriotic fervor.

General agitation for safe and sane celebrations of the Fourth of July have been successfully carried through by the chapters.

Legislation for compulsory school attendance has been introduced.

Story-telling hours have added their quota.

The State regent of Georgia, Mrs. Sheppard W. Foster, compiled and edited a Revolutionary Reader, reminiscences of Revolutionary history and Indian legends. The profits from the sale of this book were devoted to patriotic education.

Many chapters have interested themselves in the juvenile court in the effort to elevate the plane of citizenship.

They have been very generous in their contributions of money. The following classification indicates the objects of their benevolence. The amounts given do not cover all gifts because in many cases the sums were not stated; also the classification covers only chapters reporting contributions.

85432°—S. Doc. 988, 63-3——9

The Belgian relief fund is not given here, because it properly belongs in next year's report. The treasurer general has given you an idea of the great interest and sympathy of the chapters for the unfortunate little country.

As usual the chapters have given freely to education.

The amounts given are classified as follows:

Schools (cash contribution of 262 chapters—the number reporting actual amounts)	$12,435.20
Patriotic education (13 chapters)	581.30
Education (12 chapters)	288.10
Philanthropy (128 chapters)	6,788.31
Civics (42 chapters)	2,113.58
Prizes, cash (34 chapters)	1,778.30
Miscellaneous (84 chapters)	4,157.09
Total	28,141.88

($3,386.95 of the above amount to "schools" was contributed to the Martha Berry School, Rome, Ga.; to the Hindman School, Hindman, Ky., $360; to the Maryville School, Maryville, Tenn., $983.)

It may be truly said that the chapters are aware of their opportunities, and are availing themselves of them.

In November presented a large flag with appropriate ceremonies to the new McMillan Park play grounds.

Learning through the press how the small children of the Crazy Mountain School of Montana won a prize for pressing mountain flowers under great disadvantages, the society sent a beautiful silk flag as a token of encouragement.

Six subscriptions have been taken for the C. A. R. Magazine. One copy is sent to the Public Library.

Sent potted plants to two homes bereaved of little children.

The society is a contributing member of the Friendship House Settlement.

Thanksgiving, 15 members of the society, dressed in colonial costume, visited the Children's Hospital, where they gave a program of song and story in each ward, and left a small silk flag with each of the 100 children there. Both societies have become branches of the Drama League, which enables them to give plays for the benefit of the little folks who attend the House of Play near the Neighborhood Settlement.

February 21, 25 of the juniors gave a play entitled "Celebrating General Washington's Last Birthday at Mount Vernon."

At Christmas the children brought 100 gifts of dolls, hose, and handkerchiefs for the Bruen Home. One member gave a box of oranges and another sacrificed his own tree which he trimmed on Christmas for the nursery at the Bruen Home. Both societies gave a delightful dansante in the Raleigh ballroom on February 23. The amount realized will be used for a drinking fountain which the society hopes will be erected soon.

On the evening of February 23 a group of the society gave "The Spirit of '76" in the program of the patriotic exercises in Memorial Continental Hall.

July 4, 25 members of the society assisted in the patriotic celebration by marching in the procession through the Mall to the Monument Grounds, where, in the shadow of the great shaft, they danced the stately minuet in colonial costumes. During the summer several members marked the graves of five Revolutionary ancestors of Pennsylvania.

For patriotic and educational work in the District $21.75 has been spent.

For patriotic and educational work outside of the District $23.75.

Samuel Gorton Society, of Washington (Mrs. F. L. Chambers, president), has only been organized during the past year. During that time the members have made 25 picture books and sent them to the free ward of the Children's Hospital. Several baskets of fruits were sent to Friendship House at Thanksgiving and 25 toys and fruit to the same at Christmas.

GEORGIA.

Dolly Madison Society, of Atlanta (Mrs. Charles F. Rice, president), was organized January 22, 1914. Meetings are held monthly, when interesting programs are arranged of music, recitations, readings, or papers on suitable subjects.

Washington's Birthday was appropriately observed.

On flag day Dr. Hughlett gave a very instructive talk.

Meetings are well attended and the children are enthusiastic.

INDIANA.

Fort Steuben Society, of Jeffersonville (Mrs. Nathan Sparks, president), has 16 members; 4 nonresident. The children remembered the Orphans' Home at Christmas by contributions and the Old Ladies' Home at Easter. They also assisted the mother chapter in all public affairs. They continue studying the "Lives of the Presidents" up to and including Abraham Lincoln.

Old Glory Society, of Indianapolis (Mrs. William J. Hogan, president). At the Christmas meeting of the Caroline Scott Harrison Chapter, D. A. R., December 11, 1913, it was decided to organize a children's society, to be known as "Old Glory," after James Whitcomb Riley's poem "Old Glory." Three meetings in the form of parties were planned and Mrs. William J. Hogan was chosen president. The society was organized with 64 charter members. The first meeting was a party for children from 6 to 12 years; the second for children from 12 to 18 years. This party was in the form of a beautiful pageant, "The Flag," "The Melting Pot." It was the idea of America, known only to the savages, becoming at last the center of a multiplicity of nations in the melting pot of the United States.

The third was a lawn party for the small children from infancy to 6 years, at which there were kindergarten games, music, and a fish pond.

July 4 post cards were sent to each member of the society with the following printed on back:

> As Children of the American Revolution, remember it is your duty to show as much respect for Independence Day as for your flag. Show others how to have a good time that is a patriotic time. Help the city officials to maintain the law. Be sure and display your flag. Salute your flag and teach others to do the same.

Mrs. Daniel Lothrop (founder of the C. A. R.) offered a silver pitcher to the member bringing in the greatest number of new members before April 1, 1914. The society received the pitcher through Samuel Elliott Perkins IV, name being sent to represent Old Glory Society.

October 7, James Whitcomb Riley's birthday, the president of the society took a car full of children (members of the society) to Mr. Riley's home with a beautiful basket of flowers as a greeting from the Old Glory Society, C. A. R.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Old North Bridge Society, of Concord (Mrs. G. R. Blinn, president), has held a meeting each month of the year. The society has 13 members, 1 member having passed away. The society maintains a scrapbook and a post-card album. Books and toys have been given and sent to the North End Mission, Boston, for the children's playhouse. Members entertained the Old Concord Chapter, D. A. R., at the Unitarian Parish House with a "flag drill" and danced the minuet. Also furnished the music at the opening of the program.

At one of the meetings a G. A. R. soldier spoke about his return to Gettysburg after 50 years.

At another meeting a D. A. R. sang a group of songs entitled "Our Flag." There was a Washington and a Franklin afternoon, with appropriate talk and exercises.

The boys and girls are folding absorbent-gauze pads for the Red Cross work.

Signal Lantern Society, of Boston (Miss Isabel Wesson, president), has held its regular meetings. The dance held in April was most successful. The society has been active in charitable work.

Contributions have been made to the Cooper Austin House, Cambridge, Springfield's International College, and Frances C. Willard Settlement.

Interesting papers and addresses have been given by Mrs. Daniel Lothrop (founder of the C. A. R.); Mrs. De Y. Field, regent of the Paul Revere Chapter, D. A. R.; Mrs. Alvin R. Bailey, State director; Mrs. C. H. Bond; Mrs. Taft; and Miss Simpson.

Salute to the flag always closes the meetings.

MISSOURI.

St. Louis Society, of St. Louis (Miss J. F. Curry, president), has enrolled at present 41 members ranging from 3 to 18 years. The study for the year is "Our History." There is much musical talent in the society, and the members are collecting pre-Revolutionary songs and music.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

"Spirit of '76" Society, of Nashua (Mrs. Mary P. Harris, president), has a membership of 23. The society has given a flag for "Salute" purposes to the rural school of the city; have made calls on the "shut-ins"; have hung May baskets at the doors of their invalid friends; have given flowers to members who were ill; and planted a tree in one of the public parks.

NEW YORK.

Bemis Heights Society, of Saratoga Springs (Mrs. Frank A. Cook, president), has held nine meetings during the year, which have been of special interest on account of the historical papers read. The other activities of the society were numerous, prominent among which were the dedication of the Saratoga Battle Monument at Schuylerville, and the donation of the beautiful silk banner (given to the society by Mrs. Eliza Jumel Caryl) to the C. A. R. room in Memorial Continental Hall. Miss Ellen Guernsey wore the C. A. R. pin offered by the president for securing the largest number of new members during the year.

Gen. Sullivan Society, of Elmira (Mrs. Gabrielle B. Hoffman, president), is in a state of reorganization. Meetings have been of interest—one in particular, when the talk was on Peary's Arctic expedition. There were souvenirs of Arctic exploration given by a sister of Ross Marvin, who was drowned while a member of Peary's expedition.

Flag day was celebrated, Mrs. Rich, State directress, being the guest of honor.

Seventy-one dollars' worth of Red Cross seals were sold for the tuberculosis fund. When the State road is completed, the markers of the society will be placed.

Light Horse Harry Lee Society, of New York City (Mrs. William R. Stewart, president), has held eight meetings during the year, including a large patriotic meeting held at Faunce's Tavern. There have been 2 deaths in the society and 11 new members received which makes the total membership 61, 47 of whom are active members.

The prize which was given for the best essay on Light Horse Harry Lee was won by Walter Arrowsmith.

Fifty dollars was sent for a scholarship to Christ School, Arden, N. C. To raise this money a dance was given.

Maj. Josiah Throop Society, of Gloversville (Miss Winifred Dutcher, president). Number of members, 22. Meetings are held monthly. Program consists of songs and selections of a patriotic nature. Special programs are arranged for Washington's birthday. Trips were taken to Johnson Hall and Fort Johnson.

Charter was presented to the society by Mrs. Nellis B. Rich, of Syracuse.

Miss Harriet King presented the society with a silk flag.

The program for one of the meetings of the Daughters of the American Revolution was given by the members of the Children of the American Revolution, who attended the meeting in a body.

Nathan Beman Society, of Plattsburgh (Mrs. George Fuller Tuttle, president), has a membership of 60. Nineteen hundred and fourteen, the year of the celebration of the battle of Plattsburgh, has been a memorable year for the members of Nathan Beman Society, Children of the American Revolution, for not only have they had their annual meetings, with historic rides, walks, and talks, but an active part in the celebration itself. Among the papers of the year was a delightful one, entitled "The Children of Dickens I like best," read by its author, a girl of 15.

At a meeting of the senior division, the president read a paper written by Mrs. Samual L. Munson, of Albany. The subject was "One Hundred Years of Peace."

Among the many historic places visited in preparation for the celebration was the home of Judge William Bailey and his father-in-law, Capt. Nathaniel Platt, a veteran of the Battle of Brooklyn. In this home the aged man insisted on staying during its occupancy by the British.

The society visited the yard of the Walworth house, and on the very spot where the academy boys gathered and formed the company of volunteers, later known as Aiken's, gave the salute to the flag and pledge of allegiance, afterwards visiting the house and viewing the interior woodwork, including the beautiful hand-carved mantels and square bricks of the fireplaces. Later the cemetery and places there of special interest were seen; also the site of the "upper bridge" destroyed to prevent the passage of the enemy; the quarters of Gen. de Rottenburgh, now known as the Benedict homestead, but in 1814 the home of Samuel Norcross, who was killed by British soldiers on the highway leading to the town.

Memorial Day was observed by a brief service at the cemetery, the children placing Betsey Ross flags of silk on the patriots' graves. The society also joined in the religious-patriotic service with which the program of celebration week opened on Sunday, September 6, the hundredth anniversary of the British entering the town.

The society took part in this celebration of Plattsburgh, and in this way the main features of the history of the Champlain Valley during the last three centuries have been indelibly impressed upon their minds, and for many of them thoughtful mothers have laid aside the quaint costumes worn by the children during the pageant that the children and grandchildren of the future may see how the children of 1914 celebrated the centenary of the Battle of Plattsburgh.

October 10 in commemoration of the one hundred and thirty-eighth anniversary of the Battle of Valcour, both daughters and children visited Salmon River, for there in 1690 a battle between French and Indians and other hostile Indians was fought. Here still stands near the site of the original "house of possession" built in 1766 the Gilliland homestead where the society was entertained on this occasion by descendants of the pioneer William Gilliland. The most interesting feature of the day was the visit to the ravine where, during the battle Mrs. Hay with her baby sought shelter.

From the Gilliland home, looking across historic Salmon River to Valcour Strait, where the battle between the fleets of Arnold and Carlton contended, the story of the conflict took on a living reality, and the meeting was pronounced to be the best ever held.

The society has maintained the membership reported last year.

Nelly Custis Society, of Buffalo (Mrs. John Miller Horton, president), reports 12 new members this year. This little band of workers (numbering 70) have accomplished fine things in the past, their efforts educating a little boy in the South, and this summer endowing a free cot, called the "Nelly Custis Cot," at the fresh-air mission camp on the lake shore.

A gift box from the society, valued at $50 goes with the Christmas ship to make glad the hearts of many little lads and lassies across the water.

Philipse Manor Society, of Yonkers (Mrs. H. L. Howison, president), reports 29 members. This society is interested in the Garden School, where the poor children cultivate their little gardens. The members are also interested in hospital work and take care of a cot in the children's ward. Meetings are held monthly.

Schuyler Society, of Albany (Miss S. H. Andrews, president), has 6 new members, making a total of 36. Two dollars has been contributed to the special fund. A very interesting program has been arranged in the yearbook.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Conrad Weiser Society, of Reading (Miss Sarah Gable, president). The work of this society has been up to its usual standard and the interest in meetings unflagging. One of the most enjoyable meetings was the "German coffee," at which Mrs. John K. Stanffer, the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, made a splendid address on the patriotism of youth.

Another interesting feature of the year's work was an afternoon devoted to story telling when the children had the pleasure of hearing Miss Katharine Loose ("George Schoch"), a writer of Pennsylvania German stories.

A peace meeting was held October 3, when President Wilson's peace proclamation was read by Rev. Robert M. Blackburn and an address was made by Mr. Sherrard Ewing.

Delaware County Society, of Chester (Miss Charlotte O. Wilson, president), has a membership of 23—ages ranging from 10 to 15 years.

The treasury is in a flourishing condition. The society has supplied flags for all the playgrounds in the city, and feel greatly encouraged in their work.

General John Philip De Haas Society, of Lebanon (Mrs. W. D. Happel, president), was organized October 25, 1913, with 13 members. At its first meeting short and interesting addresses were made by the regent of the Lebanon Chapter D. A. R., Mrs. A. H. Lee, Mrs. Horace Brock, and Mrs. F. W. Robbins. Mrs. Happel gave a résumé of the life and services of Gen. De Haas.

In January there was a meeting of children only. At this meeting the prize essay contest was announced.

On February 7 charter meeting was held. Eleven children signed the application for the charter, one being too young, and one member was absent. The money to pay for the charter was donated by the Lebanon Chapter D. A. R.

June 6 the society took a trolley ride a few miles out of Lebanon, and visited the home of Mrs. Uhrich, which was once owned by Michael Ley, who entertained George Washington. On each side of the large porch entrance are the same stepping-stones that were there in Washington's time. A number of interesting Indian relics were shown which were on the premises, and have always "gone with the house" as it passed from owner to owner.

Three new members have been received into the society.

At all meetings, after a short business session, interesting and suitable programs have been enjoyed.

General Muhlenberg Society, of Philadelphia (Mrs. C. L. Taylor, president), has enrolled 8 new members during the year, now making a total membership of 68.

Since last October the society has accomplished much work and has held many interesting meetings.

A halloween party in costume was given at which games were played.

In December an entertainment with paid talent was given and each member was asked to bring toys or fruit, which was afterwards sent to the Free Hospital. At this entertainment prizes were awarded—one to the child bringing in the greatest number of new members during the year, one for attendance at meetings, and two cash prizes and two books for the best essay on Gen. Muhlenberg.

In February a luncheon was given in commemoration of Washington's birthday, over 100 covers being laid. Many of the members of the Quaker City Chapter D. A. R. attended.

In May there was a party given, and in June there were two excursions—one to the zoological garden, the other to the park. A trip was also made to Independence Hall, where the curator gave a lecture on the history of Pennsylvania.

John Hart Society, of Pittsburgh (Mrs. W. A. Smith, president), during the year has received 11 new members, transferred 4 to the Daughters of the American Revolution, and 2 were lost by death. There are 58 active members. Last December the annual gift to the Ormsby Park playground consisted of 42 dolls (which were dressed by the society for the little girls) and 24 toy wagons for the boys.

To the little Italian boy in whom the society has been interested since infancy a Bible has been given, from which the mother is trying to teach him his letters.

Martha Williams Society, of Philadelphia (Mrs. J. F. Develin, president). Members of this society decorated the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in nearby cemeteries (as is their usual custom) on Memorial Day.

Sold flags for the benefit of the local hospital on flag day, and in the afternoon participated in exercises held in Independence Square, when the Daughters of the American Revolution chapters in Philadelphia presented a beautiful regulation Army flag and holster to each troop of Boy Scouts in the city. Ninety-six flags were presented. Edwin L. Stuart, ex-governor of Pennsylvania; Dr. Hart, chief director of the Scouts; and the Pennsylvania State officers of the Daughters of the American Revolution made the presentations. Speeches were made by ex-Governor Stuart, Dr. Hart, and Mrs. Thomas Potter, jr., regent of the Philadelphia Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, after which all sang the "Star Spangled Banner."

The older members of the Society assisted in the campaign organized to raise money for the much-needed new buildings for the local hospital. The committee under the direction of the president of the Martha Williams Society raised $11,551.08. Several hundred dollars of this amount were secured by the children. Members of the society contributed garments and toys to the box sent by the Merion Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to the children of Europe on the Christmas ship which sailed for Belgium.

Membership of this society is 21.

VIRGINIA.

Charles Lynch Society, of Lynchburg (Mrs. Austin T. Quick, president), reports a membership of 31, with dues all paid and society in a flourishing condition.

WASHINGTON.

Elisha P. Ferry Society, of Seattle (Mrs. Byron Thorpe Carr, president). At the open meeting of the society in September, 1913, it was voted to divide the society on account of the discrepancy in ages. The senior membership numbers 17; the juniors 14. Each division has held regular monthly meetings. Following the regular order of business varied programs have been given, many papers relating to historical facts have been read, lectures and talks given, and the members participating with music and recitations. A social hour follows, when games, principally historical contests, are played, and dancing follows. Five dollars was contributed to the Memorial Continental Hall fund.

WISCONSIN.

George Rogers Clark Society of Milwaukee (Mrs. R. B. Hartman, president) has held regular monthly meetings. Number of members, 43. The attendance has doubled during the year and the treasurer reported a trifle over $60 in the bank, after sending a box of infant wear to the needlework guild and furnishing a meal to a poor family at Christmas.

The ages of the members cover such a wide range it was deemed advisable to entertain the juniors with a separate program at each meeting, and so trained kindergartners were secured to teach the children loyalty and partiotism through games, songs, and stories. These teachers deserve great credit for their skill in entertaining the little ones.

The seniors were entertained by talks on the "Early French Forts" in Wisconsin by Mrs. John P. Hume, State vice regent; the "Black Hawk War and Lincoln's connection with our Early History" by Mrs. E. H. Van Ostrand, State regent; interesting events, personal reminiscences during Civil War times, and a history of "Old Abe" by Col. A. G. Weissert; a talk on "The Flag" by Ralph Danforth, who described the ceremonies attendant upon the raising and lowering of the flag, also the various kinds and significance of the flags carried by our battleships. Two fine musicals were given—one being held for profit, which proved a rare treat as well as a financial success, and the other a most delightful social affair. The society had the enjoyable privilege at the close of this musical of hearing the recital of interesting facts concerning her father's "Revolutionary War Career" by Mrs. David B. Thiers, Milwaukee's own real daughter, whose one hundredth birthday has just been appropriately celebrated.

There has been a growing intimacy between the daughters and the children's societies, and much of the enthusiasm of the children's work has been directly inspired by the hearty cooperation and interest shown by the Milwaukee Chapter, D. A. R.

CUBA.

Cuba Society of Verado, Habana (Miss Mary Springer, president), was inaugurated with four members; two have become members of the Cuba Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution; another is eligible to the S. A. R., and so only one member remains.

It has been difficult to increase the membership of the society in Cuba, as the children go north to attend school. However, the president is not discouraged, and is hopeful of the success of the Cuba society.

APPENDIX A.

PIERCE'S REGISTER.

"Register of the certificates issued by John Pierce, Esquire, Paymaster General and Commissioner of Army Accounts for the United States," to officers and soldiers of the Continental Army under act of July 4, 1783.

A copy of this register, alphabetically arranged, the only copy in existence in this form, so far as known, was discovered some months ago by Mrs. Amos G. Draper, chairman of the committee of the Descendants of the Signers of the Declaration, "to copy and classify scattered military records, in conjunction with the different branches of the United States Government," and regent of the Mary Bartlett Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Realizing its value, she made known its existence to the president general. A clerk was detailed to copy the work, which has been compared with the original in connection with Mrs. Draper, and it is now offered as a contribution to history from the national society and not from any individual State or Chapter.

The following statement, taken mostly from a report of the Register of the Treasury, explains the scope of the work:

Among the records which have come down to the present from the time of the Revolution are certain interesting documents connected with the funding of the Revolutionary debt under the act of August 4, 1790.

As is well known, during the Revolutionary War the Government was often in extremities on account of the lack of the necessary funds, and especially the pay of the Army was at times greatly in arrears. To remedy, as far as possible, this unfortunate situation the Continental Congress on July 4, 1783, when the war was approaching an end, passed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the Paymaster General be, and he is hereby, fully authorized and empowered to settle and finally adjust all accounts whatsoever between the United States and the officers and soldiers of the American Army, so as to include all and every demand which they or either of them may have by virtue of the several resolutions and acts of Congress relating thereto; and that the said paymaster do give certificates of the sums which may appear due on such settlements in the form and manner which the superintendent of the finances of the United States may direct:

"Provided always, That the certificates to the officers shall be delayed for a reasonable time to obtain returns of payments or advances to them by the States or public departments, where in the opinion of the Paymaster General such delay shall be necessary."

It should be noted that these settlements cover only the sums which remained unpaid at the end of the war.

In accordance with the resolution, John Pierce, Paymaster General and Commissioner of Army Accounts, prepared and delivered to the officers and men of the Army over 93,000 certificates showing the indebtedness of the Government to each person. Apparently it was not practicable to consolidate into one certificate all the amounts due each particular soldier, and several certificates on account of separate items of indebtedness, in some cases for as small a sum as $1, were issued to the same man. In addition to arrearages of monthly pay and payments on currency depreciation account, there was due to the soldiers in the Continental Army at the close of the war what was known as commutation pay. This arose from a promise made in 1776 providing that at the expiration of the war seven years' half pay would be granted to officers and $80 to soldiers who served to the end. This promise was later changed to half pay for life, and, on petition of officers when the war closed, the half pay for life was ordered to be commuted to five years' full pay. Several certificates issued in many cases to the same man therefore generally represent several classes of indebtedness. A certificate for $80 represents service as a private soldier under the promise above mentioned.[1]

The issue of certificates began July 11, 1783 and was practically completed by September 15, 1785. A few additional certificates were issued up to May 1787 and possibly later.

With a few exceptions (viz, 862 certificates amounting to $31,170.-36) all these certificates have been canceled, a large part of them having been funded into the public debt. The act of August 4, 1790, makes special provision for such refunding. The total number of certificates of which we now possess a record is 93,298, representing an amount of $10,791,815.78. It may be presumed that with rare exceptions these certificates have been destroyed.

On September 30, 1796, the Register of the Treasury reported that on "January 1, 1791, the total amount of Army certificates amounted to $10,967,145.52."

The payment of all these "final settlement certificates" issued by authority of the Continental Congress has been barred since June 12, 1799, by acts approved March 3, 1795, and June 12, 1798, except that such acts were suspended for a period of two years by the act of April 13, 1818, and for a like period by the act of May 7, 1822.

The register gives only the name of the officer or soldier to whom the certificate was issued but does not show his rank, regiment, or State. In April, 1889, a certified copy was made of a general index (included herewith), then in the files of the Pension Office, but now in the possession of the Library of Congress, which gives the State and in some cases the regiment of the men whose names appear below.

Jno. Pierce, Commissioner.

It should be noted that the register refers only to the accounts of the officers and soldiers of the Continental Army or "American Army," as it was called in the resolutions of July 4, 1783. It does not include any account of the large number of militiamen who were paid by their respective States; nor, owing to the peculiar relations existing between the State of South Carolina and the Federal Government, does it include the names of any men from South Carolina.

With one exception the blanks in the register have never been filled. No. 92908, John Pierce to Lachlen McIntosh, for $125, was "taken on loan in the State of Georgia" and redeemed by the United States Treasury.

In 1786 a few copies of the register were printed for official use, with entries of certificates in numerical order, under the following title:

> Register of the certificates issued by John Pierce, Esquire, Paymaster General, and Commissioner of the Army Accounts, for the United States. New York. Printed by Francis Childs, at the New Printing Office, opposite the Coffee-House Bridge. MDCCLXXXVI.

The work is in four volumes, size 8 inches high and 13 inches long, aggregating 930 pages. Only four full sets and two volumes of a fifth set are known to exist. One of these complete sets is preserved in the Library of Congress, and one, the property of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, is preserved at the Smithsonian Institution; the two other sets are in the archives of the Government, and not accessible to the general public.
