REVOLUTION.

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution was incorporated under the laws of Congress, applicable to the District of Columbia, June 8, 1891, and by such incorporation "The headquarters, or chief office, of said national society was fixed in the city of Washington, in the District of Columbia."

National charter granted by the Congress of the United States February 20, 1896.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.

NAME AND MEMBERSHIP.

SECTION 1. The name of this society shall be THE NATIONAL SOCIETY OF THE DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

SEC. 2. All persons duly qualified, who have been regularly admitted by the national board of management, shall be members of the national society, but for purposes of convenience they may be organized into local chapters as hereinafter provided.

ARTICLE II.

OBJECTS OF THE SOCIETY.

The objects of this society are:

(1) To perpetuate the memory of the spirit of the men and women who achieved American independence, by the acquisition and protection of historical spots, and the erection of monuments; by the encouragement of historical research in relation to the Revolution and the publication of its results; by the preservation of documents and relics, and of the records of the individual services of Revolutionary soldiers and patriots, and by the promotion of celebrations of all patriotic anniversaries.

(2) To carry out the injunction of Washington in his Farewell Address to the American people, "To promote, as an object of primary importance, institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge," thus developing an enlightened public opinion, and affording to young and old such advantages as shall develop in them the largest capacity for performing the duties of American citizens.

(3) To cherish, maintain, and extend the institutions of American freedom, to foster true patriotism and love of country, and to aid in securing for mankind all the blessings of liberty.

Article III.

ELIGIBILITY AND ADMISSION.

SEC. 1. Any woman may be eligible for membership who is of the age of eighteen years, and who is descended from a man or woman who, with unfailing loyalty, rendered material aid to the cause of Independence; from a recognized patriot, a soldier or sailor or civil officer, in one of the several colonies or states, or of the United Colonies or States; provided that the applicant be acceptable to the society.

SEC. 2. Every applicant for membership must be endorsed by at least one member of the national society, and her application shall then be submitted to the registrar general,[1] who shall report on the question of eligibility to the general board of management, when the question of admission shall be voted on by the board by ballot, and if a majority of said board approves such application, the applicant, after payment of the initiation fee, shall be enrolled as a member of the national society.

SEC. 3. All persons whose applications were approved on or before October 11, 1891, are charter members of the national society.

Article IV.

[1] It will be observed from the foregoing and Article IV, section 4, of the by-laws, that in order to facilitate the organization and extension of the society in all the states and territories of the Union, two methods of forming chapters are allowable under the constitution.

One method authorizes twelve members of the society living in one locality to come together to form a chapter and elect a regent, secretary, registrar, treasurer, other officers, and, if desired, a local board of management.

The other method contemplates the selection and appointment by the state regent (or in states that have no state regent, by the vice-president-general in charge of organization) of chapter regents, to whom authority is given to form chapters in given localities, and to appoint officers for those chapters for the first year.

Both methods are legitimate and consistent with the spirit of the constitution. Twelve members in both cases must be obtained before the chapter can be organized. No one shall be a member of more than one chapter at the same time.

chapters may by by-laws make provision for the collection of additional dues for their own use.

SEC. 4. The sum of three dollars, covering the initiation fee and the annual dues for the current year, must accompany each application presented to the national society direct. The sum of two dollars, covering the initiation fee and one-half the annual dues for the current year, shall accompany each application forwarded to the national society, through any local chapter.

SEC. 5. A member who shall remain in arrears for dues for three months after notice of her indebtedness has been sent her may be dropped from the rolls by the board of management; but no one shall be dropped until after two notices of arrears shall have been given her.

SEC. 6. No debt or liability, except the ordinary current expenses of the national society, shall be incurred, nor any project or plan requiring the expenditure of money shall be entered into, for which the national society shall be responsible, except by a vote of three-fourths of the board of management; and every obligation for the payment of money, except checks drawn against deposits, executed in the name or in behalf of the national society, shall be null and void.

ARTICLE IX.

SEC. 1. Proposed amendments to the constitution may be presented at any continental congress of the national society, Daughters of the American Revolution, and acted upon at the next congress, the full power to amend being vested in such congress, and such amendment, if approved by two-thirds of the members present, shall be in full force thereafter as part of this constitution.

SEC. 2. Notice of all proposed amendments must be sent by the board of management to all state and chapter regents in the society within ninety days after the adjournment of the congress at which the amendment has been submitted.

WORK OF THE CONTINENTAL CONGRESS AND NATIONAL BOARD OF MANAGEMENT.

WORK OF THE CONTINENTAL CONGRESS AND NATIONAL BOARD OF MANAGEMENT, OCTOBER 11, 1898, TO OCTOBER 11, 1900.

At the close of the first decade some review of our work is appropriate, that a just estimate may be made of its amount and utility. The number admitted to membership from the beginning, on October 11, 1890, until the close of the last report, on October 11, 1898, was 25,638. The last member admitted in October, 1900, was numbered 33,160. This is an increase of 7,522 in two years, which is certainly a rapid gain. During the ten years of our existence as a society 1,560 of the members have withdrawn and 1,193 have been removed from our ranks by death. This is a total loss of 2,753, leaving our actual membership in October, 1900, as 30,407. The actual average gain has been 3,316 members for each of the ten years. The average actual loss has been 275.3 members for each of the ten years. The net gain for each year is thus shown to be an average of 3,040.7. When it is considered that no pecuniary benefit accrues to anyone from membership or office-holding in the society, when it is understood that both involve hard work, with no reward except an ideal and the satisfaction of watching the development of a higher patriotism, the growth of such a great organization in so short a time may well interest the student of social problems.

The office of the registrar general is the center of a vast network, extending to the limits of our continent and beyond. The names of the Revolutionary ancestors of all our members are recorded in a catalogue numbering about 27,369 cards, and our membership list is arranged in a separate case. Through the archives to which these cards are the index a student may learn much of our early history. Much light is also thrown upon the subject of the absorption of newcomers into the body politic, and even a pessimist would find encouragement with regard to the immigration problems of the present day. The names in these two catalogues mark the successive tides of immigration to these shores. In the ancestors' catalogue the names are largely English. In the members' catalogue we find an admixture of Scotch, Irish, French, German, Dutch, Norwegian, Italian, Polish, and even Russian names, yet all are loyal descendants of the earlier stock. Membership in our society is not limited to those who can trace their patriotic descent in the male line only. The old names must of necessity often perish, but daughters as well as sons transmit the old patriotic spirit and enthusiasm for high endeavor. The society is therefore truly American and democratic in recognizing the equal validity of a claim to patriotic ancestry through descent in the female line.

The number of chapters on October 11, 1898, was 444; on October 11, 1900, it was 539. A list of the new chapters will be found on pages 275–277. Each chapter of twelve members is entitled to a representative in the congress of the society, while each chapter of fifty or a hundred members may have an additional delegate. The congress has therefore become very large and the expenditures because of it have increased in like proportion. The annual reports of the treasurers-general, made at the congresses of 1899 and 1900, followed by the report from February 10 to October 11, 1900, will be found on pages 89–96. A comparison of the expenditures can therefore be made and the average income estimated.

The library of the national society has gained steadily in numbers and in the value of the volumes added. On October 11, 1898, there were 1,125 volumes in the library, of which 816 were bound and 309 were unbound. On October 11, 1900, there were 1,559 books, the bound volumes numbering 1,123 and the unbound 436. These have all been fully entered and to a large extent indexed in a dictionary catalogue numbering about 15,000 cards. This small library is thus more available for reference than a much larger one would be without close indexing. This is shown by the number of visitors who daily consult the books, because, as they say, they find here information not obtainable in the larger libraries of the city. It has become necessary to provide a separate room for the accommodation of these visitors and readers. One of the chief purposes of the society is the promotion of historical research. No incentive to such study has yet been found equal to the interest aroused by personal search for the recorded deeds of one's own ancestors. Since each individual epitomizes the efforts and impulses of his generation, each man's record being bound up with that of his cotemporaries, no one can become interested in the one without learning about the other. In addition to the library proper, there are 166 volumes of verified individual records, each volume containing 200; in all, 33,200. These make a library by themselves, and form a larger collection of such autograph records than can be found in any other single place. They are a mine of information for the genealogist and the historian.

Our lineage book has now reached its twelfth volume, and is continually improving in the interest of the matter and in the accuracy of its presentation. Each volume contains the carefully edited and corrected record of 1,000 members. As the work progresses the interrelations of families in widely distant parts of the world are continually revealed. Kindred long separated may here find records of branches whose traces were lost generations ago, while families which have never known their descent may find here their connection with the parent stock. Each volume contains an index of members and of ancestors. The records of the members are printed in the numerical order of their admission to the society. Cross references to the national numbers of other members with the same ancestry call attention to their relationship. Three volumes of this publication appear during each twelve months, and the series when completed will show conclusively the utility of our large national organization. No small society could meet the expense of a publication so extended. No work of such a scope could be made even fairly accurate by a small society. With a small membership the needful records would be few and there would be little opportunity for that comparison of various lines which is so necessary to eliminate errors in genealogy. In any publication of this kind occasional mistakes must occur. But as the records multiply the chances against error increase. It is hoped that this publication of individual Revolutionary records, together with the genealogy which connects them with the present generation, may in time become a recognized authority, and bridge over the one hundred and twenty-five years during which the soldiers of the Revolution settled upon their bounty lands in the frontier wilderness and their great-grandchildren pushed our civilization to the Hawaiian Islands.

The American Monthly Magazine is the official organ of the society. Its publication was begun in July, 1892. It is the means of communication between the board of management, the chapters, and the individual members. It contains the proceedings of the Continental Congress, the minutes and official announcements of the board of management, the reports of the state regents, and the accounts of chapter work. A department designed to be of use to those seeking for proof of services rendered by their ancestors in the struggle for liberty is devoted to hitherto unpublished or practically inaccessible Revolutionary records. Another department, under the charge of Mrs. Lydia Bolles Newcomb, of New Haven, Conn., is given to genealogical notes and queries, and is intended to aid those who desire to perfect their family records for the purpose of entering the society. A department edited by Margaret Sidney (Mrs. Daniel Lothrop) is devoted to the interests of the children of the American Revolution. A part of the magazine is made up of original articles relating to American history, including biographies, local histories, traditions, old manuscripts, and in a broad and liberal sense anything which will add to the better knowledge of the history of our country. Two volumes have been published each year, and the seventeenth is now nearing completion. A facsimile of the cover will be found on plate 3.

Mrs. Ellen Hardin Walworth was the first editor, followed by Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood. In February, 1900, Mrs. Elroy M. Avery was made editor. Miss Lilian Lockwood is the business manager.

An important part of our work is among the children and has resulted in the formation of a juvenile society, an account of which is given below in the words of its organizer:

"The National Society of the Children of the American Revolution, under the leadership of its founder and national president, Mrs. Daniel Lothrop, has demonstrated most clearly what an earnest band of young patriots can do when guided intelligently. The brevity of this report can not permit the individual mention of each local society—to single out meritorious instances where all have done so well would be unjust. Societies all over the states have put up tablets, marked and cared for forgotten graves of the Revolutionary soldiers, assisted poor descendants of our Revolutionary heroes, awakened public interest by urging parents and friends to save historic landmarks—generally contributing the first donation for any such cause; in fact, the patriotic objects the members have worked for and led have been as many and as varied as the methods they have adopted to that end.

"A most important work, and one very timely in our country's need, when every nation is pouring its overflowing population into our great cities, is the endeavor put forth to exert an influence over those children and youth who by reason of lack of the required ancestry can not belong to the society. No estimate of the good achieved in this direction can be made.

"The contributions to the continental memorial hall fund, the monument to the prison ship martyrs, and the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris have been notably generous. The first two objects are still kept before the loyal members as of national importance, while the societies are careful to devote some portion of their funds to local work, either of town, village, or state. One popular form in which this desire to do local patriotic work takes effect, is to present prizes to public school pupils for the best historic essays, and to give pictures of historic events or of heroes and statesmen who made our country what it is.

"A local society has saved not only an old road from oblivion, but one of the most important roads of our country's history; the route by which the company of Capt. Isaac Davis, of Acton, marched his men to the old North Bridge at Concord, Mass., April 19, 1775, where was 'fired the shot heard round the world.' Captain Davis said, 'I haven't a man who is afraid to go,' and started down the old road, with everyone of his company following. Solomon Smith was one of the number. His son Luke was 27 years old when his father died. Many a time, with his father, he had gone carefully over the road, which in course of years was changed and turned into farm land, and lost to view as a road. The old North Bridge Society, of Concord, the first local society of the national society of the children, had the course of the old road saved for all future time by the help of the town surveyors and Luke Smith, the only man then living who knew it (he has since died). All the tablets marking its most important points will be set in place by the society. (Plate 4.)

"The tree planted by the national society at Mount Vernon was taken from a spot near to the old North Bridge. Around it every year, in February, observing appropriate exercises, gather the members and delegates to the annual convention at Washington, D. C., of the National Society of the Children of the American Revolution."

The last report of our society contained the names of the 1,081 nurses who went into the service of their country through the auspices of the D. A. R. Hospital Corps inaugurated in 1898. Of this number many are still in service but since our last report closed several have paid with their lives for their devotion to duty. Realizing how great a service had been rendered by the nurses, our congress of 1899 desired to bestow upon them some token of the honor in which they are held. It was thought that a certificate issued by the society might be a gratification and possibly of some use, and therefore it was voted that such a certificate should be prepared and forwarded to all of them. This has since been done. A copy of the engraved certificate is seen in plate 5.

The names of nurses who have died in service since the last report have been added to our honor roll and are as follows:

Lucretia M. Bailey	Died July, 1900.
Emma Cameron	Died June 16, 1900.
Anna H. Campos (buried at Arlington.)	Died September 2, 1899.
Dorothy Helen Cochrane	Died August 12, 1900, Iloilo, P. I.
Alice Roberts	Died January 16, 1900.

In our report for the years 1890 to 1897, mention was made of the unexpectedly large number of daughters of Revolutionary soldiers brought to notice through the medium of our society. The number then reported was about 300, but has since increased to 449. Many of these have died since their admission to the society, but the names of all have been preserved, with the names of their fathers and mothers, and when obtainable the dates of birth and death.

Our first report mentioned the appointment of a committee to raise funds for the purchase of Meadow Gardens, or Meadow Garden Farm, at one time the home of George Walton, a Georgia signer of the Declaration of Independence. The committee endeavored to raise the needed sum by soliciting contributions of 10 cents from each of our chapter members. But the amount thus collected, when reported at the congress of 1899, was found quite insufficient for the purpose in view. At the congress of 1900 an appropriation of $2,000 was added to the fund already collected, and in August, 1900, the old house became the property of the national society. It is, however, in the keeping of the Augusta chapter, to be restored and guarded as one of the few old historic buildings remaining in the state. The purchase price was $2,500. Of this amount $500 was paid by the Augusta chapter and $2,000 by the national society, while $272.13, the principal and interest of the chapter contributions, was paid to the Augusta chapter for improvements on the property. The property comprises lots 30, 31, and 32 Nelson street, Augusta, Ga. An abstract of the title and a copy of the deed will be found in Appendix A. A picture of the house itself is to be seen on plate 6.

About thirteen years ago, before the foundation of our society, an association of American women was formed for the purpose of presenting in 1900 a statue of Washington to France. The project was approved by one of our earliest meetings in 1890 and the support of our society was enlisted. But as the closing years of the century approached, the sum raised for the statue was still insufficient. Another appeal was therefore made to the public, and a request came to the national board of management for the starting of a new subscription. This request was worded as follows:

A STATUE OF WASHINGTON FOR FRANCE, TO BE GIVEN BY THE WOMEN OF AMERICA.

The people of this country have always cherished a warm sentiment of gratitude to France for her generous aid in our struggle for national independence, yet they have never given her, as a nation, any lasting memorial of their appreciation of her friendship. To supply in some small measure, at least, this omission on their part, it has seemed that it would be a fitting thing for the women of America to offer to France some memorial which shall convey to present and future generations their grateful remembrance.

An association of representative women from all parts of the country has therefore been formed, with headquarters at the national capital, whose object is to present to the French people a statue of Washington. This association has been regularly incorporated in the District of Columbia.

After careful deliberation, the members of the association have selected the eminent American sculptor, Daniel C. French, to design and execute the work. The statue is to be an equestrian figure in bronze, of heroic size. The model is completed and ready for casting, and is pronounced to be in every way worthy of its object and of the place for which it is intended.

In 1890 an appeal was made by the association for the funds necessary to carry out this patriotic desire, and a large portion of the sum required has been collected. About fifteen thousand dollars more are needed, and to raise this amount the association now makes its final appeal. The association would like to give all American women an opportunity to contribute. Small sums as well as large ones will be most gratefully received.

Mr. E. Francis Riggs, of the National Safe Deposit Company, Washington, D. C., is treasurer. Donations can be sent to any of the officers whose names are appended.

In accordance with the suggestions contained in this circular, the national board of management of our society appointed a Franco-American memorial committee to prepare a new appeal to our members in behalf of this project, which had already had the sanction of the early members and of our congress of 1898. The paper was as follows:

STATUE OF WASHINGTON.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE NATIONAL SOCIETY OF THE DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION,
Washington, D. C., December 13, 1898.

The people of France have given to this country a signal proof of their friendship, the statue of "Liberty Enlightening the World," situated in the harbor of New York. Thus far, however, our nation has not made its gratitude to France visible to the world by any similar memorial.

An association of American women has been formed for the purpose of presenting to France a bronze equestrian statue of George Washington, since his character symbolizes all that is most valuable in our national life. The officers of this association, all women of national reputation, are: president, Mrs. Stephen J. Field; vice-presidents, Mrs. Garret A. Hobart, Mrs. Phœbe Hearst, Mrs. James McMillan.

An appeal for the needed funds was made some time ago and a large part of the required amount collected. The selection of the eminent American sculptor, Daniel French, to design and execute the statue, is a guaranty that the production will be appropriate and a work of art in which all Americans can feel entire satisfaction.

Most fittingly it is proposed to present this statue to France during the Paris Exposition of 1900, where the United States will occupy a position more prominent than has ever been accorded it at any previous foreign exposition. At the present time but $15,000 are needed to complete the work.

The Seventh Continental Congress expressed a lively interest in this project and referred it to the consideration of the national board of management. This circular is therefore issued in the hope that each member of our society will not only feel proud to contribute to this cause, but will interest the women in her locality in this glorious enterprise.

During the coming session of the Eighth Continental Congress, D. A. R., a final report of the funds collected will be made, and the proceeds transferred to the "Association of American Women for the Presentation of a Statue of Washington to France."

All contributions should be sent to Mrs. Robert S. Hatcher, chairman of the Franco-American memorial committee, room 52, 902 F street, Washington, D. C., not later than February 1, 1899.

The whole cost of the statue was $35,000. The amount paid through our society as the result of this circular was $1,141.73, as shown in the account of our Franco-American memorial committee, page 81. If all sums given by our members directly to the statue association during the thirteen years could be ascertained, our part in this memorial would probably appear larger by several thousands.

More than twenty years ago, the idea of erecting a monument to La Fayette originated with Robert John Thompson, then a mere lad, but since known as the secretary of the La Fayette memorial commission to Paris. Visiting that city years afterwards, he saw how obscure was the last resting place of La Fayette (plate 7), and determined to interest the school children of the United States in building a public memorial which should show that America has not forgotten the unselfish services of her French hero. Through the Commissioner-General to the Paris Exposition of 1900, a memorial committee was organized and the President of the United States recommended the project to the people of the nation. Most of the state governors issued proclamations, setting aside October 19, 1898, as La Fayette day in the public schools, and in some cases making the day a special holiday. In most of the states collections for the fund were taken on this day, and a large sum was raised; but it was not sufficient to carry out the plan proposed. Appeals were therefore made by the memorial commission to the various patriotic societies, and one came to the Daughters of the American Revolution as follows:

Mrs. DANIEL MANNING,
President Daughters of the American Revolution,
The Arlington, Washington, D. C.

DEAR MADAM: Your careful consideration of the accompanying prospectus is earnestly requested. It will be observed that it is proposed by the Commissioner-General for the United States to the Paris Exposition to make especially conspicuous and resplendent the celebration of United States day at the coming exposition. The great feature of these exercises is to be the unveiling and dedication of a monument from the children and youth of our country to the memory of our nation's first benefactor and defender, La Fayette. The proposition to raise funds necessary for the erection of the monument through the agency of the schools has for one of its chief purposes the direction of the minds of our young people to a broader study of the historic events of the early days of the republic.

It is the earnest wish of the commission that the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution may cooperate with them and the schools in the raising of the funds necessary for the monument, and in this connection we urge you to issue a circular to your members and local chapters, requesting them to interest themselves in the work in their communities in such manner as they may think best.

Thanking you in advance for your cooperation and assistance, we are,

Very respectfully,

FERDINAND W. PECK,
Commissioner-General.
ROBERT J. THOMPSON,
Secretary La Fayette Monument Committee.

As our society was already more or less pledged to the support of the Washington statue fund, and as no expenditures of the regular funds in the treasury may be made by the national board, except for current expenses, no definite sum could be promised to the new undertaking. The only thing possible was to bring the matter to the attention of the chapters, and this was done by means of the following circular prepared by our Franco-American memorial committee and approved by the national board of management:

MONUMENT TO LA FAYETTE.

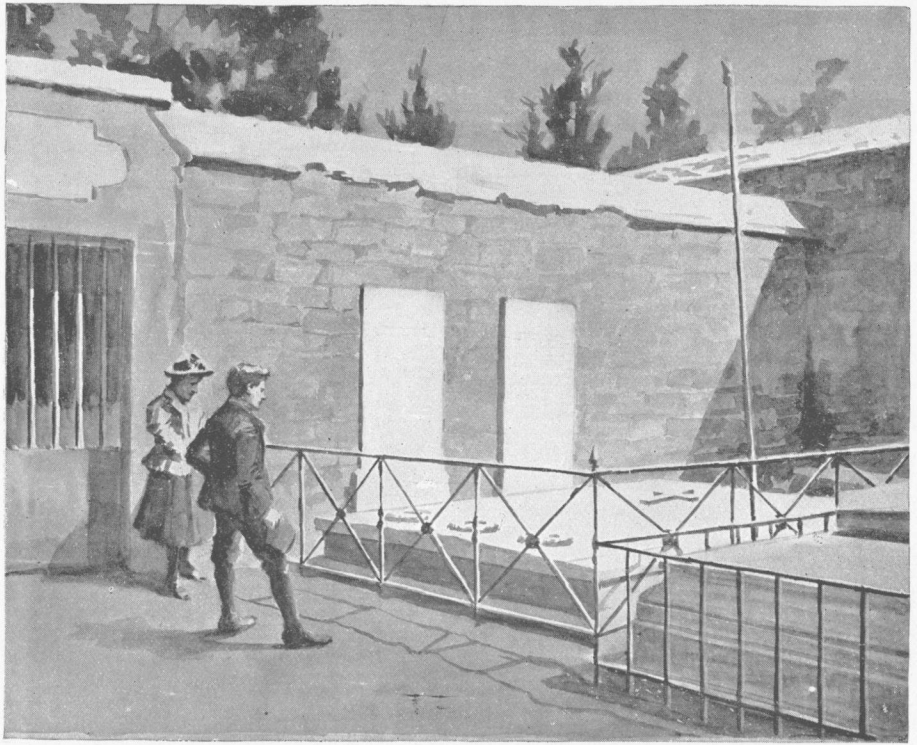

HEADQUARTERS OF THE NATIONAL SOCIETY OF THE DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION,
Washington, D. C., December 13, 1898.

The immortal La Fayette lies buried in a small but historical cemetery, in an obscure part of Paris, in the rear of the Convent of the Petit Picpus.[1] Few Americans know the place, few visit it, and in all France there is no visible token that our nation, which he loved so well, still holds his name in grateful remembrance. For this reason it is fitting that our society, interested as it is in perpetuating the memory and services of Revolutionary soldiers, and which numbers La Fayette's great-granddaughter among its honored members, should, together with the youth of the country, assist in the erection of an imposing monument to his memory in a place of prominence in the city of Paris, as a lasting proof that we have not forgotten the friend and ally in the hour of our need.

Unfortunately the contributions received from the school children of the country on October 19 last are not sufficient to make this monument a worthy expression of our nation's gratitude.

The La Fayette memorial commission (under the auspices of the Commissioner-General for the United States to the Paris Exposition of 1900), endorsed by the President of the United States, and composed of the Secretary of State, the governors of all the states and territories, and other representative men throughout the Union, has asked our assistance in this matter, and we are assured by the commission that our society will receive full and official recognition in this work, and that one of the four tablets on the monument will be reserved for us, to be appropriately inscribed.

The national board of management therefore cordially recommends that each member of the society show her appreciation of this honor by interesting all persons in her locality to contribute, according to their means, to this noble enterprise. It has also asked the Society of the Children of the American Revolution, through its president-general, to cooperate in this undertaking.

The monument is to be unveiled on the 4th of July, 1900, "United States Day" at the Paris Exposition, in which ceremony our society is invited to participate.

During the coming session of the Eighth Continental Congress, D. A. R., a final report of the funds collected will be made, and the proceeds transferred to the "La Fayette memorial commission."

All contributions should be sent to Mrs. Robert S. Hatcher, chairman of the Franco-American memorial committee, Room 52, 902 F street, Washington, D. C., not later than February 1, 1899.

The total result of this circular is seen in the report of the treasurer-general for October, 1900. The items of the contributions appear in the reports of the chapter work and in the account of the Franco-American memorial committee, pages 75–78. The cost of the La Fayette statue was about $100,000, as stated by Mr. Thompson.

At the congress of 1899 an appeal was presented to the society for funds to restore Fort Crailo, or Vlie House, the old building where the song "Yankee Doodle" is said to have been composed. The congress expressed much interest in the project, but did not appropriate any sum from the treasury for this purpose. It was therefore left to the national board of management to bring the subject more fully to the consideration of all the members. The following circular was accordingly issued:

SAVE THE YANKEE DOODLE HOUSE.

To the Daughters of the American Revolution:

At the recent congress of the society, held at Washington, D. C., a proposition was made to vest in the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution the title to the Greenbush manor house, or "Yankee Doodle house," situated on the east bank of the Hudson, opposite the city of Albany, upon the condition that the society would assume the care, restoration, and maintenance of the house, to be kept as a repository of Revolutionary relics and as a place of meeting for the society, under the charge of the New York state chapters.

This proposition was accepted by the congress, with a vote of thanks to the organizer of the enterprise.

The purchase of the property for $6,500 has been assured without expense to the society, but the house, having been for some years unoccupied, is in a condition requiring an expenditure of about $3,500 for restoration and repairs, in addition to which an endowment fund of $10,000 is desired to provide for the annual expense of the property.

Far and wide is recognized the worth of this ancient building as a relic connected most intimately with the stirring days of the Revolution, and of great historic interest as the place where "Yankee Doodle" was written. The well at which the general and the author sat while the words were scribbled whose popularity have lasted over a century is still there, with its flowing stream of fresh water, and the whole building breathes a prayer to those who can save it from destruction.

The manor house was erected as a fort in 1642 by order of Kilaen Van Rensselaer (the first patroon and founder of the city of Albany), a fact which is attested by a stone set in the cellar wall bearing this date, together with his initials. It served as a place of defense and refuge for the settlers on the eastern bank when hard pressed by hostile Indians, and was named for the patroon's estate near Amsterdam, Holland.

General Abercrombie occupied the house as his headquarters while marching to attack Fort Ticonderoga in 1758, when it is said that at the cantonment east of the house, near the old well, the army surgeon, R. Shuckberg, composed the popular song of "Yankee Doodle." Here Washington, LaFayette, and many other celebrated men were entertained. The house lot is about 300 feet in depth.

Upon the outer front wall of the house, above one of the ancient stone portholes, is to be seen a bronze tablet, placed there in 1886 by John Boyd Thacher, then mayor of Albany, with the following inscription: "Supposed to be the oldest building in the United States, and to have been erected in 1642 as a manor house and place of defense, known as Fort Crailo, General Abercrombie's headquarters while marching to attack Fort Ticonderoga in 1758, when it is said that at the cantonment east of the house, near the old well, the army surgeon, R. Shuckberg, composed the popular song of 'Yankee Doodle.'"

Aside from the facts commemorated by this tablet, the old house is full of historic interest. The initials "J. V. R." inscribed on the stone at the north door, with another bearing the date "1740," referred to the owner at the time, who was born in Fort Crailo in 1708, and lived there until his death in 1783. He was Colonel Johannes Van Rensselaer, a man prominent in colonial times for his services and patriotism. He lived to see the doggerel written by his satirical British guest lead many of the despised Yankee lads to victory at the call of the spirit of "'76." Too old himself for active service, he gave all his children for his country's cause. His daughter Catherine, the wife of General Philip Schuyler (one of whose daughters became the wife of Alexander Hamilton and another the wife of the patroon), was born and lived in the old mansion until her marriage. Fort Crailo was, therefore, all through the Revolution, and subsequently, the familiar resort of these eminent men, and of many others who also bore a distinguished part in the struggle for Independence, in which the Van Rensselaers were zealous adherents of the cause of the colonies.

Rarely has there been laid before the society an object so calculated to arouse enthusiasm as the preservation of the birthplace of "Yankee Doodle." All that earnest endeavor and interest can do is pledged to the enterprise by those who have brought it thus far.

Mrs. S. deL. Van Rensselaer Strong, Inwood, New Brunswick, N. J., who originated the patriotic object of purchasing this valuable historic spot, requests the generous aid and zealous cooperation of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The national board, feeling that this object, having been endorsed by the continental congress of 1899, should be presented to the chapters for their consideration, send out this circular for that purpose.

Contributions should be sent to the treasurer-general, marked "Fort Crailo fund." This fund will be kept in bank until the title deeds of the property shall be vested in the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and then applied to the restoration and preservation of Fort Crailo.

Recording Secretary-General.

April 19, 1899.

A glance at the treasurer's report for October, 1900, will show that the response to this circular was very small so far as the national treasury is concerned. It is interesting to note, however, that the largest contributions to the fund came from California and from Aloha Chapter, our outpost at Honolulu. Several chapters have raised separate funds for this object, as will be seen in the reports of the chapter work. The present interest in the project is doubtless less than it would have been if the needs of the Continental Memorial Hall fund had not been paramount and pressing.

It is hoped that a large interest in Fort Crailo may develop after the Memorial Hall is an accomplished fact. In the meantime, the fort property has been purchased by Mrs. Van Rensselaer Strong, who has repaired the building sufficiently to keep it from decay. But much more work will be needed before the structure can be fully restored to its original condition and made a museum of relics, as planned.

The congress of 1899 made the president general chairman of the continental memorial hall committee, and gave to this committee the power to use the funds so long garnered in the treasury for the proposed building. A reference to the report of the treasurer general for 1899 will show that the amount then in hand was by no means adequate for erecting a building of the size and character suitable to commemorate the heroes and heroines of the Revolution at the capital of the nation. The building must be strong and enduring, like the virtues it typifies. It must be broad and ample, to accommodate the meetings and the growing business of the society. It must be beautiful as art can make it, if it is to express the love and veneration of American women for those who made the nation, and, in so doing gave to women an opportunity for influence and development such as no other land affords. No small sum could properly embody all these ideas. More money must be secured before the work could begin. Appeals were therefore sent to all the chapters, and all the state regents were enlisted in the work of raising the needed sum. The wording of the appeal was as follows:

The continental memorial hall to be erected by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the national capital will be the first structure of its kind raised by women in this or any other country. The plan and scope of this large and magnificent monument to the memory of the makers and savers of the Republic of the United States of America reveal the mighty force of the national idea that has united and held together this body of women through the nine years of its existence as a society.

This memorial building will be a large moral factor in the teeming materialization of the present age, to lift before the eyes of the nations the principles embodied in the national constitution and interwoven in the national life. It is preeminently woman's province to set in motion all those moral forces and influences that make for the higher patriotism, and to give them color, life, and equipment; and woman's hand has never achieved a mightier work to conserve for all coming generations the national idea than this consecrated memorial hall, dedicated to the men and women who molded the national life.

The need of the building for the actual daily working forces of the society, and for the preservation of its archives and relics, as well as for its meeting place for its annual congresses and other sessions, is imperative.

The time is now ripe for the completion of all the plans concerning this work. In the solemn light of this waning century let us not pause an instant, but hasten with all our might to fulfill what is our most sacred duty and our grandest privilege to perform. Let not the day dawn of 1900 shine upon us with this glorious work faltering under our hands. Say, rather, let not the hundredth anniversary of the death of our immortal leader, George Washington, find us unprepared to give a good account of the progress of this work.

Daughters of the American Revolution, if we have the love we profess for those who, under the providence of God, have made us what we are; if we have that divine spark struck from the altar of the Jehovah of our Fathers, that flames into love of country and devotion to its national idea; if we have one ray of hope and desire for the preservation in the hearts of our youth of those principles and institutions our ancestors died to sustain; if we have souls capable of being thrilled and uplifted to proclaim to a listening world the message of our Republic born of God, we shall arise in our patriotic fervor and stay not our hands till this work is done.

Let us sacrifice and toil, pausing not, nor resting. Each stroke of work raises just so much of the magnificent structure the nearer to completion.

We must put forth chapter effort, but most especially individual endeavor. Every daughter of the American Revolution has the tremendous responsibility resting upon her, whether she heeds it or not, of the realization of the continental memorial hall.

Daughters of the American Revolution, you are equal to this responsibility; you have shown this in your past. This memorial is assured, and will stand—strong, enduring, magnificent—pointing to the pure white light of heaven, since you have set forth with a purpose born of God, on the consecrated road to its achievement.

We have on hand for this continental memorial hall the sum of $10,225.52 in cash and $35,000 in bonds. For a building worthy of the purpose we consider it necessary to raise $200,000 more.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3, 1899.

This circular was signed by Mrs. Daniel Manning and by the whole continental hall committee of 1899.

There are between 2,000 and 3,000 members at large in the society, and it was thought that they also might wish to join in the good work. An appeal was therefore sent to them in the following words:

To the Members at Large of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution:

The committee on continental hall has issued a circular letter to the regents of chapters, urging that every member of their chapter contribute $5 for the continental hall building fund, or that the chapter should contribute, as a chapter, a sum that would represent $5 for each of its members.

The committee now supplement this appeal by asking you as a member at large to make a special contribution to their fund.

Your interest in the society being entirely national, it is hoped that you are particularly interested in the successful carrying on of its work at headquarters in Washington.

Having no tax on your generosity for chapter dues, or special objects which chapters work to support, could you not afford to send even a larger contribution to the national treasurer-general for this memorial building than has been asked of chapter members?

Will you not, as a member at large, help to build a home for the national society in Washington that shall be a suitable memorial to your Revolutionary ancestors and a monument to the patriotism and zeal of the daughters of the American Revolution?

All contributions should be sent to Mrs. Gertrude B. Darwin, treasurer-general, National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, 902 F street, Washington, D. C.

By order of the continental hall committee.

M. MARGARETTA MANNING,
Chairman.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 18, 1899.

The result of these two circulars can be seen in the treasurer's report for September 30, 1900. It will be noted that the permanent or building fund is there shown to have increased since February, 1899, almost $15,500.

At the meeting of the national board of management on November 3, 1899, the pressing need of philanthropic work in Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippines was considered. It was felt that the services pledged by the society to the Government at the beginning of the Spanish-American war were still needed. Resolutions were passed requesting all chapters and members to arouse interest and secure cooperation in their communities for the relief of the orphans and destitute of these islands. In the reports of the chapter work in Part II of this report it will be seen that the response to this request was very general.

Since the interest of the society in the Paris Exposition of 1900 was largely increased by the contributions to the two monuments to Washington and La Fayette, it was thought that an exhibit of our work at the exposition would be desirable. An appropriation of $2,000 was therefore made by the congress of 1900 to defray the expenses of an exhibit and to provide for a congress, which it was hoped might be held in Paris. It proved to be impossible to arrange for this congress, and the meetings at Paris were of a social character. The only part of this appropriation used was $188 spent by the board of management in preparing and packing the exhibit. The rest of the money, $1,812, has been returned to the treasury.

A picture of the exhibit is on plate 8, and a complete list of the articles exhibited follows the account of the Franco-American memorial committee. The society received the highest award or Grand Prix for this first public presentation of its work in a foreign land. No special medal accompanies the diploma of the Grand Prix, but a picture of the diploma itself, in reduced size, will be found in our next report.

In her report to the congress of 1900, the assistant historian general, Mrs. Robert Stockwell Hatcher, called attention to the fact that no public recognition had ever been bestowed by the people of this country upon Francisco de Miranda, a native of Venezuela and a friend who came with La Fayette to fight for the liberty of this nation (plate 9). His tomb is in the Pantheon at Caracas, Venezuela. It was recommended that a wreath of imperishable palms should be sent to Caracas, through the United States minister, to be placed upon the tomb of this nearly forgotten benefactor. The placing of the wreath occurred on May 23, 1900, a national holiday newly established by General Castro, President of the Venezuelan Republic. Shortly before 11 o'clock in the morning a regiment of troops marched to the plaza of the Pantheon. A few moments later the national band arrived. The minister of the United States of America, Mr. Francis B. Loomis, was received by the representative of the minister of foreign affairs. In a few moments the national air of Venezuela was heard. There was a rattle of arms as the troops came to "attention," and the President of Venezuela, accompanied by Madame Castro and the members of the cabinet, entered the Pantheon and proceeded to the tomb of Miranda. In presenting the wreath Mr. Loomis made a brief speech in Spanish, in which he alluded to the friendly action of the Venezuelan government in erecting two large and handsome monuments at Porto Abaya to the ten Americans who accompanied Miranda in one of his later expeditions and were executed by the Spaniards. In accepting the wreath the President, General Castro, seemed much interested, and made an eloquent and gracious reply.

The event thus assumed the character of an international episode. Some weeks later, a letter was received from R. Andueza Palacio, minister of foreign affairs of Venezuela, expressing in courtly Castilian the thanks and appreciation of his countrymen. The translation is as follows:

CARACAS, May 4, 1900.

MR. MINISTER: Yesterday, shortly after receiving same, I read to the Supreme Chief of the Republic your letter in reference to the offering which the Daughters of the American Revolution dedicated to the memory of General Miranda, one of the foremost champions of the independence and liberty of the peoples of the New World.

The character of the society making the offering, the noble nature of this offering, and the method adopted in sending same all lend an especial importance to the gift and give the act especial significance as one of fraternity and good will which no Venezuelan can look upon without feelings of the deepest gratitude.

The part given to your excellency in the presentation of this offering is considered by the Chief of the country as an additional proof of the high motives which inspire it; and since he is anxious that the due expressions of gratitude reach these distinguished ladies by the same channel, he has asked me to request your excellency to extend your courtesy and generous good will to the point of communicating his gratitude to the distinguished society who send the offering.

Having taken note of your excellency's request to have the date of presentation after the 15th of this month, General Castro has decided upon the 23d, to fulfill, in company with his wife, the wishes of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

I beg your excellency to accept the assurances of my most friendly consideration and most distinguished personal esteem.

R. ANDUEZA PALACIO,
Minister of Foreign Affairs.

His Excellency FRANCIS B. LOOMIS,
Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States.

A picture of the wreath is seen on plate 10.

At our congress of 1899 the president-general, Mrs. Daniel Manning, was elected to represent the society at the exposition in Paris in 1900.

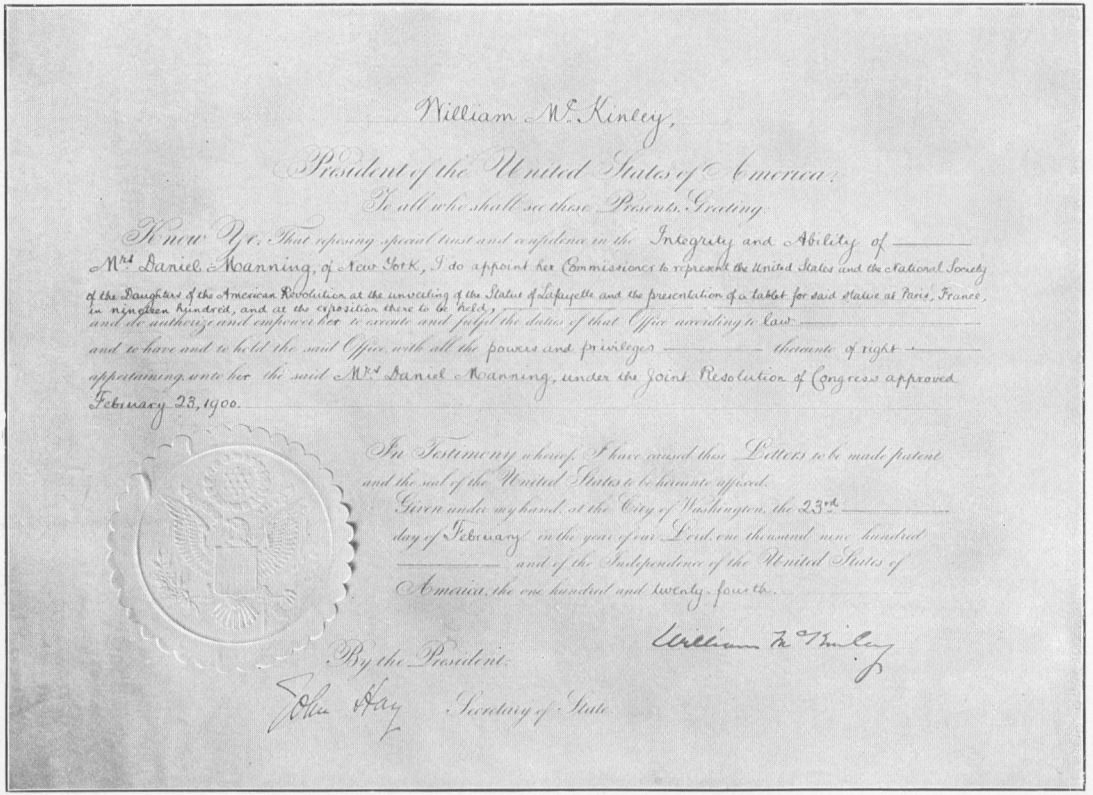

In order to carry out this ordering of our congress, it was necessary that our president general should be made a commissioner of the United States. None but an accredited representative of our government could receive the desired official recognition from the French government. The following letter, signed by the active officers of the national board of management, was therefore sent to the President:

To the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

MR. PRESIDENT: We, the undersigned members of the national board of management, now in session, have the honor of requesting, in the name of our society, that you appoint Mrs. Daniel Manning, president-general of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, a commissioner to the Paris Exposition of 1900, in order that our organization—the only patriotic society in the United States incorporated by Congress, and comprising a membership of over thirty thousand women, representing at least one hundred thousand loyal Americans, who, like yourself, are descended from a patriotic Revolutionary ancestry—may be fittingly represented at the great international exposition held in a sister republic, the founders of which gave such material aid to our own struggle for independence.

WREATH PLACED ON THE TOMB OF MIRANDA AT CARACAS, VENEZUELA, ON BEHALF OF THE NATIONAL SOCIETY, DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION.

William M^c Kinley,

President of the United States of America:

To all who shall see these Presents, Greeting:

Know Ye, That reposing special trust and confidence in the Integrity and Ability of ——— Mrs. Daniel Manning, of New York, I do appoint her Commissioner to represent the United States and the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the unveiling of the Statue of Lafayette and the presentation of a tablet for said Statue at Paris, France, in nineteen hundred, and at the exposition there to be held; and do authorize and empower her to execute and fulfil the duties of that Office according to Law ——— and to have and to hold the said Office, with all the powers and privileges ——— thereunto of right ——— appertaining, unto her the said Mrs. Daniel Manning, under the Joint Resolution of Congress approved February 23, 1900.

In Testimony whereof, I have caused these Letters to be made Patent and the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed.

Given under my hand, at the City of Washington, the 23rd ——— day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred ——— and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-fourth.

William M^c Kinley

By the President.

John Hay Secretary of State.

COMMISSION OF MRS. DANIEL MANNING TO REPRESENT THE UNITED STATES AND THE DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION AT THE PARIS EXPOSITION OF 1900.

Mrs. Manning, as a charming, gracious, and brilliant woman, is admirably fitted for the position. With large experience in public affairs, with graceful tact, and nobility of character, she is a worthy representative of American womanhood, and possesses such combined conservatism and progressiveness as peculiarly fits her to fill the position of commissioner.

We have the honor of calling your attention to the fact that our society, through its local branches, is doing historical work of great importance and is, by its timely and arduous work, rescuing and preserving to future generations places and objects of untold value in connection with the colonial and Revolutionary history of our country.

Trusting that our request will meet with your hearty approval, and that you will honor us by this appointment, which is very dear to us, we have the honor to remain,

Very respectfully, yours,

ELEANOR WASHINGTON HOWARD,
Vice-President General in Charge of Organization of Chapters.
BETTY MCG. SMOOT,
Chaplain General.
ALICE PICKETT AKERS,
Recording Secretary General.
SUSAN RIVIERE HETZEL,
Registrar General, N. S. D. A. R.
GERTRUDE BASCOM DARWIN,
Treasurer General.
MARY JANE SEYMOUR,
Historian General.
GEORGIA STOCKTON HATCHER,
Assistant Historian General.
JULIA T. E. MCBLAIR,
Librarian General.

Another letter of similar tenor, prepared by Mrs. Sara T. Kinney, state regent of Connecticut, setting forth the earnest desire of "the largest patriotic, hereditary organization in the world" to be "officially represented at the Paris Exposition," bears the following signatures:

Mrs. W. P. Frye, vice-president general from Maine.
Mrs. Clement A. Griscom, vice-president general from Pennsylvania.
Mrs. J. C. Burrows, vice-president general from Michigan.
Mrs. Ellen M. Colton, vice-president general from California.
Mrs. N. D. Sperry, vice-president general from Connecticut.
Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, vice-president general from Indiana.
Mrs. George M. Sternberg, vice-president general, N. S. D. A. R.
Mrs. Sara T. Kinney, state regent for Connecticut.
Mrs. William A. Talcott, state regent for Illinois.
Mrs. Charles H. Alden, state regent for the District of Columbia.
Mrs. J. Pembroke Thom, state regent for Maryland.
Mrs. Thomas Roberts, state regent for Pennsylvania.

The originals of both these documents are on file in the office of the Secretary of State.

On February 23, 1900, a joint resolution of the Congress of the United States was unanimously passed, enabling the President to make the desired appointment of a special commissioner to represent the United States government and the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Paris exposition.

The commission was brought to the president general at our own congress of 1900 by the hand of the late Mrs. William P. Frye, our vice-president general from Maine. A copy of it, reduced size, will be found on plate 11.

Our representative attended all meetings of the commissioners at Paris, was received with honor by the President of the French Republic, and was awarded the medal of a chevalier of the Legion of Honor, such as was given to the representatives of other nations. (Plate 12.)

The statue of Washington, so long planned, was at last installed in the Place d'Iéna on July 3, 1900, the anniversary of the date when Washington took charge of the American armies. Gen. Horace Porter, ambassador of the United States to France, presided over the exercises. The statue was presented in the name of the women of America by Hon. John K. Gowdy, consul-general of the United States at Paris, and was unveiled by Mrs. John P. Jones, vice-president of the association which presented the statue, and Mrs. Daniel Manning, also vice-president of that association and president general of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution. The gift was accepted on behalf of the French Republic by M. Delcassé, the French minister of foreign affairs, with solemn state and ceremonies, in the presence of an immense crowd. A picture showing several stages in the unveiling ceremony is seen in plate 13. The official programme of the exercises on the occasion is given below:

The monument to La Fayette was unfinished on July 4, the date set for the unveiling. A staff reproduction of the statue was therefore installed in its place on the Square La Fayette (Carrousel du Louvre) until such time as the actual monument can be set up. Our tablet was put in position on the base of the pedestal and bears the words found at the close of the address on page 69. The programme of the exercises follows on the same page. Music, written especially for the occasion, was performed by John Philip Sousa and his band. Hon. Ferdinand W. Peck, Commissioner-General of the United States to the Paris exposition and honorary president of the La Fayette Memorial Commission, presented the statue to the Republic of France on behalf of the youth of the United States. The gift was accepted by the President of the French Republic, M. Loubet, and addresses were made by Gen. Horace Porter, by Robert J. Thompson, and by Archbishop Ireland, the orator of the day.

The address, which expressed the thought and hope of our society, was made by Mrs. Daniel Manning, whose words on La Fayette and the Daughters of the American Revolution form the most fitting close to the record of the past two years. She said:

We have come together in this city of romantic and historic interest to honor the memory of the illustrious La Fayette, and sunny France extends a gracious welcome to every guest. In one hand the brightness of the south, in the other the treasures of the north. This beautiful city, with all its irresistible splendor, is fortune's favored spot—between extremes, yet where they meet in happy harmony.

We are here to-day to render our homage to La Fayette—our admiration for his character, our gratitude for his help, and our attachment for the principles of civil and religious liberty which he encountered ocean, exile, and war to establish. The bells are ringing to-day throughout America to celebrate the birth of our Republic and the names of La Fayette and Washington, for La Fayette's name is indissolubly linked in the heart of every American with the Fourth of July.

On this day, on lasting foundations, we laid the corner stone of our Republic which your copatriot helped us to rear. As men of old builded with their swords by their sides, so we laid stone upon stone of the temple of liberty, and in dark and perilous times a light shone from over the waters. That star of hope was France, and the friendly light has never faded from our sight; and to-day, from city and village, from mountain and valley, comes a spontaneous outburst from every heart of America to swell the note of praise in our national celebration, and none is more harmonious than the sound that, as a mighty voice, echoes the name La Fayette.

No day could be more auspicious for the unveiling of this monument than the anniversary of the Declaration of Independence—one of the days dedicated to the memory of La Fayette on our historic calendar—our national holy day—a fitting time to show our deep sense of the value of the work of La Fayette.

This monument is the loving gift of the young people of America who have offered of their treasures, and the monument will not only be a monument to a hero, but the permanent memory of a great life in a thousand little minds; for one landmark of history written in stone is worth a hundred written in ink. It is with gratitude the Daughters of the American Revolution place a tablet upon this monument. We know that great deeds are "most safely deposited in the remembrance of mankind;" we know that no tablet less broad than the earth itself can carry knowledge of the American Revolution where it has not already gone; that no monument can outlive the memory of the deeds of La Fayette. But our object in placing this tablet is to give some proof of our gratitude to La Fayette, and of our conviction of the benefits he conferred upon our land and of the happy influences that have been produced by the American Revolution upon the interests of mankind.

On this bright and happy occasion, when we pay our tribute to the noble life of a hero and patriot, we are reminded that in honor, virtue, and valor the world is one nation, one people, with one language and one tongue. No seas can separate the ties of sympathy nor the fellowship of great aspirations. All nations and all peoples unite with one heart and one voice in crowning the heroes of every land and race. It is not, then, as America's hero alone, nor as the hero of France alone, that we desire to perpetuate the memory of General de La Fayette, but as a hero possessing those traits that all mankind delight to honor wherever worth is valued and great ideals are the aspiration and hope of the brave and the true. The fame of such a character can be measured only by the limit of a world's gratitude. As it was said of our Washington that he was "first in peace," so General La Fayette was a soldier who fought only to secure the blessings of peace, and this is the true hero. To a man who wars for strife and conquest only we can never give that warm admiration which is the spontaneous outburst of our praise. But La Fayette was the representative—knight-errant—hero and apostle of liberty, and his career is conspicuous for the rarest fidelity, the purest principle, and the most chivalrous courage, not only for his own country, but for a country then without a name, united to him by no ties of blood, language, or traditions. With no spur of future emoluments nor incentive of personal ties, he came to espouse the cause of the American people according to the principles of the Declaration, which unfolded before his eyes the consecrated standard of human rights. He crossed the ocean and offered his sword to distant, unknown fellow-men striving for liberty. And how completely his sympathy was with America is shown in a letter to his wife, when he writes: "I hope for my sake you will become a good American." His was the most tender friendship to Washington that history records, and to the boy hero was given the grateful thanks of a free people, and the depth of that gratitude was shown when on his return to America forty years after every one vied in paying him homage, as expressed in the words of a popular song:

"We bow not the neck,
We bend not the knee,
But our hearts, La Fayette,
We surrender to thee."

He cast his fortunes in with us when we stood alone. He fought for us when we had no credit, and his hand helped to guard the cradle of America's liberty. And now that we have come to a full measure of our strength we value his proffered aid above everything that can be counted or told. We hailed him in our adversity, and in our prosperity we will redouble our acclamation in his honor. From the time of the discovery of our country we owe a debt to those nations who gave us of their best—from the early Christian pioneers from France, whose lives and deaths consecrated our soil and to those who later came to help us in our independence. And the name of La Fayette is forever inscribed in letters of gold upon the tablet of our memories and the history which commemorates the name America.

And thus, "with hands across the sea," America joins in this tribute to her—to our—to the world's hero—La Fayette.

The friend of America,
The fellow-soldier of Washington,
The patriot of two countries.

WORK OF THE CHAPTERS.

WORK OF THE CHAPTERS PREVIOUS TO OCTOBER 11, 1900.

In preparing the reports of chapter work which follow, it has been necessary to omit very many details, which, though not "of national interest and importance," according to the terms of our charter, have yet had an important influence upon the general success of the society. It seems proper that at least some passing mention should, however, be made of the social and literary features which give life and color to our work, and which, without doubt, have made much of it possible.

In every chapter anniversaries of historic events are regularly kept in remembrance and brought to the attention of the community by special observances, more or less elaborate, according to the circumstances, but always calculated to excite the curiosity and interest of those not yet members.

In almost every chapter a definite programme of historical study is followed with more or less regularity, and the public is invited to participate in the instructive and inspiring reminiscences thus evoked. The social hour following the study is always a pleasant feature which helps to unite all members in good fellowship. The practice, almost universal among the chapters, of giving prizes in the public schools is always made an occasion of much ceremony and interest, both to pupils and parents, and has already had a marked effect in stimulating research into facts forgotten or overlooked in many out-of-the-way corners of our land. This influence may fairly be expected to increase, rather than to diminish, as the prize giving becomes more and more an annual occurrence in the schools.

The identification of Revolutionary soldiers' graves is this year a more marked feature of the work than it has ever been before, and it is hoped that the lists of names herein contained, coming as they do from so many different localities, may serve to supplement the Revolutionary rosters already published, and help the residents of noncolonial states to trace branches of their families with which all connection has been lost during the westward migrations of our people.

Every effort has been made to have these lists correct, and the proof of the manuscript has been in each case submitted for correction to those who sent the information. If any errors are still found attention should be called to them, that they may be corrected in the succeeding report.

The number of members in each chapter has been verified by the reports on file in the office of the treasurer general at the date nearest to October 11, 1900.

ALABAMA.

There are but seven chapters in Alabama, but the members are enthusiastic and are doing useful, patriotic work under many difficulties. As there are few historic spots to mark, the chapters have devoted their energies principally to educational work, and have donated books, periodicals, and pictures to the public schools, besides giving gold medals to encourage the study of American history.

The Alabama "Daughters" are working in unison with the Alabama Historical Society, and sent a delegate to the meeting of the society in June, 1900.

All the chapters will unite in providing items for a special column in the Montgomery Advertiser devoted to historical and genealogical work, and it is hoped that valuable information will thus be obtained and much light thrown upon half-forgotten history.

Andrew Jackson Chapter, of Talladega, 18 members, continues its efforts to perpetuate the memory of the Tennessee soldiers who fell in the battle of Talladega on November 9, 1813. Their names have been collected and published by the chapter in booklet form, and are to be inscribed on the sides of the monument erected over the remains in the Talladega cemetery. These men fought under Andrew Jackson against the Creek Indians, and their victory over the savages made that part of the United States safe for the pioneer settlers.

The chapter continues its efforts for the passage of Senate resolution 82, Fifty-sixth Congress, first session. If passed, this resolution will provide funds for the erection of another monument to these soldiers upon the public square of Talladega.

A second medal has been awarded by the chapter to a child in the public school for excellence in an examination in history. A contribution was also sent to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

Frederick William Gray Chapter, of Anniston, 14 members, gave two prizes to the boy and girl in the public schools who wrote the best essay on the Causes of the Revolution. It has contributed to the Meadow Garden fund for the purchase of the home of George Walton at Augusta, Ga., and to the Continental Memorial Hall to be erected in Washington.

General Sumter Chapter, of Birmingham, 53 members, has contributed to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris, and to the memorial in honor of Reubena Hyde Walworth. A beautiful exhibit of colonial and revolutionary relics was prepared by this chapter for the state fair held in Birmingham in November, 1899. The state regent, Mrs. J. Morgan Smith (Katharine Duncan), is an honored member of this chapter, and has interested the members in the search for the Revolutionary graves in Alabama. A list of them is being prepared and they will be suitably marked.

John Wade Keyes Chapter, of Athens, 13 members, has just been organized, its charter being dated October 6, 1900. The grave of the Revolutionary soldier whose name is borne by the chapter is unmarked and untended. The first work of the members will therefore be the care and adornment of this neglected spot.

Light Horse Harry Lee Chapter, of Auburn, 33 members, contributed to the Continental Memorial Hall fund and to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris. It has appropriated a sum for buying historical books and periodicals for the use of the chapter and has given well-selected pictures to adorn the walls of the public schools. The chapter is fortunate in having the sympathy and encouragement of the professors of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute. Mrs. J. H. Mell (Annie White), wife of one of these professors, and author of the article in our magazine referred to on p. 136, is a member of this chapter and the historian of the daughters of the American Revolution in Alabama.

Martha Wayles Jefferson Chapter, of Opelika, 20 members, contributed to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, to the Reubena Hyde Walworth monument at Saratoga, N. Y., and to the Betsey Ross house in Philadelphia. The gold medal awarded this year was given for the best essay on The part Southerners contributed to the success of the American Revolution. Money is appropriated for the purchase of historical periodicals and books of reference each year.

Peter Forney Chapter, of Montgomery, 35 members, has at each meeting an interesting biographical sketch, prepared by one of its members. A contribution was sent to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in February, 1900. A gift of $15 was made toward endowing a Peter Forney bed in the White Boys' Reformatory, of Birmingham, Ala. This bed will be kept supplied by the chapter. The regent, Mrs. J. M. Wyly, frequently visits the public schools and by inspiring words impresses the pupils with enthusiastic love and reverence for our flag, our history, and our country.

ARKANSAS.

Little Rock Chapter, of Little Rock, 33 members, is honored by having upon its roll the names of Mrs. S. V. Norton (Helen Maria Blakeslee), the present state regent, and Mrs. William A. Cantrell (Ellen Harrell), the second state regent, author of the Annals of Christ Church Parish of Little Rock, Arkansas, recently published.

The chapter has contributed $5 each to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris and gave $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900.

CALIFORNIA.

California Chapter, of San Francisco, 50 members, has contributed to the Washington and La Fayette monuments in Paris, to the purchase of Meadow Garden farm, and $10 to the fund for restoring the Yankee Doodle house or old Fort Crailo, opposite the city of Albany, N. Y. They have also given $25 toward the Continental Memorial Hall fund. Many members of this chapter have relatives in the army, and to these ladies the Manila library fund has been of special interest. At one of the early meetings $25 and several large boxes of books were given for this object. Since then, $30 additional have been contributed for this most helpful work.

Eschscholtzia Chapter, of Los Angeles, 31 members, bears the name of the wonderful golden poppies which glorify the hillsides of California. The ladies presented a large flag to the Seventh California Volunteers when they left home for service in 1898. Later, money was sent to the same regiment when it was learned that the men were suffering for many necessary comforts.

On the second floor of the beautiful woman's club house, built in the style of the early missions of California, the chapter has established its headquarters, and furnished the room with old colonial mahogany. Since they have no spots of revolutionary interest to mark, they plan a monument to Gen. John C. Frémont, "the Pathfinder," whose widow is an honorary member of the chapter.

La Puerta del Oro Chapter, of San Francisco, 70 members, gave as its first contribution for war relief $100 to the local branch of the American National Red Cross and has donated $25 for the library for the soldiers stationed at Manila. The state regent, Mrs. John F. Swift (Mary Wood), is an honored member of this chapter. The ladies hope to establish a club-room to be shared with other patriotic societies. The son of one of the members received a medal for gallant service in the Spanish-American war. A gift of $25 was made to the La Fayette statue fund.

Oakland Chapter, of Oakland, 34 members, has, as far as possible, responded to requests for aid received from other organizations. The treasurer, Mrs. G. H. Gray, was appointed to represent the chapter as a member of the American Auxiliary to the Cuban Provisional Red Cross. The director of the soldiers' library at Manila received $25 worth of stamps and stationery for the purpose of encouraging and facilitating the correspondence of soldiers there stationed, who might otherwise fail to communicate with friends at home. A gift of $15 was made toward the rent of the soldiers' library building at Manila. One hundred boxes of reading matter were secured through the efforts of Mrs. Oscar Long, and were sent to this library. Every book, magazine, and paper was personally examined and approved by her before forwarding. Another member of the chapter, Mrs. E. S. Howard, is vice-president of the club which has been organized for the preservation of the great sequoia trees, "the heirlooms of the ages."

Books and papers of historic value have been purchased by the chapter, as funds permitted, and these will be kept in an alcove of the new Carnegie public library at Oakland. The chapter was zealous in securing funds for the purchase of the library site.

Santa Ysabel Chapter, of San Jose, 20 members, continues to foster interest in our society by presenting its most attractive social features to public view.

Sequoia Chapter, of San Francisco, 124 members, contributed $15 to the Washington statue fund and $15 to that for the monument to La Fayette at Paris. They have also given money for the preservation of the Betsy Ross house at Philadelphia, where the first United States flag was made, and have added $40 to the maintenance of the soldiers' library at Manila, while individual members have contributed many books.

On the retirement of Mrs. A. S. Hubbard (Sarah Isabelle Sylvester) from the office of regent of Sequoia Chapter she was the recipient of a cut-crystal silver-bound loving cup resting upon a silver-mounted mirror, presented by members of the chapter in recognition of her untiring devotion to its interests. (Plate 16.) The cup bears the following inscription: "Sarah Isabelle Sylvester Hubbard, from the members of the Sequoia Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, San Francisco, Cal., January 9, 1899." A member of this chapter contributed $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall in 1899.

The ladies began on September 5, 1893, agitation against the desecration of the flag and submitted a memorial to the commissioners of the World's Fair at Chicago. This was followed in 1895 by a resolution indorsing the action of the Society of Colonial Wars, of Illinois, in endeavoring to prevent the use of the flag or the national coat of arms for any advertising purposes.

COLORADO.

Denver Chapter, of Denver, 66 members, has devoted its energies to the study of colonial days in America, beginning with the outward progress of the individual colonies and then noting the relation of these colonies to England and to France.

By permission of Mrs. Hubbard.

LOVING CUP PRESENTED BY SEQUOIA CHAPTER TO MRS. A. S. HUBBARD.

The only public work has been the offering of a prize of $25 to the pupil of any high school in the state who may write the best essay on Colorado from the earliest time to 1855, the period of discovery and exploration. It is hoped that this will stimulate the study of Colorado history, and lead to the preservation of objects and places of interest in the state.

Zebulon Pike Chapter, of Colorado Springs, 54 members, has grown constantly in numbers, and under many difficulties, which always exist in a new country, is trying to maintain the spirit of the forefathers and foremothers who made the republic. This is evinced by the gift during 1899 and 1900 of $55 to the Continental Memorial Hall to be erected in Washington.

CONNECTICUT.

[Prepared by Mrs. Sara T. Kinney, state regent of Connecticut.]

A statement of the relief work undertaken by the Connecticut chapters for the sick and wounded soldiers of the Spanish-American war was incorporated in the second report of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution to the Smithsonian Institution. (Fifty-sixth Congress, first session, Senate Document No. 425.) This statement recorded only such sums of money, and such supplies of food, garments, etc., as had been sent by the chapters to the state regent for distribution by her and by the committees appointed to do this work. Since then (November 1898) a supplementary report has been submitted, which includes a statement of money raised and expended by local (D. A. R.) committees for legitimate relief purposes, which appealed directly to the sympathies and purses of certain chapters. This sum amounts to $3,645.69, and in addition to the gifts previously reported by the state regent ($3,513.18) it can now be stated that the total amount of money contributed in 1898 by the Connecticut Daughters of the American Revolution for the relief of sick and wounded soldiers was $7,158.87.

In 1897 the Connecticut chapters voted to publish a series of illustrated sketches of their Patron saints and Patriots' daughters. Miss Mary P. Root, of the Katharine Gaylord Chapter, was invited to edit the book, and a corps of ladies from various chapters throughout the state was appointed to assist her in the work. The book is now completed, and before this report is printed it will be ready for distribution. It will contain from one to two hundred portraits and other illustrations and about five hundred pages of valuable historical and biographical matter. Its publication will cost the Connecticut chapters about $2,000. Chapter work is reported as follows:

Abigail Phelps Chapter, of Simsbury, 58 members, is engaged in locating and marking the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in the vicinity of Simsbury, but as the work is still uncompleted, the report will not be submitted until next year. As a token of their affection and appreciation of her efforts in behalf of the chapter, the members have presented their regent, Mrs. Antoinnette Eno Wood, with a very beautiful silver loving cup.

The contributions of this chapter and the regent together make a total of $2,450 for the Continental Memorial Hall fund since 1896.

Anna Warner Bailey Chapter, of Groton and Stonington, has 145 members. About five years ago the general assembly of Connecticut confirmed the chapter's custodianship (previously granted it by the Monument Association) of the "Monument House," on the site of the Fort Griswold massacre, at Groton.

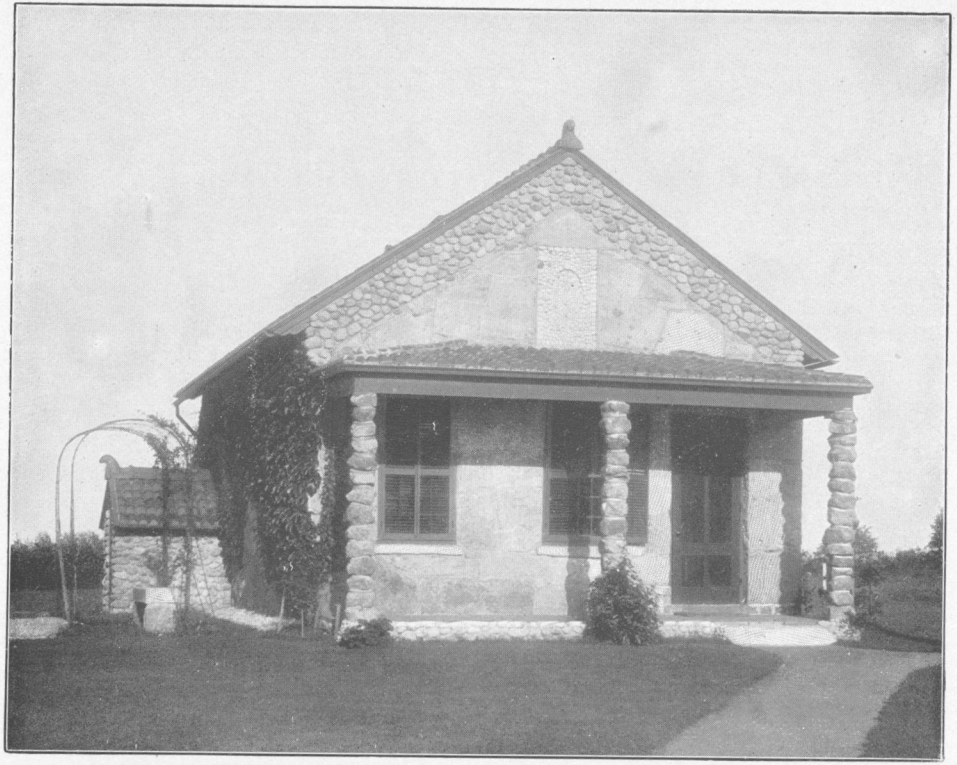

During the winter of 1899 the general assembly voted that the chapter should receive from the state an annual appropriation of $300 toward the maintenance of the "Little Stone House." The roof has been raised, and many desirable alterations have been made in the building. (Plate 17.) The chapter is now actively engaged in raising $5,000 with which to add to the house a memorial annex in commemoration of the heroic men who lost their lives in the Spanish-American war.

The chapter's petition to the United States Congress regarding the acquisition of land adjoining Fort Griswold is to be presented to the Senate and House, respectively, by Senator Hawley and Representative Russell.

A pamphlet entitled Who built the forts? written by Miss Mary E. Benjamin, was published by the chapter.

The chapter gave $10 to the La Fayette statue in Paris.

Anne Wood Elderkin Chapter, of Willimantic, 58 members, is working hard to secure funds for a monument, which it hopes soon to erect in honor of the men from this locality who fought in the Revolutionary war. To further patriotism, and promote a wider knowledge of the history of our country, prizes are annually offered to the pupils of the high school and grammar school for the best historical essays.

Elizabeth Clarke Hull Chapter, of Ansonia, 105 members, contributed toward the purchase of the Nathan Hale schoolhouse at New London, the Monument House at Groton, and other similar objects.

It offers yearly prizes to the public school pupils for best historical essays, and contributes books of an historical nature to the public library.

The gifts of the chapter to the Continental Memorial Hall fund amounted to $150 during 1899 and 1900. They also gave $35 each for the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris.

Elizabeth Porter Putnam Chapter, of Putnam, has 68 members. The work of this chapter in connection with the purchase and restoration of the famous wolf den is practically completed, the approaches to the den alone remaining in a somewhat unfinished state. The sum of $2,262 has been expended by the chapter in its effort to preserve for future generations the spot where "Old Put" wrestled mightily with the wolf. The chapter is also engaged in marking the graves of Revolutionary soldiers.

Esther Stanley Chapter, of New Britain, has 90 members. The interests of the adjacent towns of New Britain and Farmington having once been identical, the records of New Britain have to be looked for in the older and original town. These original records were found to be torn, many names only partly legible, and in many places pages partly gone. In order to make the search of these records a less difficult matter the historian of the chapter with great care has copied them entire and in alphabetical order and presented them to the chapter. The book represents the work of an entire summer and will be of great value for future reference.

The chapter has contributed $100 to the Continental Hall fund, and has presented to the New Britain high school four pictures suitably framed, all copies of celebrated historical paintings.

Eunice Dennie Burr Chapter, of Fairfield, has 32 members. At an expense of $75 this chapter has recently placed a very large quartz bowlder on the town green, upon which is to be riveted a bronze tablet giving the dates of Fairfield's historic events. It has also restored a Revolutionary powder house (plate 18) and marked it with a bronze tablet, and is engaged in marking other historic places. The stones in the old graveyard have been restored, a wall has been built around it, and a handsome lich gate has been erected at the entrance. (Plate 19.) One hundred dollars has been contributed toward the building of Fairfield's memorial library.

Faith Trumbull Chapter, of Norwich, 111 members, has located the graves of twenty French soldiers, a part of the force under La Fayette, who died and were buried in the vicinity of Norwich. An effort will be made to ascertain the names of these allies from across the sea, and their graves will undoubtedly be suitably marked.

Fanny Ledyard Chapter, of Mystic, has 79 members. The special work of this chapter is that of restoring and beautifying the colonial and Revolutionary burial places in its vicinity. Contributions have been made to the Continental Hall fund, the memorial annex of the Fort Griswold Monument House, and toward the purchase of the Nathan Hale schoolhouse at New London. A gift of $5 was sent to each of the funds for the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris.

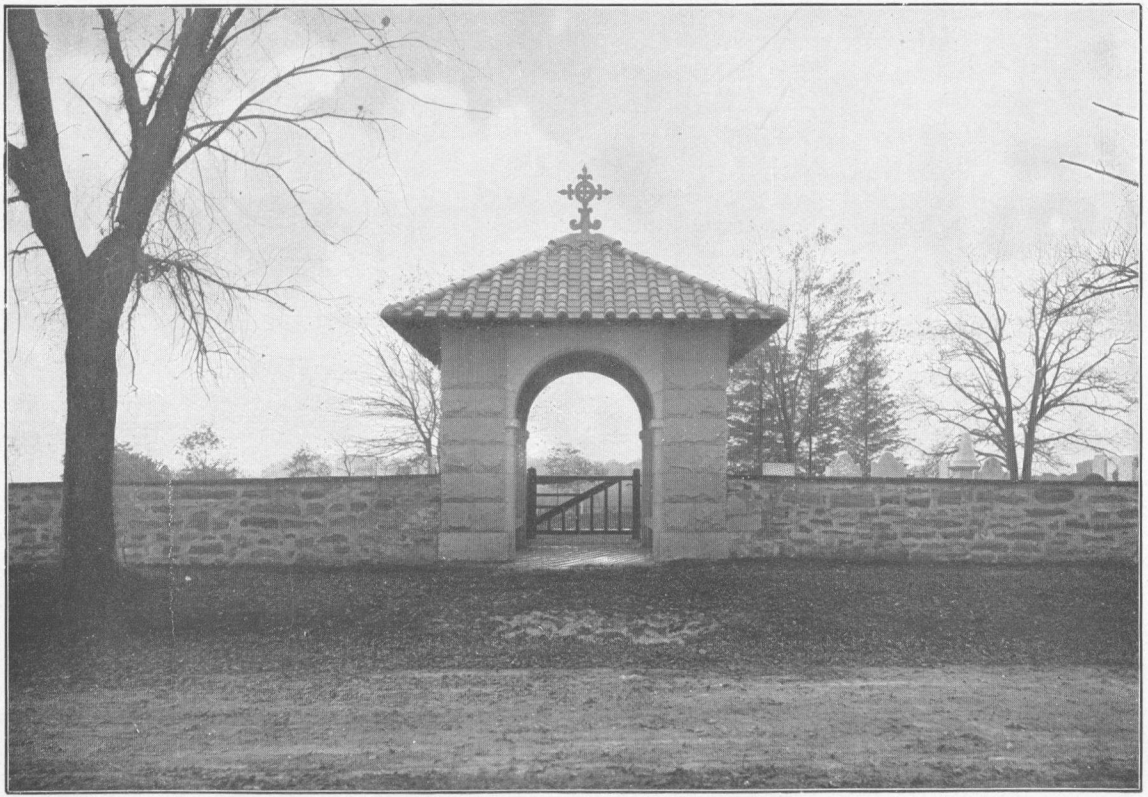

Freelove Baldwin Stow Chapter, of Milford, has 76 members. Aside from its generous contribution of $115 to the Continental Hall fund, and various sums to other patriotic objects, the energies of this chapter are devoted to the laudable effort of securing a chapter house, which will be a memorial to Milford's Revolutionary soldiers. As a token of its appreciation of her tireless efforts in behalf of the best interests of the chapter, the members have recently presented their regent, Mrs. Mary Hepburn-Smith, with a very beautiful and costly silver loving cup.

Green Woods Chapter, of Winsted, has 52 members. Since October, 1898, this chapter has cleaned, reset, and put in order the stones marking the graves of the following Revolutionary soldiers:

Daniel Andrews,
Richard Beckly,
John Church,
John Dare,
Phineas Griswold,
Robert MacEwen,
Reuben Tucker.

POWDER HOUSE, REVOLUTIONARY WAR, RESTORED AND MARKED BY EUNICE DENNIE BURR CHAPTER, FAIRFIELD, CONN.

LICH GATE OF OLD GRAVEYARD AT FAIRFIELD, CONN. ERECTED BY EUNICE DENNIE BURR CHAPTER.

The burial places of five Winchester men who served are unmarked, and the daughters have ordered stones which are to be placed in position in the spring.

Hannah Woodruff Chapter, of Southington, 58 members, is taking a leading part in an effort to secure a public library for the town of Southington. This is an enterprise which has been discussed by the townspeople for several years, but it remained for the Daughters of the American Revolution to give the necessary impetus and bring the project to a head.

The chapter gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900, and added $4 to the Washington and $5 to the La-Fayette statue funds.

Judea Chapter, of Washington, has 25 members. Washington was once a part of the town of Woodbury, and it is an historic fact that in 1776, by order of General Washington, every able-bodied man between the ages of 16 and 60 in this and other western towns in Connecticut was called into active service, and marched to New York, and that Woodbury during the entire war was the headquarters of recruiting service for western Connecticut. It is not strange, therefore, that the special interest of the Judea Chapter is in locating and marking the graves of Revolutionary soldiers, and a list of 32 such graves is herewith submitted.

The marking of these graves a few months since was the occasion of appropriate services, patriotic music being sung, and speeches made by United State Senator Orville H. Platt, Hon. Walter S. Logan, and others. A large gathering of people joined in the exercises to honor the memory of the patriots of the American Revolutionary war.

Katharine Gaylord Chapter, of Bristol, 99 members, continues its efforts to beautify the old Training Ground, asphalt walks having been laid, and a bowlder placed to mark the historic spot. The practice is still followed of giving prizes for best historical essays to pupils in the public schools. Flags are placed on Memorial Day over the graves of Revolutionary soldiers, and 36 such graves have recently been identified by the regent and a committee from the chapter. A list of these is given below.

Lucretia Shaw Chapter, of New London, 155 members, has contributed three hundred dollars toward the purchase of the Nathan Hale schoolhouse, which is to be the chapter's future home and meeting place. This building, still in good preservation, stands in New London, and is the one in which the boy martyr was teaching at the time of his enlistment for the war of the Revolution. It has been purchased through the joint efforts of the Connecticut Daughters and Sons of the American Revolution. The chapter has also undertaken the beautifying of the Colonial and Revolutionary burial place in New London, and has recently had the gravestone of Richard Law reset at considerable expense.

Mary Clap Wooster Chapter, of New Haven, has 239 members. On the 24th of June, 1899, this chapter placed a fine bronze tablet (plate 20) upon the Zunder school building in New Haven, which marks the site of the home of Gen. David Wooster and Mary Clap Wooster, his wife, the Revolutionary heroine for whom the chapter is named. Some years ago the chapter inaugurated the custom—a custom which still exists—of holding a religious and patriotic church service at 8 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth of July. This service is largely attended by members of various patriotic societies and by the general public.

The chapter since the last report has contributed the sum of $854 toward various patriotic objects—Continental Hall, the Washington and LaFayette statues, the Nathan Hale schoolhouse, etc. It has also presented complete sets of the American Monthly Magazine for 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897, and 1898 to Yale University. Valuable historical papers have been prepared by members of the chapter on such topics as the settlement of Connecticut, its government, religious life, and educational methods; also sketches of its early customs in connection with marriages, baptisms, and funerals, its ministers, doctors, and lawyers.

Committees from the chapter are busily engaged in the perplexing work of identifying the graves of Revolutionary soldiers, but as this effort to prove or disprove the identity of such graves requires much time, patience, and great skill in sifting the varied evidence, which must be obtained from family Bibles, from town, church, and probate records, the committees prefer at this time to simply report progress, together with a list of 15 graves which have been positively identified out of a total of over 50, all of them alleged to be the graves of Revolutionary soldiers.

The graves are in the Grove Street cemetery at New Haven, and the names of the men are as follows:

Thaddeus Alling.....Born, 1758; died, April 8, 1832.

Mary Floyd Tallmadge Chapter, of Litchfield, reports 30 members and work as follows:

A new library building having been given to the town of Litchfield for the use of its library, on condition that an endowment fund be raised by the public sufficient to maintain it as a free public library, this chapter has undertaken to aid in the work of raising this fund, which is estimated at $40,000. The chapter was organized in November, 1899, with 26 members, and during the year ending December 8, 1900, it has added $1,757 to the said fund.

It has marked with a tablet an old oak tree, sole survivor of the original forest which covered this region when Litchfield was settled in 1720.

It has framed its charter in wood taken from four historic houses in this town—those of Oliver Wolcott, Col. Benjamin Tallmadge, Ebenezer Marsh, one of the first inhabitants (1759), and of a participator in the "Boston Tea Party."

It is agitating the question of preserving from destruction the shade trees of the highways.

Mary Silliman Chapter, of Bridgeport, has 224 members. This chapter has assumed the support of a patriot's daughter who is a member of the chapter, and it also has the care of the grave of its patron saint (Mary Gold Silliman) and of the graves of thirteen Revolutionary soldiers in the Stratfield Cemetery.

The Continental Memorial Hall fund received $100 from the chapter in 1899.

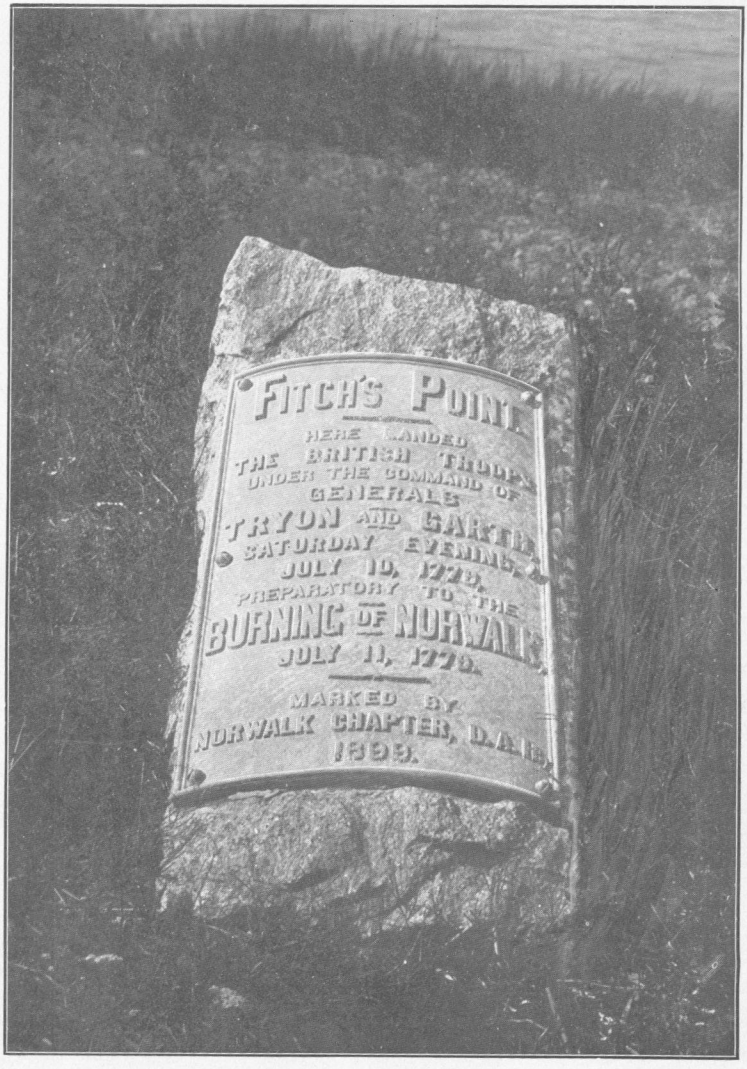

Mary Wooster Chapter, of Danbury, 89 members, has one of the best-equipped chapter homes in Connecticut. (Plates 21, 22.) The regular meetings of the chapter are held therein, and as the ménage includes a kitchen and plentiful blue and white china, dull care is often driven away by social gatherings of the members and invited guests. The rooms contain several cases of interesting colonial and Revolutionary relics, which are open to the inspection of the general public one day in each week. During the year 1900 an appropriation was made by the chapter for the purpose of suitably marking the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in the vicinity of Danbury. In 1898 $10 were given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. A list of the relics exhibited in the chapter home is to be found in Appendix B.

Melicent Porter Chapter, of Waterbury, has 105 members. This chapter has recently secured a room in the Bronson Library Building, and many interesting and historically valuable relics have been placed therein. Miss Sarah Prichard, a well-known writer, and a member of the chapter, has presented to it the manuscript of a series of most interesting Revolutionary stories, which the chapter has published. It has also sent to Manila during the past year two large cases filled with clothing and other necessaries. A very promising branch of the Children of the American Revolution has been organized under the auspices of the chapter. Their organizing, and now honorary regent, Mrs. Stephen W. Kellogg, gave such untiring thought, energy, and faithful service to the relief measures for the sufferers in the Spanish-American war, that in the spring of 1900 the chapter gave her a very beautiful silver loving cup.

Norwalk Chapter, of Norwalk, 127 members, devotes a good deal of attention to local history. In a town two hundred and fifty years old there are many places of historic interest, and family traditions and relics are abundant. Valuable papers on subjects relating to the town have been read at many of their meetings, such as that on Elizabeth Fitch Rogers, a patriotic woman of Revolutionary days, Colonial homes of Wilton, Colonial homes of Westport, Isaac Sears, and La Fayette's visit to Connecticut. It is an interesting fact that Nathan Hale started from Norwalk on his fatal mission; his disguise was obtained there and a Norwalk boat carried him across the Sound. In commemoration of his life and death, the chapter has purchased, at a cost of $900, a drinking fountain which will shortly be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies. A stone has recently been placed to mark the spot where the British landed at Fitch's Point, July 11, 1779. (Plate 23.) In commemoration of a battle on Flax Hill, July 12, 1774, a natural bowlder was suitably marked some time ago, but as the photograph was received too late for our last report it is now reproduced on plate 24. It is the annual custom of the chapter to award prizes of $5 in gold to pupils in the public schools who write the best essay on some topic concerning the American Revolution. In 1900 an additional prize of $5 was offered to the intermediate pupil submitting the best essay on Nathan Hale. This contest caused even greater interest than the regular prize, since the subject appealed especially to the youthful mind.

In October, 1898, the regent, Mrs. Samuel Richards Weed, organized an historical and memorial library association, composed of some of the most substantial citizens of Norwalk. The hope is that from this beginning there will develop a library and museum worthy of Norwalk's 20,000 inhabitants.

The ladies gave $5 to the La Fayette statue fund and $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall in 1900.

Putnam Hill Chapter, of Greenwich, 38 members, on June 16, 1900, dedicated a memorial stone, which was placed on the site of one of General Putnam's most daring deeds. (Plate 25.) The monument is in imitation of a bowlder, such as is often seen in the fields of Connecticut, weighs about 4 tons, and came from the Westport quarries. In the center of the stone and facing the park is embedded the bronze tablet, on which is inscribed: "This marks the spot where on Feb. 26, 1799, General Israel Putnam, cut off from his soldiers and pursued by British cavalry, galloped down the rocky steep and escaped, daring to lead where not one of the many hundred foes dared to follow. Erected by the Putnam Hill Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of Greenwich, Conn., A. D., 1900."

The occasion was graced by the presence of two or three thousand guests, including representatives from nearly every chapter in the state, by Governor Lounsbury of Connecticut, with his full staff, Mrs. Washington Roebling, vice-president general, National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, who responded to the address of welcome given by Mrs. Henry S. Adams, the regent; Mrs. Donald McLean, who made an address on Our Flag, the Comte de La Fayette, Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, Gen. O. O. Howard, the Hon. J. M. Hoyt, of Ohio, and Col. Albert A. Pope, all of whom made speeches appropriate to the occasion. The tablet was unveiled by Mr. Putnam Brinley, a lineal descendant of General Putnam.

The ladies have given $30 to the Continental Memorial Hall during 1899 and 1900.

Ruth Hart Chapter, of Meriden, 133 members, recently placed a memorial stone upon the site of the first "meeting house" in Berlin, the church of which their patron saint was a devoted member. (Plate 26.) The stone bears the following inscription: "Near this spot stood the first meeting house. Built in 1709. First pastor, Wm. Burnham. This stone erected by Ruth Hart Chapter, D. A. R., 1900."

A contribution of $6 was given to the Washington statue fund.

Ruth Wyllys Chapter, of Hartford, has 220 members. The splendid work of this chapter in restoring the "Old Burying Ground" in Hartford is practically completed, at a total cost of about $80,000—a sum which was contributed by Ruth Wyllys Chapter, by Center Church, by the city of Hartford, and by individuals. The stones in this historic God's acre have been restored (Plates 27–30), old rookeries that flanked the cemetery have been torn down, a fine boulevard has been opened to the park, and a handsome iron fence and gateway will protect the spot from future depredations. The work was conceived by the Ruth Wyllys Chapter and executed under its auspices, and to show its appreciation of her energy and executive ability, the regent has recently been presented with a magnificent silver loving cup. graves whose headstones were standing in 1835 is found in Appendix C.

Under the auspices of the chapter a course of historical lectures, free to the general public, is now being given by John Fiske and other distinguished gentlemen, the subjects being: Connecticut's part in the Federal Constitution, Framers of the Constitution, The first executor of the Constitution, and The expounders of the Constitution.

Gifts of $15 each have been made to the Washington and La Fayette statues at Paris.

Harriet E. G. Whitmore, a member of this chapter, has published an interesting addition to our knowledge of genealogy, entitled Memorial of the kindred and ancestry of Harriet L. Sturges Goulden.

Sarah Ludlow Chapter, of Seymour, 50 members, during the past two years has contributed $40 toward the La Fayette monument, the Nathan Hale schoolhouse fund, and similar objects, and is locating the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in and about Seymour. The grave of Phineas Johnson, a private in the Revolutionary army, who died in 1840, has recently been identified.

Sarah Riggs Humphreys Chapter, of Derby, has 124 members. Mrs. Sarah Riggs Bowers married as her second husband Rev. Daniel Humphreys, and was the mother of the most distinguished man born in Derby, who took part in the war of the American Revolution. Following the example of holding in reverence the mother of Washington, when choosing a name the members honored the chapter with that of the mother of Gen. David Humphreys. When framing their charter they desired to preserve something of local interest, and therefore the wood for the frame was taken from the house where tradition tells us was born the second white child in what is now the town of Derby, and an etching of the structure is on the mat of the charter. The carved ribbon scroll across the top of the frame gives the name of Gen. David Humphreys with the date of his birth, 1752, and death, 1818. In the upper corners are the heads of two Merino sheep. General Humphreys, when minister to Portugal and Spain, became convinced that Merino sheep could be introduced into this country and would result in greatly improving the quality of our home manufactured cloths. He purchased 100 of the sheep and they were embarked on board the ship Perseverance. Ninety-one were landed at Derby in June, 1802, nine having been killed by the violent rolling of the ship in a storm off the banks of Newfoundland. From the wool of these sheep was made, at Derby, broadcloth for the suit which Thomas Jefferson, third President of the United States, wore at the ball when entering his second Presidential term of office. An etching of General Humphreys's mill, where this cloth was made, is on the mat of the charter. The carved distaff and shears symbolize the son of their patroness as a manufacturer. The crossed swords commemorate Colonel Humphreys's services as aid-de-camp to General Washington, and the diplomatic scroll resting upon the olive branch represents the twelve years from 1790 to 1802 when General Humphreys peacefully performed his duties as ambassador at the courts of Portugal and Spain.

During the year 1900 this chapter expended $25 for books for the historical library, and $88 for work in the Colonial Cemetery, for the statue of Washington, and for other similar objects.

Jane de Forest Shelton, a member of this chapter, published in 1900 an interesting volume on early New England life and manners, entitled The Salt-Box House.

The Sibbil Dwight Kent Chapter, of Suffield, 53 members, is devoting its energies to reclaiming the old burying place in that town. This God's acre was laid out in 1684, and in it a large number of the Revolutionary ancestors of chapter members were buried. The work of the committee includes the cleaning, straightening, and in many instances resetting of 150 stones, with the necessary grading, at an expense of about $75. The members have written many interesting papers relating to the causes which have led to the different wars in which this country has been engaged, and liberal contributions have been made to patriotic and educational objects. A gift of $5 each went into the Washington and La Fayette statue funds.

Stamford Chapter, of Stamford, 86 members, continues its favorite line of work, giving prizes for best historical essays to the students in the high school. The freshman prize is awarded to the pupil who enters the high school with the best standing in United States history, and the senior prize is given to the member of the graduating class who writes the best essay on a subject from United States history selected by a committee of ladies from the chapter. The last prize winners were sons of two charter members of the chapter, which is good and sufficient proof that blood will tell.

Susan Carrington Clark Chapter, of Meriden, has 167 members. The labor of love to which this chapter has devoted itself for the past year has been that of locating and verifying the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in that locality. A list of 98 of these is given below. The committee consisted of Mrs. Seth Hall, Miss Fannie L. Twiss, and Miss Kate H. Hamlin.

Wadsworth Chapter, of Middletown, has 92 members. Since the last report the Wadsworth Chapter has contributed $235 toward various objects. Fifty dollars were expended for relief purposes in behalf of Cuban orphans, and the remainder was given to the funds for the Continental Hall, the Nathan Hale Schoolhouse, the "Groton Monument Memorial Annex," the LaFayette Monument, and to the Riverside (Revolutionary) Cemetery Association of Middletown.

Emma Gilman, historian of this chapter, has published an account of the exercises attending the celebration of the anniversary of Nathan Hale.

DELAWARE.

The four chapters in Delaware, Cæsar Rodney, Colonel Haslet, Elizabeth Cook and John Pettigrew, are active in all patriotic, philanthropic, and charitable work. It is due to the interest of these members that a sum of $1,000 was raised in memory of Lieut. Clarke Churchman, son of the state regent, who fell in the Spanish-American war, at El Caney, July 1, 1898. Of this amount, $500 were expended in erecting a monument over his grave in the cemetery of the Military Academy at West Point. (Plates 32–33.) The remaining $500 was invested in the name of the trustees of Delaware College as a trust fund, the interest of which is to be applied annually for a Lieutenant Clarke Churchman prize medal. This prize is to be presented at each commencement to that student who shall have attained the greatest efficiency in military science. The chapters are also charter members of the George Washington Memorial Association and contribute annually to the Continental Memorial Hall and to the Army Relief Society.

Cæsar Rodney Chapter, of Wilmington, 46 members, is named in honor of the famous Delaware signer of the Declaration of Independence. The regent has been made by the chapter a member of the Mary Washington Memorial Association. A contribution of $25 was made to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1898, and a like sum at the congresses of 1899 and 1900. A gift of $5 each was made to the Washington and LaFayette statue funds.

Colonel Haslet Chapter, of Dover, 15 members, gave $20 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1898, and $40 more in 1900. The flag of the Haslet Guards, carried in the civil war, has been presented to the chapter. Gifts have been made to the Army Relief Society and to the fund for the Delaware room at Mount Vernon. Historical papers are written for almost every meeting.

Elizabeth Cook Chapter, of Smyrna, 25 members, is named in honor of a noble woman, whose father during the years 1772–1787 was successively high sheriff, soldier, statesman, judge, senator, and president of Delaware. When 13 years old she assisted in the knitting and spinning done in her father's house for the comfort of the Continental soldiers. Frequently she rode many miles through the lonely woods to Belmont Hall to help her cousins in molding bullets, with which her relatives helped to defend the colony and their homes. The Cook mansion and Belmont Hall are still standing in good preservation, and the old fireplace where the bullets were molded is still shown to visitors. Her husband, Capt. Ebenezer Cloke, fitted out a privateer to fight against the British, but was captured, confined in one of the prison ships, and died from the fever there contracted.

During the war of 1812, when the British were expected to come up Delaware Bay and Smyrna Creek, she put muskets in the hands of her sons and said: "My boys, you must go at once." They went with a company commanded by John Clark, her sister's husband.

In memory of her zeal the chapter has made contributions to the funds for the Continental Memorial Hall, for the prison-ship martyrs at Fort Greene, Long Island, N. Y., to the George Washington Memorial Association, and to the purchase of Meadow Garden farm at Augusta, Ga.

John Pettigrew Chapter, of Milford, 16 members, has contributed to the Continental Hall and to the Lieut. Clarke Churchman fund.

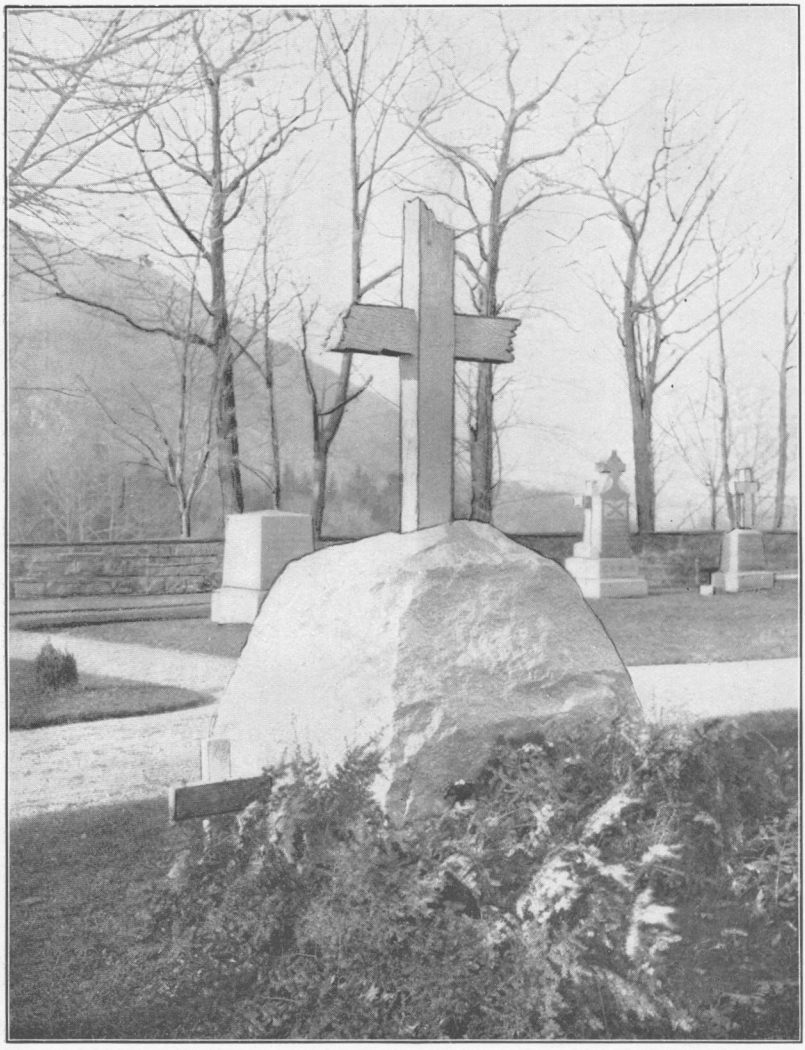

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

During the winter of 1899 and 1900 most of the District chapters united in two entertainments given for the benefit of the Continental Memorial Hall, and raised in this manner $438.

Army and Navy Chapter, of Washington, 106 members, continues with undiminished zeal its relief work among the families of the soldiers and sailors of the Regular Army and Navy. Between September, 1899, and May, 1900, the ladies assisted 16 families at an expense of $876. The funds for the purpose were raised by several entertainments and by circulars of appeal sent to the other chapters. They have assisted soldiers or their widows to secure the pensions due them, and have given employment to needy soldiers' widows in many instances. In January, 1900, the ladies established a luncheon and tea room, or more properly a woman's exchange, where those skilled in some culinary specialty could bring their work for sale. After the first month it was necessary to find and furnish larger accommodations. The house No. 734 Seventeenth street was selected, and has since been known as the "Tea Cup Inn." All profits are devoted to relief work, and the employees of the establishment are, as far as possible, women and young people from the families of soldiers and sailors. Over $200 were expended in salaries.

On Friday, February 9, 1900, a benefit was given at the Empire Theater in New York, and $3,056, one-half the proceeds, were given to the New York Herald for the relief work of the Spanish-American war. The Herald selected this chapter to disburse the fund. At the request of Mrs. Frohman, wife of the manager of the theater, $500 was sent to the chairman of the Philippine branch of the relief committee.

Thirty-two large boxes of books and magazines have been sent to Manila, Porto Rico, and Cuba, besides weekly supplies of newspapers, and $5 were given to the Betsey Ross Memorial Association. The chapter gave $10 to the La Fayette statue, $61.30 to the Continental Hall between February, 1898, and October, 1900, and raised $163.50 by its part of the entertainment given in 1900 by the District chapters for that object.

Continental Chapter, of Washington, 67 members, contributed $25 to the Memorial Hall fund in 1899, $25 more in 1900 at the congress, and $10 at one of the entertainments. Two chapter members had charge of two tables for a week during one of the entertainments given for the fund. Six hundred china cups were sold by the chapter members for the same cause. Seventy-four garments were sent to destitute women and children in Cuba, and 100 pieces of clothing were sent to the sufferers by the disaster at Galveston, in October, 1900.

Dolly Madison Chapter, of Washington, 57 members, gave $15 for the Cuban Provisional Red Cross and $80 to the National Junior Republic, lately established between Washington and Baltimore. To the Continental Memorial Hall $20.70 were given, besides several life memberships.

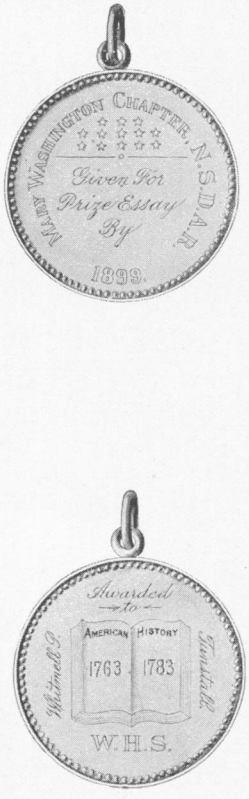

Elizabeth Jackson Chapter, of Washington, 19 members, contributed money from its slender treasury to purchase materials for children's clothing. The garments were cut and made by members of the chapter and sent to General Sanger to be distributed among the destitute children in Cuba. The chapter has assumed the care of the library in the house at Rockyhill, N. J., at one time Washington's headquarters, and the place where his farewell address was written. A carpet and curtains were purchased by the chapter, and individual members have filled the rooms with valuable relics. Much attention is given to the study of parliamentary law under the direction of Miss Mary Desha, regent. A fund is being raised for a memorial window to be placed in the Continental Hall when that is erected.

Martha Washington Chapter, of Washington, has 52 members. Its record during the period between October 11, 1898, and October 11, 1900, is but brief. In the Continental Congress of 1899, the regent, Miss Lilian Pike, in the name of the chapter, pledged $10 for the Continental Hall fund, which amount was paid on April 3, 1899. On November 24, 1899, the chapter paid into the hands of the state regent, Mrs. Alden, another sum of $10 for the Continental Hall fund; in addition to which it took its full share of the trouble and expense incident to the getting up of an entertainment given by the District chapters for the benefit of that fund on the 7th and 8th of December, 1899. During the Continental Congress of 1900 the District chapters prepared and served lunch, the net proceeds of which were devoted to the Continental Hall fund. The chapter, therefore, did not contribute any separate sum to that fund at that time, but has always been ready and willing to work for that or any other patriotic purpose.

Mary Washington Chapter, of Washington, 217 members, is the oldest and largest in the District. It offers an annual prize of a gold medal to the graduates of the Washington high schools for the best essay on American history, embracing the period of the Revolution. (Plate 34.) The first successful competitor was Whitmell P. Tunstall, and the subject The American revolution as a crisis in the individual freedom of man. The second year the prize was won by Alice R. Smith, the paper entitled From protest to defiance. At the graduating exercises of the public schools at Convention Hall these medals were presented by Elizabeth Bryant Johnston, chairman of committee on essays. The competition for the medal has aroused most gratifying interest, and the literary standard of the essays is high. This chapter is selling a map of Wakefield, Westmoreland County, Va., the birthplace of Washington. The Coast Survey made a map of this farm and after distributing copies ordered the plates destroyed. Before this was done, 200 prints were bought by the chapter through Mrs. O. H. Tittmann, and these are sold for the benefit of the Mary Washington Monument fund. This chapter, through the efforts of Mrs. J. Eakin Gadsby, is selling for the Continental Hall fund photographs made from an authentic portrait of Mary Ball, the mother of Washington.

Miriam Danforth Chapter, of Washington, 16 members, has for its regent Mrs. Amos G. Draper (Bell Merrill), whose war work was recorded in our report for 1898. At that time she was a member of the Brownson Chapter of Vermont, and her literary work for 1899 will be mentioned in the report of that chapter. During the last year she has compiled a list of Massachusetts people who loaned money to the Government and who were reimbursed therefor "agreeable to the resolve of Congress, January 2, 1779." It is based on unpublished documents in the United States Treasury Department and will be found in Appendix D.

While this record is not sufficient evidence of patriotism to entitle the descendants of these men and women to admission into this society, it is valuable as corroborative proof in many cases and is of historical importance.

GEORGIA.

Owing to the lapse of time and the ravages of war the archives of Georgia are in a fragmentary and dilapidated condition, scattered and torn and crumbling to dust; but before many years are over the efforts of the "Daughters" will have dragged these priceless records from their moldy hiding places, and it is hoped that they will soon be secured from further harm by preservation in print.

The first annual state conference of the Georgia chapters was held in Atlanta, May 23 and 24, 1899, Mrs. Robert Emery Park (Emily Hendree), State regent, presiding. The subject of these perishing records was much discussed at this meeting, and a committee was appointed to make an inventory of all the records which have escaped obliteration. The committee consisted of Mrs. William Lawson Peel (Lucy Cook), of Atlanta; Mrs. Edward W. Karow (Anna Belle), of Savannah; Mrs. T. M. Green (Metta Andrews), of Washington. Circulars of appeal and inquiry were sent to the clerks and ordinaries of the older counties, and the answers received showed that considerable interest in the old records had been aroused, and that much valuable historical material still remains amid the dust and cobwebs of the old court-houses.

Mrs. Karow felt a special interest in publishing the manuscripts in the possession of the Georgia Historical Society, of Savannah. Mrs. Peel, daughter of one of Georgia's secretaries of state and sister of another, resolved to reclaim from oblivion the names of the Revolutionary soldiers in the state archives, to whose neglected condition her stirring words had previously called attention. Mrs. Green devoted her efforts to the preservation of county records. Mrs. Park, of Macon, state regent and chairman of the committee, had a bill presented before the legislature asking for an appropriation for collecting, copying, and preserving these old documents. The work of these four ladies may be considered the foundation of whatever is accomplished in the future toward restoring, for the use of the state, records which would otherwise soon disappear forever.

The work of our society has always been hampered in southern states by difficulty in proving the service of ancestors in the Revolutionary war. Until the records of these states are published, it is almost an impossibility to find the documentary proof necessary to establish the fact of an ancestor's actual service, though successive generations of his descendants may have cherished the tradition of his prowess as their most precious family heritage.

Those difficulties were explained in an article published some years ago in our magazine by Mrs. Patrick H. Mell (Annie White), of Auburn, Ala. This article attracted the attention of Mrs. Peel, of the compiler of this report, and of Miss Margaret B. Harvey, of Merion Chapter, Pennsylvania. The latter determined to reconstruct for the Georgia "Daughters" a list of the state's Revolutionary soldiers.

For this purpose she studied all available histories and biographies of Georgia, records in the Pension Office at Washington, and various unpublished manuscripts. Her list of more than 2,000 names was beautifully illustrated and presented to Joseph Habersham Chapter. Meanwhile the records in the office of the secretary of state of Georgia were copied under the direction of Mrs. Peel, funds for the purpose having been furnished by members of the Atlanta and Piedmont Continental chapters.

On comparing the two lists the compiler discovered that very many names appear in both. Thus one list corroborates the other. The list prepared in the office of the secretary of state shows many names several times repeated, because they were found on different rosters, owing to the short periods of service. It is now impossible to determine how many different men may have borne the same names. It therefore seemed best to print that list as it stood. This list, indorsed by the secretary of state of Georgia, appears in Appendix E. The list prepared by Miss Harvey has been shortened by eliminating names and titles identical with those in Mrs. Peel's list. It forms Appendix F. Reliable historians vary as to the number of these men, from 2,679 continentals, with 8,000 militia, rangers, etc., to 3,000 men all told. Allowing for all repetitions and variations of the same name, the two appendices show a mean between these two extremes, and are as nearly complete a record of the Georgia soldiers in the Revolution as can now be made. Both lists in full, stamped with the state seal, are deposited with the secretary of state of Georgia. It is hoped that the legislature may see fit to publish them, with the accompanying vouchers, as volume one of the archives of the state.

Atlanta Chapter, of Atlanta, 155 members, is the mother chapter of the state, and the other chapters in the city are largely composed of women who were first admitted to the society through Atlanta Chapter. The duplicate of Craigie House, mentioned in our first report as the home of the chapter, was repaired in 1899 and 1900, at a cost of $125. A gift of $10 was made to the La Fayette statue, and a large box of books was sent to the soldiers in the Philippines. Through error, our report for 1897–98 gave the impression that this chapter contributed $50 for copying the records, and that the grand jury at Atlanta had recommended an appropriation for publishing these treasures. The money was really given by members of Atlanta and Piedmont Continental chapters, but not by either chapter as a body. It was the grand jury of Wilkes County which recommended the appropriation for copying records.

Augusta Chapter, of Augusta, 70 members, has contributed to the monument to Reubena Hyde Walworth, the heroic nurse from Saratoga Chapter, New York, who gave her life in caring for the soldiers at Montauk Point during the Spanish-American war. It has also given $500 toward the purchase of Meadow Gardens. Since the property was bought by the National Society the chapter has been restoring the old house to its original condition.

Joseph Habersham Chapter, Atlanta, 44 members, though organized less than one year, has accomplished good work. The limit of 60 resident members has been reached. More than 100 women have been assisted in their search for records which would enable them to join other chapters. A weekly department of history and genealogy has been established in the Atlanta Constitution, similar in character to Notes and Queries, but devoted more exclusively to southern pedigrees. A contribution of $100 was given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. Mrs. Peel was the organizing regent. The chapter owns the two copies of the Revolutionary soldiers' names, which are deposited with the state for safe keeping.

Macon Chapter, of Macon, 47 members, has the unique distinction of a "real daughter," Mrs. Mary A. Washington, as its regent. The state regent, Mrs. Robert E. Park (Emily Hendree), is also on its roll. A second contribution to the Continental Memorial Hall was made by a member of this chapter at the congress of 1900.

Oglethorpe Chapter, of Columbus, 61 members, has given $30 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, and has rendered a notable service to the state and to the nation by rediscovering the original seal of the trustees of the colony as granted in 1732. George White, the historian of Georgia, states that this original seal of the trustees had two faces, one for legislative acts, deeds, and commissions, and the other, the common seal, for grants, orders, certificates, and other similar documents. The device on the first, as described by White on page 319 of his Historical Collections of Georgia, consisted of two figures resting upon urns, and representing the two rivers, Savannah and Altamaha, the northeastern and southwestern boundaries of the province. Between these was seated the genius of the colony, a liberty cap upon her head, a spear in one hand and a cornucopia in the other, with the inscription "Colonia Georgia Aug." White also gives a picture of this face of the seal. (Plate 35, fig. 2.)

He further describes the other face of the seal as a representation of silk worms, some beginning and others completing their labors, and quotes the motto as "Non sibi sed aliis," but no picture of this face of the seal is given.

When preparing the first yearbook of the chapter in 1895, the regent, Miss Anna Caroline Benning, determined to have the two faces of the seal printed on the two covers of the book, but diligent search failed to discover any picture of the common seal. No library in the country seems to possess a copy, and letters to the best authorities elicited but the same discouraging answer "not to be found." Therefore, the booklet was printed with the seal for legislative acts, as pictured by White, on one cover and the present arms of the state on the other. But Miss Benning did not give up the search, and with the help of the historian of the chapter, Miss Betty Brainerd Blackmar; the corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. J. Edge, and Mrs. A. C. Blackmar, wax impressions of both faces of the original seal were obtained from documents in England. (Plate 35, figs. 1 and 3.) To the surprise of all, the seal for legislative acts, though similar, is not identical with that given in White's Historical Collections. That must have been drawn from the description and not from the original.

Piedmont Continental Chapter, of Atlanta, 53 members, has contributed to the funds for the Washington and the La Fayette statues presented to France at the Paris Exposition on July 3 and 4, 1900, and made a second gift to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900.

Pulaski Chapter, of Griffin, 15 members, was named in honor of Count Pulaski, who died at the siege of Savannah during the Revolution. The birthday of this gallant soldier was the 4th of March. The chapter therefore meets on the 4th day of every month. It has endeavored to work for the improvement of the members, to keep fresh the memory of brave ancestors, and to acquire the knowledge necessary to a full appreciation of the noble heritage bequeathed by the forefathers through their lives of hardship and self-sacrifice.

Savannah Chapter, of Savannah, 37 members, has undertaken the patriotic and important work of printing Revolutionary records in the custody of the Georgia Historical Society. These valuable documents are fading and falling to decay, and only the greatest care has preserved them even thus long. The proceedings of the Council of Safety of Georgia have already been typewritten, and as soon as some necessary additions have been made they will be printed in an edition of 500 copies. A certain number of these will be used in exchange with the libraries of other states. The book will appear as one of the series of Collections of the Georgia Historical Society, and a line in the fly leaf is all that will show the connection of the chapter with the work, though the ladies supplied the whole of $138 needed for printing this beautiful book, and much of the copying was done by the hand of the regent, Mrs. Annie Karow. Even so, the ladies are glad to have the book printed, for it will then be available for reference. A contribution was made to the Meadow Garden farm fund, and the chapter is pledged to raise for the monument of General Oglethorpe an amount proportionate to that given by the Colonial Dames and the Sons of the Revolution.

Sergeant Newton Chapter, of Covington, 17 members, is named for the brave young standard bearer, Sergt. Jasper Newton, who planted on the defenses of Charleston the banner of the Second South Carolina Regiment, but fell in its defense.

Susannah Elliott Chapter, of La Grange, 17 members, is named in honor of that South Carolina woman who presented to the Second South Carolina Regiment a banner made by her own hands—the same banner that was planted upon the defenses of Charleston by Sergt. Jasper Newton. It is the wish of this chapter to arouse interest in the project of placing in the Statuary Hall of the National Capitol some statues of the great men of the south.

Wilkes County Chapter, of Washington, 14 members, has accomplished much good work, the most important being the purchase of that part of the battle ground of Kettle Creek known as War Hill. It contains about 14 acres, and was the spot where the heaviest fighting occurred one hundred and twenty-one years ago. The engagement occurred on February 14, 1779. The British commander was Colonel Boyd, who had 700 men in action, with a reinforcement of 600 men a few miles distant. The Americans, numbering 500 men, were commanded by General Pickens, of South Carolina, assisted by Elijah Clark and John Dooly, of Wilkes County. The British were surprised and defeated, Colonel Boyd being killed on the field. This victory saved Georgia at that crisis. As soon as possible the chapter intends to improve the property. Much interest in the records of Wilkes County was aroused through the efforts of this chapter; and since the regent, Mrs. T. M. Green, was made secretary of the state committee on records, this interest has been extended throughout all the older counties of the state. Very gratifying results are hoped for.

Xavier Chapter, of Rome, 30 members, has distributed books, magazines, and papers, through the school commissioners, to the county school teachers and pupils who needed and appreciated them. In 1899 a medal was awarded by a member of this chapter to the public school pupil who wrote the best essay on an assigned subject in Revolutionary history. Two prizes, one to the city and one to the county schools, are to be offered this year. During the past year the chapter has been trying to erect a monument on the site of a famous battle with the Indians, but an accident at the quarry prevented the accomplishment of their purpose in time for this report.

ILLINOIS.

Amor Patriæ Chapter, Streator, 23 members, has signed the petition for a national university, presented by our national university committee. A contribution of $10 was made to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in June, 1899. A gold medal has been offered for two successive years to the high school pupils for the best essay on a patriotic subject, and prizes of books have been given to the eighth grade pupils for like essays. The chapter members have also seen to it that the national airs are played at the open-air concerts given during the summer, and have petitioned the public school board to have these songs made a special feature in the schools.

Chicago Chapter, of Chicago, 713 members, has given $100 to the La Fayette monument, $100 to the Washington statue, and $537.50 to the Continental Hall fund since the close of the last report. During nine years of its existence 924 members have been enrolled, but of these some have died and some have withdrawn to other chapters, leaving the present membership as stated above. There are 47 life members. About 40,000 books and magazines were sent to Manila for distribution in the United States army and navy hospitals.

The chapter has begun the collection of large framed photographs illustrating American history. The collection is to travel from one public schoolroom to another in the city of Chicago, under the auspices of the Chicago Public School Art Society. Each frame has a brass plate, stating that it is the gift of the Chicago Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. About $100 has been spent thus far for this purpose.

For several years the chapter has given a pension of $12 each month to a "real daughter," who is 90 years of age and in destitute circumstances.

A course of lectures, on Men who made the nation, was delivered by Prof. Edwin Clark, of the University of Chicago, and paid for by the chapter. Another course by the same authority, upon American history in American literature, will be given during the coming winter.

Decatur Chapter of Decatur, 19 members, gave $25 to the Continental Hall fund in August, 1899. The chapter was not organized in time for the last report, but its interest in the work of the society is of goodly proportions.

The ladies have added to the public library, and a new school soon to be located at Decatur received $25 from this chapter. A number of pictures have been placed in the public schools, and two prizes of $5 each are offered this year in the high and seventh-grade schools.

Dixon Chapter, of Dixon, 16 members, has given prizes to the pupils of the high schools who wrote the best essays on any one of five historical subjects. The prizes were casts for the permanent embellishment of the schoolrooms. Casts of Washington, Lincoln, and Grant have been given as the result of this competition.

Dorothy Quincy Chapter, of Quincy, 24 members, gave $10 to the Continental Hall fund in 1900, and has lately taken up the study of state history. The chapter made a strong but unavailing protest when the syndicate of a bare new cemetery, called Graceland, removed from their places in beautiful Woodland cemetery the remains of the soldiers of the civil war. The matter was managed so adroitly that the removal was accomplished before it was generally known.

Elgin Chapter, of Elgin, 23 members, sent two boxes of books and magazines to the soldiers in the Philippines, and has given a contribution to the Fort Crailo fund. The social part of the work has given much strength to this chapter.

Fort Armstrong Chapter, of Rock Island, 45 members, has given $11 to Continental Hall fund through three of its members. It has offered a prize of $5 to the boy or girl of the eighth or ninth grade who shall write the best essay on Paul Jones and Causes which led to the Revolutionary war, respectively. Many children are at work in the hope of securing the prize. The chapter also plans to erect a memorial on the site of Fort Armstrong, situated upon the island of Rock Island, a Government reservation.

Fort Dearborn Chapter, of Evanston, 99 members, gave $25 to Continental Memorial Hall in 1898. The special work of the chapter has been the giving of prizes for the best essays on national subjects by pupils of the grammar schools. The awarding of these prizes was made a special feature of the celebration of Washington's birthday.

Two large boxes, containing 100 pajamas, stationery, stamped envelopes, and other articles of use and comfort, were sent to the soldiers in hospitals at Manila during the winter of 1900. This winter the chapter expects to begin the formation of an alcove of Americana in the public library of Evanston, to be called the "Fort Dearborn alcove."

George Rogers Clark Chapter, of Oak Park, 59 members, has helped to raise a fund for placing in the high school portraits of two young patriots, graduates of the school, who gave their lives for their country during the Spanish-American war.

The ladies have contributed $10 to the La Fayette statue fund, and have given $30 to be expended for patriotic books for the Scoville library at Oak Park. For the Continental Memorial Hall $22.70 were sent.

Illini Chapter, of Ottawa, 61 members, has given $10 each to the Washington and La Fayette statue funds. A second gift to the Continental Hall fund amounted to $25. The giving of pictures to public schools has been continued, and all the children are delighted with these adornments of their plain rooms. Gold medals have been given as prizes to those pupils in the public schools who wrote the best essay on some patriotic subject.

Illiola Chapter, of Alton, 17 members, was organized on October 24, 1898. It contributed $5.50 to the La Fayette monument fund and $25 to the Continental Hall in 1900.

Letitia Green Stevenson Chapter, of Bloomington, 94 members, is much interested in marking the graves of Revolutionary soldiers who are buried in McLean County, Ill., and proposes to aid the McLean County Historical Society in this patriotic work. The names of the soldiers are as follows:

Ebenezer Barnes, buried at Danvers, Ill.

Joseph Bartholomew, Revolutionary soldier and major-general in war of 1812; died, November, 1840; buried in Clarksville cemetery, at Money Creek, Ill.

Edgar Day.

William Gee, buried in section 7 of the cemetery at Downs, Ill.

David Haggard, born in Albemarle County, Va., 1763; died in Bloomington, Ill., 1843; buried in the city cemetery at Bloomington.

Capt. John Karr, buried in Heyworth Cemetery, Randolph, Ill.

William Lee, buried at Downs, Ill.

Charles Moore.

Edward Patrick.

John Scott, buried in Rock Creek Cemetery, Waynesville, Ill.

Thomas Sloan.

John Toliday.

William Vincent.

Prizes amounting to $36 were awarded in the public schools in 1898. More than 200 essays were presented for the competition. A flag valued at $50 was presented to Troop B of the First Illinois regiment.

Lincoln Chapter, of Lincoln, 24 members, contributed to the Continental Hall fund, and is organizing a Logan County Historical Society. The La Fayette monument fund received $5 from these ladies. Gifts have also been made to the city library, and historical papers are read at each meeting. The special work of the year 1900 was the appropriation of $25 toward furnishing a room in the local hospital.

Moline Chapter, of Moline, 49 members, offered in February, 1900, a prize of $5 to the students in the high school for the best essay on The beginnings of the financial policy of the United States, and a like amount to the pupils of the eighth grade for the best essay on Thomas Jefferson. A member who needed hospital care was helped by a gift of $25, and $50 were sent to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, for which the whole society has worked for years.

North Shore Chapter, of Highland Park, 40 members, has presented to the town a large engraving, framed in Flemish oak, of Washington's farewell to his generals. The Memorial Hall fund was increased $25 in 1899 by the gift of this "wide awake and flourishing" chapter.

Peoria Chapter, of Peoria, 34 members, has twice since October, 1898, sent large supplies of books, magazines, writing materials, postage stamps, and other conveniences, to the soldiers in the Philippines, and has added $55 to the Memorial Hall fund since February, 1898.

Princeton-Illinois Chapter, of Princeton, 32 members, has for the past two years studied the lives of noted colonial women. It has presented to the high school a handsome engraving of Washington crossing the Delaware, and has added to the public library.

Rockford Chapter, of Rockford, 99 members, has contributed to the Washington statue fund $25, and its historian, Mrs. Ralph Emerson, was associate commissioner of Illinois to the Paris Exposition.

INDIANA.

Caroline Scott Harrison Chapter, of Indianapolis, 163 members, bears with honor the name of our first president general. The fund for the proposed Memorial Hall at Washington has received $287.50 by direct gift from the ladies of this chapter, and several life memberships have raised the total to a much larger sum.

During the past year the chapter has become an incorporated body in order to hold real estate.

The Franco-American memorial fund received $10, and $5 were given for the monument to Reubena Hyde Walworth at Saratoga, N. Y. A suitable lot in the Crown Hill cemetery has been given to the chapter, and thither they will remove the bodies of Revolutionary soldiers who are buried in abandoned and neglected places near the city. The remains of John Morrow have already been thus removed, and arrangements are nearly completed for another transfer. John Morrow was born in Chester, Pa., November 27, 1760; received a pension in 1822; after the Revolution lived in Harrison County, Ky.; moved to Monroe County, Ind., where he died in 1835.

Dorothy Q. Chapter, of Crawfordsville, 33 members, has given $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall to be erected in Washington, and expects to furnish a room in the new Crawfordsville hospital now in process of erection. The room will be known as the "Daughters of the American Revolution room."

General De Lafayette Chapter, of Lafayette, 75 members, has contributed $25 for the Continental Memorial Hall, and of course has been much interested in the project for the statue to commemorate at Paris the gratitude of America to La Fayette. The sum of $75 was raised for this purpose, and the Marquise de Chambrun, great grandaughter of La Fayette, an honorary member of the chapter, was its representative at the unveiling of the statue at Paris on July 4, 1900. She holds a commission to organize a chapter of the society in Paris at some time in the near future.

Four Revolutionary soldiers are known to have been buried in Greenbush cemetery, as is shown by the cemetery books. Their names are as follows:

Jacob Lane.
George Rank.
George Stoner.
Nathan White.

Diligent search and inquiry have failed to locate the graves of all but one of these old worthies, whose families have long since left the town. This one grave—that of George Rank—is therefore the only one which can be marked with flowers and flags on Memorial Day. But this is done each year and additional flowers are placed around the statue of the Resurrection in memory of the other three Revolutionary soldiers, and of those who fell in the civil and Spanish wars. The statue of La Fayette is also decorated annually.

A very interesting exhibit of relics was held during the winter of 1900 and prizes are to be offered in the public schools.

General Van Rensselaer Chapter, of Rensselaer, 26 members, has twice contributed to the Memorial Hall fund, giving $20 in all, and $20 more toward furnishing a ladies' reading room in the public library. In addition to former gifts to this library they have given, during 1900, $28 for its support, and $25 for steel shelving for the books.

Huntington Chapter, of Huntington, 32 members, holds regular meetings of much literary interest, and the ladies are all enthusiastic in the work.

Paul Revere Chapter, of Muncie, 18 members, sent $15 for the Memorial Hall and presented to the Muncie high school a fine panel representing Paul Revere.

Piankeshaw Chapter, of New Albany, 27 members, has given $15 to the Memorial Hall fund and its programme of work shows most diligent research in genealogy and history.

This chapter is named in remembrance of the Indian tribe who once occupied the land where New Albany now stands. Their chief, Tobacco's Son, deeded the land to Col. George Rogers Clark on June 16, 1779, because, as he said, when their once peaceable land had been put into confusion by the English and the sky of their councils had become misty and never clear, the Master of Life had sent as father among them Col. George Rogers Clark. As they desired him to remain long among them, that they might take his counsel and be happy, they gave him all this land above and below the earth, reserving only a road through the land to his door, which should be theirs that they might walk on to speak to him.

Sarah McCalla Chapter, of Bloomington, though yet unorganized, has, through the efforts of its regent, Mrs. Laura Davis Worley, located the graves of the following Revolutionary soldiers:

Thomas Ashbrook	Buried in Monroe County, Ind.
James Blaine	Buried in Monroe County, Ind.
Robert Blaine	Buried in Monroe County, Ind.
David Clemmont	Buried in Monroe County, Ind.
Frederick Davis	Buried in Williamson County, Tenn.
George Dowel	Buried in Monroe County, Ind.
Andrew Fergerson	Buried in Bloomington, Ind.
John Heilman	Buried in Monroe County, Ind.
Redham Kenner	Buried in Hawkins County, Tenn.
John McCollough	Buried in Bloomington, Ind.
George Parks	Buried in Ellettsville, Ind.
Ben Rice	Buried in Monroe County, Ind.
Henry Saunders	Buried in Monroe County, Ind.

Vanderburgh Chapter, of Evansville, 23 members, awarded last year a gold medal to the girl of the high school who wrote the best essay on Woman's part in the American Revolution. The Memorial Hall fund was remembered by the gift of $25.

At Laporte lives an at-large member, Mrs. Jane B. Newkirk, who is a "real daughter." She has lately published the diary of her father, James Cathcart, entitled Twenty years a captive. When a lad he was a prisoner on one of the prison ships, but escaped only to fall into the hands of the Algerine pirates. After many years he was set free and returned to this country. He was United States consul at several Mediterranean ports.

IOWA.

Clinton Chapter, of Clinton, 73 members, has the honor of counting the name of the state regent, Mrs. Charles E. Armstrong (Ida Whalen), upon its roll. Her address given at the first state conference of Iowa D. A. R., on October 19, 1899, was a stirring appeal to state pride in behalf of a suitable memorial to the Iowa soldiers.

Council Bluffs Chapter, of Council Bluffs, 34 members, has given to the Memorial Hall fund $50 additional to the donation mentioned in last report. These ladies are trying to find the location of any graves of Revolutionary soldiers who may have been buried within the soil of Iowa.

Dubuque Chapter, of Dubuque, 62 members, did not send in its war record in time for the last report of our society, so we mention now that $30 were sent to the war fund of the national society in the summer of 1898, and one nurse, Miss Wilhelmina Gieseman, was sent by the D. A. R. hospital corps to Jacksonville, Fla.

The La Fayette monument fund was increased by $20, Meadow Garden farm fund by $4, and $20 were given for the purchase of pictures of Lincoln and Franklin for the Dubuque high school.

Elizabeth Ross Chapter, of Ottumwa, 52 members, gave $5 for the La Fayette statue fund, $5 for the monument to Reubena Hyde Walworth, the heroic nurse, $10 for the Memorial Hall to be erected at Washington, and helped on the purchase of Meadow Garden farm at Augusta, Ga.

Keokuk Chapter, of Keokuk, 28 members, sends this year fuller information than was obtainable when the report was made last year. Seven boxes filled with pillowcases, pillows, towels, shirts, books, health foods, medicines, and many other things needful for hospital and camp were sent to Chattanooga, Tenn., and to Key West and Jacksonville, Fla.

A nook in the public library of Keokuk has been secured for the nucleus of a collection of historical books, which will be increased from year to year.

The chapter is searching for the graves of the Revolutionary soldiers in the vicinity and it seems probable that several will be discovered.

Pilgrim Chapter, of Iowa City, 22 members, has sent a large amount of literature to the soldiers on duty in the Philippines, and has given a Dictionary of United States History to the Iowa City grammar school. The Continental Memorial Hall fund received $5. The recording secretary of this chapter, Mrs. J. G. Lindsay (Ella Jayne), reports the existence of a Revolutionary soldier's grave not previously known to the state authorities. It is that of Charles Shepherd, who served as a private in a Pennsylvania troop under Capt. Patrick Duffey and Col. Thomas Proctor. He received a pension in 1818 when 58 years old. He must therefore have been born in 1760. He died in 1845 and is buried in a private cemetery on his old farm near Rome, north of the Skunk River.

Sarah McCalla Chapter, of Chariton, 13 members, has helped the town library and is raising funds for a soldiers' monument. Contributions have been made to the Washington and La Fayette statue funds.

Spinning Wheel Chapter, of Marshalltown, 22 members, has given a number of entertainments, social, literary, and patriotic, by which funds have been raised for the purchase of pictures for the walls of the public schools; $10 were given to the Memorial Hall fund.

Stars and Stripes Chapter of Burlington, 38 members, held an interesting and important exhibit of colonial and Revolutionary relics in February, 1900. On Memorial Day this chapter places flowers upon the grave of William Blair, one of the few graves of Revolutionary soldiers known in Iowa. He is buried in Round Prairie cemetery, in Yellow Springs township, near Kossuth, Des Moines County, Iowa.

The new public library was presented with a fine flag and staff May 3, 1899.

Waterloo and Cedar Falls Chapter, 48 members, united the ladies of two adjoining towns because there were not enough in either town to form a chapter. The meetings have been chiefly of a literary and social character, but the members have given $15 for the Memorial Hall and, in conjunction with the other Iowa chapters, have petitioned the legislature to appropriate money for a monument to Iowa soldiers at Chickamauga Park. This petition was granted. This chapter expects soon to divide, forming separate organizations at Cedar Falls and Waterloo.

KANSAS.

Betty Washington Chapter, of Lawrence, 36 members, gave $3 to the La Fayette statue fund, and has added its mite in response to many other calls for assistance.

Eunice Sterling Chapter, of Wichita, 29 members, received from the city government a beautiful triangular plot in the new Riverside Park. Here they have erected a pole, on which floats our national flag and beneath it a blue pennant, on which are the letters "D. A. R." The chapter hopes to erect some more substantial memorials to their ancestors at some future time. The ladies gave $2 to the La Fayette statue fund.

General Edward Hand Chapter, of Ottawa, 16 members, is composed of ladies whose ancestors came from four of the original thirteen states—Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. The chapter is still young, but a collection of relics has been begun.

Topeka Chapter, of Topeka, 52 members, on January 6, 1899, gave $5 to be divided between the Washington and La Fayette statue funds. In July, 1899, $50 were raised for relief work resulting from the Spanish war, and in April, 1900, $26.25 were given for the relief of the famine sufferers in India. Two patriotic pictures, The Minute Man and The Spirit of Seventy-six, were placed in the schools. Two children, taken from miserable homes, are maintained in the kindergarten in the hope that they may become good citizens. The sons of several members are still in service in the Philippines, where they went at their country's call.

KENTUCKY.

Boonesborough Chapter, of Richmond, 26 members, gave $25 to war relief.

Elizabeth Kenton Chapter, of Covington, 56 members, gave its share toward the purchase of Meadow Garden and sent $75 to the Memorial Hall at Washington. Two prizes of $5 are awarded each year for the best essays on patriotic subjects written by pupils of the public schools of Covington.

General Evan Shelby Chapter, of Owensboro, 18 members, offered a medal to the best student of American history in the day schools, but the offer was declined, as the school board thought it undesirable. The regent of the chapter, Mrs. Rosa Burwell Todd, has prepared a concise history of Gen. Evan Shelby, which has been published by the chapter in booklet form. Shrubs were sent by the chapter in 1899 to be planted on the grave of General Shelby, at Bristol, Tenn.

General Samuel Hopkins Chapter, of Henderson, 17 members, sent a contribution for the purchase of Meadow Garden farm, at Augusta, Ga., and $25 to the Memorial Hall at Washington, in 1900. It was the first chapter in the society to respond to the appeal of the Army and Navy Chapter for aid in its relief work among the distressed families of soldiers and sailors. This chapter has located the graves of three Revolutionary soldiers, as follows:

Col. William Marshall..Buried on the Marshall farm, Henderson County, 3 miles from Henderson.

Capt. Wynne Dixon....Fernwood Cemetery, Henderson; son of Hal or Harry Dixon, a brilliant Revolutionary soldier from North Carolina.

Gen. Samuel Hopkins ..Buried at Spring Garden, the old Hopkins homestead, 2 miles from Henderson. He served through the Revolution and the war of 1812. He had much to do with surveying and laying out the town of Henderson.

Isaac Shelby Chapter, of Shelbyville, 12 members, is planning a contribution to the Memorial Hall fund as soon as the money can be raised.

Jemima Johnson Chapter, of Paris, 39 members, has contributed to the monument for Reubena Hyde Walworth, at Saratoga, N. Y., to the La Fayette statue at Paris, France, and a second time to the Memorial Hall to be erected in Washington. A member of this chapter has issued a musical composition known as the D. A. R. Grand March. It is sold for the benefit of the Memorial Hall.

John Marshall Chapter, of Louisville, 117 members, rounded out its earnest work for war relief in 1898 by giving a banquet to the Louisville Legion on their return from service in Cuba.

The chapter has started a fund for the building of a monument to Gen. George Rogers Clark and the Revolutionary heroes of Kentucky who landed at the Falls of the Ohio on May 27, 1778, and founded Louisville. Up to the present time $375 have been raised for this project.

Prizes for historic essays are given each year in the city schools. In April, 1899, flags with stands were given to accompany the bookcases of a traveling library to be sent by the alumnæ of the high school into the mountain districts of Kentucky.

In February, 1900, $25 were given for the Memorial Hall at Washington. This makes a total of $99 which have from time to time been given by this chapter for this purpose.

Annually, on June 14, the graves of the Revolutionary soldiers and pioneer women buried near Louisville are decorated. Their names are as follows:

Keturah Moss Taylor Chapter, of Newport, 20 members, has prepared many historical papers, both interesting and instructive, and has given $40 to the Memorial Hall to be built in Washington and $10 to the La Fayette statue. A gold medal was given to the pupil in the public school who attained the highest average in an examination in Revolutionary history.

Lexington Chapter, of Lexington, 61 members, gave $10 to the Memorial Hall fund at the ninth continental congress and promised more. At the same time it presented to our society a gavel made of wood which grew beside the historic spring at Bryan Station. The beautiful wall which surrounds this spring was built by the chapter in 1896 as an enduring memorial to the heroism of the pioneer women who, on August 15, 1782, brought water thence to the beleaguered garrison.[1]

The chapter has given an historical picture to the Johnson school, at Lexington, and published a collection of national songs for use at the Kentucky Chautauqua held in July, 1900.

Mrs. Elizabeth Shelby Kinkead, a member of this chapter, has written an history of Kentucky, which is studied in the public schools of the state. Mrs. Maria Catherine Nourse Lyle, another member, has compiled the genealogy: James Nourse and his descendants, and two other members have written novels, some of which have reached a second edition.

Paducah Chapter, of Paducah, 21 members, presented, in April, 1898, two handsome medals, one to a boy and one to a girl, for the best essay on the Revolutionary war. This aroused much interest in the community.

Rebecca Bryan Boone Chapter, of Newport, 17 members, is named for the wife of Daniel Boone, who was the companion and assistant of her husband in all his undertakings. The chapter has undertaken the restoration of the monument to Daniel Boone at Frankfort. They have raised $200 of the sum needed for this work, and are adding to the fund as they are able. A series of papers on Spanish history has occupied the ladies during the year.

[1] In former reports the building of this wall was erroneously credited to Bryan Station Chapter, which was not organized until 1897.

Susanna Hart Shelby Chapter, of Versailles, 20 members, lost all its records in the destruction by fire of the regent's home. It is therefore impossible to make a report this year.

MAINE.

Elizabeth Wadsworth Chapter, of Portland, 146 members, has continued its work of relief for soldiers and sailors, and has begun the collection of a chapter library.

It has undertaken to place a copy of the Declaration of Independence in each of the city schools, and given the first one to the high school.

Members of the chapter have contributed $15.30 for the Memorial Hall fund.

Eunice Farnsworth Chapter, of Skowhegan, 27 members, has given prizes to the ninth and tenth grade pupils in the public schools for the best essays on the life of Washington. The graves of Revolutionary soldiers in the vicinity are decorated with flags and wreaths on Memorial Day. The names of these soldiers follow:

Frances Dighton Williams Chapter, of Bangor, 45 members, has paid special attention to the history of the town, having had a regular study course of six lectures upon that subject. During the past two years $35 have been given to the fund for the Memorial Hall to be erected in Washington in memory of the men and women of the Revolution.

General Knox Chapter, of Thomaston, 37 members, has put in order the grave of General Knox, the Revolutionary hero, and has continued its care for the families of soldiers of the Spanish war.

Koussinoc Chapter, of Augusta, 22 members, is studying the character of the noted women of the Revolution, and is about to place an historic picture in the grammar school at Augusta. Plans are forming for a public drinking fountain to be erected in memory of those Revolutionary soldiers who died at Augusta.

A tablet has been erected on the walls of Fort Western, built on the shore of the Kennebec in 1754 by the Plymouth company as a defense against the Indians. The blockhouse of the fort has disappeared, but the old main building, of huge timbers, is still in good preservation.

Lady Knox Chapter, of Rockland, 32 members, has raised $200 for the benefit of the public library of the town. A copy of Eaton's History of Thomaston has been given to the library of the national society. An old forsaken cemetery is undergoing restoration, and the graves of the Revolutionary soldiers buried there will be marked. By the generosity of the regent the chapter has become a member of the New England Art Club. By this means a very fine collection of photographs of famous pictures, buildings, and scenery is on exhibition monthly at the city library for the benefit of the public.

Mary Dillingham Chapter, of Lewiston, 39 members, has worked for the last two years to establish an historical and free public library in Lewiston. Rooms were secured and in March, 1900, were opened to the public. Connected with the library is a reading room. This work, thus begun, has increased to such an extent that a free public library and reading-room association has been formed and incorporated.

This chapter has also joined the New England Art Club, and thus has a continuous exhibit of fine photographs for the benefit of the public.

Through the society of the Children of the American Revolution many graves of Revolutionary soldiers have been discovered, and these will be marked as soon as possible with permanent markers. One member gave $3.15 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

Rebecca Emery Chapter, of Biddeford, 21 members, gave, through one of its members, $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1897. An old cemetery belonged to the city, but for some reason the fact had been forgotten until this chapter was formed. The ladies induced the city authorities to have this plot surveyed, and it is now placed in the care of the chapter.

Samuel Grant Chapter, of Gardiner, 18 members, gave $10 to the Memorial Hall fund in 1900. It is making a study of the lives of Revolutionary women, and has identified the Revolutionary graves in the vicinity. These will be marked as soon as the desired markers can be secured. The names of the Revolutionary soldiers whose graves have been identified are:

MARYLAND.

The Baltimore Chapter, of Baltimore, 146 members, has offered for the past three years a prize medal of gold to arouse interest in history among the pupils in the public schools. The success of their effort may be fairly estimated by the fact that 45 essays were offered in competition for the prize during the third year. A collection of books was sent to the island of Guam for the use of the soldiers stationed there. The chapter gave $25 to the Mount Vernon Association in 1900 and $100 were sent to the treasury of the national society for the Memorial Hall fund. This makes $150 thus far contributed by this chapter for this purpose.

Frederick Chapter, of Frederick, 29 members, suffered in October, 1898, a great loss in the death of their beloved regent, Mrs. John Ritchie. On May 22, 1899, a large silver baptismal bowl was presented to All Saints Protestant Episcopal Church, of Frederick, in memory of her devoted service and exalted character. The inscription on one side of the bowl is as follows:

In Memoriam,
Betty Harrison Maulsby Ritchie.
June 24, 1839—Oct. 20, 1898.
The Frederick Chapter,
D. A. R.

On the other side are these words:

In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.
Amen.

At our congress of 1900 the chapter gave $50 to the Continental Hall fund to perpetuate the memory of Mrs. Ritchie in connection with this building, about which will gather tender and patriotic memories of all our members.

The chapter is now working to raise funds for a tablet to be placed in the court-house at Frederick to commemorate the sterling worth of the twelve intrepid judges of that court, who, on November 23, 1765, pronounced a decision against the validity of the Stamp Act.

Maryland Line Chapter, of Baltimore, 36 members, still continues its efforts, mentioned in our first report, to erect a memorial to the soldiers of the Maryland Line, who have thus far had no monument to commemorate their gallant service. The fund for this purpose has now reached the sum of $110.34, and the ladies hope to increase it during the coming year. At the congress of 1900 a contribution of $35 was given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

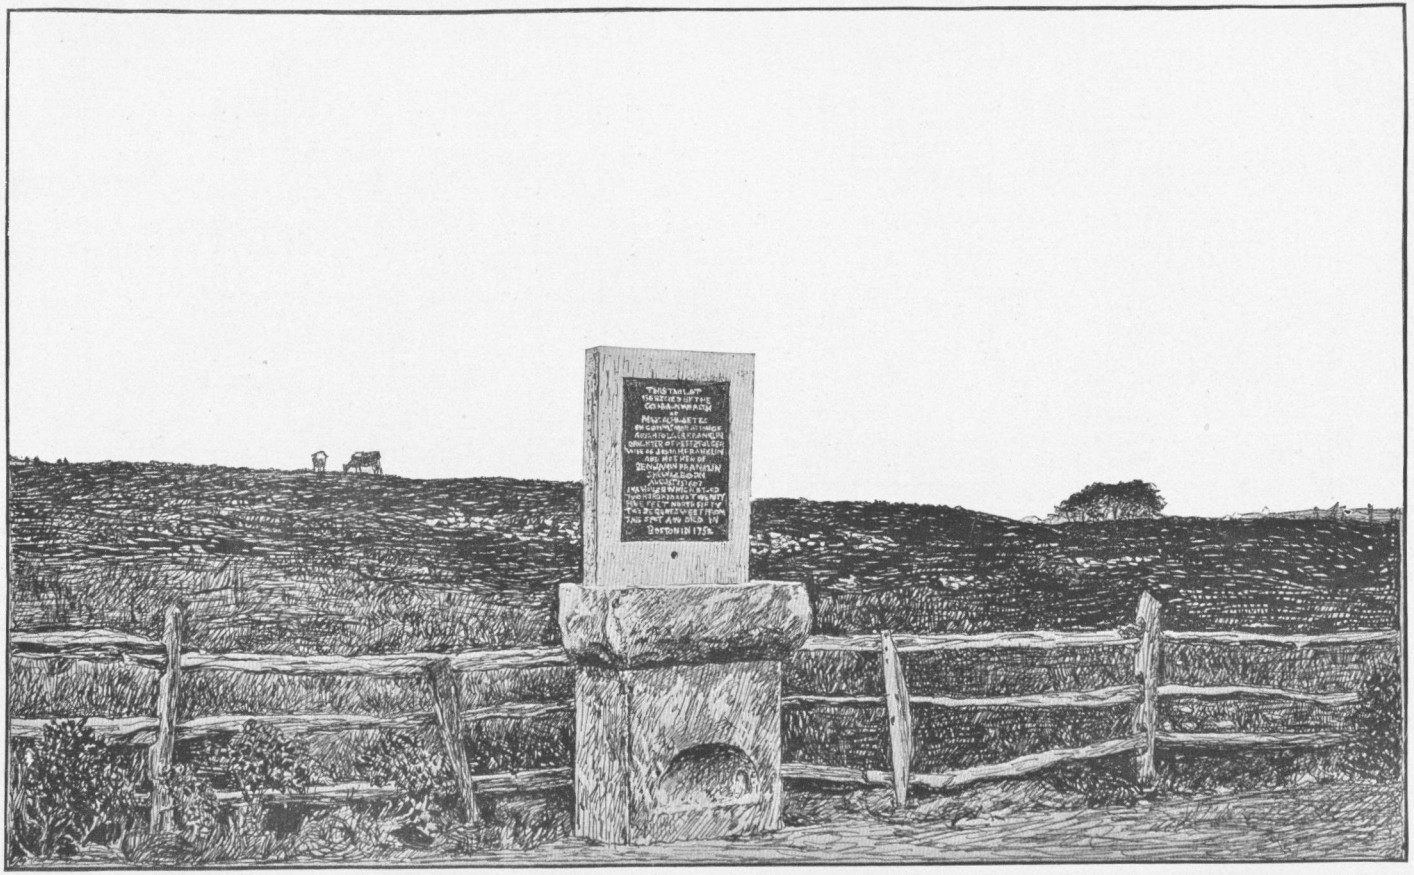

The grave of Colonel Ramsay has been identified in the Westminster graveyard.

Peggy Stewart Tea Party Chapter, of Annapolis, 15 members, is studying the local history of Annapolis with great interest and profit. Members whose families possess old diaries written in colonial days have brought out these treasures and have read them at the chapter meetings, and the quaint phrases of the writers, long since dead, have made the events described much more vivid to the hearers than any modern account could be. The ladies are now trying to raise the sum needed for a suitable tablet to be placed upon the house where lived the owner of the famous brig Peggy Stewart, burned October 19, 1774, to prevent the sale of the tea with which she had been freighted in England.

A gift of $10 was presented at our congress of 1900 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Abiah Folger Franklin Chapter, of Nantucket, 28 members, has realized its desire to keep green the memory of Abiah Folger, mother of Benjamin Franklin. By indefatigable efforts they accumulated a small fund for a memorial in her honor. This finally took the form of a granite drinking fountain, erected beside the Madaket road, to mark the site of this loyal woman's home. Men and women of Nantucket ancestry, members of other Massachusetts chapters, the Onondaga Chapter, of New York, the Pennsylvania Society of Colonial Dames of America, and the Pennsylvania Historical Association, all helped to make the project successful. The Old Colony Commission gave a beautiful bronze tablet, affixed to a granite slab, to be inserted in the back of the fountain. The memorial was dedicated on September 3, 1900, with fitting ceremony, and presented to the selectmen of the town. The town meeting will arrange to supply the fountain with water. (Plate 36.)

Abigail Adams Chapter, of Boston, 124 members, makes the study of revolutionary history the special object of its meetings. For this purpose lectures by eminent historians have been given. A contribution has been made for a tablet on the tomb of Abigail Adams, and the members ever hold themselves ready to enlist in the interest of any cause which seems suitable and worthy of attention.

Betty Allen Chapter, of Northampton, 65 members, packed and forwarded four boxes of books and magazines to Capt. W. M. Wright, at Cienfuegos, Cuba, for the use of soldiers stationed there. A barrel of similar contents was sent to the soldiers at Guam.

Betsey Ross Chapter, of Lawrence, 36 members, is named in honor of the woman who made the first flag of our nation and was for years the official flag maker of the country.

Boston Tea Party Chapter, of Boston, 82 members, has contributed $50 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. The grave of David Decker, a member of the original "Boston Tea Party," was suitably marked in 1899, by a bronze marker costing $12. The fund for the Cuban teachers received an addition of $10, and another $10 was given for the preservation and restoration of Mount Vernon. The Tea Leaves, the chapter paper, is issued monthly and contains many items of interest.

Bunker Hill Chapter, of Boston, 85 members, has given $30 to the Memorial Hall to be erected in Washington, $1 for the floral gift to Admiral George Dewey, $10 for preserving Mount Vernon, $10 for the Cuban teachers' fund, and $13 for the soldiers' relief fund at Manila.

Col. Thomas Lothrop Chapter, of Cohasset, 48 members, held an instructive loan exhibit and provided a patriotic lecture for the public. The sum of $46 was sent to Cambridge to help defray the expenses of the Cuban teachers who came to this country to study our educational methods.

Col. Timothy Bigelow Chapter, of Worcester, 29 members, has continued its search for the graves of Worcester men in the Revolution. Diligent perusal of the records has shown that there were 361 of these, after all duplicates have been rejected. The graves of 75 of this number have been found, and 10 more are known to have been killed in battle, thus accounting for 85 in all. It is probable that 29 others were buried in Worcester; the location of their graves has not yet been discovered, but the search will long be continued. In prosecuting this work, the ladies found that one whole company of 53 men from Worcester, enlisted in 1776 for service in New York State, was unrecorded in the state records. A certified copy of the original muster roll was forwarded to the custodian of records at Boston. Thus the work of investigation goes on, slowly and carefully, conducted by this sober, purposeful, working chapter, which has already accomplished something of value, and looks forward to further opportunities for fair achievement. The list of names rescued from oblivion will probably appear in next year's report.

On October 3, 1900, the chapter united with the Worcester Society of Antiquity, and other patriotic citizens, in placing a fine gray granite memorial stone in Salisbury street, Worcester, to mark the birthplace of the historian George Bancroft. The regent of the chapter, Mrs. Daniel Kent (Georgia Tyler), was one of the committee which selected the stone, and prepared for publication the report of the exercises on this occasion.

Deborah Sampson Chapter, of Brockton, 69 members, counts seven "Real Daughters" upon its rolls.

Dorothy Brewer Chapter, of Waltham, 32 members, has aided many other chapters by small gifts of money when tablets and other memorials were to be erected. The frame of its charter is made of wood sent from all of the original thirteen states, and is unique in many ways. On April 19, 1900, a most successful loan exhibit was held. The chapter has established headquarters in the center of the town and has started the nucleus of a permanent collection of relics. The gem of the collection is a large case filled with dainty embroideries and lacework wrought by the busy housewives of Waltham at the time of the Revolution. This handiwork is a marvel of fineness and beauty and will soon be the property of the chapter.

Faneuil Hall Chapter, of Boston, 65 members, contributed to the Mary Washington monument, to the Reubena Hyde Walworth monument, to the statues of Washington and La Fayette in Paris, to the Continental Memorial Hall, and has responded to all other appeals for aid in any patriotic work by an appropriation from its treasury. During the past year the chapter has sustained a class in the history of the colonial period of our country, and the graves of many Revolutionary soldiers have been identified.

The chapter was represented by one of its members at the unveiling of the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris, and commissioned her to place a wreath on the tomb of La Fayette (plate 7). The charter frame is composed of woods from Faneuil Hall, the old State House, the old Boston Elm, the old North Church, and from our new possessions in Hawaii and Porto Rico.

Pictures of historic as well as artistic interest have been placed in the high schools of Melrose and Wakefield, Mass. In May, 1900, an elm was planted with special ceremonies in the Melrose high-school grounds in honor of Mrs. Mary A. Livermore. The tree is known by her name.

Framingham Chapter, of Framingham, 62 members, contributed to the fund for the Cuban teachers, and held a fine loan exhibit of relics. It is raising a fund for the erection of a monument to the Revolutionary soldiers of the town. Sixty of these graves have been identified by the chapter and marked by the town authorities. The chapter has also assumed the patriotic duty of decorating the graves with flags on Memorial Day and of preserving the inscriptions on the old stones whenever possible. When no stones are found effort is made to so describe the last resting places that they may not be forgotten. The list of these soldiers' names is as follows:

The military titles mentioned were not in all cases obtained in Revolutionary service.

The dates of death and ages given are taken from inscriptions on gravestones, except in a few instances where omissions are supplied from trustworthy sources.

Fort Massachusetts Chapter, of North Adams, 65 members, perpetuates the memory of the western fort in a line of defenses along the northern border of the state, erected to protect the scattered inhabitants from the raids of the French and Indians across the border. The fort was built in 1745, and consisted of a strong stockade of pine logs doweled together, surrounded by a broad ditch, and having a blockhouse and watchtower at the northeast corner. This fort was under the command of Capt. Ephraim Williams, who was afterwards killed at Lake George. In 1750 the Government granted him 200 acres of land in the towns of Adams and Williamstown. When he made his will he gave these lands and other property for founding a free school among the settlers. In later years this has developed into Williams College, situated 4 miles from the fort site, which is about a mile and a half from North Adams.

At the annual meeting of the chapter in January, 1900, a loving cup was presented to the retiring regent in token of appreciation of her untiring work in organizing and building up the chapter. In June, 1900, a contribution of $10 was sent to aid in defraying the expenses of the Cuban teachers studying at Cambridge. In 1897, $10 were given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. The graves of Revolutionary soldiers in the vicinity are annually decorated with flowers on Memorial Day.

General Benjamin Lincoln Chapter, of Boston, 46 members, has compiled and compared the statistics of our war of 1861 with those of the Boer-English war, tabulated the results, and presented a copy, neatly framed, to the master of each of the city schools. The graves of Revolutionary soldiers on Copps Hill are annually decorated with flags on Memorial Day. Contributions were made to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris. One chapter member is a missionary at Seoul, Korea.

General Israel Putnam Chapter, of Danvers, 48 members, has placed a tablet to mark the birthplace of General Putnam.

General Joseph Badger Chapter, of Marlboro, 33 members, contributed $5 to the fund for the Cuban teachers, provided a free historical lecture for the school children, and continues its usual custom of decorating the 65 graves of Revolutionary soldiers with flags on Memorial Day. Patriotic books have been given to the town library.

Hannah Goddard Chapter, of Brookline, 56 members, is working for a tablet in memory of the men who went from Brookline to the Revolutionary war. The chapter sent $10 for the Cuban teachers' fund, raised for visit of these teachers to Harvard University. A brass marker with inscription has been placed on the pair of andirons which were given to the Clark-Hancock House at Lexington, mentioned in the report for 1890–1897. A contribution was sent to the fund for the La Fayette statue in Paris, and another of $50 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

Hannah Winthrop Chapter, of Cambridge, 77 members, has presented to the public schools copies of eleven famous historical pictures, suitably framed. A facsimile copy of the Declaration of Independence has been presented to the Young Men's Christian Association.

Some of the members contributed to the fund for the restoration of Christ Church, Boston. Two prizes, of $5 and $10, have been given to the two pupils of the Cambridge grammar schools who wrote the best essays on the American Revolution. A contribution of $10 was made to the La Fayette monument fund. The chapter signed the petition to Congress for a national university, and also memorialized the Massachusetts legislature to restrict the height of buildings on Beacon Hill, Boston. A loan exhibit of rare and valuable relics, dating from 1600 to 1812, was held in October.

The regent of the chapter, Mrs. William H. Wentworth, was very active in bringing about in June, 1900, the change of the name of the mall in Boston from "Tremont Street Mall" to "La Fayette Mall,"

In recognition of the active work of the chapter in the Massachusetts Volunteer Aid Association several of its members have been made honorary members of the Leslie F. Hunting Post 12, Legion of Spanish War Veterans.

John Adams Chapter, of Boston, 83 members, has raised $72 toward a fund for a commemorative window to John Adams, to be placed in the Continental Memorial Hall when erected. The fund for the Cuban teachers at the summer school at Harvard University received $20 from the chapter, and $15 more were given to Col. Henry A. Thomas at Christmas, 1899. A contribution of $15 was made for a bust of John Adams for the Paul Revere school in Boston.

Lucy Jackson Chapter, of Newton, 88 members, is named in honor of a brave heroine, 49 of whose male relatives fought in the Revolutionary war, while she took the whole charge of farm and home, leading the other women with hoe and rake. In the evenings she melted her cherished pewter into bullets, and her public spirit and patriotism were an inspiration to others. A gift of $26 was made to the fund for the preservation of the famous Clark-Hancock house at Lexington, and $15 more were bestowed for the preservation of Elmwood, the home of the poet Lowell, in Cambridge. Busts of Washington and Lincoln, costing $25, were presented to the Warren Memorial Hall in the new Pierce school at West Haven. A contribution of $5 was sent to the Meadow Garden Farm fund, $15 for the Cuban teachers, and $25 to the La Fayette statue.

Lucy Knox Chapter, of Gloucester, 41 members, has purchased 10 more markers to be placed on the graves of Revolutionary soldiers, making 21 such graves identified; and has given a contribution to the La Fayette monument at Paris.

The Lydia Cobb Chapter, of Taunton, 85 members, gave $15 to the fund for the Cuban teachers, and expended another $15 in prizes for best historical essays written by pupils of the Taunton high school, comparing the causes of the Spanish-American war of 1898 with those of the Mexican and Revolutionary wars.

Marthas Vineyard Chapter, of Edgartown, 63 members, has devoted much time during the last two years to the study of local events, and many interesting facts about the island's early history have been discovered. A contribution of $32.25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund was made in November, 1899. Three names should be added to the list of revolutionary soldiers given in our last report whose graves have been identified, making a total of 23 in all.

Richard Bunker, enlisted September 23, 1776; died August 28, 1834; aged 75 years.

Peter Norton, died February 3, 1792, aged 74 years.

Joseph Ripley, enlisted August 29, 1776; died January 26, 1830; aged 73 years.

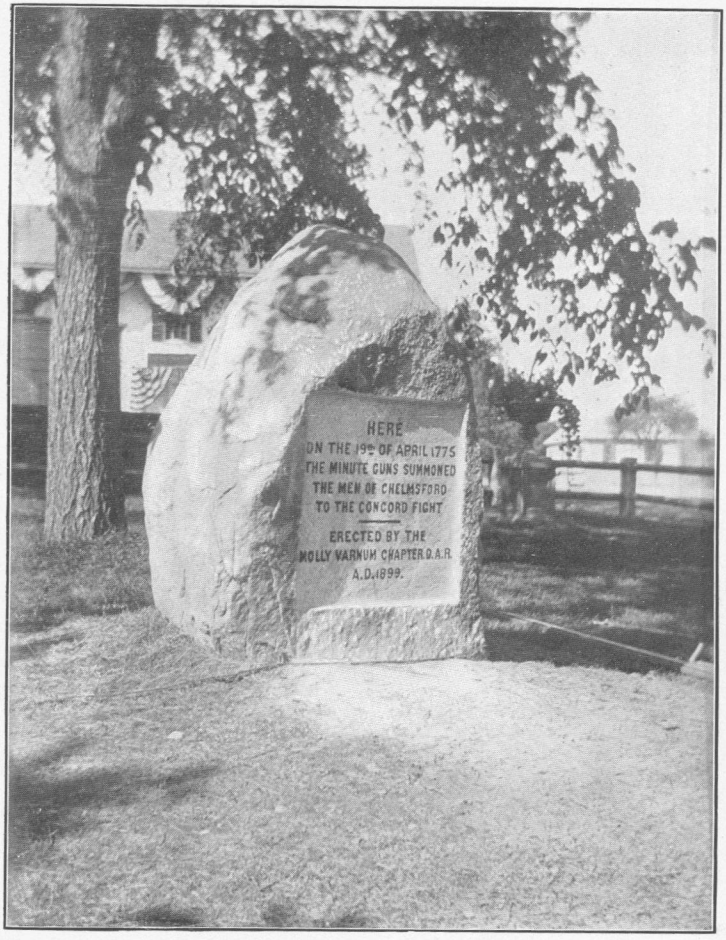

The chapter has marked by a bowlder "The Place by the Wayside" where the Rev. Thomas Mayhew, first missionary to the Indians of New England, took leave of them in 1657, for that voyage to England from which he never returned. A tablet is to be placed upon the bowlder.

Mary Draper Chapter, of West Roxbury, 52 members, is devoting its energies toward erecting a memorial fountain in honor of the heroine, Mary Draper, but appeals for other patriotic purposes have not been overlooked, and $10 were sent to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, for the building to be erected in Washington, a gift was made for the La Fayette monument at Paris, and the fund for the Cuban teachers was also helped.

Mary Mattoon Chapter, of Amherst, 36 members, through its regent, Mrs. Mabel Loomis Todd, has succeeded in establishing the "Amherst Historical Society." She secured contributions amounting to about $400 from outside friends, hired the "L" of the oldest house in town, built in 1744, took out stairs and partitions, opened the old fireplaces, uncovered the splendid chimney, put landscape paper on the walls and began the collection of old books, manuscripts, pictures, furniture, and china. Effort is made to gather copies of all books written by Amherst residents, past and present, as well as those of Amherst College graduates. Many portraits, engravings, paintings, and photographs of prominent town people have already been collected, and, "although young, the Historical Society gives promise of a long future, as the repository of all the town legends, relics, and valuable data heretofore without a permanent home." The meetings of the chapter and of the Historical Society are held in this Mary Mattoon room. It is open to the public Thursday afternoons and the town seems to be taking a special interest in it.

The chapter has also made a collection of the earliest epitaphs found in the town cemetery, with dates, for the Massachusetts Historic Genealogical Society.

Mercy Warren Chapter, of Springfield, 274 members, has established itself in permanent headquarters in the memorial building erected by the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic. The ladies assisted the gentlemen in a fair that helped to pay for this building. The rooms are suitably furnished and the library contains many valuable reference books. A contribution of $18 was sent to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, $25 were given to the Washington statue fund, and gifts of useful articles were sent to the Home for friendless children, and to the Children's aid society of Springfield. Mrs. Jane Adaline Eaton Wright, a member of this chapter, has published a volume entitled Ancestry and Descendants of Sylvanus Eaton, Jacob Swetland, and Christopher Reynolds.

MEMORIAL STONE TO THE MINUTE MEN AT CHELSMFORD, MASS. ERECTED BY MOLLY VARNUM CHAPTER OF LOWELL.

Molly Varnum Chapter, of Lowell, 148 members, is named in honor of the daughter of one Revolutionary soldier, Jacob Butler, of Pelham, and wife of another, Joseph Bradley Varnum, of Dracut, distinguished in the history of Massachusetts. She was devoted to the cause for which they fought. Cloth of her own weaving helped to equip the Dracut troops, and she toiled early and late, denying herself many comforts that she might give more freely to the defenders of the country. On June 17, 1899, with appropriate ceremonies, the chapter placed a bowlder properly marked on the spot where the minutemen of Chelmsford assembled before proceeding to the engagement at Concord. The stone is of native granite and bears the following inscription (Plate 37):

Here,
On the 19th of April, 1775
The minute gun summoned
The men of Chelmsford
To the Concord fight.
Erected by the Molly Varnum chapter D. A. R.
A. D. 1899.

To the funds for Cuban teachers at Harvard College $155 were given by the chapter, while another $50 was contributed directly to the fund by one member.

Pictures of Washington and of Lincoln were given by the chapter to one of the primary schools of Springfield.

Old Colony Chapter, of Hingham, 51 members, raised $105 in 1899 for the purchase of art photographs and plaster casts for the public schools of Hingham. Three casts and fourteen photographs were presented, with suitable exercises at a gathering of the schools in Agricultural Hall. The chapter has also interested itself in the redemption of Nantasket Beach from a picnic resort of ill repute to a public reservation under the care of the park commission. A contribution of $25 was sent to Booker T. Washington for the Tuskegee Institute, and another $25 was given to the Washington Monument fund and $77.40 to the Continental Memorial Hall. A large and valuable collection of books was sent to the naval station at Guam, and $54.75 were raised in behalf of the fund to defray the expenses of the Cuban teachers at the summer school at Harvard. A gift of $25 was sent to the fund for the famine sufferers in India. The state regent, Miss Sara W. Daggett, is an honored member of this chapter. At her own expense she has established a kitchen-garden school in San Juan, Porto Rico.

Old Concord Chapter, of Concord, 48 members, has given $25 to the Washington Statue fund.

Old Newbury Chapter, of Newburyport, 64 members, sent two boxes of suitable books and magazines to our soldiers and sailors in the Philippines, and contributions were made to the Washington and La Fayette statues erected in Paris.

Markers were placed at the graves of 16 Revolutionary soldiers on Memorial Day, 1900. The names are as follows:

Old North Church Chapter, of Boston, 32 member, contributed to the Continental Memorial Hall fund and to the Washington Statue in Paris.

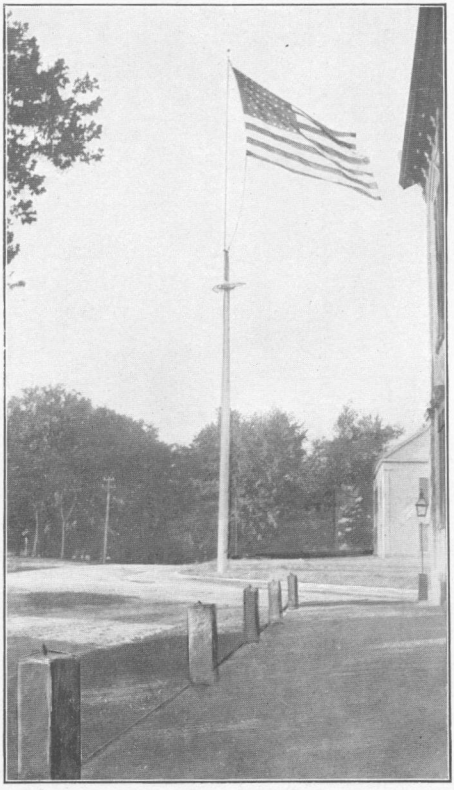

Old South Chapter, of Boston, 140 members, contributed to the Washington statue in Paris, to the fund for the Cuban teachers, and has assisted one of its members who is a "Real Daughter." A large framed picture of the Old South Church has been placed in the Paul Revere School, a companion to the picture of the Old North Church mentioned in last year's report as given to that school by Old North Church Chapter. A tablet has been placed to mark the birthplace of Rev. T. S. Smith.

During the year $225 have been expended in various patriotic lines, and work among the foreign population is contemplated for the year 1901.

Paul Jones Chapter, of Boston, 23 members, has contributed $5 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. Its regent, Miss Marion Brazier, is just about to start a new periodical called the Patriotic Review, and intends to chronicle therein the work of all the patriotic societies.

Paul Revere Chapter, of Boston, 122 members, established in 1899 at the Denison House, Boston, a boys' club for historical work and good citizenship called the "Paul Revere Historical Club." For this purpose $80 were appropriated to procure an instructor, and $20 devoted to excursions to historical spots around Boston, while individual members of the chapter gave $50 more to further the work. This undertaking was so great a success that in 1900 it was decided to devote another $100 to a second year's work of similar character. During 1900, $60 were contributed to the Continental Memorial Hall fund; 100 books, valued at $36, presented to the Paul Revere school in Boston; $10 given to aid a "Real Daughter," and $10 more to the fund for the Cuban teachers.

Peace Party Chapter, of Pittsfield, 52 members, has contributed $5 each to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris, given $75 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund during 1899 and 1900, and raised $40 with which they have had the gravestones of the Revolutionary soldiers of Pittsfield cleaned and set upright. Through a typographical error the names of two of these soldiers were given incorrectly in last year's report. They should be Daniel Weller and William Weller, instead of Welles. The graves of twenty-four more of these soldiers have been identified, and the names are given below:

Prudence Wright Chapter, of Pepperell, 63 members, erected on April 19, 1900, a liberty pole (Plate 38) on the Common near the spot where the citizens of the town erected a pole on August 29, 1774, and floated a flag of blue and red cloth "five breadths wide," because their liberties were in danger. During most of the years since that date, there has been a liberty pole on the Common. But the last one was removed some years ago. The new one is a source of great satisfaction to the townspeople. The pole and flags cost almost $275. The flag is displayed on fifteen or twenty patriotic anniversaries during each year, and an account of the historical event thus commemorated is published in the local paper just before the historic day. The story of Prudence Wright has been written by a chapter member, and the interest it aroused led to its being read in four neighboring towns, and finally printed. A contribution of $25 was made to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900.

A camera committee is making a collection of photographs of historic sites and places.

Quequechan Chapter, of Fall River, 78 members, gave $5 to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris, $15 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, and $5 to the fund for the Cuban teachers. Quite a number of books on patriotic subjects have been placed in the town library for reference.

On May 25, 1899, a bronze tablet was placed on the wall of the City Hall to mark the approximate site of the battle of Fall River (Plate 39). The inscription is as follows:

The battle of Fall River was fought near this site May 25, 1778. A small company of Americans were attacked by 150 British, whom they bravely repulsed. This tablet is erected by Quequechan Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution of Fall River, Mass., May 25, 1899.

An old flint-lock gun and a powderhorn used in this battle were exhibited on this occasion.

A large number of magazines has been sent to the soldiers at Guanajay, Cuba, and to those at Guam and in the Philippine Islands. The chapter has a brass-bound cypress wood chest in which its archives are kept, together with the nucleus of a collection of relics. Wreaths are placed each year, on Memorial Day, on the graves of the Revolutionary soldiers found in Fall River. Their names are as follows:

NORTH STEEP BROOK BURIAL GROUND.

Capt. Abram Simmons, died June 22, 1802, in the sixty-first year of his age.

MEMORIAL TO SARAH BRADLEE FULTON. MEDFORD. MASS.

Sarah Bradlee Fulton Chapter, of Medford, 51 members, has appointed a committee to raise funds for the preservation of the Royall House, General Stark's headquarters. As the property is valued a $50,000, the undertaking seems very heavy, but the patience and perseverance of these ladies will no doubt carry it through. In April, 1899, a very successful loan exhibition was held in the old building, and the house was furnished with some of the choicest of Medford's ancestral treasures. Such a home-like effect was produced that it was the wonder of all who saw it. About 2,000 visitors attended. (Plates 40–44.)

One of the "Real Daughters" belonging to the chapter, Mrs. Catherine Sargent, by untiring efforts raised money for a flag and staff in her native village of Alma, Me., and was present at the flag raising on July 4, 1899. Other members have placed markers on the graves of Capt. John Vinton and Capt. Silas Wild, who commanded companies of minute men from Braintree, Mass., on April 19, 1775. They are buried in the Elm Street Cemetery of that town. A contribution of $5 was made to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, and $5 to the army nurses of the civil war. A supply of literature was sent to the Medford men on duty in the Philippines. On May 26, 1900, a tablet, consisting of the old doorstone of the house where Sarah Bradlee Fulton lived, was set up in front of her tomb in the Salem Street cemetery, the oldest in the town. (Plate 45.)

Sea Coast Defence Chapter, of Vineyard Haven, 51 members, held a fine loan exhibit during the months of July and August, 1899, and in this way added a considerable sum to their treasury. A slate headstone has been erected at the grave of Polly Daggett, one of the heroines concerned in the liberty-pole incident mentioned in our reports for 1897 and for 1898. The inscription is as follows:

Polly Daggett Hillman, born 1760, died ——.

A heroine of the American Revolution.

This stone is erected to her memory by the Sea Coast Defence Chapter, D. A. R.

Submit Clark Chapter, of Easthampton, 23 members, has removed the remains of Lieut. Asahel Clark and Mrs. Submit Clapp Clark, his wife, from the back part of the cemetery on Main street to the Clapp family lot, where the father and mother of Mrs. Clark are buried, and the chapter has assumed the care of the lot. The graves of Revolutionary soldiers are decorated each year on Memorial Day. Two prizes are awarded annually in the public schools for the best essays on subjects connected with the Revolution.

Warren and Prescott Chapter, of Boston, 97 members, has contributed to the Betsey Ross House fund, and has given $68 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, in addition to the $90 sent in 1896 by different members of the chapter.

A lineage book has been edited and published by Miss Agnes Blake Poor, a member of the chapter. In compiling the book it was thought best not to occupy space with many references, since those have already been passed upon by the society with careful scrutiny. More space has therefore been given to anecdotes and characteristic particulars of ancestors, as preserved by family tradition.

MICHIGAN.

The Michigan chapters have united in sending two tons of reading matter to the Eleventh and Nineteenth regiments in Ponce and to the Signal Corps at Manila. Subscriptions to six leading magazines have been made for the benefit of the soldiers in Cuba, Porto Rico, and Manila.

Algonquin Chapter, of St. Joseph, 32 members, sent $4 to the La Fayette statue fund, gave $11 for slippers sent to soldiers in Manila, and expended $10 in prizes for the high schools of St. Joseph and Benton Harbor. The historian of the chapter is now at work on a book which will treat of the early history of the locality. A member of the chapter has an unpublished muster roll of the first company, Twentieth regiment, of Connecticut militia of 1792. This will appear in our next report.

Definite plans have been made to place a bowlder on a point overlooking Lake Michigan to commemorate the entrance of La Salle into the harbor.

General Richardson Chapter, of Pontiac, 30 members, takes its name from the hero of three wars, known as "Fighting Dick." It has offered two prizes for the best essays on American history written by pupils of the grammar and high schools, and sent books, papers, and boxes of supplies to soldiers at Manila. Papers on topics connected with the Revolution have made the chapter meetings more interesting. A map of the United States, begun in 1623 and finished in 1776, is a special feature in the collection of relics. The graves of four Revolutionary soldiers have been identified and will be marked by the chapter.

Elijah Drake.....Born July 4, 1760; died April 8, 1848, at Royal Oak, Mich.

Levi Green.....Born June 4, 1757; died June 24, 1857; buried in the southeast corner of the Farmington Cemetery.

Col. Steven Mack.....Died at Pontiac, Mich., November, 1826; buried in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Jacob Petty.....A Revolutionary soldier; claimed to have been member of Washington's bodyguard; died in 1838 and was buried on his own farm.

Genesee Chapter, of Flint, 27 members, aims to found a library of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Flint. Many valuable gifts of papers, pictures, and books have already been presented to the chapter and the members are working to secure a place for them. But they have not forgotten to work also for the larger community. After much effort, against many obstacles, they at last succeeded in having the public library opened one evening each week for the benefit of those whose work prevents their using it in the daytime. Heretofore the rooms were open but two afternoons each week, with an hour for the exchange of books on Saturday night. Some of the chapter members now assist each week in the new evening work of the library and furnish a number of the best periodicals for the reading table.

The increased interest in reading, developed as a result of this innovation, encourages the ladies with the thought that they have helped "to promote institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge, thus developing an enlightened public opinion," as set forth in the terms of our constitution.

Lansing Chapter, of Lansing, 63 members, has continued its relief work among the soldiers begun in 1898, and letters from the recipients in the Philippines prove how welcome were the gifts from their native land. On January 22, 1900, six large boxes of bedding, clothing, stationery, reading matter, and games were sent to the hospital at Manila, and another box of comforts was forwarded in the autumn of that year. It is difficult to estimate the value of the books and of the sewing done by the ladies. Aside from these items, however, the cash value of the articles forwarded was $61.53. The chapter aided Army and Navy chapters in relief work among the families of soldiers and sailors.

Louisa St. Clair Chapter, of Detroit, 242 members, sent $31.45 to the La Fayette statue fund. During the past two years hospital supplies, books, magazines, and contributions of money have been sent to various points when there was an urgent call. As the result of a lecture provided by the chapter for 2,500 public school children, their examinations in history were passed successfully. Money was contributed toward a monument to commemorate the faithful service of Miss Ellen May Tower, the brave nurse whose death in the cause of humanity was recorded in our last report. The chapter has decided to erect a monument to General St. Clair. But in the meantime it has not forgotten his living representatives, and has sent substantial aid at various times to one of his descendants who needed help. The daughter of this descendant is now the special ward of the chapter and her education will be secured. Mrs. Bertram C. Whitney was the representative of this chapter at the unveiling of the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris, July 3–4, 1900.

Ypsilanti Chapter, of Ypsilanti, 19 members, has been making very careful studies of brief periods of American history. There is a local-history committee which does something each year toward gathering and preserving all available information about the early days of Ypsilanti. Many reminiscences of the old settlers, which might otherwise be forgotten, are in this way gathered and recorded for future reference.

These records will be of great value when the old settlers have passed away and a new generation asks about the beginnings of the town. The chapter sent a contribution of $5 to the La Fayette statue fund.

MINNESOTA.

Charter Oak Chapter, of Faribault, 17 members, sent a contribution of $7 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900.

Colonial Chapter, of Minneapolis, 128 members, sent $25 for the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1898, and $10 each for the La Fayette and Washington statues in Paris.

Daughters of Liberty Chapter, of Duluth, 26 members, sent $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899, and gave $5 each to the Washington and La Fayette statues.

Distaff Chapter, of St. Paul, 57 members, sent $5 to the committee for the La Fayette statue in Paris, and through one of its members gave $100 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

Greysolon du L'Hut Chapter, of Duluth, 18 members, gave $2.50 each to the La Fayette and Washington statues, and has begun the study of the lives of the Presidents and their wives. In 1899 a small society of the children was organized by this chapter under the name of the "George Curtis Society, Children of the American Revolution." This society of young people sent a contribution to the La Fayette statue fund.

Nathan Hale Chapter, of St. Paul, 48 members, awarded two prizes in the eighth grade public schools for the best essays. A great number of essays were handed in, some very well illustrated. It was the first movement of the kind in the city and the interest aroused seems to prove that the desired purpose was achieved. During 1897 and 1898 $20 were given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

St. Paul Chapter, of St. Paul, 161 members, contributed $51.50 for a maternity hospital, and during the years 1897–1900 has given $175 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

Wenonah Chapter, of Winona, 37 members, gave $20 to the La Fayette statue and sent $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900. The list of topics on the programme of this chapter in 1899–1900 embraces the history of our country from its discovery to the conclusion of the Revolution, and closes with Washington's farewell to the Army.

MISSOURI.

Elizabeth Benton Chapter, of Kansas City, gave in 1898 to the Continental Hall fund $50, and to the Missouri Women's Auxilary $25. On April 10, 1899, a gift of $10 helped to relieve the necessities of a "Real Daughter" in Springfield, Mo. The Mount Vernon Association received another $10. In November, 1899, $25 were expended for the burial of a "Real Daughter" belonging to the chapter.

The ladies have undertaken to give each year two medals to the pupils of the high school who attain the best standing in American history. Books of special interest to students of Revolutionary genealogy have been placed in the public library in what is known as the D. A. R. corner.

Hannah Arnett Chapter, of St. Louis, 18 members, found its first work in collecting magazines, books, and papers for the soldiers in Cuba during the summer of 1898, and in providing lunch boxes for the Missouri men who were sent to Chickamauga. In July of that year the chapter united with the other chapters, and with the Daughters of the Confederacy, in an entertainment given to raise funds for relief work.

During 1899 the ladies occupied themselves in preparing small garments for the children of the Bethesda Home. In 1900 another collection of literature was forwarded to the soldiers in the Philippines.

Jane Randolph Jefferson Chapter, of Jefferson City, 29 members, has pursued the study of colonial and Revolutionary history with much interest. Gold medals have been offered for historical essays written by young students of the city schools. During the Spanish-American war money and supplies for the soldiers were furnished with hearty good will. Plans are now forming for the erection of a handsome drinking fountain for man and beast near the new county court-house. It will be known as the Jane Randolph Jefferson fountain.

Laclede Chapter, of St. Louis, 21 members, has confined itself to literary work, as it is not yet large enough for much philanthropic endeavor. The ladies have been studying everything they could find about the Louisiana Purchase and the historic spots in and around St. Louis, with a view to marking some of them when the chapter is large enough to do so.

Osage Chapter, of Sedalia, 28 members, gave medals at the junior and senior contest on February 22, 1899, one for the best essay and one for the best oration on a Revolutionary subject. They organized, in 1900, a village improvement auxiliary, and have done some good work and created an interest for more.

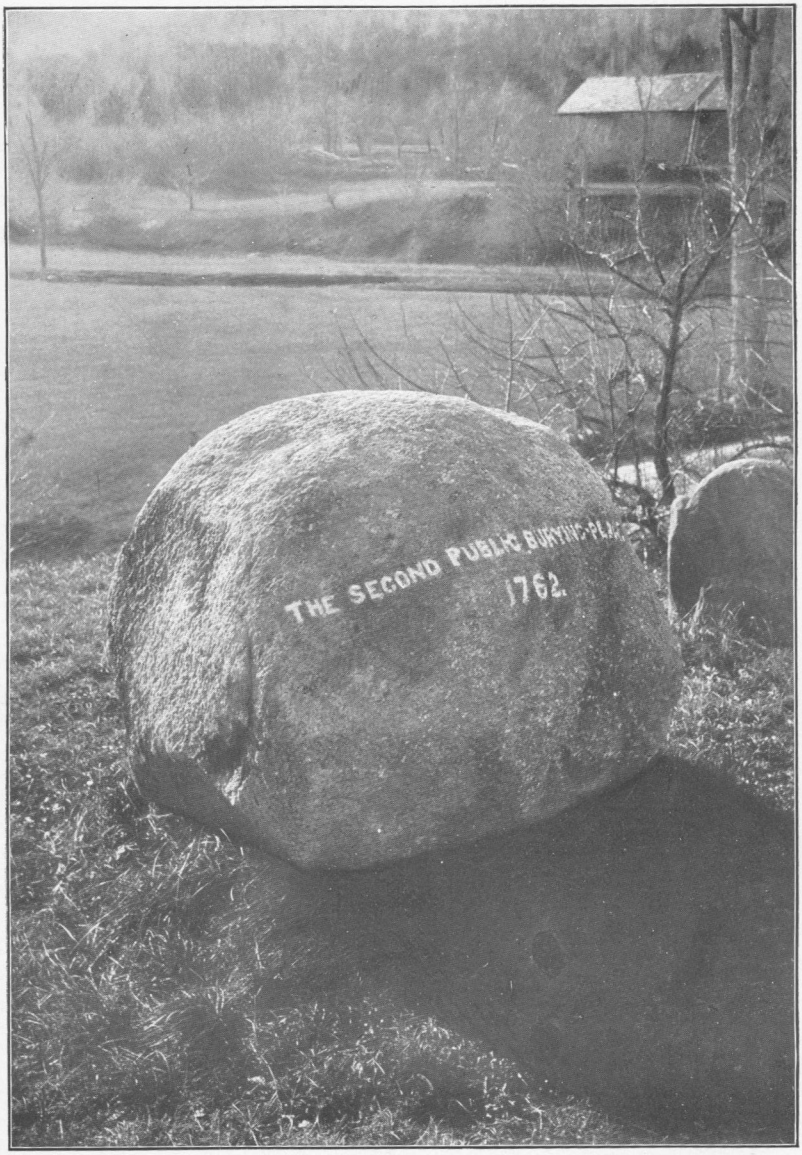

St. Louis Chapter, of St. Louis, 214 members, gave $100 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899. The chapter is now raising funds for the erection of a tablet to mark the spot where were buried the remains of the famous Indian chief Pontiac, the friend of the French and the lifelong foe of the English. The tablet will be unveiled before the next report is published. On January 13, 1899, the ladies gave $100 to the Josiah Simpson Hospital at Old Point Comfort, Va., for the use of the soldiers there. They have also given $10 each to the Washington and La Fayette statue funds. In May, 1899, they gave $25 to the Mount Vernon Association, and May, 1900, sent 1,700 pounds of reading matter to the soldiers stationed at Manila, while a large box of books was sent to those in Cuba.

MONTANA.

Silver Bow Chapter, of Butte, 22 members, sent supplies of literature to the soldiers in the Philippines. The society has become a charter member of the Washington Memorial Association. On February 22, 1899, a fine engraving of Washington was presented to the public school of Butte, and the chapter is now working to raise funds for a drinking fountain to be erected in memory of the Montana soldiers who fell in the Spanish war. Over $300 has already been secured for this purpose. The state regent, Mrs. David G. Browne (Antoinette Van Hook), presented in 1899 to the Continental Hall fund $10 in the name of the chapter.

NEBRASKA.

Deborah Avery Chapter, of Lincoln, 82 members, offers a gold medal annually to the girls of the senior class in the high school for the best historical essay on an assigned subject.

BOWLDER ERECTED BY ASHUELOT CHAPTER, KEENE, N. H. NORTH SIDE.

A gift of $25 was made in 1900 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, but all surplus funds for the coming year will be given to the new public library of Lincoln.

Omaha Chapter, of Omaha, 67 members, offered a medal to the children of the eighth grade in the public schools for the best essay on Religion in the Colonies at the time of the Revolution. The medal was awarded to Miss Vera C. Fink, of the Lothrop school. It should be especially noted that this chapter during the last two years has placed in the public library and museum of Omaha a collection of Revolutionary and colonial relics. It embraces many valuable books and manuscripts, much rare linen and old china, of which last the choice collection of the late Mrs. John M. Thurston (Martha Lydia Poland) alone fills several cases. At present the efforts of the chapter are directed toward raising funds for marking historic spots in the state. The first to be marked will be Fort Atkinson, at Calhoun, Nebr.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Anna Stickney Chapter, of North Conway, 22 members, gave substantial aid to the North Conway public library through a series of entertainments for the purpose. The ladies are now trying to raise funds to restore an abandoned graveyard, the earliest burial place in Conway. Much good work has also been done in clothing destitute children and in assisting needy families.

Ashuelot Chapter, of Keene, 55 members, has made a contribution of $20 to the bronze tablets which New Hampshire presented to the battle ships Kearsarge and Alabama; gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall and $5 each to the La Fayette and Washington statues in Paris. The chapter has secured perpetual ownership of the oldest cemetery in town, where lie the remains of a Revolutionary soldier. They have placed there a large bowlder with inscriptions on three sides (Plates 46–48), and reconsecrated this neglected spot on May 30, 1900. They have also secured the first dwelling in Upper Ashuelot.

Buntin Chapter, of Pembroke, 23 members, gave $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900, and also contributed to the bronze tablets given by the state of New Hampshire to the two United States battle ships, Kearsarge and Alabama.

Elsa Cilley Chapter, of Nottingham, 15 members, is devoting its energies toward the erection of a handsome monument to mark the grave of Col. Joseph Cilley and his wife Elsa, for whom the chapter is named. They already have $200 and expect to accomplish their desire in the coming year.

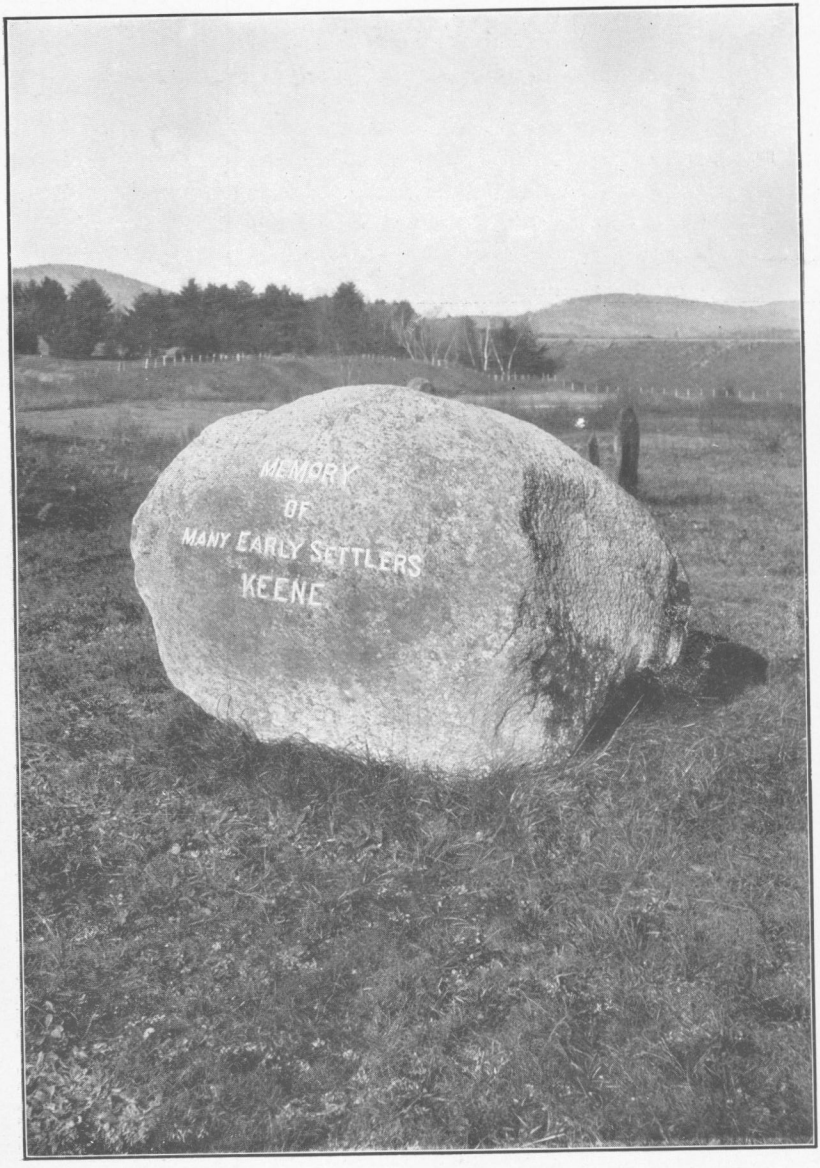

Eunice Baldwin Chapter, of Hillsboro, held a very successful loan exhibit continuing through two days, with several unique features. The proceeds have been applied to restorative work in cemeteries. Exeter Chapter, of Exeter, 34 members, is engaged in marking historic buildings, but the work is not yet completed.

Liberty Chapter, of Tilton, 22 members, although but a few months old, is exerting a strong influence for patriotism by means of lectures and talks on history given by the regent and members before schools, teachers' associations, etc. To use their own words, "we are trying to do what we can to impress upon the children the value of these institutions which they enjoy, and what a price was paid for liberty." Prizes have been offered in the graded schools of Tilton and Northfield for the best essays upon The history of the American flag, one prize to girls and one to boys. The memorial committee has investigated the condition of Revolutionary soldiers' graves in four cemeteries.

Margery Sullivan Chapter, of Dover, 28 members, is making arrangements to mark the site of the first church in New Hampshire, established at Dover Point, 1633. They have already raised $214.90 for the purpose.

MONUMENT TO MOLLY REID, ERECTED BY MOLLY REID CHAPTER, DERRY, N. H.

Matthew Thornton Chapter, of Nashua, 71 members, has continued the giving of prizes to high-school pupils for the best essays on American history and has undertaken the work of searching out and marking the sites of the earlier churches in the city. It has already placed a large bowlder with a bronze tablet inserted and suitably marked. (Plate 49.)

Milford Chapter, of Milford, 21 members, has placed markers at two additional graves of Revolutionary soldiers, thus continuing the work of previous years. The names are Joshua Burnham and George Blanchard.

Molly Reid Chapter, of Derry, 51 members, counts the honored name of the state regent, Mrs. Josiah Carpenter (Georgianna Butters Drake) upon its roll. The chapter has added $30 to its previous contribution for the Continental Memorial Hall fund in memory of its treasurer, Maria M. Parsons, and has placed a handsome granite monument on the site of the birthplace of Molly Woodburn Reid, for whom the chapter is named. (Plate 50.) Nineteen bronze markers have been placed at the graves of Revolutionary soldiers. A list of those soldiers buried at East Derry, in Forest Hill Cemetery, is given below:

Peter Christie.
Matthew Dickey.

Enoch Ordway.
Gen. George Reid.
Col. Daniel Reynolds.
Lieut. Adam Taylor.
Samuel Taylor.
Seth Walker.
Robert Wallace.
Col. Robert Wilson.
Robert Wilson.

Molly Stark Chapter, of Manchester, 100 members, made contributions to the funds for the statues of Washington and La Fayette at Paris. In order to arouse a greater interest in the study of history the chapter invited all children above 14 years in public schools to attend a lecture given by the great historian, John Fiske, author of the text-books in history so largely used in the schools. A contribution for the bronze tablets on the battle ships Kearsarge and Alabama was also made, and a donation was sent to the Army and Navy Chapter at Washington, D. C., for the continuation of its relief work among the families of soldiers and sailors. A second gift of valuable historical books has been made to the library of the high school. Miss Harriet E. Noyes, of Westville, N. H., a member of the chapter, published, in 1899, a valuable Memorial of the town of Hampstead.

Reprisal Chapter, of Newport, 36 members, gave $5 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899. The regent of the chapter, Mrs. Arthur C. Bradley (Lucy Nettleton), with her husband, presented a very handsome flag and pole to the high school of Newport. An exhaustive search has been made for the graves of Revolutionary soldiers from Newport, and repairs have been made at the graves when needed. A list of these men, with many items of interest concerning them, will be found in the following report of the committee which had the matter in charge:

Bowman, Abiathar; born, 1759; died, April, 1834, age, 75. Mr. Bowman came to Newport in 1796; settled in west part of the town on the William O. Chapin farm. He enlisted from Lexington, Mass., at the age of 16. His body lies in the North Newport cemetery.

Buell, Gordon, born in Killingworth, Conn., February 21, 1752; came to Newport soon after the Revolutionary war; settled in the east part of the town. Mr. Buell served four years in the war, and experienced so many hardships he was an invalid for life in consequence. The town honored itself in paying his burial expenses when he died a poor man in 1819. His body lies in Pine-street cemetery, west side, and the grave can be located by measuring four yards diagonally southwest from the Buell monument. This monument was erected by James Buell, of New York, in 1880, in memory of his ancestors, and on the east side is inscribed these words: "Gordon Buell, captain in Revolutionary army; present at the battle of Saratoga and surrender of the British under Gen. Burgoyne to the American army under Gen. Horatio Gates."

Bussell, Rev. David; born 1760; died in 1830; buried at North Newport.

Carr, Thomas; born, 1754; came from Boscawen; lived on Rufus Claggett place. Mr. Carr died in 1828 and is buried in Pine-street cemetery, west side.

Chapin, Daniel; born in Somers, Conn., 1758; settled in northwest part of the town on farm known to later generations as the Frederick Chapin place. He died in 1831, and is buried in North Newport cemetery. His name is of especial interest to Reprisal Chapter, as being that of the father of its only "real daughter," Malvina Chapin Rowell, of California.

Chapin, Phineas; born 1756, in Somers, Conn.; came to Newport in 1780 and lived on the Rial Hurd place. He lived to the good old age of 93, and is buried in North Newport cemetery.

Church, Samuel; born in 1749, at New London, Conn.; was an early settler of Newport, and lived on the present site of Wheeler's block. He died in 1828.

Corbin, Dr. James; settled here about 1790; was born in 1762, and was at the time of his enlistment among the youngest of the soldiers. His grave is in a lovely spot of the North Newport cemetery.

Dudley, Daniel; born at Saybrook, Conn., 1755; lived at the Newton place, South Main street. Died in 1803; buried in Pine-street cemetery, west side.

Dunham, Solomon; born, 1760; came to Newport from Attleboro in 1784, and settled on the L. Lawton farm on Pike Hill. He is buried in Pine-street cemetery, east side, and the stone at his grave plainly tells to all who may stop to read:

Here lies a soldier bold and brave
Who fought his country's liberty to save.

Durkee, Robert; born in 1733; lived on the H. Brown place. Died in 1803 at the age of 70 years. The stone which marks his grave in North Newport cemetery bears this inscription:

Although he sleeps in dust awhile
Beneath this baran clod,
Ere long we hope he'l rise and smile
To see his Saviour, God.

Endicott, Samuel; born in 1754, in North Danvers, Mass. He owned, when first in Newport, a mill on the spot now occupied by Granite mills, and lived in the same vicinity. In 1836 he moved to west part of the town. He was in the sixth generation from John Endicott, first governor of Massachusetts, and was surgeon's mate in Revolutionary army. He died in 1840, and is buried in Maple-street cemetery.

Fletcher, Ephraim; born 1742; came from Sturbridge, Mass. Died in 1836; buried in North Newport cemetery.

Goodwin, Richards; born, 1746; came to Newport in 1780 and settled on the Dr. Corbin place, afterwards known as B. C. Shattuck's farm; died in 1821; grave in cemetery at North Newport. Inscription on stone:

He's gone; our aged friend is gone
The way of all the earth,
In sorrow and in grief.

Goodwin, Theophilus; born in Hampstead, 1753; came to Newport from Dunbarton in 1784; lived at the Shattuck place. He died in 1798 and lies in North Newport cemetery. For over one hundred years the words on his gravestone have admonished the visitor as follows:

Friends, retire, prepared be
When God calls you to follow me
For Death's a debt to Nature due
Which I have paid and so must you.

Kibbey, Philip; born, 1761; came from Monson, Mass.; settled on the F. Dudley farm; died at the age of 92, in 1853; buried at North Newport.

King, Luther; a man of whom many interesting facts can be told, came to Newport from Wilbraham, Mass., in 1777. He was born in 1755, and died in Montpelier, Vt., in 1842, and is thought to be buried there. He made the first bass viol manufactured in town.

McGregor, Joel; born at Enfield, Conn., in 1760; enlisted in 1777; served five years. He was imprisoned in the famous New York sugarhouse eight months. He came to Newport in 1789, and settled on the Wm. Tilton farm. He lived to the age of 101 years, and rests in North Newport Cemetery.

McGregor, John; born, 1756, at Enfield Conn.; came to Newport in 1787, and lived on the A. Wylie farm; died in 1840; buried at North Newport.

Parmelee, Ezra; born at North Killingworth in 1745; came to Newport in 1766. He was at Ticonderoga with 13 other brave and true men from Newport. He lived on the Simon Tenny place. Died in 1838 and rests in Pine street cemetery, west side.

Pike, John; came from Attleboro and settled on Pike Hill. An unmarked grave in Pine street cemetery, west side, is supposed to be his, as two of his children are buried near.

Thompson, Samuel; born, 1759; came to Newport from Canterbury in 1783. He died in 1846, and is buried in Pine street cemetery, east side. His grave is marked by a large dark slate stone, on which is inscribed "A soldier of the Revolution."

Wakefield, Jonathan; came from Sutton, Mass. He was killed at Dorchester Heights; grave in North Newport Cemetery, marked only by the bronze star of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Wakefield, Maj. Josiah; born, 1762; died in 1836; buried at North Newport.

Webster, Samuel; a lieutenant in Revolutionary army; came to Newport in 1795; lived in west part of the town on the Crowell farm. It is supposed he was buried in town, but his grave can not be located.

Wilcox, Jesse, sr.; born at Killingworth in 1745; died in Newport in 1823; buried in Pine street cemetery, west side. He was one of the committee of safety appointed by this town July 20, 1775, and was lieutenant at Saratoga under General Gates. He lived on the J. E. Wilcox farm, Unity road.

The stones marking the graves of these gallant men are in a remarkable state of preservation. The little attention necessary to prevent further decay will be willingly given by Reprisal Chapter, which is glad to honor the memory of men who helped make possible the liberty we enjoy to-day.

Any corrections or further information on this subject will be gladly received by the committee.

Rumford Chapter, of Concord, 22 members, has made a liberal contribution toward the building soon to be erected in Concord for the New Hampshire Historical Society, whose valuable possessions have outgrown present quarters.

Samuel Ashley Chapter, of Claremont, 42 members, has given four prizes to public schools for the best essays on given historic subjects. Two prizes were given in the high school and two in the grammar school. The subject for competition in the high school was The campaign of Burgoyne. In the grammar school the topic was Washington at Valley Forge. The prizes were awarded by judges from Dartmouth College. In 1898, $5 were given for the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

NEW JERSEY.

Since the election of the present state regent, Miss E. Ellen Batcheller, the number of chapters in the state has increased from 17 to 27, and the membership in about the same ratio. This is probably the result of the frequent state meetings and regents' meetings held each year, following the custom begun on October 24, 1892, as mentioned in the first report. The interchange of thoughts and plans thus secured is of incalculable benefit in obtaining harmonious results.

At one of these regents' meetings, held June 2, 1900, Mrs. S. Duncan Oliphant, regent of the Captain Jonathan Oliphant Chapter, was appointed chairman of a committee of ways and means to purchase the old barracks situated on Front street, Trenton, and occupied successively by Hessians, German Jagers, and our own troops during the Revolution. It is intended to make the building a home for the various patriotic societies of the state, and the interest of all of them has been enlisted. The purchase price is $7,000, and up to the present time the sum of $2,300 has been raised for the project. The committee hopes to see the work completed before the close of 1901. In the reports of the New Jersey chapters which follow it will be seen how general is the interest in this matter.

Boudinot Chapter, of Elizabeth, 37 members, has placed a handsome bronze tablet on the old Boudinot mansion. (Plates 51, 52.)

The inscription is as follows:

The Boudinot Mansion,
in which Gen. Elias Boudinot entertained Gen. Washington, at luncheon, April 23d, 1789, on his way to his inauguration in New York,
United State .

Erected by Boudinot Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, April 23, 1899.

Broad Seal Chapter, of Trenton, 14 members, contributed to the maintenance of Wallace House, at Somerville, $5; to the Rocky Hill Association, $5; is an active or voting member of the George Washington Memorial Association; sent two large boxes of books to the hospital in Manila; reset the monument to Philip Freneau, "The poet of the Revolution," and put his grave in order, at an expense of $30; sent $85 to the Continental Hall fund, and collected and contributed $453 to the fund for the purchase of Trenton Barracks.

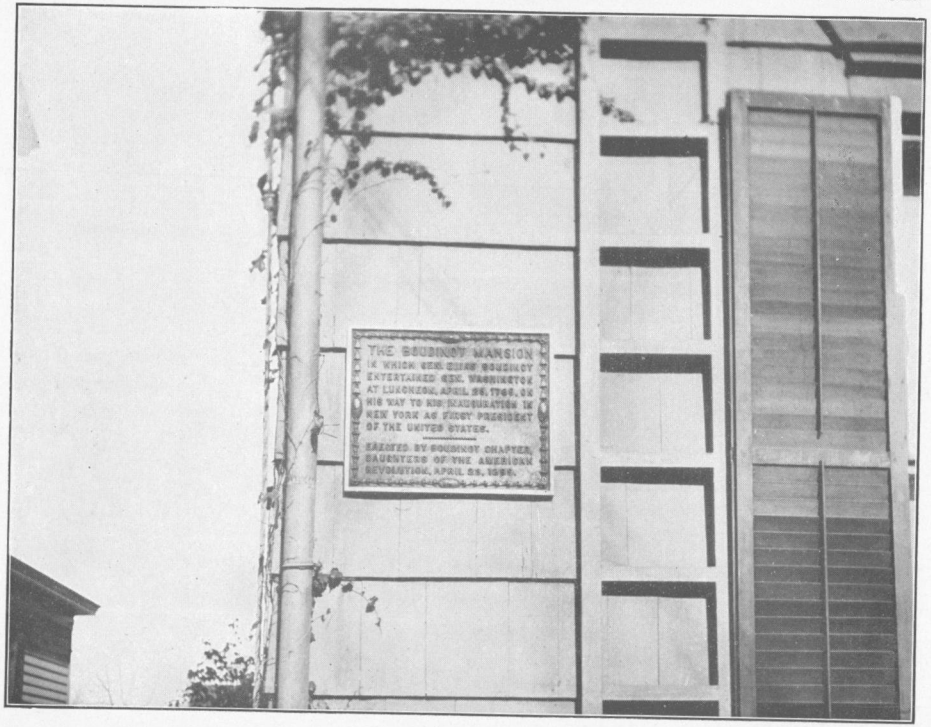

Buff and Blue Chapter, of Trenton, 32 members, continues its work for the Rocky Hill headquarters, as heretofore.

Camp Middlebrook Chapter, of Bound Brook, 34 members, gives two annual prizes of $5 and $2 for the best two essays on American history written by pupils of the public schools, and has contributed $13 to the Continental Memorial Hall, to be erected in Washington.

Capt. Jonathan Oliphant Chapter, of Trenton, 27 members, has contributed $800 toward the purchase of the Trenton Barracks. The regent and the chapter are charter members of the George Washington Memorial Association, and of the Rocky Hill Association, to both of which they pay annual dues. The regent is also a member of the Wallace House Association, and pays annual dues to that object. The chapter has contributed to the Mount Vernon Association, and to the monument for Reubena Hyde Walworth.

Colonel Lowery Chapter, of Flemington, 15 members, as a first offering gave $30 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund at the Congress of 1900. They intend to place a tablet on the first frame house in Flemington, built in 1756 by Samuel Fleming, from whom the town takes its name. The old house is very quaint, and, with the exception of a small addition at the back, is just as it was originally built. The windows upstairs are all casement windows of good size, with very small panes of glass. It has always been inhabited, and had excellent care. It was considered so fine in colonial days that people came from a considerable distance to see it, and it was known as "Fleming Castle." (Plate 53.) At that time it was used as a tavern, and the original barroom is now used as a sitting room. Samuel Fleming came from Ireland and brought with him a lad named Thomas Lowery, who afterwards married Fleming's daughter, Esther. Lowery was a commissary of Washington, and a warm personal friend. Washington frequently came to consult with him and was entertained at Fleming Castle. Mrs. Lowery was a very patriotic woman, and when the Army was suffering from a scarcity of supplies in 1780, she was chosen as one of a committee of ten ladies to solicit aid for the soldiers. In twelve days $15,408 were collected by these ladies. In April, 1789, Mrs. Lowery was one of the matrons in charge of the ceremonies at Trenton, on the occasion of General Washington's reception, and her daughter was one of the thirteen young girls who strewed his path with flowers, while singing an ode composed for the occasion.

Continental Chapter, of Plainfield, 36 members, has given prizes in the public schools for proficiency in American history, and helped to arouse patriotic interest by inviting the school children to an inspiring historical lecture. The chapter proposes to place a tablet on Washington Rock.

Eagle Rock Chapter, of Montclair, 57 members, continues the giving of prizes to the school children, and also places historic pictures in the school rooms, one each year. The ladies gave a reception to the school teachers and held entertainments for the poorer school children. Trustees and teachers express appreciation of the good accomplished in this way. A small sum of money was also given for destitute Cuban girls. Plans are now forming for the erection of a tablet on the land adjoining a house said to have been occupied by Washington.

Essex Chapter, of Orange, 18 members, signalized its organization by the prompt gift of $58 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

General David Forman Chapter, of Trenton, 27 members, having $52 remaining from its war relief fund, presented it to the Mercer Hospital. Since February 1898, $68 have been given by this chapter to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

General Frelinghuysen Chapter, of Somerville, 28 members, contributed to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris, and is a charter member of the George Washington Memorial Association. Since February, 1897, the chapter and the state regent, who is a member of it, have given $116 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. The members gave $1 each toward the purchase of the old barracks at Trenton, and continue their work in the interest of the Wallace House, Washington's headquarters in 1778–79. They present patriotic books and magazines each year to the public library. The last state conference was held here in the chapel and parlor of the First Reformed Church, the first religious body of the Raritan valley, organized in 1720. It is the intention of the chapter to place a tablet upon this church. Since its organization, one thousand dollars has been contributed to patriotic objects.

General La Fayette Chapter, of Atlantic City, 54 members, continues its annual school prize of $5 in gold to any girl between the ages of 12 and 16 who shows remarkable proficiency in American history. Their contributions to the Continental Memorial Hall fund between June, 1899, and February, 1900, amounted to $64. They give annually to the Rocky Hill Association, and have made their regent a member of the George Washington Memorial Association.

General Mercer Chapter, of Trenton, 16 members, began its patriotic career by work for the purchase of the old Trenton Barracks.

OLD TENNENT CHURCH, BATTLEFIELD OF MONMOUTH, N. J.

Haddonfield Chapter, of Haddonfield, 29 members, unveiled on September 20, 1900, a bronze tablet placed on the old Temperance House, where the Continental Congress sat several weeks during the Revolution. The Provincial Congress and the New Jersey Council of Safety held many sessions here, and the beautiful Mrs. Dorothea Payne Todd, later known as Dolly Madison, was a frequent visitor at this house. The tablet is 18 by 24 inches in size, and bears in raised letters the following inscription:

Within this building
Then a tavern house,
The Council of safety for New Jersey was organized March 18th, 1777.
Herein also in September of the same year the Legislature unanimously resolved that thereafter the word "State" should be substituted

1750 1900.

Jersey Blue Chapter, of New Brunswick, 39 members, gives annually a prize of $5 in gold to the pupil in the high school who has the best average in American history. The proceeds of an entertainment were divided between their room at the Wallace House in Somerville, the soldiers at Manila, and another project in which they are interested.

Monmouth Chapter, of Red Bank, 13 members, newly organized, has chosen for its first work the placing of a tablet on the historic old Tennent Church, and intends to restore the ancient gravestones in the churchyard. The church was organized in 1692 and the present building, erected in 1743, is situated at the edge of the battlefield of Monmouth. It is very quaint and has not been changed, save by the addition of an organ. (Plate 54.) The seal used by this church in signing important documents bore the device of a burning bush in the center, with the words "Religious Liberty" around it. This is believed to be the oldest seal of any corporate Presbyterian Church in America.

Morristown Chapter, of Morristown, 34 members, gave $90 to a "Real Daughter" who was in need, and unveiled on June 6, 1899, the sun dial referred to in last year's report. (Plate 55.) The dial bears thirteen stars around the top, a wreath of oak leaves is on one side and within the wreath is the following inscription:

Winter of 1777

Washington,

at an open air service of the First Church, here partook of the Holy communion.

On the base of the dial is another inscription, as follows:

This memorial is a tribute from Daughters of the American Revolution, 1899.

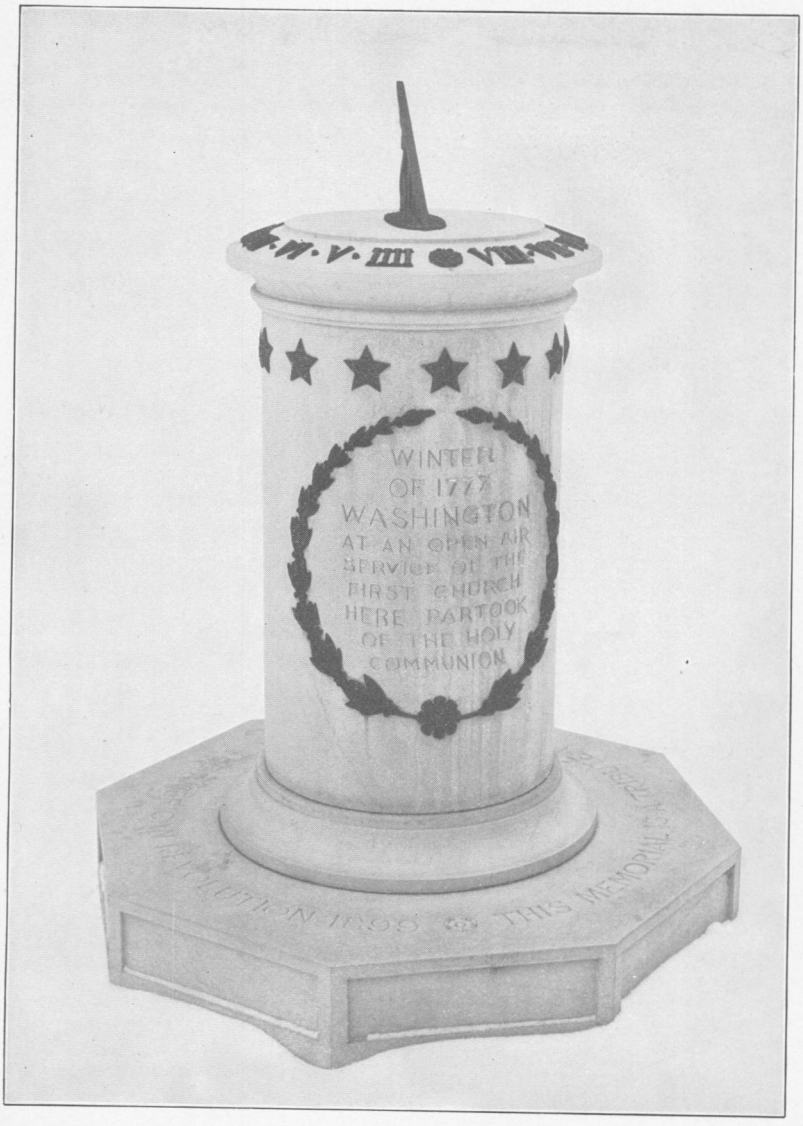

Nassau Chapter, of Camden, 27 members, studies Revolutionary history by making an annual pilgrimage to some famous spot, and there reviewing and reviving their knowledge. They also give to various patriotic objects.

Through an error of the typewriter in copying the manuscript of last year's report, this chapter was credited with the support of two trained nurses and with the giving of a flag and pole to the Foster Home. This work was done by Nova Caesarea Chapter of Newark.

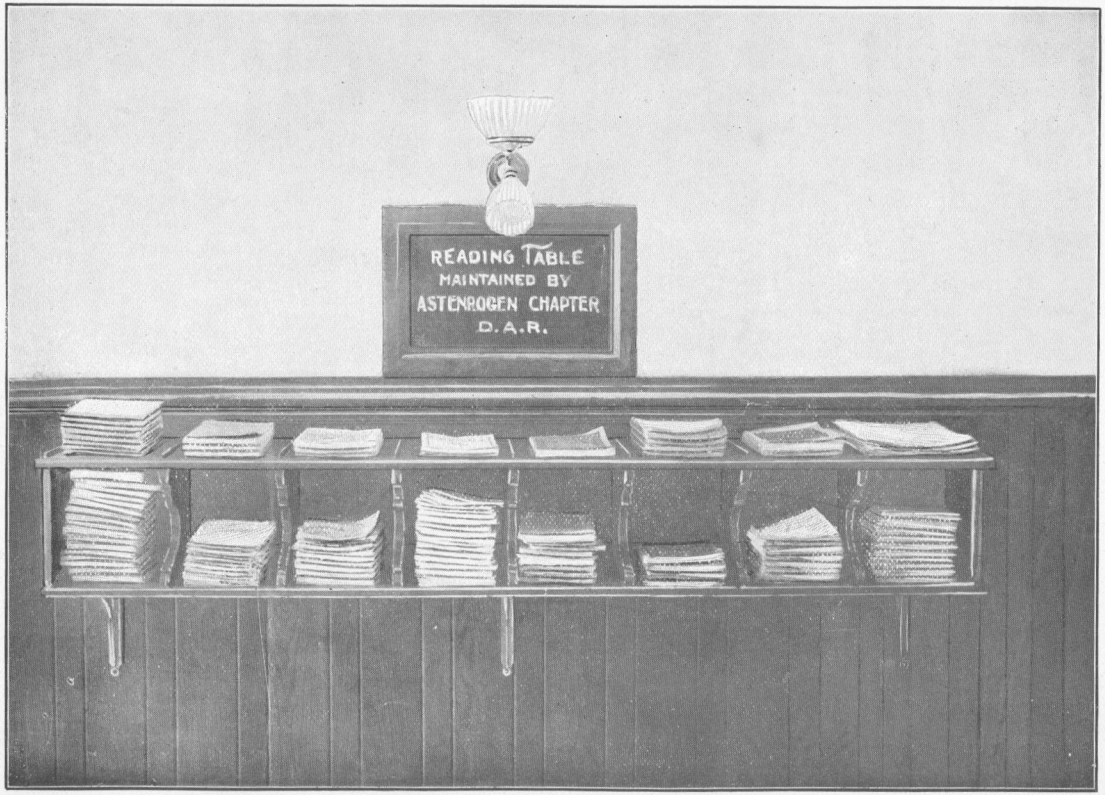

Nova Caesarea Chapter, of Newark, 139 members, and the largest in the state, is greatly interested in the Continental Memorial Hall and in the old barracks at Trenton. The grave of Mrs. Sandford, the "Real Daughter" for whom the members have cared, has been suitably marked since the last report.

They continue their relief work begun during the Spanish war, and send boxes of literature and comforts to the soldiers in the Philippines, and have formed a section of the Army Relief Society.

Paulus Hook Chapter, of Jersey City, 41 members, has grown rapidly in membership, though but lately organized.

SUNDIAL ERECTED BY MORRISTOWN CHAPTER.

Contributions to the Continental Hall fund amounting to $66 have been made during 1899 and 1900.

Princeton Chapter, of Princeton, 35 members, maintains its interest in the Rocky Hill headquarters, is working also for the Trenton Barracks, and one of its members gave $100 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899.

Trent Chapter, of Trenton, 27 members, has given a bookcase costing $35 to the Rocky Hill headquarters, with other antique furnishings. A gift of $25 was made to the Trenton Barracks fund, and a large number of books was sent to Booker T. Washington for the negroes at Tuskegee College. The ladies are still interested in the relief of the widows and orphans of the Army and Navy. They have contributed $275 to the Army and Navy Chapter Relief committee in Washington, and have cared for one poor soldier who lost his health in the Philippines. They desire to petition the Congress of the United States through the congress of the "Daughters" for the immediate relief of those suffering ones who have given their all to secure for their fellow-citizens the blessings of permanent peace.

Six other chapters at Seagirt, Salem, Phillipsburg, Bordentown, Cape May, and Newton will have something to report next year.

The most notable work of an at-large member from New Jersey is the gift of $1,000 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, made by Mrs. Washington Augustus Roebling, of Trenton, one of the vice-presidents-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

NEW YORK.

Astenrogen Chapter, of Little Falls, 22 members, provided medicines and delicacies for the convalescing soldiers in their own town during October, 1898, continuing this work until such assistance was no more needed. In 1899 the ladies contributed to the Washington and LaFayette statues in Paris and to the Meadow Garden Farm fund. They have purchased markers for the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in their vicinity and since June, 1898, have given $41 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. In March, 1900, they responded to the call of another chapter for help and in June they placed a reading table in the high school library. (Plate 56.) This they have supplied with $51 worth of magazines, both of home and foreign publication, and local daily and weekly newspapers. The money for the purpose was the proceeds of lectures on American poets and poetry, and of gifts from friends of the chapter, amounting in all to $142. On July 16, 1900, the chapter presented this to the city for a free public reading room. At the same time a prize was given to the pupil in the public schools who wrote the best essay on The Indian in the Mohawk Valley during the Revolution.

Baron Steuben Chapter, of Bath, 33 members, gave in April, 1899, $25 to the Oneida Historical Society, to be used in restoring the monument of Baron Steuben, near Remsen, N. Y. (plate 57), and received from the society a picture of the famous general and some wood from trees in the burial lot with which to frame their charter. The chapter gave $15 toward the La Fayette statue, and the same amount to that of Washington at Paris.

Two contributions amounting in all to $75 have been given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund and on October 8, 1900, $10 were sent to the regent of the George Washington Chapter at Galveston, Tex., to be used at her discretion in the relief of suffering caused by the flood. The two annual prizes to the pupils of the high school for the best and second best essays on historical subjects are continued.

Benjamin Prescott Chapter, of Fredonia, 34 members, named in honor of one of the noble Prescotts who fought at Bunker Hill, has awarded prizes in the state normal and graded schools for the best historical essays and has given $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. The ladies have located the graves of 9 Revolutionary soldiers buried in the old cemetery at Fredonia, a spot given to the town by one of these old heroes. Three of the graves have been marked with bronze markers; the names are as follows:

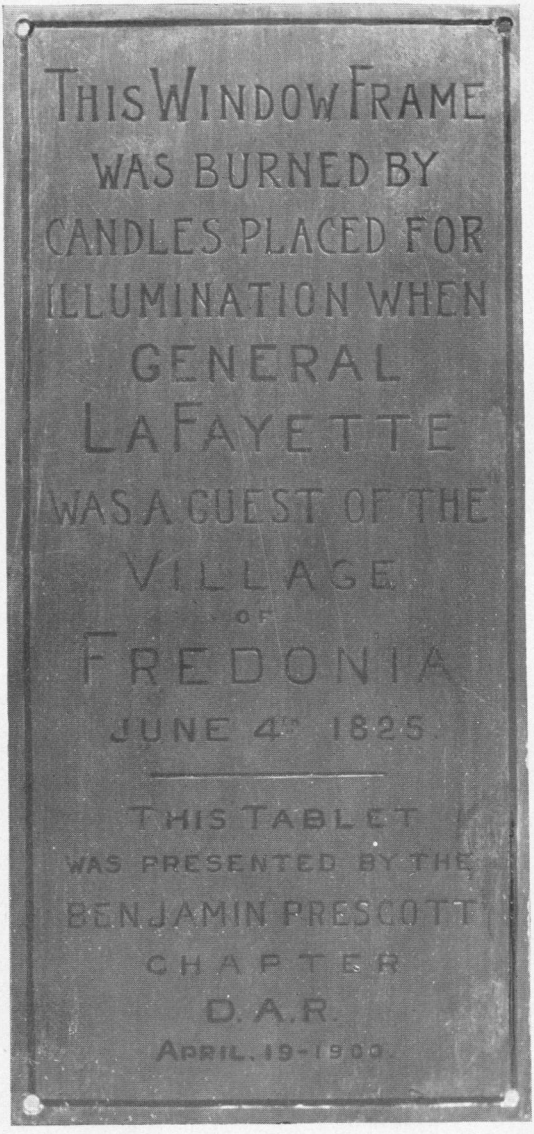

Thomas G. Abel; born 1749; died in Fredonia, N. Y., October 10, 1814.

Hezekiah Barker, born in Newport, R. I., April 14, 1757; died in Fredonia, N. Y., July 5, 1834.

Elijah Risley, born in Hartford, Conn., 1757; died in Fredonia, N. Y., January 15, 1839.

MONUMENT TO BARON STEUBEN, REMSEN, N. Y. RESTORED BY BARON STEUBEN CHAPTER.

TABLET ON WINDOW CASING, PUBLIC LIBRARY, FREDONIA, N. Y. PLACED BY BENJAMIN PRESCOTT CHAPTER.

The money is in hand to put the remaining 6 graves in order and to mark them in the same way.

The Free Public Library of the town was in early days a fine old home, centrally located and facing the common. At the time of General La Fayette's visit to Fredonia the house was illuminated for the occasion and an upper window casing was burned. This window has always been kept untouched by the occupants as a memento of the occasion. When the house became a library the upper rooms were made one and the burned window was thus brought into the room most appropriately used for historical purposes. The chapter has placed upon the casing a brass marker, 4½ by 9 inches in dimensions, lettered in black as follows:

This window frame was burned by candles placed for illumination when General La Fayette was a guest of the village of Fredonia, N. Y., on June 4th, 1825.
This tablet was placed by the Benjamin Prescott Chapter, D. A. R., April 19, 1900

This date was selected because it was the anniversary of General La Fayette's first landing in America, on the coast of South Carolina, when he offered his services to assist us in gaining our liberty. (Plate 58.)

Bronx Chapter, of Mount Vernon, 20 members, instituted a prize essay contest in the grammar schools, the prizes being $20, $15, and $5 in gold for the best essays on historic topics furnished by the chapter. Great interest was manifested in this contest, and the second prize was awarded to a young girl of a Polish Jew family in which the parents could neither read nor write English. The prizes are again offered this year, and the topics are as follows: John Paul Jones; Mary, the mother of Washington, and Washington as a soldier. Two handsome flags, for use in assembly exercises, have been presented to two public schools, and a circulating library of 100 volumes was purchased and sent to the soldiers in Porto Rico. The chapter thus does all it can to foster true patriotism, and looks toward the future rather than toward the past. But the past is not forgotten, for $10 have been donated to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, and the ladies have discovered and are planning to mark an interesting spot in their locality, known as "Glover's Rock." It is situated in Pelham Bay Park, and was the site of an important but little-known skirmish which was of the greatest aid to Washington in preparing for the battle of White Plains, that immediately followed.

Buffalo Chapter, of Buffalo, 391 members, is still at work upon its noble task of helping the large foreign-born population of the city to understand the laws and institutions of the land of their adoption and to appreciate the blessings and duties of its citizenship. The children of these foreigners learn history in the public schools, but the adults would never gain any adequate knowledge of this country if some special means of instruction were not provided for them. As mentioned in our last report, the chapter's work has consisted in giving lectures to the Polish and Italian immigrants, translated into their own languages, and illustrated by the stereopticon. Six lectures were written by members of the chapter upon the following topics:

1. The Period of Discovery.
2. The Colonial Period.
3. From Bunker Hill to Yorktown.
4. The Making of the Constitution.
5. The Civil War.
6. Reconstruction.

Three hundred dollars were appropriated for the purpose, and the lectures were delivered during the winter of 1898–99. It was found that an expense of $25 an evening would cover the cost of translation and delivery before each set of audiences, with use of stereopticon. Part of the lantern slides were obtained from the board of regents of the state of New York, and others were added at the chapter's expense when needed. The superintendent of education offered the use of the public schools in the Polish and Italian districts, but that in the Polish district was too remote for the large audience desired. The priest of St. Adelbert, therefore, offered a hall formerly occupied by his congregation, and gave the further aid of calling the attention of his people to the lectures. At times the Polish audience numbered 600, and their welcome of the instruction may be judged from the fact that they willingly stood to listen for an hour and a half, because the hall had no seats, and then expressed regret when the course of lectures was finished.

In the Italian district the audience was not at first so large, but it was discovered that the cause of this was a lack of information upon the subject. Handbills were therefore printed and scattered among the people, and notices of the lectures were published in the Italian newspapers. By this means the attendance was largely increased.

The Italian school children were interested from the first, and at the end of the course begged the principal of the school to give them a lecture in English, saying "we can understand it." This request was gladly granted.

During the winter of 1899–1900, three other lectures have been added, making the whole course for the winter as follows:

1. Period of Discovery.
2. Colonial Period.
3. From Bunker Hill to Valley Forge.
4. From Valley Forge to Yorktown.
5. Making of the Constitution.
6. The War of 1812.
7. The Civil War.
8. Reconstruction.
9. Municipal Law.

During the winter of 1900–1901 it is expected that at least one lecture will be given to a German audience, while those to other nationalities will be continued.

In connection with the other patriotic societies of the city, the chapter expects soon to add to its educational work the marking of historic spots along the Niagara frontier.

Camden Chapter, of Camden, 58 members, sent $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899, and $10 for the statue of La Fayette in Paris.

A fine monument to 34 Revolutionary soldiers who came from Connecticut and settled in Camden was placed in the old cemetery on Mexico street, where 18 of them lie. It was unveiled on July 4, 1899, by Mrs. Wilson Baldwin, one of the two "Real Daughters" belonging to the chapter, in the presence of an audience composed of the principal citizens of the town. The stone is plain, in keeping with the tastes of the men to whose memory it was raised (Plate 59). It is of Quincy granite, 7 feet 1 inch in height from base to apex, and was fully paid for before the unveiling ceremonies, leaving a balance in the treasury. For a community of less than 3,000 inhabitants, with nine churches, a library, and many other public benefits to maintain, this seems a remarkable showing. The names of 11 of the soldiers to whose memory the shaft is erected can be seen in the plate which presents the west and south sides of the monument. The other names, engraved upon the other two sides, are as follows:

EAST SIDE.	NORTH SIDE.
Eri Pond.	Daniel Parke.
Oliver Cook.	Beriah Pond.
John Elden.	Samuel Wood.
Daniel Dean.	David Wood.
Abel Collins.	Ichabod Brown.
Joel Dunbar.	Zophar Barnes.
Joseph Johnson.	Elijah Bailey.
Benjamin Curtiss.	Jonah Sanford.
Serajah Comstock.	Jesse Penfield.
Bartholomew Pond.	Aaron Seth Rice.
Lieut. Levi Munson.	Lemuel Steadman.
	Corpl. Joseph Johnson.

Other names will be added in the future.

During 1900 a fine flag and pole were purchased, and on July 4 the flag was raised on the pole near the monument.

Catherine Schuyler Chapter, of Belmont, 61 members, gave $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900, and an individual member has given largely for the monument fund for the prison-ship martyrs, whose bones lie in one common grave near the site of old Fort Greene, New York.

Cayuga Chapter, of Ithaca, 32 members, has contributed $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, $10 to the La Fayette statue in Paris, and $1.50 to the Meadow Garden Farm fund. They have devoted themselves to the quiet study of American history, holding meetings each week during the winter for this purpose.

Chemung Chapter, of Elmira, 58 members, gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, $25 to the La Fayette statue in 1898, and $8 to the Washington statue in 1899. It has been the pleasant custom of this chapter to celebrate noted anniversaries by these subscriptions to patriotic objects. This was the second chapter to respond to the call of the Army and Navy Chapter for aid in its relief work.

Cherry Valley Chapter, of Cherry Valley, 12 members, contributed $13 toward the war work of the national society in 1898, and in July, 1899, they located and marked the graves of eleven soldiers of the Revolution buried in the old cemetery. Their names and the inscriptions on their gravestones are given below.

The chapter presented a handsome flag to the high school in February, 1900, and in May gave a small prize to the pupil who wrote the best essay on Arnold's treason and the capture of Major André.

Deborah Champion Chapter, of Adams, 68 members, "delights to honor" the name of a brave woman, born in Westchester, Conn., May 3, 1753, daughter of a Revolutionary soldier, Gen. Henry Champion, sale commissary-general of the eastern department of the continental army. She was sister of two other Revolutionary officers. When 17 years of age she carried important dispatches from New London to General Washington at Boston. She also carried through the British lines the money to pay the soldiers who had fought at Bunker Hill and Boston. On this trip she was accompanied only by her old slave, Aristarchus, her sex enabling her to accomplish the feat without suspicion. She died in Gilead, Conn., November 20, 1845, in the ninety-fourth year of her age.

The chapter has twice offered prizes of 20-shilling gold pieces for essays written on patriotic subjects by public and high-school pupils. The first prize was awarded in February, 1898, to Miss Lillian Brown; the second to Miss Alice Rhodes and Master Harry Bittinger.

A gift of $7.75 was made to the La Fayette statue in February, 1899, and $25 were given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, February, 1900. The graves of Revolutionary soldiers were marked with flowers on May 30, 1900. Their names are given below:

Edward Salisbury, above named, descendant in direct line of William Salisbury who resided in Dorchester, Mass., in 1648, was first lieutenant in the French and Indian war, serving from 1755 to 1759. He enlisted as a private, but was honored with a commission in return for having been the first to volunteer, with twelve others, to go on a very dangerous expedition. He saw service on the Hudson River, was in Rome during the building of Fort Stanwix, and was at the siege of Oswego and Frontinac, now called Kingstown. He took part in the severe engagement at Ticonderoga. His only brother was killed by his side, while he was spared, though his clothing was pierced with many balls. He was in the battle on the Plains of Abraham, September 14, 1758, when Wolfe took Quebec from the French under Montcalm. In the war of the Revolution his age cleared him from military duty; but he frequently took up arms in the cause of liberty, particularly in the defense of his native state when invaded. His services at this time were voluntary, but when the alarm guns were fired at Providence he shouldered his knapsack and joined his comrades in arms. He moved from Rhode Island to Weston, Oneida County, N. Y., in 1793, and to Adams, N. Y., in 1802. He was the father of twelve children. He died in Adams in 1829 at the age of 104 years and is buried in Rural Cemetery. On his tombstone is quite a wonderful record. He is great-grandfather of three members of Fort Stanwix Chapter, Rome, N. Y., as well as of two members of Deborah Champion Chapter, Adams, N. Y.

Deo-on-go-wa Chapter, of Batavia, 59 members, gave $10 to the La Fayette statue in Paris, has marked the graves of 31 Revolutionary soldiers buried in Genesee County, and will mark others. The chapter room in the Holland Patent land office already contains quite a large collection of relics, and additions are being made constantly. A patriotic society called the "League of the Red, White, and Blue," has been formed in the state school for the blind by members of the chapter. Eligibility for membership consists in being able to write from memory in the presence of a teacher the six poems: America, Star Spangled Banner, Hail Columbia, Red, White, and Blue, The Flower of Liberty, and the American Flag.

Fort Greene Chapter, of Brooklyn, 207 members, has united with the Association for the Protection of the American Flag, and has given $20 for this object. It has also given $16 to the George Washington Memorial Association, and individual members have supplemented this by many private subscriptions. In June, 1899, the chapter completed its prize essay work by presenting two prizes, at a cost of $50, to the winners in the competition for the best essay written by boy or girl on the prison-ship martyrs. Each winner received for his or her school a handsome engraving and a personal gift of a beautifully engrossed certificate. The work of the chapter for the monument to the prison-ship martyrs continues, and an endeavor has been made to secure from England a corrected list of those who were confined on the prison ships. Mrs. S. V. White, an honored member of this chapter, has published a facsimile edition of the diary of Capt. Jabez Fitch, one of the martyrs of the prison ships. Mrs. Alice Morse Earle, the well known author of many books on colonial times, is a member of this chapter.

Fort Plain Chapter, of Fort Plain, 24 members, gave a prize of $5 in June, 1899, for the best essay on American history written by a high-school pupil. Twenty-eight most creditable papers were handed in for competition.

Fort Stanwix Chapter, of Rome, 73 members, has continued its annual prize-giving for historical essays by public-school children, and the interest aroused has been very marked. In connection with the Gansevoort Willett chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, the chapter has obtained permission to mark the site of old Fort Stanwix, the first fort over which the American flag was unfurled. Gun carriages have been placed at the four corners of the bastions and cannon furnished by the Government will be mounted upon them in 1901. It is the intention of the chapter to add four bronze tablets with suitable inscriptions.

Gansevoort Chapter, of Albany, 88 members, gave $25 to the Washington statue and another $25 to the La Fayette statue at Paris, while $50 have been sent during 1899 and 1900 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. As Fort Crailo, or Vlie House, is so near Albany, special interest is felt in the project for its restoration, and $100 were given directly to Mrs. Van Rensselaer Strong for this purpose. A room in the building has been assigned to the care of the chapter. The chapter also sent $10 to the fund for the family of Maj. Gen. Henry W. Lawton, who fell in the Philippines.

General James Clinton Chapter, of Springfield, 13 members, is studying with great diligence American history, together with some parliamentary law. They have a picture of Gen. James Clinton taken by one of his descendants from a sketch made from life by his son. The chapter is planning to mark the old continental road to the head of Otsego Lake, taken by General Clinton in the summer of 1779 through an unbroken wilderness with 1,500 troops and 220 boats. This expedition joined General Sullivan near Tioga.

General Nicholas Herkimer Chapter, of Herkimer, 46 members, awarded a prize of $5 to a public-school pupil for the best essay on The capture of Burgoyne, and gave two historic pictures to the school. As the result of an entertainment given by the chapter $10 were sent to the Washington statue fund and $15 to that for the statue of La Fayette. In October, 1899, $25 were raised to purchase markers for the graves of Revolutionary soldiers buried in Herkimer County, and in January, 1900, two large boxes of books and periodicals were sent to the soldiers at Manila. In February, 1900, a gift of $50 was made to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. The chapter is now raising money for a monument to be erected in Herkimer Park in memory of all the soldiers and sailors of Herkimer who lost their lives in defense of our country in any of the wars of the United States. Two hundred and eighteen dollars have already been obtained for this purpose. It is proposed that the monument shall be a statue of General Herkimer in Continental uniform.

Gouverneur Morris Chapter, of Gouverneur, 23 members, has contributed to the funds for the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris, and to the monument for Reubena Hyde Walworth. They have also given to the fund for a soldiers' monument in their local cemetery and decorated the graves of Revolutionary soldiers with flowers on Memorial Day.

Hendrick Hudson Chapter, of Hudson, 90 members, continuing its relief work reported last year, sent at Thanksgiving time a box of provisions to the soldiers from Hudson, who were then encamped at Greenville, S. C.

In 1898 the chapter provided the city with a free library, and during a little more than a year the members acted in turn as librarians. In 1900 Mrs. Marcelus Hartley (Frances Chester White), of New York City, presented to the chapter an old colonial house for a chapter home. (Plate 60.) It includes chapter room, reading room, library, auditorium, and museum. It is interesting to note that the stained-glass window in this building was erected from the proceeds of a little story Mary and I go to Europe, written by the husband of the regent. (Plate 61.) By means of entertainments the ladies have raised sufficient funds to hire a librarian, and the library and reading rooms are kept open five days in the week. The library is under the rule of the Regents of the University of New York, and consequently receives some help from the state; but the chapter is responsible for the library, and keeps it in the chapter house subject to the state rules. One of the members is in daily attendance to show strangers through the building. The ladies held a loan exhibit of valuable relics in 1900, and are making historical collections for their museum. They offer each year a five-dollar gold piece to the pupil in the public schools who writes the best essay of not less than 1,000 words upon a given subject from American history. The subject for 1900 was Three heroes of three wars—Revolutionary, civil, Spanish. The winner was Miss Bertha M. Best, and the presentation exercises were of much patriotic interest. The chapter gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1897.

Irondequoit Chapter, of Rochester, 223 members, has continued its magnificent relief work mentioned in our last report by undertaking the care of families left destitute by the soldiers who went from Rochester to the Spanish-American war. This helpful work must probably endure for a long time to come.

Israel Harris Chapter, of Granville, 16 members, gave $5 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900, and decorated the graves of the Revolutionary soldiers on Memorial Day.

Jane McCrea Chapter, of Fort Edward, 25 members, has raised sufficient money to mark the spot where Jane McCrea was murdered by the Indians in 1777. The memorial will be placed as soon as settled weather permits. The chapter also contemplates marking other historic spots in the vicinity, with a view to stimulating interest in history.

Johnstown Chapter, of Johnstown, 56 members, is not yet a year old, but the ladies are devoting their energies toward raising a fund to place a bowlder, with a suitable tablet, on the Johnstown battlefield. For this purpose a loan exhibit was held last August in the historic court-house built by Sir William Johnson in 1772. It was considered an education for the school children to examine these relics, and many availed themselves of the opportunity. The sum of $130 has been laid aside already for the bowlder fund, and the ladies hope to increase it sufficiently to erect their memorial in the coming spring. In the meantime they are taking a regular course in United States history. They have given $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

Kanisteo Valley Chapter, of Hornellsville, 35 members, has been studying with much interest the local history of the region and especially that relating to the several plots there formed by Tories and Indians against the ill-fated settlers in northern Pennsylvania. On the hill just above Hornellsville were built canoes in which the forces coming in 1778 from Niagara to participate in the Wyoming massacre continued their journey down the Canisteo, Chemung, and Susquehanna rivers. It is recorded in the early chronicles of the town that the first white settlers in the valley found there the remains of the abandoned canoes and the tools used in their manufacture and heard the story of their purpose. These first settlers were Revolutionary soldiers, and many were members of families who had suffered in the massacre. The old cemetery contains their dust, and the moss-grown stones record their gallant deeds. During the two years covered by this report several contributions have been made: to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, $20 additional to that in last report; to the La Fayette statue in Paris; and to the Reubena Hyde Walworth monument at Saratoga. As seven members of the chapter had ancestors who suffered the tortures of the British prison ships, the appeal for the monument to the prison-ship martyrs met with a ready and generous response.

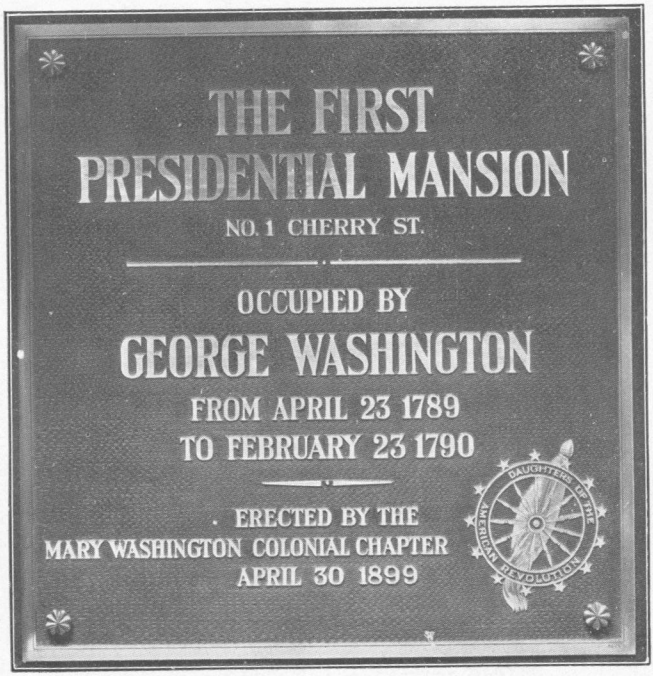

Two prizes of $10 and $5 each were awarded in 1900 to pupils of the high school for proficiency in American history and three prizes will be given next year. The project has received the hearty cooperation of the school authorities.

Keskeskick Chapter, of Yonkers, 52 members, has continually tried to increase interest in the preservation of the historic Phillipse manor, built in 1682 by Frederick Phillipse, who is buried in Chester cathedral, England. Because of possessing this old manor house the town of Yonkers has been deemed worthy of mention by Baedecker in his guide book of the United States. The fine old building was long since purchased by the town for municipal purposes, but it is periodically threatened with destruction by the city fathers, who would erect in its place a modern city hall. Failing in this, they who care little for antiquity would build unsightly and inappropriate additions to the structure, thus ruining its natural stately character. Thus far the efforts of the chapter and other patriotic citizens have prevented the desecration, but only unceasing vigilance will prevail against the innovators. The chapter has also exerted its small influence in behalf of the preservation of the Palisades of the Hudson and has succeeded in arousing the interest of patriotic societies all over the country in the erection of a monument on the battlefield of White Plains.

Knickerbocker Chapter, of New York City, 71 members, held in January, 1899, a fine loan exhibit whereby $85 were raised for the La Fayette statue in Paris, and they added $105 to the Continental Hall fund in 1900, thus making a total of $225 given by the chapter and members since February, 1897. In April, 1900, the sum of $450 was raised for the national society for the relief of widows and orphans of the regular Army and Navy. In October, 1900, a fine picture of George and Martha Washington was presented by the chapter to the Barnard school for girls, and the ladies assisted in the bazaar held for the benefit of the sufferers by flood at Galveston, Texas. The chapter has a pleasant room in Genealogical Hall.

Le Ray de Chaumont Chapter, of Watertown, 75 members, responded promptly to the appeal of Army and Navy Chapter for aid in its relief work, and gave $5.10 to each of the two statues sent to Paris in 1900.

TABLET ON BROOKLYN BRIDGE, N. Y. ERECTED BY MARY WASHINGTON COLONIAL CHAPTER.

TABLET IN ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH, NEW YORK CITY. ERECTED BY MARY WASHINGTON COLONIAL CHAPTER.

Mahwenawasigh Chapter, of Poughkeepsie, 100 members, completed, during 1898–99, its work of furnishing and repairing the old Clinton house and has established in it a fine collection of relics. The chapter meetings are also held there.

Mary Washington Colonial Chapter, of New York City, 121 members, has made it a point to mark some historic spot each year. On January 18, 1899, they unveiled a handsome bronze tablet placed on one of the approaches of the Brooklyn Bridge. It marks the spot where stood the first Presidential mansion, at No. 1 Cherry street. (Plate 62.) This fall they departed a little from this custom by erecting in St. Stephen's Church, on Sixty-ninth street, a tablet to the memory of their late chaplain, Rev. Charles Russell Treat. (Plate 63.)

The chapter has given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund $1,050 since July, 1896; sent $250 to the Cuban orphans; given $100 as one of the founders of the City History Club, and forwarded a generous donation to Porto Rico for a hospital at San Juan. After the death of the devoted nurse, Reubena Hyde Walworth, Miss Lillian Montgomery, one of the members of this chapter, devoted her whole time to raising funds for a national monument[1] to the memory of this noble woman, buried at Saratoga. The shaft is of granite, and was unveiled one year after the death of the young heroine it commemorates. (Plate 67.) The cost was somewhat over $1,500, of which amount $585 were given or collected by Mary Washington Colonial Chapter; $575.75 were contributed by other chapters and individual D. A. R., and $435 given by or through Saratoga Chapter, of which Miss Walworth was a member. The beautiful memorial is located at Saratoga, and is a gift to the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution from the association which erected it. (Plate 68.)

Mary Weed Marvin Chapter, of Walton, 28 members, contributed $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1898, and another $10 in 1899.

Melzingah Chapter, of Fishkill, 49 members, followed its annual custom of giving a prize for competitive essays written by the boys and girls of the public schools. The subject for 1899 was: Why we honor La Fayette. In 1900 it was: Franklin and the service rendered his country at the court of France. On May 19, 1900, the chapter unveiled a tablet inserted at the base of the monument to La Fayette at Brinckerhoff. (Plate 64.) The monument itself was represented in our last report. During the Revolution beacon fires were lighted upon North and South Beacon, two peaks back of Fishkill, as signals to the American soldiers for miles around. The chapter had long wished to mark the North Beacon, and on July 4th the desire was accomplished. Amid the soaring of rockets and the blazing of beacon fires, the monument was formally dedicated. Answering fires were seen at Lake Mohonk, Storm King, Round Top, and West Point, so that the Hudson River Valley seemed to join in the celebration. The monument is a cairn 27 feet high, surmounted by a flag pole, from which the flag will float on national holidays. The state regent, Mrs. Samuel Verplanck (Katherine R. Wolcott), is an honored member of this chapter. A contribution was made to the monument for Reubena Hyde Walworth at Saratoga, and $10 were given to the Continental Hall fund in 1899.

Mohawk Chapter, of Albany, 108 members, numbers among them our honored president-general, Mrs. Daniel Manning. Her gifts to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, amounting to $300 during the years 1898-1900, have been supplemented by $105 given by the chapter during 1899-1900. Fifty dollars were given to the Washington statue at Paris. In April, 1899, a small contribution was sent to the Abiah Folger Franklin Chapter, of Nantucket, for the memorial to Franklin's mother, and $298 has been raised for Fort Crailo.

The relief work of the chapter begun during the Spanish war has been continued, and a fund is maintained for the widows and children of soldiers killed in the war. Twelve large boxes and two barrels of supplies have been sent to the soldiers in Porto Rico.

The chapter possesses some fine relics in their charter frame, which is unique, 35 pieces of historic wood, stone, and metal being incorporated in it. A list of these follows:

Mohawk Valley Chapter, of Ilion, 44 members, did its first work in making garments and sending supplies to the soldiers in Cuba in 1898. In the winter of 1899 the ladies placed in the public school a large portrait of Washington, and sent books and supplies to the soldiers at Manila. In 1900 they added a picture of Lincoln to that of Washington in the public school, and continued the supplies to the hospital at Manila. They have published their chapter history and are forming plans for a tablet to be erected in memory of Revolutionary soldiers. They have contributed toward the Washington statue at Paris, to the Reubena Hyde Walworth monument at Saratoga, and toward making their former state regent, Mrs. James Mead Belden, a member of the Mary Washington Memorial Association.

Mohegan Chapter, of Sing Sing, 50 members, contributed $10 toward the preservation of the Betsey Ross house, in Philadelphia, gave $7.50 to the Reubena Hyde Walworth monument at Saratoga, and $5 to the Washington statue at Paris. In September, 1899, the ladies subscribed for five sustaining memberships in the Women's Auxiliary to the Young Men's Christian Association, which interests itself in training for good citizenship. They also collected $60.50 toward a box of supplies for the destitute Porto Ricans who had suffered from the terrible hurricane that swept the island. Since 1897 the chapter has given $107 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

Monroe Chapter, of Brockport, 45 members, is named in honor of President James Monroe, after whom the county is named. The ladies intend to mark the grave of Capt. Joseph Robey, one of the "Indians" who helped to empty the tea into Boston Harbor. He is buried in the same cemetery with the Rev. Amos Frink, the chaplain in the Revolutionary army whose grave was mentioned in last year's report. A gift of $62.50 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund was made in 1900.

New York City Chapter, of New York City, 395 members, gave $100 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900 as a tribute to Reubena Hyde Walworth, and $225 more have been given by individual members. For the Mary Washington Monument Association the sum of $1,162 was raised. A silver tablet has been placed in the old Avery homestead at Mount Pleasant, Tarrytown, N. Y., to commemorate the loyalty of Capt. and Mrs. Thaddeus Avery during the revolution. The tablet is placed above the door of the old Dutch oven where Mrs. Avery baked bread for the Revolutionary soldiers, and where Captain Avery was branded with hot irons by the Hessian soldiers. (Plate 65.) The historical scholarship of $150, named in honor of the regent Mrs. Donald McLean, is continued at Barnard College. Miss Mary C. Springer, a member of this chapter, published in 1899 a life of Dorothy Quincy.

Olean Chapter, of Olean, 71 members, held in October, 1898, a fine loan exhibit, embracing over 700 articles of historic value, thus arousing attention and interest which might not otherwise have been felt for the chapter's work. A contribution of $5 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund was given at our congress of 1899, and more than $100 was raised for a city-hospital fund. The La Fayette statue fund also received $5. Three boxes of supplies were forwarded to the sick soldiers at Manila. The chapter has been much interested in the early history of the town, and a sketch of its founder, Maj. Adam Hoops, who gave the town its name in 1804, was published by Miss Maud D. Brooks, and a copy was presented to the library of the national society. A famous oil spring in the neighborhood was known to the Jesuit missionaries in 1721, and was regarded as of so much medicinal value by the Seneca Indians that the square mile containing it was reserved by them in their treaty with Robert Morris. The chapter is enrolled as a study club in the university-extension department of the University of New York, and thus has the privilege of using many valuable books. It is also a charter member of the George Washington Memorial Association. Its members have pledged themselves to rise whenever the "Star Spangled Banner" and "America" are sung or played, and to strive to make the practice universal. Four members residing in Portville have offered two prizes of $7 and $3, respectively, to the pupils of their public school for the best essays on subjects connected with American history.

Each year, on Memorial Day, the graves of the three Revolutionary soldiers, whose names follow, are decorated with flowers:

Name.	Born.	Died.	Buried.
Jeheil Boardman....	Sept. 30, 1761	July 27, 1834.....	Mount View Cemetery, Olean.
Cornelius Brooks....	Mar. 17, 1758, at Amwell, Hunterdon County, N. J.	May 9, 1837, at Olean.	Pleasant Valley Cemetery.
Ebenezer Reed	1760.....	1845, at Olean	Oak Lawn Cemetery.

Ondawa-Cambridge Chapter, of Cambridge, 51 members, gave $50 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899.

Oneida Chapter, of Utica, 207 members, continues to offer prizes for competitive essays by the pupils of the academy and the advanced department of three schools. The subjects for competition in 1900 were Paul Revere's Ride and Light Horse Harry. To further this helpful work the librarian of the public library reserved from general circulation all the books bearing upon the above subjects in order that all competitors might have an equal chance to consult the needed references. The members of the chapter have contributed generously to the relief of the sufferers by the flood at Galveston, Tex., and added $200 to the amount already mentioned in our second report as given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1897. Lectures have been given to the foreign-born population of Utica during the winter of 1899–1900, instructing them in the Constitution and History of the United States, in the hope of helping them to be more interested and intelligent citizens of their new home. A flourishing society of Children of the American Revolution is under the direction of this chapter, and $25 of the sum mentioned last year in our war record were given by members of this society. The chapter has published two yearbooks full of interest and information.

Oneonta Chapter, of Oneonta, 19 members, has but 12 resident in the town. The study of early New England History, has however, been pursued with steady purpose, and papers of interest have been prepared. A prize of $5 is offered in the high school for the best essay on American History.

Onondaga Chapter, of Syracuse, 108 members, sent twenty-eight boxes of books and magazines and two consignments of pajamas to the soldiers in the Philippines in the early winter of 1899. They are now working in various ways to raise money for a monument to the five hundred Revolutionary soldiers buried in Onondaga County. During the month of May they presented four prizes to the school children of Syracuse for the best essays on Revolutionary themes. The prizes were handsomely bound volumes of standard authors. A tablet of highly polished brass, beautifully inscribed and bearing the insignia of the society, has been sunk in the brick wall above the mantel in the main hallway of the Women's and Children's Hospital in Syracuse. It commemorates the devoted services of Miss Clara Ward, a graduate of the institution, whose work and death as a nurse at Fort Myer, Va., during the Spanish war were chronicled in our last report. Her portrait is seen in plate 4 of that volume. A handsome flag draped with a black ribbon was placed above the tablet by the children of the American Revolution. During the exercises of the presentation five soldiers of the Forty-first company, New York Volunteers, stood guard about the building.

Onwentsia Chapter, of Addison, 20 members, offered a prize of $5 for the best essay on Patriotism, written by a student of the high school. The prize was won by John C. Brennan, a young Irish boy, only three other students competing. The regent hopes to have the chapter compile a history of the early settlement on the Canisteo River. The meaning of the Indian word Kanisteo is said to be "The setting forth of the canoes." As stated in the report of the Kanisteo Valley Chapter of Hornellsville, this setting forth of the canoes had for its object the attack upon the settlers of the Wyoming Valley, resulting in their massacre.

Otsego Chapter, of Cooperstown, 79 members, has given $50 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, in addition to the gift mentioned in last report. This makes a total of $60 thus far given by the chapter for that purpose.

Owahgena Chapter, of Cazenovia, 40 members, gave $48 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900.

Owasco Chapter, of Auburn, 45 members, gave two prizes for the best and second best essays written by pupils of the grammar school, and has planned a gift to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. The ladies are also considering projects for municipal reform and street cleaning.

Patterson Chapter, of Westfield, 30 members, has given $5 each to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris and $30 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. A prize of $10, with a certificate stating for what it was granted, is given annually to the high-school pupil producing the best essay on some topic in American history. The principal of the school was much pleased to have it offered. The topic for competition in 1899 was The campaign against Burgoyne; that of 1900 was Paul Jones. There were a number of competitors, and the result was very satisfactory.

Each year, on Memorial Day, the graves of the Revolutionary soldiers buried at Westfield are decorated, and the chapter plans to restore the old cemetery to an orderly condition. The names of the soldiers are as follows:

Col. Nathaniel Bird.[1]
Lent. Bradley.
Capt. Fiske Durand.
Samuel Penfield.
David Rumsey.
Reuben Wright.

The chapter also decorates the graves of fourteen soldiers of the war of 1812.

Philip Schuyler Chapter, of Troy, 60 members, in 1899 offered to the senior class in the high school two prizes, one for boys and one for girls, for the best essay on The underlying causes of the development of liberty in the American colonies. In 1900 three prizes were offered, and two other schools were included in the competition.

Quassaick Chapter, of Newburg, 77 members, sent $20 for the Washington statue in Paris, and individual members have contributed to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. On Memorial Day, May 30, 1899, the chapter unveiled a handsome bronze tablet, placed on a large bowlder which had been transported from the neighboring hills to the old town burying ground. (Plate 66.) This memorial marks the site of the old church of what was known as the "Palatine Parish of Quassaick." The pioneers who built it came to this country in 1708–1709, having fled from the religious persecution which followed the revocation of the edict of Nantes by Louis XIV of France. They came from one of the Rhine provinces, then called the Palatinate, and including what is now called Bavaria. They were law-abiding and industrious people, and were given a tract of 2,200 acres lying on the west side of the Hudson and north of Quassaick Creek. This tract included 500 acres set apart as a glebe for the support of the minister. Soon after their arrival they built upon this glebe a church, which was used for over half a century for religious worship, and then became a schoolhouse. The inscription on the tablet can be seen in the plate.

Sa-go-ye-wat-ha Chapter, of Seneca Falls, 47 members, bears the Indian name of the famous chief, Red Jacket. The ladies now have 115 books, valued at $400, in their case in the public library mentioned in our first report. They offer a prize of $5 for historical essays in the public schools. They gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900. They have identified the graves of eight Revolutionary soldiers scattered throughout the town and county, and have arranged to have markers for them. The names of the soldiers are as follows:

Jabez Carter, buried in Old South burying ground, Seneca Falls, N. Y.
William Chatham, buried at Bridgeport, N. Y.
Capt. Samuel Harris, buried at Bridgeport, N. Y.
Randall Hewitt, buried in Metcalf Cemetery, Seneca Falls, N. Y.
Needham Maynard, buried at Waterloo, N. Y.
Lawrence Van Cleef, buried in private lot, Seneca Falls, N. Y.

Saranac Chapter, of Plattsburg, 62 members, gave $10 to the fund for the La Fayette statue in Paris, and an additional $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900. They have continued their prizes in the public and normal schools, and helped to make the state regent a member of the Mary Washington Memorial Association. In May, 1899, 16 markers were purchased at an expense of $64 for the graves of as many Revolutionary soldiers in Riverside Cemetery, Plattsburg.

Her work closed, she freely laid down her life for her country.

You will kindly commit this monument to the perpetual care of the Saratoga Chapter, of which she was a member.

The lot on which this Monument stands is in legal possession of Mrs. Ellen Hardin Walworth, a Founder of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Saratoga Chapter, of Saratoga Springs, 109 members, immediately after the death of Reubena Hyde Walworth decided to erect a simple monument to her memory, and $200 were at once pledged for the purpose. On learning that the Mary Washington Colonial Chapter also desired to work for this object, it was decided to make the monument a national one, to have it erected not by one chapter alone, but by all D. A. R. who wished. The monument committee was composed of officers from four different chapters, and Miss Lillian Montgomery was made chairman, as a compliment to Mary Washington Colonial Chapter. Circulars were sent to every chapter, and responses poured in from the daughters everywhere, who were glad to show in this way their admiration for Miss Walworth's heroism and their respect for her mother, Mrs. Ellen Hardin Walworth, one of the founders of the society. The unveiling ceremonies held on October 18, 1899, just one year from Miss Walworth's death, were most dignified and solemn. (Plate 67.) For the monument itself Saratoga Chapter raised $435, and expended $161.50 for the unveiling ceremonies. The lot on which the monument stands is owned by Mrs. Walworth, who will one day be laid beside her daughter. But the monument was given to the national society (Plate 68), although the Saratoga Chapter is its custodian, and will always care for the lot. This chapter has raised a good sum for the public library, and given $25 to the Women's Army and Navy Relief Society. For the Continental Memorial Hall fund $10 were given by a member of this chapter in 1897.

Seneca Chapter, of Geneva, 17 members, has given $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, $5 to the statue of La Fayette at Paris, and $5 to the Reubena Hyde Walworth monument. Prizes of $5 were given to the high school, in 1899 and in 1900, and three boxes of books, magazines, and games, and two boxes of bandages have been sent to our soldiers in the Philippines.

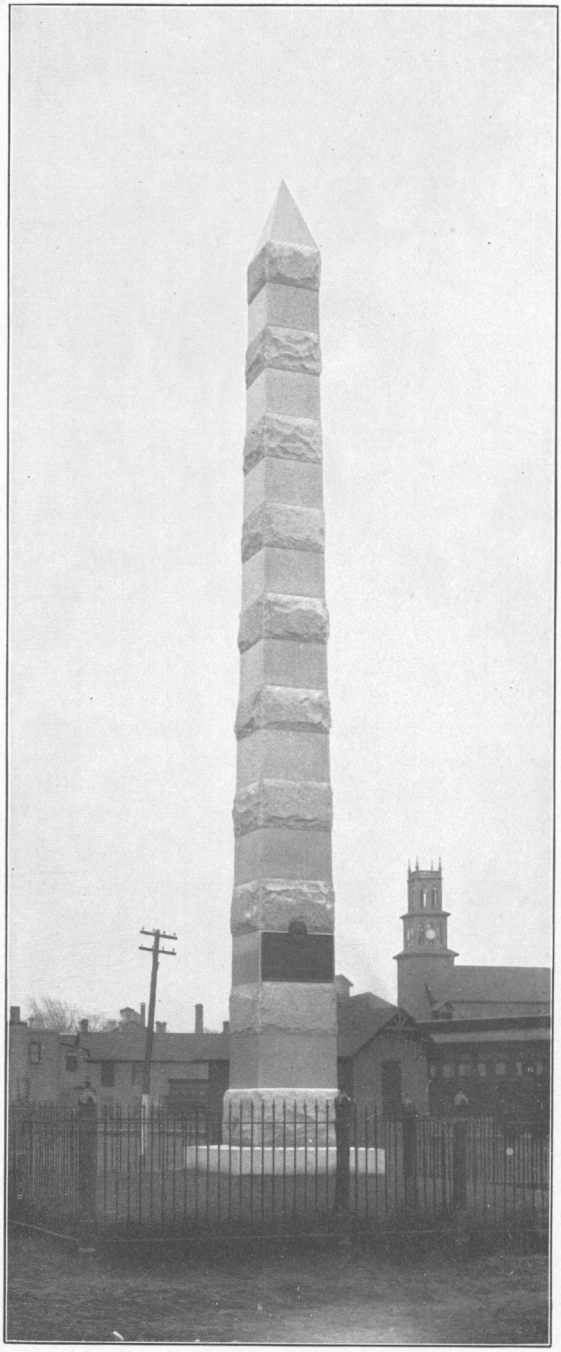

Swekatsi Chapter, of Ogdensburg, 46 members, has continued its prizes to students of the academy. The subject of the essays in 1899 was Benedict Arnold, his greatness and his fall. Both prizes were won by young ladies of Revolutionary descent. An additional $20 was voted in 1899 to the public library for the purchase of books. An entertainment for the benefit of the La Fayette statue in Paris was given by some of the children of the city, under the direction of the regent, and $34 was the result of this effort for the fund.

In December, 1899, a very serviceable box filled with pajamas, slippers, sheets, pillowcases, writing materials, games, literature, and money was sent to the soldiers in hospitals in the Philippines.

The greatest work of the chapter has, however, been the raising of funds for their monument on the site of Fort "La Présentation," mentioned in last year's report as in prospect. The site of the fort was the property of the New York Central and Hudson River Railway Company, but was generously donated to the chapter for this memorial project. Committees were formed and solicitors were appointed to collect funds from the citizens of Ogdensburg, and in this manner a goodly sum was quickly raised. The monument (Plate 69) is of light-gray Barre granite, built in alternate sections of quarry-faced and highly polished blocks, bolted together with bronze dowels 6 inches long, and securely cemented. It stands over 36 feet in height and cost over $1,000. On one side is a bronze tablet bearing a medallion of Father Picquet and an inscription reading thus:

> This monument marks the site of Fort La Présentation erected 1749 by Abbé François Picquet for the protection of his Mission among the Indians of the Five Nations, Occupied by the British in 1760, evacuated by them in 1796 under the provisions of the Jay Treaty. It was the first building where now stands the city of Ogdensburg.

Upon the opposite side is the insignia of the society, with the words "Swekatsi Chapter, D. A. R., October 5, 1899," cut in the stone. It was unveiled "amid crowds and sunshine, music and eloquence," and was presented by the regent, Mrs. H. Daniels, to the city, through the mayor, Hon. George Hall. As was said at the time, "such an occasion can not fail to instill in the heart of every true American deeper patriotic sentiments and a greater love for country."

Tuscarora Chapter, of Binghamton, 107 members, gave $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1898, and awards prizes annually to the high school. By means of an instructive loan exhibit, $175 were raised for chapter work. Ten dollars were sent to the Reubena Hyde Walworth Monument Association, and two barrels and a box of useful articles and reading matter were forwarded to the soldiers at Manila.

On May 30, 1899, the graves of nine Revolutionary soldiers were marked. Two others were marked later. (See the list below.) Each year these graves are decorated with flowers on Memorial Day.

About thirty volumes have thus been added during the last two years, and each bears a copy of the chapter book plate. (Plate 70.)

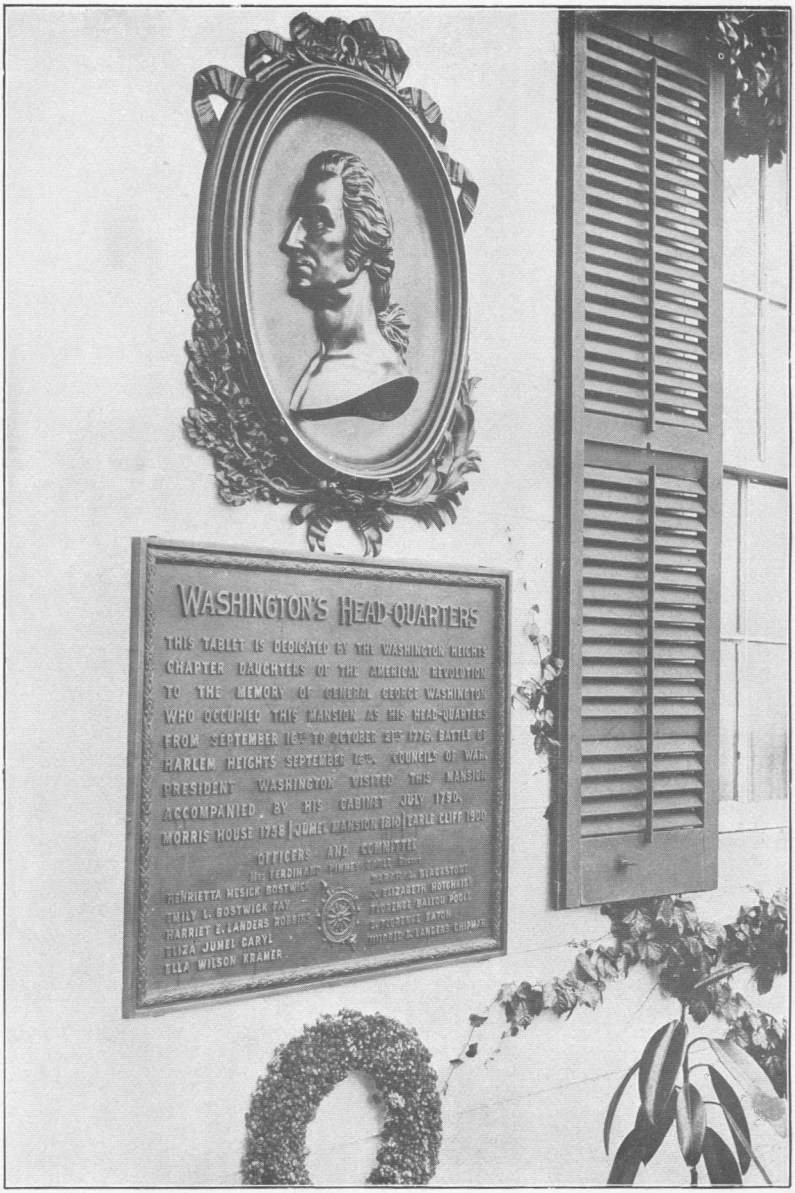

Washington Heights Chapter, of New York City, 32 members, has contributed $1,000 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, and several life memberships have been added. In January, 1898, a committee of thirteen members was appointed to meet in the city hall to form a National Flag Association, for the purpose of preventing the desecration of the flag. The chapter has contributed to the Meadow Garden Farm and to the George Washington Memorial Association. They have also helped to make their former state regent a life member of the Mary Washington Memorial Association. In April, 1899, the historian of the chapter placed a wreath of flowers and an American flag on the grave of La Fayette at Paris, in the name of the chapter. (Plate 7.)

On June 7, 1899, a flag was planted on the northeast bastion of old Fort Washington, said to be the first flag raised there since the Revolution.

A petition was sent to the House of Representatives in October, 1899, protesting against the seating of Brigham H. Roberts, Congressman-elect from Utah. (Under that state will be found further mention of this matter.)

BOOKPLATE OF VASSAR COLLEGE CHAPTER, POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.

TABLET ON MORRIS HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY. ERECTED BY WASHINGTON HEIGHTS CHAPTER.

On June 2, 1900, the chapter placed a tablet of solid bronze on the Morris House, located on Washington Heights, New York City, between One hundred and sixtieth and One hundred and sixty-second streets. It was built in 1758 by Frederick Philippse, of Philippse Manor (see report of Keskeskick Chapter, New York), as a bridal home for his daughter Mary, who married Sir Roger Morris, an Englishman. After the Revolution there was considerable litigation over the property. In 1810 it was purchased by Stephen Jumel, and hence is also known as the Jumel Mansion. It is now called Earle Cliff, and is the residence of the regent. The tablet erected by the chapter (plate 71), is surmounted by a fine medallion of Washington and the inscription is as follows:

WASHINGTON'S HEADQUARTERS.

This tablet is dedicated by the Washington Heights Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to the memory of Gen'l George Washington, who occupied this mansion as his headquarters from Sept. 16th to October 21st, 1776.

Battle of Harlem Heights, September 16th; Councils of War.

President Washington visited this mansion accompanied by his Cabinet, July 1790.

Willards Mountain Chapter, of Greenwich, 24 members, enrolled itself in 1900 as a study club under the university-extension system of the University of New York. This secures them the use of a traveling library of 50 volumes. The topic for study during 1900 was The American Revolution, to 1775. The same plan is to be followed this year, and the same topic is to be continued from the year 1775 to 1789.

The chapter contributed $6 each to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris, and gave a prize of $5 to the student of the Greenwich High School who passed the best regent's examination in United States history.

On Memorial Day the graves of 9 Revolutionary soldiers were decorated.

Wiltwyck Chapter, of Kingston, 124 members, gave $25 in direct contribution to the Continental Memorial Hall fund at the congress of 1898 and added several life memberships. The ladies also contributed liberally to the Washington and La Fayette statues and had part in the monument to Reubena Hyde Walworth.

During the year 1899–1900 the chapter established a public library in Kingston, which already has 3,200 volumes, all the magazines and many newspapers, and is now on a firm basis. They have also started a fund to purchase and preserve one of the old historic stone houses in the town.

Prizes are given each year in the public schools; and the ceremonies attending the observance of historic anniversaries are famous for the interest and enthusiasm they arouse. The decoration of Revolutionary soldiers' graves is a duty performed with reverence each year on Memorial Day. A list of these soldiers will be found below.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Dorcas Bell Love Chapter, of Waynesville, 16 members, organized January 9, 1898, with 15 charter members, all descendants of the one ancestress for whom the chapter is named.

This chapter is endeavoring only to carry out the purposes and aims of the society as laid down in article 4 of the constitution.

During the first year $25 were contributed to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

A gold medal—specially designed—is presented to the pupil in the high school writing the best essay upon some Revolutionary subject selected by the chapter committee. A plan of study in American history, arranged each year, has been steadily pursued and a patriotic anniversary observed each month.

Several barrels of supplies were sent to volunteers in Cuba, also to volunteers encamped in Georgia and Florida. The chapter subscribed $10 to the Roanoke Colony Memorial Association and $100 to the Shipp-Bagley portrait fund. It takes care of the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in the county, is collecting a library, and takes an active part in all local charities.

OHIO.

Catherine Greene Chapter, of Xenia, 32 members, has become a charter member of the George Washington Memorial Association. A prize offered for the best essay on a given subject was awarded to a pupil of Bath township high school, Miss Mabel Strohm. The topic selected was Puritan influence in the formation of our government.

The meetings of the chapter have been occupied with the consideration of topics, such as Ohio in the Revolution, Our new possessions, Our diplomatic and consular service, Mints and money, and kindred subjects. Toward the Continental Memorial Hall fund $120 have been given by this chapter.

Cincinnati Chapter, of Cincinnati, 258 members, established January, 1900, a fellowship in American history in the University of Cincinnati. The fellowship at present is honorary, but will carry a stipend of $100 annually when the endowment is completed. About half the necessary sum has been raised.

The chapter identified in October, 1899, the site of old Fort Washington. It was begun September 20, 1789, and evacuated 1804 by the removal of the troops to Newport Barracks. It was destroyed March 17, 1808, as there was no longer need for its protection. Its exact site is within the city limits of Cincinnati, between Boundary and Lawrence streets, and intersected by Third street. The necessary legal ordinances have been passed to enable the chapter to erect a monument on this site, and the plan will soon be carried out.

A collection of national songs has been prepared by members of this chapter for use on occasions when open-air singing is needed. The little work is designed to obviate the too prevalent forgetfulness in regard to the words which belong to the airs we all know so well. Several patriotic poems have been written by Virginia E. Ellard, a member of this chapter.

Cuyahoga Portage Chapter, of Akron, 51 members, gave $20 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900.

Fort Findlay Chapter, of Findlay, 24 members, gave $5 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899 and another $5 in 1900.

George Clinton Chapter, of Wilmington, 33 members, decorates the graves of Revolutionary soldiers near Wilmington with flowers on Memorial Day. They started a library called "Wilmington Public Library," and the members contributed generously. With the liberal cooperation of the citizens over $700 were raised, and with this sum two rooms were furnished, one as a library, the other as a reading room. In 1899 there were between 600 and 700 books in the collection, and the library table was kept supplied with the leading magazines and newspapers. A portrait of Washington was given to the high school, and $10 came to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1898 followed by another $10 in 1900.

Hetuck Chapter, of Newark, 42 members, gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1898 and $25 in 1900.

John Reilly Chapter, of Hamilton, 33 members, is endeavoring to locate the last resting places of Revolutionary heroes in the cemeteries of the surrounding county with a view to make a record of the graves and to keep in order and mark those which are neglected. In 1898 $15 were sent to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. The chapter is now endeavoring to acquire possession of the old storehouse of Fort Hamilton, but is meeting with unexpected difficulties.

Jonathan Dayton Chapter, of Dayton, 29 members, gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in February, 1898, and $25 more in February, 1900.

In May, 1898, a regimental flag of silk, costing $69, was presented to the Earnshaw Rifles, of the Sons of Veterans.

In July, 1898, a contribution of $43.50 was sent to the treasurer of Chickamauga Chapter, Tennessee, for use among the sick soldiers at Chickamauga. A large box of comforts was also sent to the soldiers in hospitals in the Philippines.

In May, 1900, two prizes were awarded in the high school for essays on the Battle of Trenton.

Joseph Spencer Chapter, of Portsmouth, 40 members, contributed toward the fund for making Mrs. William McKinley, wife of the President, a member of the Mary Washington Memorial Association, and also gave for the monument to the young heroine, Reubena Hyde Walworth.

Martha Pitkin Chapter, of Sandusky, 26 members, gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900. The chapter counts on its roll Mrs. Alice Davenport Mack, who is chairman of a committee on Revolutionary soldiers' graves, "Real Daughters" and relics for Ohio. She sends the following data about Revolutionary soldiers' graves:

John Brooks, sr., born 1755 at Southbury, Litchfield County, Conn.; when 17 years old moved with his family to Minissinque, N. Y.; enlisted at commencement of Revolutionary war and served to its close (served in New York state troops as private); was in battle of White Plains and in an engagement with the Indians at Wyoming; had several wounds, and drew a pension; placed on pension roll March 12, 1834, under act of Congress of 1832. Died September 22, 1846, in his ninety-first year. Buried in the old family burying ground, lot 37, near Spragues Corners, Florence Township, Erie County, Ohio.

David Carswell, private in New York Continentals; on pension roll December 13, 1830, under act of Congress of March 18, 1818. Buried in Oakland Cemetery, Sandusky, Erie County, Ohio.

Jabez Parsons, born in Enfield, Connecticut, 1753. Private in Lexington Alarm, April, 1775. Sergeant in Wolcott's Connecticut Regiment, December, 1775, to March, 1776. Quartermaster-sergeant, Second Connecticut Regiment, September 1, 1777. Regimental quartermaster, June 1, 1778. First lieutenant, August 1, 1779. Transferred to Third Connecticut Regiment, January 1, 1781. Resigned, May 4, 1781. Buried in Erie county.

Mrs. Sarah Morton Brewer, of Sandusky, owns an historic sword, once the property of General Heath, who organized the Massachusetts militia, directed the pursuit of the British from Concord, April 19, 1775, and trained the undisciplined troops before Bunker Hill. A large old powder horn of historic interest is also owned by another member.

Two other members, Mary Stuart Mackey and Maryette

Goodwin Mackey, are the authors of The Pronunciation of 10,000 Proper Names, published by Dodd, Mead & Co.

Nathaniel Massie Chapter, of Chillicothe, 21 members, gave in 1897 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund $15; in 1898, another $15, and in 1900, $60.50. A contribution of $5 was sent for the Washington statue at Paris, and a like sum for the La Fayette statue. A gift of $5 showed the interest of the chapter in the Reubena Hyde Walworth monument, and the ladies have joined in the subscription which made Mrs. McKinley a life member of the Mary Washington Memorial Association.

The grave of one Revolutionary soldier is in the neighborhood of this chapter. His record is as follows:

Anthony Sims Davenport, born May 19, 1757; one of seven brothers who served in that war. Was a private in the Virginia militia. Went to the Northwest Territory in 1796, after freeing his slaves in Virginia. Was placed on pension roll July 8, 1833, under act of Congress of June 7, 1832. He never drew his pension. He died May 19, 1835, in his seventy-eighth year. Buried in the family burying ground near Yellow Bud, Ross County, Ohio. On the pension roll he is credited to Pickaway County, because his house was situated just over the line in that county.

New Connecticut Chapter, of Painesville, 36 members, gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1898.

Urbana Chapter, of Urbana, 26 members, gave $15 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900.

By an unfortunate error the report for last year contained the statement that this chapter was filling an alcove of history in the public library of Dayton, instead of Urbana.

Ursula Wolcott Chapter, of Toledo, 79 members, has given given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund $10 in 1897, $25 in 1899, and $100 in 1900.

Western Reserve Chapter, of Cleveland, 208 members, gave $50 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899, an addition to the sum mentioned in our last report; and, in conjunction with the Sons of the American Revolution, has for the past two years given prizes of flags and historic pictures to the classes of eighth-grade schools which gave the best average set of answers to test questions in American history.

In February, 1900, a series of lectures on American history, delivered at the Western Reserve College for women by Prof. Moses Coit Tyler, was supported by the chapter at an expense of $300.

Many valuable books have been presented to the genealogical department of the Western Reserve Historical Society, and a wreath of roses was placed on the tomb of La Fayette in Paris on July 4, 1900. (Plate 7.)

When an appeal was made for clothing for the children of Cuba to enable them to go to school, 75 garments were sent to them through the D. A. R. section of the needlework guild, mentioned in our last report. Through this section, also, 100 more garments were sent for distribution to the charitable institutions of Cleveland in October, 1900.

In September, 1900, a contribution was sent to the governor of Texas for the benefit of the Galveston sufferers.

The committee on graves of Revolutionary soldiers report a large number buried in the Western Reserve. Their names are given below:

The committee—the larger part of which is composed of nonresident Daughters—hope to be able to add much valuable data in the near future, procured from their respective localities.

Meanwhile, cooperation is respectfully urged, and any information bearing upon the subject earnestly solicited.

The Sons of the American Revolution of Ohio in their yearbook for 1898 gave the names of many Revolutionary soldiers who died in Ohio, but the graves of fully 30 per cent of these can not now be located, owing to the fact that these soldiers were buried in cemeteries which were afterwards abandoned. Their bodies were removed to make room for improvements, and all trace of their identity was thus lost. Only 13 of these names belong to the Western Reserve.

Through the medium of the series of volumes known as The Pioneer Women of the Western Reserve, mentioned in our first report and edited by Mrs. Gertrude Van Rensselaer Wickham, chairman of this chapter's committee on Revolutionary graves, the names of at least 50 Revolutionary soldiers who are buried in the small villages of the Western Reserve have been recovered. When the publication is completed and indexed it is probable that many additional names will be found.

OREGON.

Multnomah Chapter, of Portland, 43 members, is still the only chapter in the state. A gift of $50 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, at the congress of 1900, shows that the members are alive to the interests of the society.

PENNSYLVANIA.

As will be noted, most of the Pennsylvania chapters have united in raising funds for two objects of especial interest in their own state, namely, the monument to the soldiers of the Brandywine at Ephrata, in Lancaster County, and the memorial to Mrs. Nathaniel B. Hogg (Julia K.), their first state regent. This testimonial has taken the form of an historical prize fund, the income from which is to be awarded to a student of one of the women's colleges of Pennsylvania for excellence in historical scholarship. The sum of $698.77 is now on hand for this purpose, and it will no doubt grow to a much more important amount. Nearly all the Pennsylvania chapters have also joined in the efforts of Philadelphia Chapter to build a clubhouse for the soldiers in Manila.

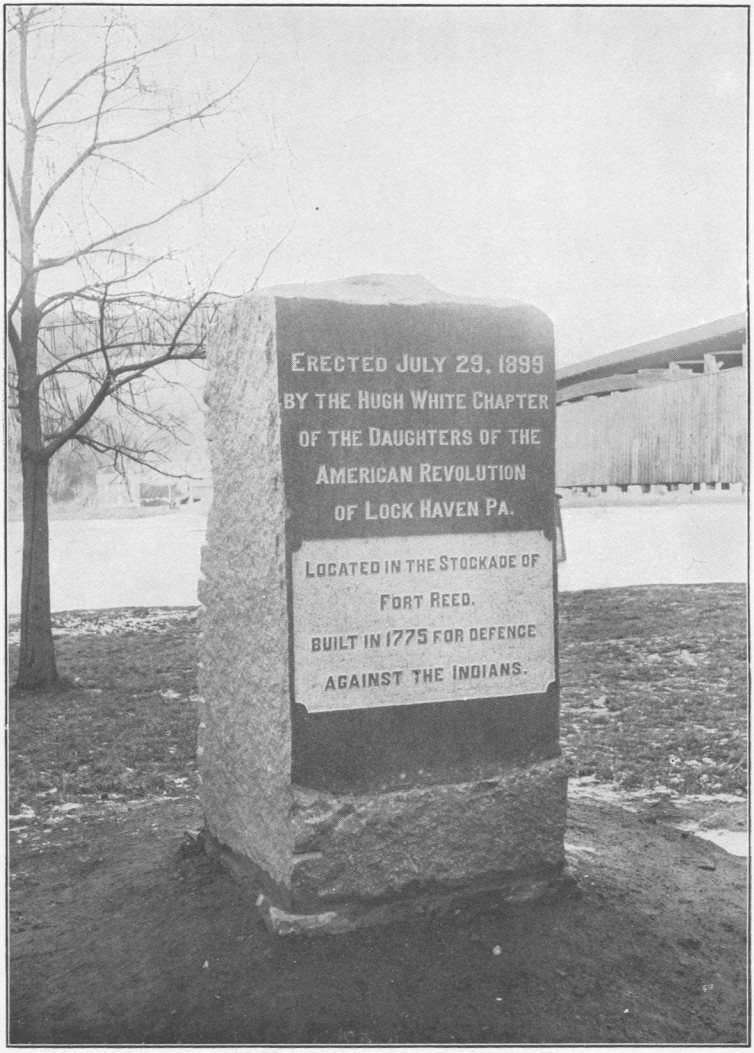

A gavel composed of wood and metal, contributed by the chapters from many historic spots in the state, was made under the direction of Miss Minnie F. Mickley, and is used at the state conferences. (Plate 72.)

Bellefonte Chapter, of Bellefonte, 39 members, contributed to the Mount Vernon Association and to the funds for the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris. The ladies have given $5 for the soldiers' clubhouse at Manila and have sent $25 to the Army and Navy chapter's relief committee in Washington. A third prize has been added to the two formerly mentioned, as the gift of this chapter to encourage historical study.

In July, 1900, the chapter held an art and loan exhibit during the centennial of Center County and raised in this way $150 toward a soldiers' monument for the county.

GAVEL OF THE PENNSYLVANIA CHAPTERS.

MONUMENT ON SITE OF FORT REED, PA. ERECTED BY COL. HUGH WHITE CHAPTER.

Berks County Chapter, of Reading, 29 members, gave $28 and 20 articles for the relief of soldiers, in addition to the contributions mentioned in our last report, or $53 in money and 172 articles in all.

The ladies sent 10 cents per capita to the fund for the purchase of Meadow Garden Farm, at Augusta, Ga., and $10 for the George Taylor house, at Easton, Pa., both of these buildings having been the homes of signers of the Declaration of Independence. For the memorial to Mrs. Julia K. Hogg, $15 were sent.

The annual award of $10 to the graduate of the high school presenting the best essay on an historical subject has become a very important feature of the school year, and has aroused much interest in the study of history.

Colonel Crawford Chapter, of Meadville, 40 members, gave $5 to the scholarship in honor of Mrs. Julia K. Hogg, and in 1900 spent $10 in prizes for the two best essays on Pennsylvania in the Revolutionary War by the graduating class of the high school. These prizes will be offered again next year. The soldiers' clubhouse at Manila received $5. The ladies are raising funds for a memorial stone to be erected next year in the public park in commemoration of La Fayette's visit to Meadville. The graves of Revolutionary soldiers in the cemetery are being marked.

Col. Hugh White Chapter, of Lockhaven, 28 members, erected July 29, 1899, a handsome monument to mark the site of Fort Reed, the last in the chain of the frontier forts on the west bank of the Susquehanna River, built in 1774 for the settlers as a defense against the Indians under Bald Eagle. The monument is of Millstone Point granite, 5 feet by 2 feet 6 inches square, and cost $75. (Plate 73.)

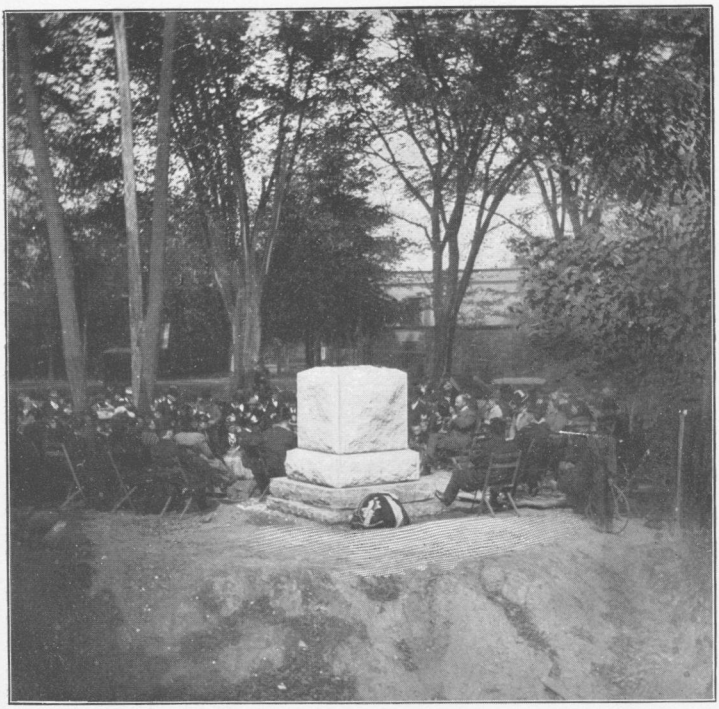

Col. William Montgomery Chapter, of Danville, 14 members, gave a contribution toward the monument at Ephrata, in memory of the soldiers who fell at the battle of the Brandywine on September 11, 1777. The ladies gave $10 toward the soldiers' clubhouse at Manila. One of the members gave $5 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899.

Dial Rock Chapter, of West Pittston, 38 members, erected a fine memorial on the site of Jenkins Fort, one of these defenses built in the Wyoming Valley for the protection of the Connecticut settlers against the Indians. (Plate 74.) It was named for John Jenkins, a Quaker teacher born in Kingstown, R. I., February 6, 1727. He moved in 1750 to Connecticut, married there, and had seven children. The whole family afterwards moved to the Wyoming Valley. Thirteen of the members of this chapter are descendants of John Jenkins. The land on which the memorial stands, a part of the river common, was the gift of R. D. Lacoe, Hon. Theo. Strong, and the R. J. Wisner estate. The stone itself is a large block of native white conglomerate, presented by ex-Lieutenant-Governor L. A. Watres, in behalf of the Spring Brook Water Supply Company. It stands on a substantial foundation surrounded by an iron fence, and bears an aluminum plate on which appears the insignia of the society and the following inscription:

This stone marks the site of Jenkins Fort,
One of the Revolutionary defences of Wyoming, against
Indians and Tories.
Constructed 1776—Burned 1778.
[Insignia.] Erected by Dial Rock Chapter,
Daughters of the American Revolution,
Oct. 12, 1900.
May the sacrifices and sufferings
remembered by their descendants.

Donegal Chapter, of Lancaster, 87 members, published in 1899 a most attractive booklet on A Cluster of Historic Landmarks, gathered from the city and county of Lancaster. It contains illustrations of men and places connected with the early history of the town, and was prepared for the state conference of November, 1899. For the Ephrata Monument fund $141 were raised. Two prizes of $5 each were given in the girls' high school by the regent, who also contributed $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899. This is added to the $10 given by the chapter for this purpose in 1896. Two boxes of books were sent to the soldiers at Manila.

MONUMENT ON SITE OF JENKINS FORT, PA. ERECTED BY DIAL ROCK CHAPTER.

MONUMENT ON SULLIVAN'S ROAD. ERECTED BY GEORGE TAYLOR CHAPTER, EASTON, PA.

Germantown Chapter, of Germantown, 22 members, gave $2 toward the testimonial for Mrs. Julia K. Hogg, $6 for the preservation of the Betsey Ross house in Philadelphia, and $6 to the Site and Relic Society of Germantown. A contribution of $13 was sent to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900, and the graves of soldiers who fell in the battle of Germantown are decorated each year with flowers on Memorial Day. The chapter's collection of relics is increasing.

George Taylor Chapter, of Easton, 33 members, has given up its endeavor to purchase the George Taylor house and has returned to the donors the sums contributed for that purpose. The property is now held for a time by the Parsons Taylor Historical Society. The chapter unveiled on June 16, 1900, a fine tablet to commemorate the march of Gen. John Sullivan through Easton. The tablet is of bronze, placed upon a huge rock at the top of a steep grade on Sullivans road, just outside the grounds of La Fayette College. (Plate 75.) The inscription reads thus:

> This stone marks the road over which General John Sullivan marched, June 18th, 1779, to quell the Indian Insurrection and avenge the Wyoming Massacre.
> Erected by the George Taylor Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, June 18th, 1900.

The exercises on the occasion were attended by representatives of most of the patriotic societies of the locality, and eloquent and appropriate addresses were made, at the close of which the regent presented the memorial to the city to be guarded and preserved as a sacred trust. It was accepted by the mayor of the city with more than usual pleasure because it was the work of the women of Easton.

The ladies have raised $125 for the soldiers' clubhouse at Manila, and have offered prizes in the public schools. They contributed to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris, and gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1897. As far as means allowed they have responded to the calls of other chapters, and they hope to form an alcove of history in the public library.

Harrisburg Chapter, of Harrisburg, 79 members, became a charter member of the George Washington Memorial Association in 1899. The ladies contributed to the memorial for Mrs. Julia Hogg.

The annual prizes have been continued in the high schools. In 1899 the subject for competiton selected by a committee of the chapter was The home life of colonial women, and the part they took in the War for Independence. There were 34 competitors, and the first prize was awarded to Miss Gertrude E. Snavely, the second to Miss Irene Zeiders. All the essays showed much careful study and proved that the chapter had succeeded in its object of arousing an interest in history.

The chapter made its retiring regent a life member of the Mary Washington Memorial Association in 1900, and has given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund $472.50 during the years 1899 and 1900.

Independence Hall Chapter, 86 members, completed its organization January 3, 1899, gave $60 to the testimonial for the first state regent of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Hogg, and sent $505 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund during 1900. An enterprising society of the Children of the American Revolution under the auspices of the chapter has added $70 to the fund for this object.

Lawrence Chapter, of Newcastle, 18 members, is one of the new chapters, but has sent a large box of books, magazines, and papers to Capt. J. V. Cunningham, a Lawrence County soldier of Company L, Forty-second Infantry United States Volunteers, stationed at Manila; also a large box of books to Dr. Wm. G. Miller, another Lawrence County man, who is stationed on the island of Negros, in the Philippines. These officers and the men under them have returned the compliment by sending to the ladies a Filipino flag and a gavel made of native wood. The chapter has sent $5 for the soldiers' clubhouse at Manila.

Lycoming Chapter, of Williamsport, 67 members, gave $23.16 to the La Fayette statue in Paris and sent $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899. The furnishing of the room in the Home for the Friendless, mentioned in last year's report, has been completed.

Merion Chapter, of Bala, 30 members, prepared a list of historic spots in the old Welsh township of Lower Merion. This list may be found in Appendix H. The chapter has always recognized the duty of collecting and preserving relics, and its charter is framed in a round window sash from old Independence Hall. Miss Margaret B. Harvey, historian of the chapter, copied an orderly book and several letters, the work of Revolutionary soldiers, and sent them to the state librarian at Harrisburg, Pa., to be embodied in the Pennsylvania archives. While working on these archives she read that a battalion of Georgia Continentals, under Col. John White, were encamped near Bala in August, 1777. Step by step she has followed those ragged, footsore men through musty manuscripts and through the pages of history, wherever she could find a trace of them, picking up a name here and there until she has gathered 2,609 names. Her work in connection with the list of Georgia's Revolutionary soldiers is mentioned in the report of Georgia, and her list of names compiled from sources outside the state archives forms Appendix F. Such indefatigable work undertaken for the glory of another state than her own is rare. She believes that those early pioneers whose bones are moldering on many fields far distant from their homes will rise up against her in the day of judgment if she omits one name which any possible research might have revealed and preserved to posterity. As a further help in the work of the Georgia Daughters, Mrs. Peter J. Hughes, corresponding secretary of the chapter, obtained from the state library at Harrisburg a set of Pennsylvania archives and sent them to Mrs. Peel at Atlanta to be used as a model in arranging the Georgia archives.

Philadelphia Chapter, of Philadelphia, 342 members, has established itself in permanent rooms, though the annual and other important meetings are held in Independence Hall, as mentioned in our first report.

The chapter has contributed $25 each to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris, and the regent added $100 to the La Fayette statue fund; $10 were sent for the Abiah Folger Franklin memorial at Nantucket, Mass.; $100 to the sufferers by the hurricane in Porto Rico; $50 to the sufferers by the flood at Galveston, Tex., and $100 to the memorial to Mrs. Julia K. Hogg. Since our last report $175 have been added to the Continental Memorial Hall fund by members of this chapter, making the total given by the chapter to that fund $403.

A research committee has undertaken the work of identifying the Sharpless collection of portraits in Independence Hall and has succeeded in identifying all but one. This statement but feebly represents a vast amount of labor, and the work is one of the most unique yet undertaken by any chapter. During the summer of 1899 the museum in Independence Hall was, by permission of the city, moved into the two wings of the building under the direction of Mrs. Samuel Chew, a member of this chapter. The east wing now contains the Revolutionary relics and the west wing the colonial. The Revolutionary museum is under the care of the chapter.

Continuing the war relief work begun in 1898, three large boxes of books and magazines have been sent to the soldiers on duty at Manila, and the fund for the soldiers' clubhouse there, begun by the chapter with an appropriation of $100, has reached the sum of $4,821 through donations of individual members and subscriptions received from other patriotic societies.

Phoebe Bayard Chapter, of Greensburg, 11 members, though very small in number has added $60 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund through direct contributions from the chapter treasury and by the gifts of individual members. This makes a total of $85 to the credit of that chapter for that fund.

Pittsburg Chapter, of Pittsburg, 382 members, contributed $25 to the purchase and restoration of Meadow Garden Farm, at Augusta, Ga., and $25 to the statue of La Fayette in Paris, while $350 have been given to the testimonial fund which will keep the name of Mrs. Julia K. Hogg always in memory among the young women of the state. This chapter also had part in the building of the monument to Reubena Hyde Walworth at Saratoga. The gifts of the chapter to the Continental Memorial Hall have amounted to $470 since 1897. In 1899 an entertainment given by the chapter for the fund which maintains the blockhouse of old Fort Pitt raised the sum of $1,215. A picture and description of this blockhouse were included in our first report.

Presque Isle Chapter, of Erie, 47 members, has contributed $35 in all toward the Continental Memorial Hall fund, $10 to the La Fayette and Washington statues in Paris, and $5 to the memorial to Mrs. Julia K. Hogg. The chapter also assisted the citizens' committee of the town in a reception held on February 22, 1899, for the 350 soldiers and sailors who returned from the Spanish war; sent two boxes of books to the soldiers' library at Manila; gave $10 toward the soldiers' clubhouse there, and made 9 dozen garments, to clothe some of those left destitute by the hurricane in Porto Rico.

Quaker City Chapter, of Philadelphia, 184 members, established in April, 1899, a thriving society of Children of the American Revolution, named in honor of General Muhlenburg, and numbering now 55 members. These young people are therefore soon to be well instructed in their duties as future citizens.

On the same lines this chapter has been very active in association with the board of education in establishing vacation schools and playgrounds for the children of the city. For their study 60 framed illuminated pictures of birds in the neighborhood were presented to the schools, and plants, flowers, and live animals for nature study were also given.

The regent was made a life member of the Paoli Association, and two loan exhibitions of historic relics of great interest and value were held in 1899 and in 1900. The ladies are much interested in the project of securing pensions for "Real Daughters," and are using all available means to accomplish that end.

The money contributions of the chapter have been many and various. Since 1897, $238 have been given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, $132 to the clubhouse for soldiers at Manila, $20 to the testimonial to Mrs. Julia K. Hogg, $25 to the Porto Rico relief fund, $10 each to the La Fayette and Washington statues at Paris, $10 for a life membership in the Paoli Association, and $10 to the American Auxiliary of the Cuban Red Cross, while a quantity of books and pamphlets were sent to Cuba.

The chapter has assumed the pleasant duty of decorating, on all national holidays, the statue of Washington, which stands in front of Independence Hall.

One of the members has made it a habit to decorate on Memorial Day the graves of Revolutionary soldiers at Milton, Pa., in the name of Quaker City Chapter.

The greatest work of the chapter during the last two years has been the raising of funds for a granite memorial to be placed in Washington Square, Philadelphia, opposite the old city prison, in memory of over 2,000 men who died there as prisoners of war during the years 1777 and 1778. The monument is nearly ready for unveiling, and will appear in our next year's report.

Another great work in which the chapter is much interested is the preservation of Valley Forge and its surroundings, hallowed by the sufferings and sacrifices of our Revolutionary soldiers during the bitter years of 1777 and 1778. Circulars were issued to every chapter in the state, urging cooperation to secure the passage of an act by the Pennsylvania legislature for this purpose. Later, the chapter became one of the first members of the Valley Forge National Park Association and has sent appeals on its behalf to the regent of every chapter in the country, urging united effort to have a bill passed by the Congress of the United States setting apart this tract as a national military park, and providing an appropriation for acquiring and maintaining it. The bill is now before Congress, but has not yet become a law.

Sunbury Chapter, of Sunbury, 23 members, awarded in 1899 two prizes for the best essays written by members of the graduating class of the high school. The first prize was given to Miss Edna Bevan, the second to Miss Mabel Bittermann.

A contribution of $10 was sent to the testimonial fund for Mrs. Julia K. Hogg, and the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in the vicinity are annually decorated on Memorial Day. Their names follow:

Jacob Becker, in Sunbury Cemetery.
Capt. Charles Gobin, in Sunbury Cemetery.
William Grey, in Sunbury Cemetery.
John Lyons, in Sunbury Cemetery.
Capt. William McCurdy, in Sunbury Cemetery.
Capt. Samuel Hunter, buried at Fort Augusta.

Susquehanna Chapter, of Clearfield, 27 members, awarded during 1900 two prizes to pupils of the high school for the best essays on subjects of Revolutionary history.

A contribution was made to the soldiers' monument at Ephrata, and two large boxes of reading matter were sent to Manila for the soldiers stationed there.

Tioga Chapter, of Athens, 21 members, has just organized, but it has already undertaken as its special work to mark the site of Fort Sullivan, which was located at that place.

The ladies have identified the graves of the following Revolutionary soldiers buried in Athens and vicinity:

Valley Forge Chapter, of Norristown, 38 members, has contributed to the La Fayette statue in Paris and to the testimonial for Mrs. Julia K. Hogg. The addition to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899 was $50 from this chapter. The great work for the year 1900 was the undertaking to furnish the old headquarters at Valley Forge. As the result of an entertainment given for this purpose, $103.45 were realized, and a committee was appointed to secure antique furniture for the historic rooms. A rag carpet was made by individual members, who sewed the balls of rags just as their great grandmothers did in years gone by.

Venango Chapter, of Franklin, 24 members, contributed to the funds for Meadow Garden Farm and for the George Taylor house and sent $5 to the scholarship fund in honor of Mrs. Hogg. Twelve of these twenty-four members are life members, and their fees have therefore swelled the permanent fund for building the Continental Hall by $162.50. A gold medal was awarded to the student in the high school who wrote the best essay on the British invasion of Pennsylvania.

Washington County Chapter, Washington, 14 members, gave $5 toward the fund for the gold medal to Company H of the Tenth Regiment, United States Volunteers, $5 to the scholarship fund in honor of Mrs. Hogg, and $2.50 each to the Washington and La Fayette statues in Paris.

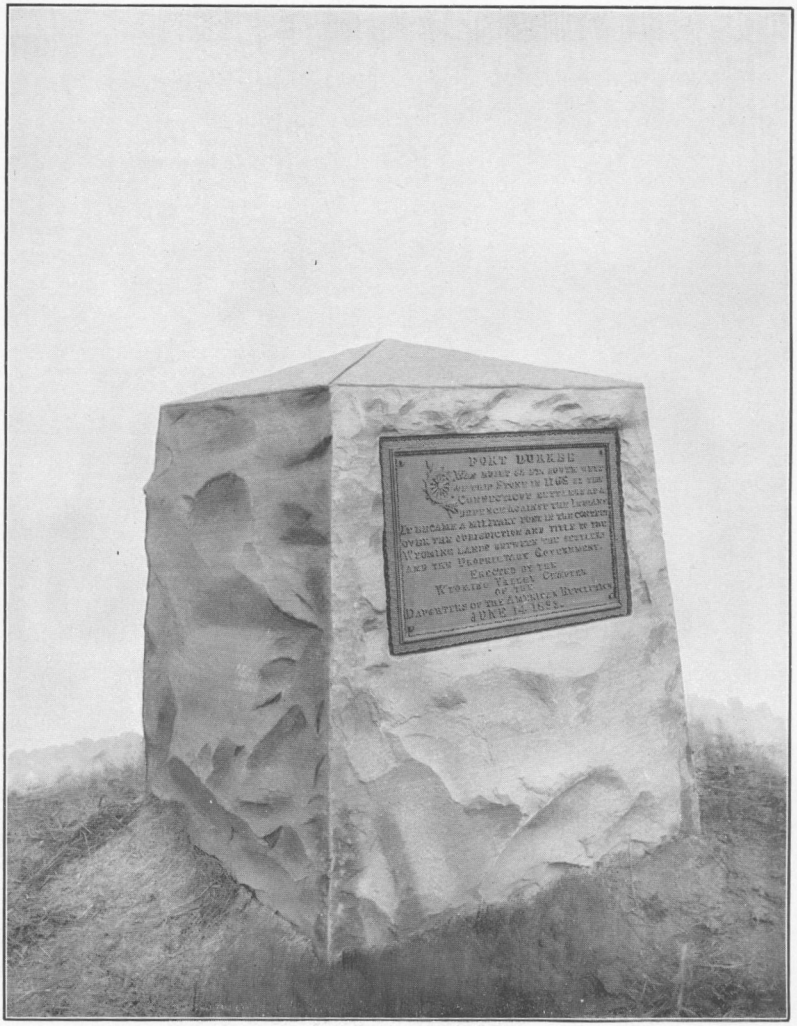

The programme for the historical work of the chapter is most complete and instructive, the study of events being interspersed with character sketches of the actors therein.

Witness Tree Chapter, of Columbia, 24 members, commemorates in its name one of the stirring events of the Revolution. In June, 1777, when Generals Howe and Cornwallis in New Jersey were making extraordinary efforts to crush the power of the colonies, an express was sent to call out the battalion of Donegal under Col. Alex. Lowrey. The express arrived on Sunday morning during service in the old Donegal church. The congregation adjourned to the surrounding grove, and the men, clasping hands in a circle around the "witness tree," pledged their faith anew to stand by each other and by the cause of the colonies. This battalion served at the Brandywine in the following September, and many of the men are buried in the old churchyard.

In our last report mention was made of the efforts of this chapter to raise a monument to these soldiers of Donegal. This has now been done. The memorial is of bluestone from Preston County, W. Va., and the stone was the gift of the regent. It is almost 15 feet high. Several hundred names of the Donegal soldiers have been carved upon the polished sides of the monument, and the expense of the whole undertaking was $300. Many descendants of these men added their contributions to forward the work. The stone was unveiled October 5, 1899, with appropriate and inspiring ceremonies. The old church and the monument appear on Plate 76.

Wyoming Valley Chapter, of Wilkesbarre, 111 members, gave $100 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1896. It continues to hold its meetings semimonthly from October until June, a literary and a business meeting alternating. At the literary meetings papers of great interest, showing much original research, are presented. The chapter has rooms in the same building occupied by the Wyoming Historical and Geological Society, and many of the ladies are members of that society. Mrs. William H. McCartney (Katherine Searle), the organizing regent in 1891, still holds the same office, while many other officers have also served continuously. To their unflagging interest is due much of the successful work of the chapter.

On June 14, 1899, the chapter unveiled with patriotic ceremony a handsome memorial on the site of Fort Durkee, one of the frontier forts in Pennsylvania, built in 1769 by Maj. John Durkee, president of the First Settlers from Connecticut. (Plate 77.) The inscription on the tablet is as follows:

Fort Durkee was built 82 feet southwest of this stone in 1769 by the Connecticut settlers as a defense against the Indians. It became a military post in the contest over the jurisdiction and title to the Wyoming lands between the settlers and the Proprietary Government.

Erected by the
of the Daughters of the American Revolution,
June 14, 1899.

An identical monument was placed at the same time on the site of Fort Wyoming, erected a few rods below on the same side of the river by a company under Capt. Amos Ogden under orders from the authorities of Pennsylvania. (Plate 78.) The inscription reads thus:

This stone marks the site of Fort Wyoming, built by the Proprietary forces January 1771. Captured by the Connecticut Settlers the same year and used as a defense against the Indians. Rebuilt in 1778, and became an important Military Post during the Revolutionary war.

Erected by the Wyoming Valley
Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution
June 14, 1899

The two stones are 5 feet 7 inches high, and stand on what is known as the river common or bank of the Susquehanna.

Around these two stockade forts the harassing partisan warfare of Pennamite and Yankee for the possession of the beautiful vale of Wyoming was waged from 1769 to 1784.

At the approaching state conference the chapter expects to unveil another memorial on the site of "Forty Fort." This will appear in next year's report. The valuable memorials which have been erected by this chapter, as shown in the reports of successive years, are something of which it may well be proud, and will prevent coming generations from forgetting the great and heroic sacrifices which made possible the peace and security which they inherit.

Yorktown Chapter, of York, 30 members, gave $10 to the LaFayette statue in Paris. In March, 1900, prizes of $10 were given in the public schools for the best essays on Benjamin Franklin and his influence on American history.

RHODE ISLAND.

Bristol Chapter, of Bristol, 75 members, is raising funds for the statue of Gen. Nathanael Greene which is to adorn the new statehouse at Providence. The ladies have identified the graves of thirty-five Revolutionary soldiers, which were afterwards marked by the Sons of the American Revolution. The record of these soldiers, as compiled by Miss Charlotte M. Shepard and Miss Anna B. Manchester, is as follows:

Allen, James.—Rank, private; Captain Carr's company, Colonel Smith's regiment. Birth, September 18, 1754; death, October 19, 1811, Bristol; age, 57 years. Flint Lock and Powder Horn Chapter, of Pawtucket, 33 members, raised $40 in March, 1900, as the proceeds of an historical lecture. This sum was given toward the statue of Nathanael Greene for the new state house at Providence. In October, 1900, an industrial school, under the patronage of the chapter, was started in one of the public school buildings. This has been well attended, and has proved a success. Funds for this purpose were raised by means of an exhibit of the International Doll Collection.

Gaspee Chapter, of Providence, 291 members, has a fund of $1,000, the income of which is devoted annually to the student in the woman's college of Brown University who presents the best essay on an historical subject. By a typographical error in last year's report the sum was given as $100 instead of $1,000. An annual contribution of $50 is made to the Mount Vernon Association. A library of books bearing upon the Revolution has been started in connection with the city library, and generous gifts were made to the Washington and La Fayette statues. Miss Mary C. Wheeler, a member of the chapter, is the principal of a secondary private school in Providence. As delegate to the congresses of secondary education and drawing at the Paris Exposition she gave an address on drawing in the schools of America.

Narragansett Chapter, of Kingston, 24 members, has accepted the deed of a burial ground, which lies in an obscure part of an adjoining town. The chapter intends to put the place in order and to keep it fenced.

General Nathanael Greene Chapter, of East Greenwich, 31 members, honors the name of Rhode Island's famous Revolutionary general. Prizes amounting to $8 have been given to the grammar-school pupils for the best original essays on the Revolutionary war or on different periods of it. Two silk flags have been presented to the schools.

Pawtucket Chapter, of Pawtucket, 86 members, has located the graves of several Revolutionary soldiers. Among them is that of Capt. George Carrier, who came over with La Fayette and is buried in Mineral Spring cemetery, Pawtucket.

Phœbe Greene Ward Chapter, of Westerly, 48 members, gave $10 to the La Fayette statue in Paris, $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, and $10 as a prize in the high school for the best historical essay, all in 1899. In 1900 it gave $50 toward the statue of Gen. Nathanael Greene to be placed in the new statehouse. The graves of six Revolutionary soldiers have been identified and marked. The names follow:

Name.	Died.	Service.
Col. Harry Babcock	1800	Commanded the forces at Newport; drove off the British man-of-war Rose by firing with his own hand an 18-pounder from the open beach.
Joshua Babcock	1783	Major-general of militia in 1776; deputy of Westerly for thirty years; great friend of Benjamin Franklin.
Nathan Barber	1816	Commissary of military stores and deputy in 1777.
Amos Pendleton	1821	Ensign in Westerly Alarm list.
James Rhodes	1806	Sent by governor of Rhode Island in 1775 to remove all the neat cattle from Rhode Island.
Capt. Joseph Wilcox	1804	Served two years in Captain Adams's company of artillery and two years as captain of militia.

All these graves are in the vicinity of Westerly.

The chapter assisted the Sons of the American Revolution in marking the graves of:

David Clark.
Allen Greene.
Sanford Noyes.
Col. Thomas Noyes.
Edward Perry.

These are in different parts of the state.

William Ellery Chapter, of Newport, 48 members, gave $5 to the Reubena Hyde Walworth Monument, $10 to the Galveston sufferers, and awarded a prize of $5 for the best written essay in American history. The graves of Revolutionary soldiers are soon to be marked, but as the list of them is not completed it can not appear in this report.

Woonsocket Chapter, of Woonsocket, 51 members, gave $10.50 toward the purchase of the Wolf Den property at Pomfret, Conn., mentioned in last year's report as under the care of Elizabeth Porter Putnam Chapter.

One of the famous "Real Daughters" of our society, Mrs. Mary L'Espérance Bennett, was a member of this chapter.

She was the daughter of Joseph L'Espérance who came with La Fayette in 1777. She died September 28, 1899, aged 74 years.

In October, 1900, a contribution of $25 was made to the Gen. Nathanael Greene statue for the state house at Providence, and $10 were expended in markers for graves of Revolutionary soldiers. Their names are given below.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Catawba Chapter, of Rock Hill, 16 members, awarded in 1900 a gold medal to Winthrop College where 400 young women attend. Another medal will be awarded in the coming year. Contributions have been made to the La Fayette statue in Paris and to the monument for Confederate soldiers in Ebenezer Cemetery, York County, S. C. The ladies also expect to assist the members of Kings Mountain Chapter in raising funds for removing the body of Col. James Williams, one of the heroes of Kings Mountain, from the neglected spot where it was interred to the battlefield where he fell, and where a monument stands as a memorial of that battle.

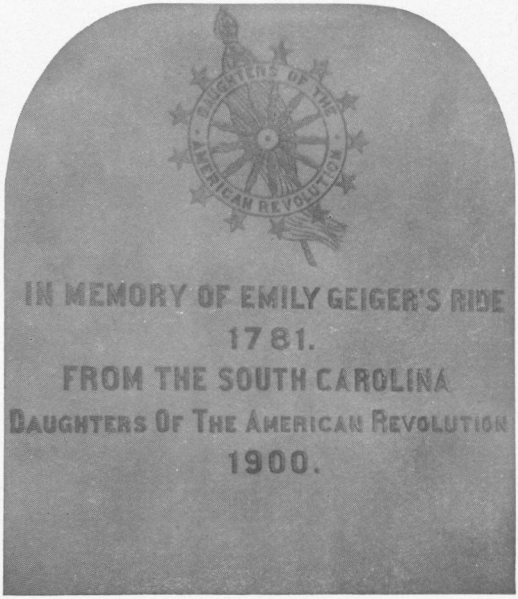

Cateechee Chapter, of Anderson, 16 members, is named from a pretty Indian legend belonging to that locality, for no Revolutionary history is known to be connected with that part of the state. A volume containing the legend in verse was given to the library of the national society. The members, since their organization, have pursued the study of English history with the view of preparing themselves for the study of American history. The chapter is endeavoring to establish a public library in Anderson.

Columbia Chapter, of Columbia, 41 members, has twice offered a medal to the pupils of the high schools and colleges for women in Columbia. The first subject for competition was Upper South Carolina, and the medal in this case was awarded to Miss Mary Earl Lyles. The second topic was The battle of Fort Moultrie; for the best essay on this subject the medal was awarded in December, 1898, to Miss Aniese Cotchett, a pupil of the Ursuline convent.

A contribution for the purchase of Meadow Garden Farm at Augusta, Ga., was made in 1899.

The regent of the chapter, Mrs. Annie I. Robertson, has been indefatigable in making photographs of historic buildings and places in the vicinity connected with the Revolution, and has also photographed several muster rolls of companies that volunteered for service in that war. The rolls were in a very dilapidated condition, but she has secured quite legible copies by this means.

Mrs. Robertson was also commissioned by the governor to represent the state at the ceremonies attending the unveiling of the La Fayette monument in Paris. At this time she placed upon that monument a copy of the coat of arms of the state—a palmetto tree made of natural palmetto leaves.

ERECTED BY COLUMBIA CHAPTER.

In February, 1900, a white marble tablet in memory of Emily Geiger's ride was placed in a conspicuous position in the lobby of the state capitol at Columbia. (Plate 79.)

The chapter has given some volumes to the library of the national society and some relics to the society's collection in the National Museum at Washington. Since March, 1897, the sum given by this chapter to the Continental Memorial Hall fund amounts to $50.

Cowpens Chapter, of Spartanburg, 42 members, has sent relics and books to increase the collection of the national society at Washington. An additional gift of $25 was made in February, 1900, to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, thus making the chapter's total contribution for that object $35.

The ladies have begun the collection of a library, and are also cooperating in the movement for the preservation of the battlefield of Cowpens.

Kings Mountain Chapter, of Yorkville, 19 members, gave $5 to the La Fayette statue in Paris, and $1.30 to the purchase of Meadow Garden Farm at Augusta, Ga. Before the chapter was fully organized two members gave $5 each to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1897. This was supplemented by $5 in 1899 and $17 in 1900, making a total on that account of $32 to the credit of this small chapter.

The Kings Mountain battlefield is situated about 12 miles from Yorkville, and has been in a neglected condition for many years. In 1880, ten years before our society was organized, an association called "The Kings Mountain Centennial Association" purchased this battlefield and erected there a monument to the fallen heroes of that memorable contest. In the twenty years since that date many members of this association have died and others moved to distant places, and the rest have grown indifferent. As the chapter feels an especial interest in the spot through the descent of many members from men who participated in the strife, the ladies obtained the consent of all surviving members of the old association with whom they could communicate, formed a new "Kings Mountain Centennial Association," and obtained a charter from the secretary of state of South Carolina. This was the only method by which they could legally obtain possession of the ground and be assured of a right to preserve the sacred spot from desecration. The ladies are now working hard to overcome opposition to their obtaining possession of the remains of Col. James Williams, who fell in the battle, and whose dust they desire to reinter upon the field where his life was given in the service of this country.

Nathanael Greene Chapter, of Greenville, 19 members, honors the name of the distinguished Revolutionary general for whom the city was named, and who is also held in remembrance by the chapter in East Greenwich, R. I. The monthly meetings are occupied with the consideration of interesting and instructive historical papers.

Rebecca Motte Chapter, of Charleston, 53 members, contributed $10 to the La Fayette statue in Paris, and its gifts to the Continental Memorial Hall fund since 1897 have amounted to $55. It has continued the relief work reported last year by providing a substantial luncheon for 400 engineers who were on their way to Cuba in February, 1899.

Three soldiers who died in Charleston during the terrible summer of 1898 are buried there in Magnolia Cemetery, just opposite the spot where 600 Confederate soldiers are at rest. The chapter has assumed the care of these three graves. The national flag is upon the headstones and waves also upon the graves as is the custom at the North. On the 10th of May, when the graves of those who wore the gray in 1861 are annually covered with flowers, these three who wore the blue in our latest war are also remembered by the warm-hearted southern daughters "because they were patriots." On May 30, the national Memorial Day, they again receive a tribute of flowers "because their comrades at home are remembered on that day." Their names are as follows:

C. D. Johnson, Company I, Second North Carolina regiment, died September 12, 1898, aged 20 years.

Laurel B. Johnson, Company D, Second Wisconsin regiment, died August 27, 1898, aged 21 years.

Carl Shipman, Company B, Second Wisconsin regiment, died July 20, 1898, aged 21 years.

This work is especially due to the loving enthusiasm of the regent, Mrs. Frances Mather Jones, who was known as "the mother of the Sixteenth Pennsylvania and Second Wisconsin regiments." Her portrait may be seen in Plate 80 at the head of the graves.

From October, 1898, to date seven members have been added to the state chapter, called, temporarily, the "Hot Springs Chapter."

In January, 1899, the inmates of the Soldiers' Home at Hot Springs, S. Dak., contributed $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. This is the only Soldiers' Home, so far as known, in the United States that has ever contributed to this fund. In recognition of this exceptional action, the D. A. R. Congress sent a beautifully engraved certificate of appreciation to the veterans, and it is now framed and hung with the portraits of Washington, Lincoln, and other famous men of the Republic in the reception room of the home.

Outside of the home, the state contributions to the Continental Hall fund were $25.

On the 28th day of August, 1900, the state regent, Mrs. Andrew J. Kellar, with a distinguished party from other states and a few local members, dedicated a chamber in Wind Cave to our society. It is a beautiful recognition of our noble purpose, and should inspire us to nobler effort. This great natural cave is located 12 miles from Hot Springs. It is a monument changeless as the everlasting hills above it. In it are magnificent halls and chambers dedicated to various societies, orders, and churches, but none surpasses this splendid hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The membership throughout the state is still limited in number, the meager population being a continual drawback to rapid growth. Those who are interested, however, are appreciative of their privilege, and hope and work for greater things in the future.

TENNESSEE.

Bonny Kate Chapter, of Knoxville, 57 members, unveiled on May 15, 1900, a memorial stone at Lowes Ferry, Tenn., to mark the birthplace of Admiral Farragut. The spot is an eminence immediately above the north bank of the Tennessee, and the outlook on mountain and river is singularly beautiful and impressive. The stone of pink Tennessee marble, taken from the hills near by, stands about 3 feet high and was veiled by a flag formerly belonging to Farragut's flagship.

The inscription is as follows:

Erected by Bonny Kate Chapter, D. A. R., Knoxville, Tennessee.

Dedicated by Admiral Dewey May 15, 1900.

The exercises were held in the presence of a large audience beneath the spreading shadow of an ancient elm, under whose branches Farragut must have played when a boy. The address was delivered by Judge Temple, Tennessee's famous lawyer, author, and historian. In concluding his eloquent remarks he presented a fine miniature of Farragut to Admiral Dewey, the guest of honor, who as a young man served under the famous commander of the Hartford.

The picture on plate 81 was taken at the moment when the miniature was opened for inspection, and the Admiral exclaimed with delight, "That's Farragut!"

The regent of the chapter, Miss Mary Boyce Temple, was appointed by the governor to represent the state of Tennessee at the Paris Exposition.

Chickamauga Chapter, of Chattanooga, 51 members, continued until May, 1899, its work of war relief begun in May, 1898. A cherished volume of letters from prominent daughters all over the land, and from clergymen, soldiers, and trained nurses attests the value of the work, and forms a record which, in future years, will be as interesting a picture of the life at Camp Thomas as any history we now read of the sufferings at Valley Forge.

When no longer needed the diet kitchens were closed, and the outfit of cooking utensils was turned over to the Orphans' Home and Children's Refuge; also a large number of pillowcases and sheets. The last money paid for war relief was for the board of a sick soldier on Lookout Mountain.

In February, 1899, the ladies received a call for help from the Fourth Tennessee Regiment, stationed at Trinidad de Cuba, and living through the same desolation made so familiar at Camp Thomas. A trunk full of hospital supplies was gladly sent, supplemented by $65 from the Girls' Relief Society.

MEMORIAL AT BIRTHPLACE OF ADMIRAL FARRAGUT, LOWES FERRY, TENN. ERECTED BY BONNY KATE CHAPTER.

These articles were taken to the Trinidad Hospital by a lady of Nashville, who went to this house of misery to care for her son. This son, a captain, presented to the regent a collection of Cuban photographs and a roster of the regiment, as "From a soldier to a soldier's friend."

Commodore Perry Chapter, of Memphis 34 members, has given small contributions to aid the memorial work of other chapters, but as yet has not been able to undertake any such work of its own.

Cumberland Chapter, of Nashville, 65 members, gave $60 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1898, and presented to Gen. Joseph Wheeler on October 11, 1898, a handsome sword in remembrance of his services at Santiago. In November of the same year a contribution was made to the Meadow Garden Farm fund. In February, 1899, a gift of $27.50 was made to the La Fayette statue fund. On October 27, 1899, the chapter gave a banquet to the soldiers returned from the Philippines, and in March they gave $5 toward the fund for medals to the Tennessee soldiers of the Spanish war. Funds were also sent for the purchase of a silver service for the Tennessee rooms at Mount Vernon. In June, 1900, the ladies started a movement for the erection of a monument to the soldiers of the Revolution and their wives who are buried in Tennessee. The graves of 5 of these soldiers have been located as follows:

John Le Crest, 10 miles from Rudderville, Tenn.
Henry Sledge, 10 miles from Rudderville, Tenn.
Hardin Perkins, junction of the West and South Harpath rivers.
——— Voight, 2 miles from Nashville.
Jesse Kirby, 8 miles from Bowling Green, Ky.

Margaret Gaston Chapter, of Lebanon, 14 members, contributed $5 for the monument to Tennessee soldiers and $15 for local patriotic work to encourage the study of American history.

Old Glory Chapter, of Franklin, 14 members, has contributed to the purchase of Meadow Garden Farm at Augusta, Ga., and sent $20 in 1900 to the fund for the Continental Memorial Hall to be erected in Washington. It has established a flourishing society of Children of the American Revolution, which has given $5 to the La Fayette statue in Paris.

On February 22, 1900, medals were presented to the Williamson County men who had served in the Spanish-American war. Five dollars have been raised for the Tennessee monument to be erected at Nashville to the soldiers of 1776, and $2 for the monument at Talladega, Ala., to the brave Tennesseans who fell in the war of 1812.

The ladies under the chairmanship of Miss Susie Gentry, historian of the chapter, are continuing their efforts toward identifying the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in the vicinity of Franklin. Four of these men were mentioned in our last report, and 10 more have been identified, as follows:

John Allen, buried near Peytonsville.
Andrew Goff, buried on the farm of John B. McEwen, Williamson Co.
Jacob Grimmer, buried on the farm of J. B. Coleman, near Triune.
Robert Guthrie, buried on the Mayberry place, Williamson Co.
Peter Leslie, buried near Nolensville.
Moses Lindsey, buried in the Frost cemetery near Brentwood, Tenn.
D. McMahon, buried on the Dr. Andrew Ewing farm, now known as the McGovock place.
James Pitts, buried near Peytonsville, Tenn.
David Squires, buried in the old cemetery at Franklin.
James Turner, buried in the Webb cemetery near Kirkland.

These were discovered through advertisements put into the local papers, and through tracing out the lines of military grants which the state histories said had been settled in that locality.

Shelby Chapter, of Shelbyville, 12 members, has renewed its interest in our society during the last year, and is now working faithfully each month.

TEXAS.

George Washington Chapter, of Galveston, 49 members, gave $10 toward the monument to Reubena Hyde Walworth, a sincere tribute to the worth and patriotism of a noble Daughter. When the terrible flood tide destroyed so much of the city, all the members escaped with their lives, but their property loss has been very heavy. Through their means the contributions from other chapters for the relief of Galveston sufferers have been distributed with thoughtful care. Among other gifts they received $50 from the Philadelphia Chapter. This is but another illustration of the utility of our system of widely-scattered chapters. Wherever need arises there is an organized body ready to meet it, through which the affiliated societies can distribute their gifts in the most effective manner.

Jane Douglas Chapter, of Dallas, 55 members, has given $50 to the Texas gateway at Mount Vernon, and sent $26 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

Mary Isham Keith Chapter, of Fort Worth, 22 members, has donated $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

Thankful Hubbard Chapter, of Austin, 19 members, has given $50 to the Texas gateway at Mount Vernon.

UTAH.

Spirit of Liberty Chapter, of Salt Lake City, 29 members, contributed $10 in money to the sufferers from the Scofield mine disaster, and individual members were most active in raising the fund of $2,000 which was collected for the same purpose. It is still the only chapter in the state. The environment is not such as to encourage rapid growth in numbers, but though small in membership the chapter has yet proved itself large in influence.

After the election of Brigham H. Roberts to Congress, members of the chapter who knew him to be an open polygamist did all in their power to prevent him from taking his seat in Congress. They filed protests in due form with the proper Congressional committee, and used every kind of private influence to explain the situation to the citizens of eastern states. Their protests reached our Congress of 1900 and were approved by that body. Each member carried home a keener interest in the matter and a more earnest purpose to prevent an avowed polygamist from participating in legislation which might affect the most sacred rights of womanhood. Protests against the seating of Mr. Roberts, more numerous and earnest than before, soon filled the mail of every Congressman. As a result the man was debarred.

During the past year the chapter offered a medal to the girl in the senior class of the high school who presented the best essay on a patriotic subject.

The contest was held on the evening of Memorial Day, May 30, 1900, and the citizens generally took a great interest in the competition. The compositions showed much research and were of unusual excellence. The medal was awarded to Miss Bertha Bootes.

The chapter has decided to offer a prize annually and to enlarge the scope of this work as means allow.

VERMONT.

Ann Story Chapter, of Rutland, 67 members, has during the past year interested the board of aldermen to vote $100 toward restoring the old North Street cemetery, where several Revolutionary soldiers are buried. The chapter appropriated $30 from its treasury to assist in the work, and the place has been graded, fenced, and put in order.

The ladies have given $20.50 for the monument to Reubena Hyde Walworth, $10 to the Washington statue, and $15 to the La Fayette statue in Paris, and sent $50 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. This, with previous gifts, makes $140 to the credit of this chapter on that account.

The regent has given three prizes in the public schools for excellence in historical study.

Ascutney Chapter, of Windsor, 17 members, sent $5 to the La Fayette statue in Paris.

Bellevue Chapter, of St. Albans, 24 members, has given during the past year $15 for the Continental Memorial Hall fund, and expended $8 in prizes for the high school. It has contributed $10 toward a state circulating library.

Brattleboro Chapter, of Brattleboro, 78 members, contributed generously to the relief of the sufferers in storm-swept Porto Rico, and enlisted the aid of other citizens of the town. In this manner a barrel of clothing and $54 in money were collected.

The graves of several Revolutionary soldiers have been marked by members of the chapter.

The state regent, Mrs. Julius J. Estey (Florence Gray), is an honored member of this chapter.

The literary programmes of each meeting have been of great interest and instruction to the members, and they realize most fully the ideal of our society that each chapter shall be not "a little club, but a part of a living, throbbing whole, a world-wide organization, with one standard and one password—a good character—worthy of the good name we inherit."

Brownson Chapter, of Arlington, 19 members, gave $13 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900. This, with previous gifts for this purpose, makes a total of $33 since 1896. Mrs. Amos G. Draper (Bell Merrill), a member of this chapter until 1900, has compiled from records in the Treasury Department a list of those citizens of Massachusetts who gave money to sustain the Revolutionary armies. Descendants of these patriots are eligible to membership in our society. The book was published by subscriptions given by Massachusetts chapters. Mrs. Draper's other literary work is mentioned in the report of Miriam Danforth Chapter, D. C. She is the treasurer of the American Auxiliary to the Cuban Provisional Red Cross.

Ethan Allen Chapter, of Middlebury, 29 members, gave $5 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, raised $35 for the Cuban Provisional Red Cross, and sent a barrel of clothing and hospital supplies to the same society. They have identified the graves of 37 soldiers who fought in the Revolution. Their names follow:

Green Mountain Chapter, of Burlington, 46 members, sent $5 for the purchase of Meadow Garden Farm, in Augusta, Ga. The ladies gave $50 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1897, and sent $20 to each of the funds for the La Fayette and Washington statues in Paris.

During the spring of 1898 a bronze tablet was placed in Battery Park, Burlington (Plate 82), with the following inscription:

> The battery of thirteen guns on this ground repulsed an attack of three British gunboats, June 13, 1813.
> It was the defense of Burlington and of the United States army here encamped during the war of 1812.
> This tablet was erected by Green Mountain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, 1898.

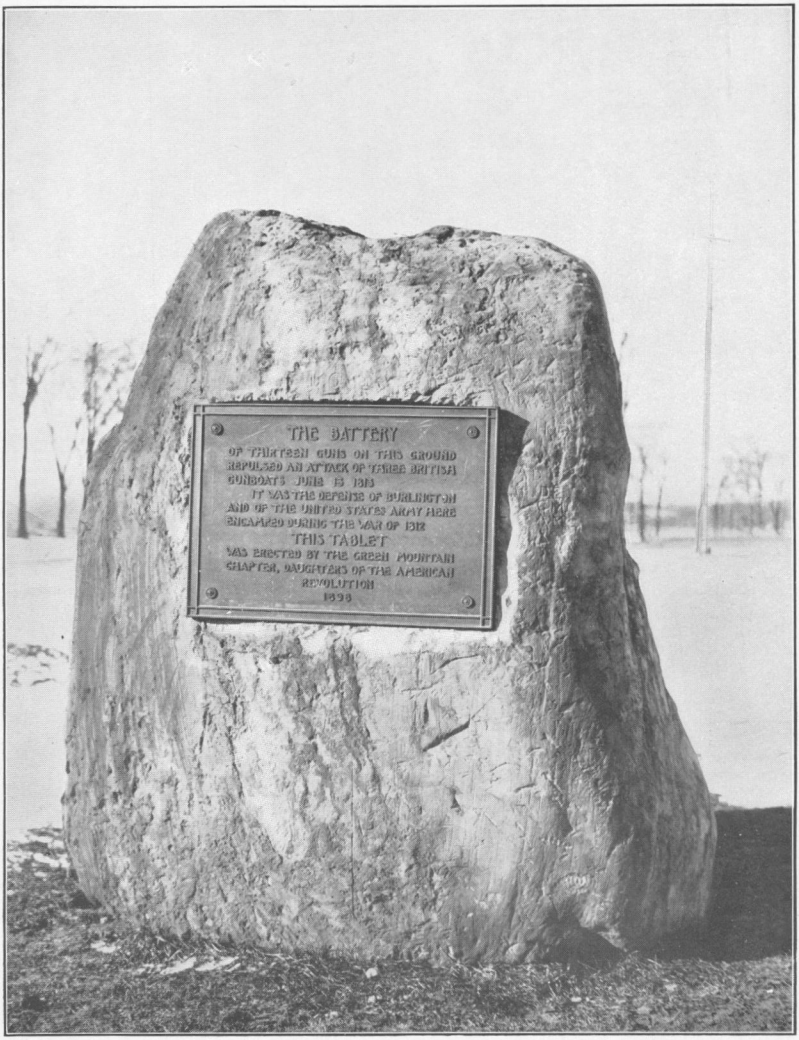

The tablet stands near the entrance of the park and is sure to attract the attention of visiting strangers. The cost was over $85.

Heber Allen Chapter, of Poultney, 38 members, offered two prizes of $5 each for the best essays on The causes of the Revolution and The necessity for the Declaration of Independence. One of the prizes was awarded in the village graded school and the other in the Troy Conference academy.

Two valuable books have been sent to the library of the national society at Washington, and $10 were contributed to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1897. The chapter joined in the "message of greeting" sent to Admiral Dewey by the Vermont Daughters of the American Revolution.

The chapter has begun the collection of relics. The gavel is made of wood taken from several places of peculiar interest to Vermonters.

In January, 1900, the ladies decided to mark the graves of Revolutionary soldiers in the vicinity. Many weeks were spent in collecting names, dates, and facts from town histories and the recollections of the oldest inhabitants. Between twenty and thirty names were found of these soldiers of the Revolution who were of a surety buried in the town, but thus far only 15 of these graves have been located. As a large part of the town records was destroyed by fire in 1862, the difficulty of the search was greatly increased. Immediately below will be found a list of the names and epitaphs of fifteen Revolutionary soldiers buried in Poultney, together with another list of those buried in Middletown Springs.

[Prepared by Mrs. Frances A. Hewitt Rice, regent of Heber Allen Chapter.]

Maj. Heber Allen, brother of Gen. Ethan Allen, was the first town clerk; held the office until his death; buried in the old cemetery at East Poultney. The tombstone inscription reads thus:

Ox Bow Chapter, of Newbury, 25 members, gave $5 to the La Fayette statue, erected in Paris in 1900.

The name of the chapter is derived from the natural situation of the locality. The windings of the Connecticut River at this point form the Great and Little Ox Bows. In early days this was the halfway resting place between the Atlantic and the Canadas, and its possessor was thought to hold the key which opened or shut the door of communication.

St. John de Crêvecœur Chapter, of St. Johnsbury, 15 members, joined with the other chapters of the state in the beautiful "greeting" designed by Tiffany and presented to Admiral Dewey on his return from Manila. In the fall of 1899 $10 were sent to the Continental Hall fund. The chapter is occupied with the study of Vermont history and has a gavel made of wood taken from an old house at Royalton that escaped burning when the town was destroyed by the Indians during the Revolution.

VIRGINIA.

Albemarle Chapter, of Charlottesville, 27 members, hopes to restore Shadwell, the birthplace of Jefferson. It was the first in the state to offer a contribution to the Continental Memorial Hall fund and gave $75 for that object in 1892. This was increased to $100 by the gift of $25 at the congress of 1900. The chapter is represented on the national board of management by Mrs. Albert H. Tuttle (Kate Austin), one of the vice-presidents general. Mrs. Tuttle is chairman of a committee which has in charge the exchange of historical papers among the Virginia chapters and has made the work most helpful to them all, even extending it to other states.

Betty Washington Lewis Chapter, of Fredericksburg, 13 members, hopes to mark and preserve from ruin some of the historic landmarks with which Fredericksburg abounds.

Beverley Manor Chapter, of Staunton, 25 members, offered for competition in the public school a gold medal, which was awarded to Miss Cranford, for an essay on Virginia in the Revolution. The chapter has appropriated $10 to the proposed statue of Thomas Jefferson, to be erected by the state of Virginia with the assistance of the "Daughters." The ladies gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899.

Blue Ridge Chapter, of Lynchburg, 32 members, has given two prizes to the pupils of the Lynchburg High School for the best essays on Benjamin Franklin.

During 1899 and 1900 $15 have been given to the Continental Memorial Hall fund and $5 to the La Fayette statue in Paris.

Dorothea Henry Chapter, of Danville, 94 members, offered a gold medal to the public schools for the best essay on The causes and effects of the American Revolution. It was awarded to Miss Lucy Hutchings. The giving of this prize will be continued. The Continental Memorial Hall fund received $100 from this chapter in 1899.

Fort Nelson Chapter, of Portsmouth, 28 members, has for the past year been trying to secure from the Secretary of the Navy the name Virginia for one of the first-class battle ships to be built for the Navy. The ship is now under construction at Newport News.

During the fall and winter of 1898 and 1899 the ladies found a large number of almost destitute families of men who had volunteered for the war with Spain. The patriotic duty of relieving this distress seemed more necessary than any other, and the ladies bent all their energies to the task and raised $1,200, which they turned over to a relief committee to distribute.

The chapter gave $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899, and much attention was given to the copying of old records of Revolutionary times to be found in the county clerk's office. The ladies have located the site of Fort Nelson.

Great Bridge Chapter, of Norfolk, 52 members, offered a gold medal as a prize to the pupils of the public schools for the best essay on a subject or character connected with the Revolution. Forty-one essays were presented, some very good, and the chapter feels gratified with the result.

The ladies gave $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900. This chapter is honored by having the state regent, Mrs. Hugh Nelson Page (Sallie Newton), among its members.

Hampton Chapter, of Hampton, 15 members, presented a medal to the student of the high school who wrote the best essay on Thomas Nelson of Yorktown.

Margaret Lynn Lewis Chapter, of Roanoke, 24 members, has added $25 to the fund for the monument to Andrew Lewis, mentioned in our last report.

A prize of $10 in gold was presented to the pupil of the Roanoke high school for the best essay on Benedict Arnold and his treason.

The ladies gave $5 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899.

Montpelier Chapter, of Orange, 15 members, gave $15 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899.

On the 10th of May, 1900, a handsome bronze tablet, placed on a bowlder, was unveiled on the site of the birthplace of President Zachary Taylor. The President of the United States telegraphed his cordial congratulations and hearty sympathy.

Mount Vernon Chapter, of Alexandria, 53 members, has contributed during the year $40 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund, and one member gave $50 more. This makes the total gift of the chapter to that fund $165 between February, 1897, and February, 1900.

An appeal was sent to the other chapters in the state on behalf of the Continental Hall. The result of this appeal can be seen in the reports of the Virginia chapters.

Two gold medals have been presented to the pupils of the public schools, one to a boy for the best essay on a Revolutionary hero other than Washington, and one to a girl for the best essay on a Revolutionary heroine.

This chapter is represented in the national board of management by three members, Mrs. William A. Smoot (Betty McGuire), chaplain general; Mrs. Eleanor Washington Howard, vice-president general in charge of the organization of chapters, and Miss Susan Riviere Hetzel, registrar general.

The ladies presented to the Rocky Hill Association a flag to float over Washington's old headquarters. The flag is 10 by 16 feet in dimensions and is a facsimile of the one used in Washington's time.

Old Dominion Chapter, of Richmond, 108 members, follows the example of the other Virginia chapters in offering to the pupils of the public schools a gold medal for the best essay on a Revolutionary character or subject.

When the battle ship Virginia is completed it is the intention of this chapter to present a silver loving cup to the vessel, and the other Virginia chapters will probably cooperate in this undertaking.

WASHINGTON.

Esther Reed Chapter, of Spokane, 19 members, honors the name of a noble Philadelphia woman who, though born in England, espoused with heart and soul the cause of her husband and of her adopted country in the struggle for liberty. In the spring of 1780, when the destitution of the Continental

DRINKING FOUNTAIN, TACOMA, WASH. ERECTED BY MARY BALL CHAPTER AND THE S. A. R.

Army was so great that even Washington had fears that it would be forced to disband, the women of Philadelphia organized for relief and communications were addressed to the women of other states asking their cooperation. Esther de Berdt Reed was chosen president of the society and gave herself unsparingly to the work. Material was purchased through the private purses of the women, jewels and trinkets were sacrificed to raise funds, and 2,200 shirts were made for the soldiers. On the 4th of July, 1780, Esther Reed wrote to Washington that the subscription fund they had raised amounted to $200,580 or £625 6s. 8d. in specie, making the whole amount in paper money $300,634. Early in September of that year she died from the effects of her unremitting labor. When her death was known the council and assembly of Pennsylvania adjourned "to pay their last respects to her exalted virtues." With such a model before them this young chapter can scarcely fail to go far in patriotic endeavor. They were organized on Flag Day, June 14, 1900, and have chosen to make the national flag, its suitable display and proper care, their special work in the state.

Mary Ball Chapter, of Tacoma, 55 members, has carried out the plans mentioned in our last report and dedicated on October 26, 1899, their beautiful memorial to Narcissa Whitman, the first white woman to found a Christian home in the state, a pioneer teacher and missionary to the Indians, by whom she and her brave husband were cruelly murdered. The memorial is in the form of a drinking fountain for the use of children and is situated in Wright Park, the most central in the city. The pedestal is of bronze in strong conventional design and bears upon its front a brass tablet with this inscription:

Narcissa Prentice Whitman,

A Pioneer Teacher,

A Christian Martyr;

Massacred by the Indians at Waiilalpu, Washington,

Nov. 29, 1847.

Her last prayer was for the children

She had taught and loved.

On a similar panel on the opposite side are these words:

Erected A. D. 1899 by contributions from the school children, S. A. R., D. A. R., and Park Commissioners of Tacoma.

The fountain has two troughs and will be much used by the children. Its cost was about $400. (Plate 83.)

At the dedication of this memorial the Indian band of twenty members from the state school for Indians took part in the exercises. They were descendants of those who perpetrated the massacre. This feature was unique and more than usually impressive.

During the year 1900 the chapter has undertaken the work of beautifying several unimproved spots within the city limits. The work consists in parking the spots chosen and in planting grass and shrubs and placing rustic seats. The cost of the work will be about $200. Besides this, the chapter has several times sent contributions to the children's home at Tacoma and to other charitable institutions. The ladies sent $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1898.

Rainier Chapter, of Seattle, 47 members, has been studying parliamentary law, and has given prizes for the two best essays written by pupils of the school. The ladies also contributed to the silver service for the Olympia, flagship of Admiral Dewey, and to the monument to Marcus Whitman at Walla Walla. The contribution to the Continental Memorial Hall fund was $10 in 1898. Prizes for the two best essays on Revolutionary topics were awarded to pupils of the high school.

Virginia Dare Chapter, of Tacoma, 14 members, is one of the new chapters organized since our last report. Its object is to study American history with thoroughness. It is also the intention of these ladies to assist Mary Ball Chapter in beautifying the unsightly portions of the city.

WEST VIRGINIA.

William Henshaw Chapter, of Hedgesville, 13 members, is the first to be organized in the state. It is the intention of the members to mark the graves of the numerous Revolutionary soldiers who were buried in the vicinity.

WISCONSIN.

Beloit Chapter, of Beloit, 51 members, has given three cash prizes to pupils of the city schools for the best essays on given Revolutionary subjects and sent $5 for the La Fayette statue in Paris. The ladies have also donated histories to traveling libraries, and have paid hospital expenses for two weeks for a soldier recently returned from Cuba.

Fay Robinson Chapter, of Reedsburg, 14 members, takes its name from the union of two historic families at Bennington, Vt., by the marriage of Mary Fay, daughter of Stephen Fay, to Moses Robinson, son of Samuel Robinson, who founded Bennington. Stephen Fay kept the famous "Catamount Tavern," where met the council of safety with General Stark and the "Green Mountain Boys." Moses Robinson was in succession, colonel of militia, member of council of safety, member of Congress, governor of Vermont, and for eight years chief justice of the state.

The regent of the chapter is a descendant of these united lines.

The chapter sent $10 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1899 and gave $20 to be expended in the decoration of the Reedsburg public library.

Fond du Lac Chapter, of Fond du Lac, 16 members, gave $5 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900.

Janesville Chapter, of Janesville, 51 members, contributed $20 to the La Fayette statue, and offered prizes amounting to $10 to the public-school children for the two best essays on La Fayette. In 1900 prizes of the same value were also offered.

In December, 1899, the ladies sent $25 to the Cuban Provisional Red Cross, and in January, 1900, they gave $50 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

They have contributed $10 for books for the children's library at Janesville and gave 10 cents each for plants with which to make it attractive.

Kenosha Chapter, of Kenosha, 28 members, is small, but is using its influence almost entirely toward the Continental Memorial Hall fund, as the members feel that to be the most practical and useful object before the society. The ladies have, however, given $2.40 for the purchase of Meadow Garden Farm, at Augusta, Ga., and $5 to the monument to Reubena Hyde Walworth.

La Crosse Chapter, of La Crosse, 49 members, sent $5 in January, 1899, for the La Fayette statue in Paris. In July, 1899, about 300 pounds of clothing were sent to Porto Rico for the sufferers by the hurricane. In October, 1899, a prize of $5 was offered to the girls in the classes in United States history at work in the public schools. In January, 1900, a contribution of $25 was made to the Continental Memorial Hall fund. In March, 1900, a box of books weighing 320 pounds went to the soldiers on duty at Guam, one of 270 pounds was sent to the Forty-fifth United States Infantry at Manila, and a third, of 251 pounds, went to the Sixteenth United States Infantry at Manila.

Milwaukee Chapter, of Milwaukee, 201 members, continues to press its work of trying to induce Congress to pass a law protecting the flag from desecration. The expenses of the campaign have been as follows: October, 1898, to October, 1899, $38.59; October, 1899, to October, 1900, $17.33. In December, 1898, the chapter gave $250 to the citizens' fund for the relief of families of soldiers on duty during the Spanish-American war. To the Porto Rico sufferers garments and material valued at $72.31 were sent, together with 124 books.

The Milwaukee Monument Association is raising funds to build a memorial building to be used as a library, museum, and meeting place for all the patriotic societies in the city. For this object the chapter gave $563.63 in 1900.

The contributions of the chapter and individual members to the Continental Memorial Hall fund have amounted since 1897 to $266.

Oshkosh Chapter, of Oshkosh, 54 members, sent a box of clothing to the sufferers in Porto Rico and has placed books on American history in the public library. Prizes have been offered in the public schools for excellence in historical work. Thirty dollars were raised and donated to charity in 1899. The ladies gave $25 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900.

Racine Chapter, of Racine, 20 members, sent in 1899 a barrel of clothing for the relief work in Cuba, and in 1900 purchased 1,000 copies of Loyal Songs, which were distributed in the public schools.

Wau Bun Chapter, of Portage, 27 members, contributed a box of clothing for the relief of the Porto Rican sufferers, and gave $5 to the First Ward school library for books on patriotic subjects. In 1900 the ladies sent $5 to the Continental Memorial Hall fund.

Near the city is old Fort Winnebago military cemetery in which some Revolutionary soldiers are buried, together with those of the Mexican, civil, and Spanish wars. The place has been neglected under past management, but the chapter has held services there on two Memorial Days and has instituted some repairs. The place has been put by the War Department in the care of the regent for the chapter and the appointment will take effect January 1, 1901.

WYOMING.

At our last report there were no chapters in Wyoming; now there are two, thanks to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Francis E. Warren (Helen Smith), state regent.

Cheyenne Chapter, of Cheyenne, 19 members, has just been organized on September 12, 1900.

Jacques Laramie Chapter, of Laramie, 20 members, the first in the state, was organized on December 16, 1899.

The name of the chapter is closely bound with the local history of the state. Jacques Laramie was a French Canadian fur trader who acted as arbitrator between the Indians and the Northwestern Fur Company, and was massacred by the Indians before 1820. For him were named Laramie Peak, Laramie River, Laramie Plains, Laramie County, Laramie City, and Fort Laramie, the first garrison post when Wyoming was a territory.

The object of the chapter is to perpetuate the memory of the founders of the state, and to preserve records and relics relating to the history of Wyoming.

Large pictures of Washington were framed and presented to the upper grades of the public schools of Laramie, and it is the intention to present books on Revolutionary history to the schools from time to time. A contribution of $5 was sent to the Continental Memorial Hall fund in 1900.

GEORGIA, Richmond County: [5783.]

Personally appeared George A. Bailie, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is, and has been for a number of years, well acquainted with the family of John Nelson, late of said county, deceased.

Deponent further says that Charlotte Nelson, formerly Mrs. Charlotte Cooper, the widow of Matthew Nelson, after the death of her second husband—to wit, on December 23, 1840—intermarried with John Silcox, and from that time was known as Charlotte Silcox. The said Charlotte Silcox departed this life on the 27th day of December, 1882.

Deponent further swears that John Nelson, the remainderman under the will of Matthew Nelson, departed this life on June 16, 1866; that the said John Nelson left surviving him his widow, Louisa C. Nelson, and five children, to wit, Sarah R. Nelson, Mary L. Nelson, Susie C. Nelson, Matthew Nelson, and John W. Nelson. He did not leave surviving him any children or widow of a deceased child.

Thereafter Sarah R. Nelson intermarried with deponent, to wit, on the 10th day of November, 1864, and is now Sarah R. Bailie.

The said Mary L. Nelson thereafter intermarried with T. Burwell Green, on the —— day of June, 1867, and is now known as Mary L. Green.

The said Susie C. Nelson afterwards married Edward Austin, on the —— day of November, 1868, and is now known as Susie C. Austin.

The said Louisa C. Nelson departed this life, testate, on the 7th day of November, 1890.

Inasmuch as the foregoing facts do not appear of record, deponent makes this affidavit to serve as a muniment of title for the purchasers of certain portions of the property passing under the will of Matthew Nelson to his wife, Charlotte Nelson, and John Nelson and his heirs.

GEORGE A. BAILIE.

I do certify that the foregoing is a true abstract from the records of the title to the lot described in the caption. There are upon the records no unsatisfied mortgages, judgments, liens, or other encumbrances that are liens upon the property described in caption. All state, county, school, and city taxes and assessments up to and including the year 1899, against the land described or the owners thereof, have been paid, and the first half of the city taxes for the year 1900 have been paid.

In my opinion, Sarah R. Bailie, Mary L. Green, Susie C. Austin, and Matthew L. Nelson have a good and unencumbered title to the property described in the caption, and by proper deed can convey a good title.

Witness my hand, this seventh day of June, nineteen hundred.

STATE OF GEORGIA, OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE.

I, Philip Cook, secretary of state of the state of Georgia, do hereby certify that the attached sheets contain a true and correct copy of the names of men who served in the Revolutionary war, as compiled from the records of this department.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of my office, at the capitol, in the city of Atlanta, this 24th day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and twenty-fifth.

PHILIP COOK,

The above list has been compiled from a great number of shorter ones. No doubt it contains numerous repetitions, but these were unavoidable. Two names nearly alike may refer to the same man, but it was not always possible to determine which of two forms was the correct one, hence the spelling has not been altered in any case; but the mere fact that two names are nearly alike is not sufficient evidence that they belong to the same individual. For instance, it is known that "James Aitkin," "James Akens," and "James Akins" were three different persons.

In some instances the first name was not given. Wherever it was possible to add a title as a means of identification, this has been done.

It is quite a common occurrence to find a record of two or more men bearing the same name. Names repeated and intended for different persons are marked with figures or indicated by titles.

About half the names in the foregoing list are those of officers and eminent patriots. Unfortunately, it is not always possible to find the records of privates and humble heroes who risked their lives and served their country just as faithfully as their better-known contemporaries. But even if these records were immediately available, and the list extended so as to include all who actually fought for freedom in Georgia during the whole Revolutionary period, there would still be an undue proportion of officers. No regiment ever included the whole number of privates called for; and, in those days of irregular warfare, it was quite common for one officer to start out upon an independent expedition with less than 20 men under him.

Companies were hurriedly formed as occasion demanded, and frequently disbanded as soon as an emergency was past.

Civil officers as well as military actually bore arms. They were obliged to do so in order to defend their homes and families. During the whole period of British occupancy the various legislative bodies fled from place to place and skirmished with English and Tories in order to keep up the form of republican government.

It is confidently believed that the foregoing list contains no doubtful names. All, except a very few, were repeated a number of times. Every list examined was largely a repetition of others, thus rendering the process of gathering new names exceedingly slow, but at the same time tending to establish the authenticity of all. In a list of 10 names one might be new, but that new name was likely to come up again with 20 old ones.

LIST OF HISTORIC SPOTS IN LOWER MERION.

[Prepared by Miss Margaret B. Harvey, Historian of Merion Chapter.]

Lower Merion Township, Montgomery County, Pa., was settled at Pencoyd by a company of Welsh emigrants from Bala, North Wales, in August, 1682, two months before the arrival of William Penn. Lower Merion is the oldest township in the "Original Welsh tract."

Old Stone Mansion of John Robert, near Pencoyd, built in 1683. He was a Quaker preacher and a noble pioneer.

Lower Merion Friends' Meetinghouse, built in 1695 on the site of a still older log building. The oldest edifice in the state of Pennsylvania. Here William Penn preached.

Old Stone House of Robert Owen, near Wynnewood, built in 1695. Another noted pioneer.

General Wayne Tavern, built in 1704, adjoining Friends' meetinghouse. Here Washington and LaFayette slept on several occasions. In the fields near by the Continentals encamped, September 14, 1777, on their way to Paoli. Merion Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, have marked this spot with a memorial stone. (See First Report, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, 1890–1897, Plate 25.)

Old Stone Building, which has been used as a blacksmith shop for 102 years. Here Cornwallis had his horses shod while foraging through Lower Merion.

Old Stone House adjoining the General Wayne tavern, belonging to the Friends' Meeting and built in the same year as the meetinghouse, 1695. Here Washington once slept.

General Wayne's Encampment. Wayne's army, on the way to the Northwest Territory in 1793, encamped near the meeting house and the old tavern, which has ever since borne the name of "The General Wayne."

Old Price Mansion, near Merion Meeting. This grand old stone mansion, in antique Pennsylvania style, was built in 1775. It was occupied by Cornwallis as his headquarters for a few days, while attempting to ravage Lower Merion in the autumn of 1777.

Old Black Horse Tavern, corner of the old Lancaster road and City avenue. An immense stone barn, in old Pennsylvania style, stands near by. Here, on December 11, 1777, Cornwallis made an attack on the Pennsylvania Militia, under General Potter. After a skirmish, continuing over the greater part of Lower Merion and extending to the Gulph Mills, Cornwallis was defeated. A number of wounded soldiers were carried into the Black Horse barn. On February 13, 1781, a company of Continentals, under Capt. Joseph McClellan, encamped in the field near the Black Horse on the way to York, and went thence to take part in Gen. Anthony Wayne's campaign in the southern states.

Camp Ground of the Georgia Battalion of Continentals, under Col. John White, near Bala. This battalion was here encamped in August, 1777, while the main body of Continentals, under Washington, was on the east side of the Schuylkill, near the Falls. (See Report of Merion Chapter, page 235.)

Levering's Ferry, near the present Manayunk Bridge. Here Washington's army crossed the Schuylkill River, September 14, 1777, from old Roxborough township into Lower Merion, on the way to Merion Meeting, thus leaving the camp near the Falls of Schuylkill, three days after the battle of the Brandywine.

Righter's Ferry, between Manayunk and Pencoyd. Here one detachment of Continental troops crossed into Lower Merion.

Penn Gaskell Farm, near Mill Creek. The last piece of property in Pennsylvania held by the Penn family as a part of the original land grant.

Revolutionary Powder Mill, on Mill Creek, operated by Jacob Losch, under the direction of the Council of Safety.

Revolutionary Paper Mills, on Mill Creek. Founded by the Scheetz family before 1700, even earlier, it is said, than the Rittenhouse paper mill at Germantown, and operated during the Revolution by the patriot, Frederick Bicking, under the direction of the Council of Safety. One mill in the group was afterwards called the "Dove" mill. At these mills were made the Government papers for all official documents, paper for the Continental money, cartridge paper, and paper for Franklin's printing presses.

Kettle Mill, said to be the oldest rolling mill in the United States. Here were made old-fashioned kettles and brass buttons.

Gristmill, operated by the Tory, John Roberts. Here glass was ground in the flour intended to feed American soldiers. The trick was discovered and John Roberts hanged. He was the only man in Lower Merion attainted of treason. Some historians say that he was hanged upon insufficient evidence, and that he was not accused of grinding glass in the flour, but of acting as guide to the British in 1777.

Old Stone Mansion, once the residence of John Roberts, on Mill Creek. This house afterwards became the residence of the patriot, Blair McClenahan, of the Philadelphia City Troop.

General Potter's Camp Ground, near Mill Creek. Here the Pennsylvania Militia encamped in the autumn and early winter of 1777 in order to prevent the British from attacking Washington at Valley Forge, by way of Lower Merion. Later the Pennsylvania Militia, under General Potter, joined Washington at Valley Forge. The greatest part of Valley Forge camp ground is in Upper Merion Township, Montgomery County.

Black Rocks, near Mill Creek, an old Indian burying ground and the last Indian reservation in eastern Pennsylvania, adjoining the old paper mills.

LaFayette's Crossing, near Conshohocken and called in his time "Matton's Ford." An old Swedish settlement was located here before the American Revolution, the whole Schuylkill Valley being included in "New Sweden." By crossing the Schuylkill at this point, from White Marsh Township into Lower Merion, LaFayette outwitted Howe, on May 19, 1778.

Gulph Hills, near Conshohocken. On Mount Prospect, the highest point, General Poor planted a battery, while LaFayette was encamped on the opposite side of the river, in White Marsh.

Gulph Camp Ground. The Gulph Mills, where the American ammunition was stored in the autumn of 1777, are in Upper Merion Township, just across the township line; but it is evident from the lay of the land that the greater part of the camp ground was on the Lower Merion side of the line. Here Washington's army encamped one week, from December 12 to December 19, 1777, and then proceeded directly to Valley Forge. The skirmish between Generals Potter and Cornwallis, extending from the Black Horse to the Gulph Mills, took place December 11, while the main body of the Continental Army was marching from Swede's Ford (now Norristown) toward the Gulph Mills. The Pennsylvania Militia thus prevented the British from attacking the main army on the way to Valley Forge.

Lloyd Jones's Paper Mill, on Rock Hollow Creek, near West Manayunk. Here tons of Continental money were destroyed after the "shinplasters" had ceased to have any value.

Bryn Mawr Mansion, antique stone mansion built in 1701 by the Quaker preacher, Rowland Ellis, one of the godly scholarly Welsh emigrants. It was afterwards called "Harriton Mansion," when occupied by a branch of the famous Harrison family of Virginia, who slightly altered their own name to find a name for their place. Miss Hannah Harrison, a member of this family, married Charles Thompson, secretary of the Continental Congress. Secretary Thompson resided here until his death in 1824. While occupying this mansion Thompson made a translation of the Bible. The Harrison property was inherited by Mrs. Thompson's relatives, the Morris family, who belonged to the same stock as the famous financier, Robert Morris.

Harriton Family Cemetery, located in the woods near by. Here Secretary Charles Thompson was buried, and here his remains reposed for a number of years. Later they were surreptitiously removed by professed admirers and reinterred in Laurel Hill Cemetery. General indignation was felt throughout Lower Merion, and has not yet died out; but as the Morris family were Quakers they decided "to resist not evil." It was properly said that this burying ground could only be reached by trespassing upon private property. A tablet on the wall of the cemetery still bears the name of Charles Thompson.

Lower Merion Baptist Church, formerly called "Thompson's Meeting House." Secretary Thompson gave the ground occupied by the church and cemetery. Here are interred descendants of William Penn and a number of Revolutionary soldiers.

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, popularly called the "Old Dutch Church," near Ardmore, built in 1740. A curious tulip design is carved over the door of the quaint little edifice. A large number of Revolutionary soldiers are buried here; also a number of soldiers of the war of 1812.

Bicking Family Graveyard, near Mill Creek. Here are buried the patriot paper maker, Frederick Bicking, and a number of Revolutionary soldiers.

West Laurel Hill Cemetery. This is a beautiful modern cemetery, but it contains the bodies of a number of Revolutionary soldiers, removed from old churchyards in Philadelphia. Among these may be mentioned Col. Archibald Steele, who was Arnold's aid-de-camp in the expedition to Canada in 1775, and died in 1832, aged 92.

Lower Merion Friends' Burying Ground.—Here sleep the Welsh forefathers, all of whom claimed to be descended from the ancient Welsh kings and from the old Keltic hero, Merion, or Meriawn. A number of Revolutionary soldiers are here interred; also Daniel Williams, a signer of the Non-Importation Act.

"Brookfield Mansion," near West Conshohocken, once the residence of Judge Richard B. Jones, who was judge of the Montgomery County courts in 1822. Judge Jones had previously been a midshipman in the Navy and had been held a prisoner in Algiers. He was afterwards consul to Algiers. He was the last survivor of the expedition under Decatur, who destroyed the frigate Philadelphia in the harbor of Tripoli February 16, 1804.

"Old Vineyard," near Bala. Here resided John Leacock just before the Revolution. He started a lottery for the "encouragement of the vine." Lotteries for the promotion of various enterprises were very common during the Colonial and Revolutionary period.

The following-named old roads deserve special mention:

The Ford Road, and its continuation, the old Lancaster road, extends along the site of a prehistoric Indian trail which led from the Delaware to the Susquehanna and crossed the Schuylkill at "The Ford," below the falls, in what is now Fairmount Park. This old road, now generally known as Montgomery avenue, enters Lower Merion at what is now called Bala. Along this route William Penn's Indian guide piloted him through Merion and westward. Here the Georgia Continentals, under Col. John White, and the Pennsylvania Militia, under Gen. James Potter, marched up into Lower Merion, to join the main body of the Continental Army, September 14, 1777.

Old Lancaster Road.—Its continuation eastward from Merion Meeting to the Middle Ferry in the Schuylkill (now Market street bridge, Philadelphia) and westward along the Indian trail, constitutes one of the oldest turnpikes in the United States. It was laid out in 1700. On this road Cornwallis marched, December 11, 1777, to attack General Potter; and when defeated returned by the same route to Philadelphia. In 1781, General Wayne marched by this road to York on his way to Georgia; and again in 1793, on his way to the Northwest Territory. From Merion Meeting westward along this "great road to Lancaster" on the morning of September 15, 1777, the Continental Army marched to Paoli. Congress immediately "adjourned to Lancaster" September 18. This means that they fled in stage coaches and on horseback along this highway westward. All official documents were safely conveyed in large wagons by the same road under the direction of Abraham Clark, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Old Gulph Road extends from Merion Meeting to Mill Creek, thence along the creek and on to the Gulph Mills, whence it continues through Upper Merion Township to Valley Forge. This road was laid out by William Penn himself, who superintended the erection of the milestones. A number of these are still standing. Upon each is carved three balls, copied from the Penn coat of arms. Continentals frequently traveled the Gulph road. Mr. Roberts galloped along it on June 18, 1778, to carry the news to Washington that the British had evacuated Philadelphia. The old Lancaster and Gulph roads constituted the most direct route from Philadelphia to Valley Forge. It was by this route that the "ladies' association," under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Reed, sent to Valley Forge, early in 1778, eight big Conestoga wagons filled with clothing for the patriot soldiers. Each wagon required six mules to draw it. The drivers were all women. (See report of Esther Reed Chapter, p. 267.)

Lancaster Turnpike was opened in 1770 to accommodate increasing traffic westward and to avoid the curves in the old Lancaster road. Through Lower Merion Township the two roads are close together and run nearly parallel. On the Lancaster turnpike still stand a number of famous old taverns, as the "Washington," the "Red Lion," the "Old Buck," etc.

"Meeting House Lane," from the Schuylkill, at Levering's ferry, to Merion Meeting. Along this old road Washington's army marched up from the river to the Merion camp ground September 14, 1777.

Righter's Ferry Road. One detachment marched over this road from the river, thence along the Ford road to Merion Meeting.

Papers describing the above-named localities have appeared in the Bryn Mawr Home News (Pa.) at various intervals from April 5, 1895, to January 12, 1900, inclusive.
