SUMMARY OF THE 69TH REPORT

By way of a brief summary of this 69th Report, the DAR reporter general to the Smithsonian Institution points out some of the highlights of the National Society's activities and accomplishments during the year—in addition to those that are brought out by the president general and other officers in their reports.

THE THEME.—"Where the Spirit of the Lord Is, There Is Liberty" was the theme chosen for the National Society's diamond jubilee year. This 69th Report of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, testifies to the fulfillment of the hope of the president general that the theme would be both inspiring and challenging, for it shows the dedication of the DAR members to the National Society's basic objectives—historic preservation, promotion of education, and patriotic endeavor.

MEMBERSHIP.—The efforts made to increase membership were very successful. As of February 1, the National Society had received 8,056 applications, admitted 7,016 new members, and reinstated 721 former members. Thirty-one percent of the new members are Juniors, between the ages of 18 and 25. The present membership (counted for this DAR Continental Congress) is 184,271, a figure that includes more than 3,000 members-at-large. There are 2,872 chapters.

DAR SCHOOLS.—Between March 1, 1965, and February 28, 1966, the office of the treasurer general received $216,538.21 for all schools on the approved list. This amount included appropriations from the NSDAR of $5,000 for Kate Duncan Smith School and $5,000 for Tamasee DAR School, $6,435.67 as income from invested funds, $8,907.64 from the Helen Pouch Scholarship Fund (a project of the Junior Membership Committee), and $19,644.73 in contributions for the Adèle Erb Sullivan Building at Tamasee. In addition to the money sent to the treasurer general, the 51 DAR State Societies and overseas units sent Christmas gifts and thousands of pounds of used clothing to the schools. Twenty-four DAR State regents reported that transportation companies are providing free freight to our schools in their States whenever possible.

STUDENT LOANS AND SCHOLARSHIPS.—Forty-six DAR State Societies reported a total of $114,789.90 in scholarships, loans, and gifts, as follows: 101 scholarship, $28,141.28; 545 student loans, $58,220.93; miscellaneous gifts, $3,680.40; scholarships to American Indians, $9,272.03; and investment scholarships to schools, $15,475.26. So far in this administration, the National Society has awarded $5,100 in five occupational therapy scholarships and seven medical scholarships and $2,600 in nursing scholarships.

AMERICAN INDIANS.—The American Indians Committee chose as its national project for the three-year diamond jubilee administration the continuation of a project started by the previous administration—that of providing the St. Mary's Episcopal School for Indian Girls, at Springfield, South Dakota, with a home economics center, furnishings for dormitories, an apartment for the house mother, and a faculty room in a building now under construction. To attain this goal, the DAR has pledged $30,000 over the three-year period.

Between March 1, 1965, and March 1, 1966, NSDAR members contributed $50,440 to the work being carried on for our first Americans; in addition, DAR chapters in States in which destitute American Indians live contributed $4,000 for food, clothing, shelter, and medicine for the tribes. More than 100 Indian boys and girls received scholarship assistance from State DAR scholarship funds or from the NSDAR General Indian Scholarship Fund. The DAR State regents reported a total of $9,272.03 in scholarships to American Indians.

The Florida DAR proudly reported that one of its scholarship students, William Lawrence Cypress, a Seminole Indian, received the degree of bachelor of arts from Stetson University on May 30, 1965, and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army. Each of these accomplishments was a "first" for a Seminole Indian.

AMERICAN HISTORY.—In the annual American History Month observance, sponsored in February, 2,579 public schools and 977 private or parochial schools cooperated in the student essay contest, and mayors of more than 1,000 cities and towns proclaimed February as American History Month. Publicity included 3,716 newspaper items with 1,647 pictures (a total of 48,257 column inches), 5,876 announcements on radio (21,170 minutes), and 931 announcements on television (1,702 minutes). On each day during February, an Illinois dairy had a different printed message about American history on its 15,000 milk cartons that were delivered to 38 towns; 520 DAR chapters used 2,319 posters in schools, libraries, stores, banks, town halls, museums, hotels, filling stations, and post offices, and 720 chapters made prominent use of 30,029 stickers. To emphasize the study of American history, an Alaska chapter presented the DAR Museum with a fine model of a boat (resembling the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter Bear) that was carved in ivory many years ago by an Eskimo. The carving is valued at $2,400.

AMERICANISM AND DAR MANUAL FOR CITIZENSHIP.—More than 1,100 programs on Americanism were presented by DAR chapters during the year. Many members taught Americanism classes, volunteering more than 12,000 hours; more than 20,000 books and magazines were placed in libraries and schools, with about $8,000 being spent on this program; more than 47,000 copies of the "DAR Manual for Citizenship" were distributed at naturalization courts; and more than 8,000 manuals were delivered free for citizenship classes. Fifty-eight naturalized American citizens were presented with "Americanism" medals for outstanding contributions to the American way of life.

CONSERVATION.—The conservation program received spirited support during the year. "Save the Redwoods" was the theme of the project chosen by Mrs. William Henry Sullivan, Jr., the president general, and one of the highlights in this area of conservation was the dedication of the Lambert Memorial Grove in the redwood forest of California.

An Illinois member and her husband gave land valued at $30,000 to enlarge Somonauk Forest Preserve. In Colorado, radio and newspaper publicity aroused public opinion to save Loveland's George Washington elm, which is a descendant of the George Washington elm at Cambridge, Massachusetts. The nationwide notice that this incident received did much to publicize the civic interest of DAR members. In New York, DAR members cooperated with the Audubon Society in transferring Rogers State Game Farm into a nature center for children. Throughout the land, children were taught the importance of natural conservation and the harmful consequences of littering the countryside. More than 100,000 trees and 550,000 bulbs were planted by DAR members or under the auspices of DAR chapters.

CHILDREN OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION.—During the past year, 2,523 DAR chapters reported the sponsoring of CAR Societies representing 15,375 CAR members. At the end of the year, 25 new CAR Societies had been organized and 114 were in the process of organizing. There were 431 national DAR promoters and 1,659 State DAR promoters of CAR, with 1,132 DAR members serving as senior chairmen.

DAR GOOD CITIZENS.—The work of the DAR Good Citizens Committee is approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, a department of the National Education Association. The committee stresses the importance of good citizenship and encourages its practice by senior girls in accredited public high schools. A competitive method, recommended by the National Society, is used in selecting the winner of the national DAR "good citizen" award. For the first time, a scholastic rating was required for entrants in the contest last year. The reports reflect keen interest and activity in the program by the 2,466 participating chapters in 50 States where a total of 8,478 high school girls competed. In addition to the $100 U.S. savings bond presented by the National Society to the winner in each State, awards amounting to $5,026 were given by DAR chapters, districts, and State Societies. The NSDAR awarded the national winner with a $1,000 scholarship to the college of her choice and a 5-inch sterling silver Paul Revere bowl engraved "National DAR Good Citizen, 1966." Each chapter winner was given a copy of In Washington . . . The DAR Story, a flag pin, a DAR anniversary plate, and a silver DAR spoon.

JUNIOR AMERICAN CITIZENS.—The theme of the annual contest sponsored by the Junior American Citizens Committee was "Faith and Freedom." The more than 900 entries submitted through 33 DAR State Societies included essays, poems, songs, plays, programs, posters, and club projects. As in previous years, DAR chapters—in cooperation with public, parochial, and private schools, Boys Clubs, Scout Troops, Sunday school classes, neighborhood groups, and unaffiliated groups of children—organized JAC clubs to which any child, regardless of race, color, or creed, from kindergarten through high school, is eligible to join. An adult who serves as club director supervises the meetings and activities, which are planned and executed by the children themselves. To assist the club's director and members, the National Society issues a handbook that outlines procedures for organizing a club and for the election and installation of its officers, information about conducting a meeting, and suggestions for programs and activities. Membership pins and copies of the JAC motto, creed leaflets, and handbooks are distributed free. No child incurs any expense as a member of a JAC club.

DAR MAGAZINE.—The October 1965 issue of the DAR Magazine was the diamond jubilee edition. It was well received, and was a means of presenting to the public the history of the DAR and its service to the Nation. There were 4,982 new subscriptions in the past year. Advertising revenue and contracts amounted to $83,250.

NATIONAL DEFENSE.—Reports on activity in the DAR's program on national defense were received from 2,351 chapters and from all DAR State chairmen of the National Defense Committee. The DAR publication National Defender, which is sent free each month along with selected articles to all DAR State Society and chapter chairmen of National Defense Committees, NSDAR officers, and regents of DAR State Societies and chapters, has many paid subscribers. The mailing list now consists of approximately 7,425 addressees. During the year, more than 4,000 DAR Good Citizenship medals were purchased for distribution in local schools; also, 200 debate kits on the subject of labor-management were distributed to high school debating teams. On June 25, the president general testified before the Subcommittee on Immigration and Nationality of the Senate Judiciary Committee in support of the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, as amended, and in opposition to proposed liberalizing amendments on S. 500. Her statement was issued as a press release, and it appeared in the August-September issue of DAR Magazine.

THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.—During the past year the Daughters of the American Revolution gave 35,000 United States flags to schools, youth groups, naturalized citizens, draftees, community centers, churches, towns, parks, and housing developments. A total of 39,432 flag codes were distributed. The France DAR Society reported that the United States flag is displayed at DAR meetings there and that the Pledge of Allegiance is given at each meeting, as in the United States. After being granted permission, a Texas chapter sent 30 flag desk sets to Viet Nam, where the vice regent's son is in the Quartermaster Corps. Flags were not sent because the United States leases the land on which the bases are built, and the United States flag cannot be flown over foreign soil.

PART I

REPORT OF THE 75TH CONTINENTAL CONGRESS OF THE DAUGHTERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, HELD AT CONSTITUTION HALL, WASHINGTON, D.C., APRIL 18-22, 1966

REPORTS OF EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

THE PRESIDENT GENERAL

The past year has been an extremely busy but most inspiring one for the new president general. It was a busy year not only because of the many duties of leadership required in an organization of the size and scope of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, but because of the special activities in connection with the observance of the Society's 75th birthday. It was an inspiring year because of the many fine contacts made with women across the Nation who are working together in a common purpose—that of preserving and extending the great American heritage and the moral and religious faith upon which it was founded. The theme under which this "diamond jubilee" administration carried out its work during its first year was "Where the Spirit of the Lord Is, There Is Liberty."

The president general has received the utmost in cooperation from the executive officers elected to serve with her, the members of the national board of management, the chairmen of the national committees, the regents of the State DAR organizations, their local chapters, and the many thousands of faithful members (wherein lies the great strength of the DAR) and, of course, from the splendid, devoted staff at national headquarters.

A curved graph of the year's work would not indicate a true picture of DAR activities, as there were too many high points, or peaks. Since the reports of the national officers and of the chairmen of the national committees cover the over-all work during the year, the present report will deal principally with phases of our work that should be emphasized, or to which attention should be called. Also, the president general's activities will be summarized.

The president general's first public act, which occurred just one hour after assuming office, was a most fitting one—the signing of her name in the White House guest book after being received by Mrs. Johnson.

The weeks following the DAR 74th Continental Congress were devoted to the usual duties that attend the transition of administrations—such as the appointing of chairmen and vice chairmen of national committees, the revising and updating of material issued from national headquarters, and the holding of numerous conferences relative to the laying of the groundwork for future programs.

Since the 75th anniversary of the National Society was to take place less than six months following the election of the president general, it was necessary that the new administration accomplish in approximately three months an amount of work that normally would have taken a year. To provide a proper observance of the occasion, a special anniversary edition of DAR Magazine was compiled, plans for a gala "diamond jubilee week" to be celebrated October 9 to October 14 were formulated, and an anniversary service plate that would be a fitting and lasting memento was designed and ordered.

Last April, the president general stated that one of her objectives was a DAR membership of 200,000, and that she wanted to see the NSDAR become the most outstanding women's organization in the country—to the end that each committee would reach its peak potential.

The membership campaign was launched the following June, when the new executive committee, as its first official act, established the DAR membership commission, whose primary purpose is to provide assistance to chapters in membership growth. This project was implemented by the instituting of a DAR speakers staff to stimulate greater interest in the basic objectives of the DAR on the part of the chapters as well to promote a better understanding of the DAR by the public. The members of this staff were selected from the ranks of experienced members who had served the National Society and its State organizations. To further strengthen the membership program, the executive committee authorized (1) the purchase of microfilming equipment to facilitate the processing of application papers; (2) the assembling of lineage research kits containing material to assist applicants in establishing lines of descent; and (3) the appointment of a special committee for the publication of a DAR Patriot Index that would contain the names of more than 105,000 patriots whose identity and service have been established by the National Society.

The effectiveness of the efforts put forth in the membership drive resulted in such an increase in the number of applications that it became necessary to institute a "crash program" for processing the papers. It is regretted that not all of the applications could be processed in time for the February 1, 1966, meeting of the board of management; however, in order not to be unfair to chapters seeking honor roll status, it was determined that all applications received prior to January 11, 1966, would be considered as having met honor roll requirements for Items 1 and 2 on the 1965-1966 national honor roll questionnaire.

As of February 1, the membership was 183,077.

Much has been done in the field of education during the past year. The national board of management on October 12, 1965, endorsed the construction of an administration building at the Tamassee DAR School, Tamassee, South Carolina, at an estimated cost of $49,500. A program to finance this project through voluntary contributions will be promoted by the DAR School Committee during the next two years. When completed, the new structure will be named the Adèle Erb Sullivan Building, in honor of the president general. A special "thank you" is extended to everyone who has contributed to this project.

Also, the National Society awarded a total of five occupational therapy scholarships and seven medical scholarships. We have many more requests for these scholarships than we can accommodate.

Another diamond jubilee project and a significant addition to the Society's already extensive program of educational assistance was the establishment of an annual $8,000 NSDAR American History Scholarship. The amount of the scholarship is to be prorated to each recipient (boy or girl) at $2,000 a year. This scholarship, which represents the first national project of the Student Loan and Scholarship Committee, is the largest individual scholarship ever offered by the NSDAR. In keeping with the observance of February as American History Month, the scholarship was established by the national board of management at its meeting on February 1, 1966. In view of the many telephone calls and letters received at national headquarters in the past two and one-half months from all over the Nation, it is evident that much public interest is centered on this particular DAR award.

Other "firsts" were the Christmas lights that decorated the large holly trees on either side of the entrance to Memorial Continental Hall. Their glow radiated not only up and down 17th Street but across the Ellipse to the White House. In addition, two lighted Christmas trees were placed in the lobby of Constitution Hall for the pleasure of those attending the traditional Christmas performance of "Nut Cracker Suite" by the National Symphony. In response to this recognition of the Christmas season, many favorable comments were received.

A very sad occurrence that created an emergency early in this administration was the sudden death on June 12, 1965, of Mr. Harold L. Maynard, who had served as managing director of Constitution Hall for the past 16 years. He had become so much a part of the administration of the NSDAR that one hardly knew where to look for a successor. However, the National Society was able to secure the services of Captain Donald O. Lacey, recently retired from the U.S. Navy, who came to us well equipped for his new post, having graduated from the Naval Academy and the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

The maintenance of our beautiful buildings in the Nation's Capital is an important phase of DAR work, and this administration has made every effort to assure that these buildings live up to their reputation of "house beautiful." In some instances this has been achieved merely by instituting modern housekeeping methods of maintenance, or simply by proper selection of colors before applying fresh coats of paint. Two major renovations have been made—that of the president general's suite, largely, due to the generosity of the New York Daughters, and that of the staff dining room, which received its first over-all face lifting since 1923. And, it was particularly fitting during this diamond jubilee year to have the approach to the Founders Memorial Monument replaced with a flagstone court as a further tribute to the founders and in observance of the DAR 75th Continental Congress.

The condition of Constitution Hall was checked to ascertain what was needed to assure its position as the "finest hall of its type in the country." It did not take an expert to see that it is badly in need of refurbishing and redecorating; and also that air conditioning—which has become commonplace in America—was needed. Due to the foresight of the architect, the necessary ducts of air conditioning were already installed, and the national board of management, on February 1, unanimously approved a resolution (to be submitted to the 75th Continental Congress) recommending that the air conditioning, re-decorating, and refurbishing of Constitution Hall be considered necessary for the proper management and conduct of the affairs of the Society. Copies of the resolution were mailed to all national officers and chapter regents in accordance with the by-laws. This action by the board of management was the result of many months of investigation on the part of your president general with the Society's accountants, lawyers, and bankers and a firm of consulting engineers highly recommended by the Society's financial advisors. In the interest of the future of the National Society, you are urged to support the unanimous recommendation of your national board of management by voting "yes" to this proposal.

An analysis presented to the Executive Committee has shown that the cost of these improvements for Constitution Hall can be met by an increase in the number of rentals of the Hall, by the increase in its revenues, and by a possible call on the members of the Society for voluntary contributions, which would not exceed one dollar per member over a two-year period.

DAR Magazine had a successful year, with a gain in both subscriptions and advertising. The administration thanks each of you for your cooperation in making this possible.

Through personal representatives, the National Society made the customary awards of a $100 savings bond or its equivalent to winning contestants at the U.S. Naval Academy, U.S. Military Academy, U.S. Coast Guard Academy, U.S. Air Force Academy, Officers Candidate School of the U.S. Coast Guard Academy at Yorktown, Va., U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, and U.S. Marine Corps at Quantico, Va.

Five Executive Committee meetings were held—in June, October, December, February, and April—and there were three regular meetings of the national board of management and two special board meetings for the admission of members.

The Executive Committee authorized a new pin for DAR State committee chairmen. The new pin will not show the years of service or the name of the State but it will bear the words "DAR State Chairman" and give the name of the committee. It also authorized that 5,000 copies of In Washington—The DAR be bound in red linen and that such copies were to be priced at $2.75 each.

The following publications were revised during the year: Statement on Constitution Hall, membership guide book, "What the Daughters Do," JAC handbook, and DAR School booklet.

Between April 23, 1965, and April 23, 1966, the president general attended 80 events. She was in Washington 163 days, and she was on the road 195 days. She attended 11 State DAR conferences (Alabama, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, New York, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Vermont) and five State DAR meetings in New England (Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, and Rhode Island).

In May 1965, at the invitation of the First Lady, the president general attended the White House Conference on Natural Beauty, held at the Department of State. As a result of the stimulating meetings at this conference, on June 3, the DAR Executive Committee adopted a directive that urged "the membership to cooperate in the White House program to maintain the natural beauty of this Nation as part of the DAR conservation program and the Society's continuing effort to preserve our American Heritage." A press release on this action was issued by the NSDAR.

On June 25 your president general testified before the Subcommittee on Immigration and Nationality of the Senate Judiciary Committee in support of the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, as amended, and in opposition to proposed liberalizing amendments on S. 500. Her statement, which was released to the press, appeared in the August-September issue of DAR Magazine.

In response to an official invitation from Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge to serve as a member of its 1965 awards jury, the president general spent the week of November 28 through December 4 at Norristown and Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. The awards were announced to the public on George Washington's birthday, this year.

The president general accepted an invitation from the governor of Massachusetts to serve as an honorary chairman of a special commission—established in 1964 by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts—to devise plans and programs for the observance by the Commonwealth of the bicentennial of historic events preceding the Revolutionary War. She also was made a member of the board of advisory editors of Outstanding Young Women of America, a book in which the names of some of the junior members of NSDAR are listed. Many requests to serve as patron or committee member in other organizations had to be declined during the year.

Three new appointments to the staff at national headquarters were made: Miss Mary Rose Hall, July 1, as managing editor of DAR Magazine; Captain Donald O. Lacey, USN (ret.), July 19, as managing director of Constitution Hall and of DAR headquarters buildings; and Mr. George Jay Kuebler, August 1, as a public relations consultant on a part-time basis. Each is experienced in his respective field.

Looking to the 76th year of the Society, the president general presents the theme of the year, which she commends to the 183,077 Daughters: "Be Ye Doers of the Word and not Hearers Only." (James 1:22.)

ADÈLE ERB SULLIVAN

(Mrs. William Henry Sullivan, Jr.),
President General.

FIRST VICE PRESIDENT GENERAL

The first official assignment of your first vice president general was to represent the president general at the U. S. Air Force Academy, near Colorado Springs, on June 7 to present the annual NSDAR award to the outstanding cadet in aerodynamics. This award is named in honor of Samuel Pierpont Langley, astronomer, physicist, and pioneer designer of aircraft.

I had a unique experience at St. Mary's School for Indian Girls in Springfield, South Dakota, from June 12 to June 17. At the workshop there I gleaned on-the-spot knowledge of the excellent work Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon Cull are doing for the betterment of our Indian-Americans enrolled in this school.

Highlights in Washington included the celebration of the well-planned Diamond Jubilee Celebration Week (October 8-14), which concluded with the restful barge trip on the C & O Canal, and the annual party for the headquarters staff in December. Between December 11 and January 17 I had the privilege of attending many chapter meetings in Kansas as the guest speaker and to be interviewed on two radio programs.

As chairman of the DAR Handbook Committee, I am happy to report that the final stages of the book's revision have been reached and that a distribution date of August 1 will be realized.

ROBERTA KILBOURN
(Mrs. Nelson Kilbourn),
First Vice President General.

THE CHAPLAIN GENERAL

During the past year your chaplain general attended all meetings of the national board of management and all formal meetings of the Executive Committee; gave immediate attention to all correspondence; and communicated with DAR State chaplains in regard to items such as the diamond jubilee project, the chaplains breakfast, and the memorial service.

It was a pleasure to be guest at numerous chapter meetings and other functions that included the "good citizens" pilgrimage to the State Capital of Kentucky, with a reception in the home of Governor Edwart T. Breathitt, the DAR day at the Stephen Foster Drama, and an historic tour to old Cane Run Baptist Church.

It was a privilege to be the guest speaker in Charleston, West Virginia, for the joint commemoration of the diamond jubilee by the Anne Bailey, Charleston, Fort Lee, John Young, Kanawha Valley, Mountaineer, Vandalia, and William Morris Chapters, and to be the speaker at the chaplains' luncheon at the Kentucky DAR conference and at the honor banquets of the State conferences in Nebraska and North Carolina. It was with regret that other invitations had to be declined.

The most delightful feature of the year was the promoting of the chaplain general's jubilee project—compiling the histories of the earliest church or early churches in the various States. The DAR State Society chaplains have conducted the research and have prepared interesting accounts, which have been edited and are ready to be placed in the program office. The chaplains of 48 DAR State Societies have completed their work; the other three still are doing research.

The chaplains have been enthusiastic in their evaluation of the project, stating that it is educational, inspiring, satisfying, and an excellent means of advancing valuable public-relations. The cooperation of all DAR State chaplains has been most gratifying.

In response to a questionnaire concerning the work of the DAR State chaplain, all except four of the chaplains replied, and all except one of those replying had contacted the chaplain of every DAR chapter in the State in regard to the activities of the office. Such activities included participation at DAR State meetings, chapter meetings, board meetings, memorials, and grave markings; the presenting of pins to DAR Good Citizens; visiting the sick and writing to shut-ins; preparing and presenting devotionals; and assisting with CAR and SAR meetings.

In reply to the question "In what way do you find your office as DAR State chaplain a rewarding one?" the chaplains expressed a deep and abiding joy in the stimulation of Christian service, devotion, and dedication.

Each Daughter is urged to visit the Kansas Chapel for daily meditation and prayer and is invited to visit the office of the chaplain general.

The unknown author of the following poem has left a helpful message:

I know not where tomorrow's road
 May point my pilgrim way;
 I may not taste its joy or care,
 Nor see beyond to-day;
 But this I know—my Father plans
 The path I cannot see:
 He knows each turn, each hill, each dale,
 And He will walk with me.
 I know not if my way be bright,
 Or dark with storm and rain;
 I know not what it holds for me
 Of pleasure or of pain;
 But this I know—my Savior's love
 Prepares my path each day,
 And held within His mighty hand,
 I need not fear the way.

Special appreciation is expressed to Mrs. George D. Nolan, chaplain of the District of Columbia DAR State Society, and her committee for their efficient work in connection with the events of the Sunday preceding this DAR Continental Congress and to Mrs. Ash, Mrs. Rupp, and Miss Jacobs for their ready help even "beyond the call of duty."

RUTH C. OSBORNE
 (Mrs. Fred Osborne),
 Chaplain General.

THE RECORDING SECRETARY GENERAL

After the close of the 74th Continental Congress of the DAR, resolutions and letters—as directed by that Continental Congress—were sent to the President of the United States, members of his cabinet, heads of the Defense, Army, and Navy establishments, chairmen of committees of the United States Congress, and others. The resolutions adopted by the DAR Continental Congress were printed in pamphlet form for early distribution, and the proceedings were published in August.

Minutes of the regular and special board meetings were prepared for publication in DAR Magazine and proofread. Also, the minutes and verbatim transcripts were indexed and recorded.

Motions and resolutions of the national board of management and of the DAR 74th Continental Congress were typed, copied for the statute book, and indexed. Copies were delivered or mailed to each national officer.

Copies of the minutes of Executive Committee meetings were sent to the committee members. Also, the minutes were copied for binding in book form and indexed. Motions affecting the work of each office and committee were typed separately and delivered.

The booklet "What the Daughters Do" was revised and reprinted; it is available through the business office at ten cents a copy.

During the past year the office of the recording secretary general prepared and mailed 6,758 membership certificates to new members and 75 commissions to national officers, honorary national officers, and regents and vice regents of the DAR State Societies. Also, notices of meetings of the national board of management and of the Executive Committee were mailed to the members.

In addition to attending all Executive Committee and national board of management meetings, the recording secretary general had the pleasure, in October, of accompanying the president general, the members of her cabinet, and the members of the national board of management on the bus trip to Fort McHenry, Baltimore, and Annapolis and on the barge trip on the C & O Canal, an excursion that was an event of the Diamond Jubilee Celebration. Also in October, this officer was an honored guest at her own State DAR conference in Harrisburg, and she was an honored guest and speaker at the New Jersey DAR State Society's fall meeting in Cherry Hill. In March she accompanied the organizing secretary general to Little Rock, where both were honored guests and speakers at the Arkansas DAR conference, and then to Toledo, where they were guests at the Ohio DAR conference.

I express sincere appreciation to the members of my staff—Miss Thornton and Mrs. Ball—for their many hours of service in the duties of this office, and to our stenotypist, Mrs. Swanson.

CHARLOTTE W. SAYRE
(Mrs. Charlotte W. Sayre),
Recording Secretary General.

THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY GENERAL

Your corresponding secretary general's duties in the past year began with the writing of her letter to be included in the August packets of letters that her office sent to addressees on the National Society's official mailing list: the executive officers, vice presidents general, honorary presidents general, regents of DAR State Societies and chapters, chairmen of the national committees, and the members of the public relations committee and of the DAR speakers staff. In addition, copies of each national committee chairman's letter were sent to all national committee chairmen for distribution to the DAR State committee chairmen.

The extensive material contained in the packets of letters of instructions from the national officers and the chairmen of the national committees is typed and made ready for the printer in the office of the corresponding secretary general by Mrs. Yochim, chief clerk. When everything is in order for assembling, approximately 20 staff employees from other offices assist with this work. The office of the corresponding secretary general then has the entire responsibility for mailing the packets. More than one-half million printed pieces were mailed in the August 1965 packets, which numbered about 3,200. "Procedure for Summer Packet from National," an article by this officer that describes the annual project in detail, was published in the November issue of DAR Magazine.

Packets containing credential material and final honor roll questionnaires from national headquarters were mailed in December.

The many letters that were received and answered by this office covered a great variety of subjects, and each was given prompt attention and was answered carefully. Many of the incoming letters are not addressed to the office involved, so they come to the office of the corresponding secretary general, where they are read and then either directed to the proper office or answered.

Many of the incoming letters contained requests for information relative to membership—such as how to become a member, and how to trace genealogy; many were from persons interested in scholarships and awards; and many more were from school children requesting historical information on the American Revolution and other subjects pertaining to American history. Much of the historical information requested required extensive research.

Copies of free material (as authorized by the National Society) are enclosed with all replies to inquiries regarding membership. Such material includes "How To Become a Member," "Requirements for and Preparation of Application Papers," "What the Daughters Do," "The DAR in Action," the leaflets on the DAR Museum and the DAR Magazine, and the "Fact Sheet."

Many of the letters that come to this office are very interesting, and often they lead to rewarding experiences. For example, there is the case of a young man in military service in Viet Nam who requested that a set of miniature early American flags be sent to him. Mrs. Yochim ordered the flags to be sent to him at once. Upon being informed of this, many DAR State regents sent him small flags of their respective States.

Since the corresponding secretary general is hostess to the Honor Roll Committee, her office has additional duties that include the ordering of certificates and ribbons, typing the honor roll book, and answering letters regarding the honor roll. Also, her office does work for the Student Loan and Scholarship Committee.

Orders for all kinds of free material increase daily, which indicates that the chapters are keeping their members informed and interested. Hundreds of pieces go out each year. Between March 1, 1965, and March 1, 1966, this office mailed 3,760 resolutions, 3,141 August packets, 3,346 committee directories, 249 December packets, and 3,057 copies of proposed amendments. It prepared approximately 3,500 Addressograph plates.

It was the sad duty of the office to report the passing of Mr. Harold Maynard, managing director of Constitution Hall and of the DAR headquarters buildings, and the passing of Mr. Fred Osborne, husband of our beloved chaplain general. Notes of sympathy were sent to the families of both.

Your corresponding secretary general attended all meetings of the Executive Committee and of the national board of management. While in Washington in October for such meetings she was happy to be included in the beautiful reception given in honor of the president general and the new Executive Committee by the District of Columbia

Daughters, and she enjoyed attending the splendid programs and delightful festivities connected with the 75th anniversary celebration, which included the tour of Fort McHenry, Baltimore, and Annapolis and the barge trip on the historic C & O Canal.

It also was a pleasure to be a guest at the Pennsylvania and New York DAR State conferences. This officer also is deeply grateful for all the other invitations that she regretfully had to decline. Her thanks are extended to the DAR State regents who have sent their yearbooks, which have been read with interest and enjoyment.

The office of the corresponding secretary general is a direct channel of communication between the Society's headquarters and its membership. It is always at your service, and stands ready to help you in every way possible.

Thanks and deep appreciation are extended to Mrs. Yochim for her untiring help and valuable service, and to the other members of the staff who have assisted with the work. Mrs. Yochim handles the work of the office very efficiently, and in the past year—in addition to her regular duties—she served as secretary to the 75th Anniversary Celebration Committee, under the direction of Mrs. Edward R. Barrow, committee chairman. Next year Mrs. Yochim will work on the 1966 DAR tour.

MAE M. STEWART

(Mrs. Jackson E. Stewart),

Corresponding Secretary General.

THE ORGANIZING SECRETARY GENERAL

During the period April 24, 1965, through April 16, 1966, there were 22 new chapters organized in 13 States—Maryland led with six; Alabama, Arkansas, California, and Virginia had two each; and Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri, Tennessee, and Washington had one each.

New chapters are necessary if we are to capture the interest of large numbers of desirable, eligible women living in new residential areas. We need only to look at the new shopping centers, houses, schools, and churches to realize that there is a movement of and increase in population, and that our Society must increase the number of its chapters.

That 39 chapters disbanded during the year is a discouraging note, but many of these chapters had been below minimum requirements for some time, and they were not able to add members. We are brought face-to-face with the fact that too many chapters have not wanted new members. Remarks such as "We like our chapter just as it is" and "The number of members in our chapter is just right for home meetings" are not uncommon. There is a Power that decides the lifespan of each of us, and chapter membership never can remain constant. Chapters that refuse to add new members are headed for disbandment.

There is a cheerful note, however, that can be added: 25 chapters are in the process of organizing. The Society now has a total of 2,872 chapters, and of these 2,853 sent in lists of officers.

During the year, the office of the organizing secretary general filed 24,054 membership cards and issued 1,266 permits for DAR National Society and State Society bars together with 25-year and 50-year membership pins. The 50-year membership certificates totaled 215.

Additional statistics include the following: organizing regents confirmed, 37; organizing regencies expired, 8; organizing regents reappointed, 1; chapters authorized, 4; chapter authorizations cancelled, 1; chapter authorizations expired, 2; chapters re-authorized, 1; chapters given extension of time, 7; chapter locations changed, 2; DAR State regents confirmed, 27; DAR State vice regents confirmed, 26; charters issued, 4.

Among the many satisfactions of serving as organizing secretary general over the past year was the experiencing of the zeal and determination of DAR State regents to increase both chapter membership and the number of chapters in their States, and being aided by the skillful services of dedicated staff members—Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Hershman, and Miss Orme.

AMANDA A. THOMAS,
Organizing Secretary General.

THE TREASURER GENERAL

The first annual financial report of this administration reflects the generous contributions of the membership to the many programs and activities of the DAR. Although receipts for dues and applications are slightly higher than in the preceding year, total net receipts for the current fund are down slightly. Despite this, the combined total of the current and special funds is up from the preceding year.

Thanks to the enthusiastic reception accorded the book In Washington . . . The DAR, the heavy printing, postage, and handling costs for the book almost have been met. As of February 28, 1966, the remaining charge against this book had been reduced to $5,143.73, and it is anticipated that the supply of copies for sale is sufficient to wipe out this charge during the present fiscal year.

The net of receipts over disbursements for Constitution Hall is shown at a very modest $3,348.01. It should be pointed out, however, that the small profit shown is the result of new accounting methods, designed to reflect more realistically the actual cost of operations. These figures underscore the necessity of increasing rentals if future maintenance of Constitution Hall is not to be a continuing drain on the Society.

The shortage of clerical help and the difficulty in recruiting such assistance is best illustrated by the reduced totals for salaries paid in both the accounting and records offices. The records office, in particular, was seriously understaffed during the past year. The salary total for this office alone was down more than $5,000 from the previous year—despite the overtime which would be considered excessive had it not been so badly needed. Competing as we must with rising Government salaries, it has been most difficult to fill vacancies as they occur. These facts notwithstanding, both offices have managed to carry heavy work loads. Gratitude is expressed to Jeannette Jackson, head of the records office, and to Frances Davis, head of the accounting office, for their ceaseless and devoted efforts to meet necessary deadlines.

SARA R. JONES
(Mrs. Henry Stewart Jones),
Treasurer General.

THE REGISTRAR GENERAL

The registrar general's department had a busy year in coping with the multitude of papers which the successful membership drive brought to a greatly depleted staff and because of the initiating of several new projects designed to save time, money, and labor for the members and staff of the National Society.

One of the larger undertakings is the microfilming, on aperture cards, of all application papers in the custody of the registrar general.

The pieces of equipment, with markers, are being given by DAR members, chapters, and State organizations as honorariums. The contributions made since the microfilming was authorized in 1961 and those received during this administration will be of great help.

Lack of space for one more bound volume of applications on the shelves—which reach the ceiling of our large record room—made the work immediately imperative; but the use of the cards, on which an entire paper will be shown in miniature, will facilitate the work of the staff and offer security for the records. Binding and rebinding costs will be eliminated.

When the great task is finished, and only current papers require filming, the equipment will be used by the Society to film records in other departments and to copy rare books in the DAR Library that now are sent elsewhere for microcopying.

We are grateful to the Arkansas and Indiana DAR State Societies, which gave "readers" in honor of their regents, and to the Illinois DAR, which gave several machines in honor of its regent and the registrar general. The Illinois Daughters also donated seven new office chairs for the staff members, who are very grateful.

At the beginning of the year, this officer, in conference with officials of the National Archives, U.S. Government, was able to make important arrangements for photostat copies of pension records needed by staff genealogists in the verification of Revolutionary War service. The photostat copies save many hours a week in abstract work.

New this year is the short-form application blank. It is half the size of the old one, and it requires only half as much work on the part of both applicant and staff genealogist. This form can be used when prospective members have, in the first four generations—counting the applicant as generation one—an ancestor in common with a relative who is already a member of the Society. The applicant need fill out the form only as far as the ancestor, where the name of the said relative and her NSDAR number are given for references. Since we have many mother-daughter papers and often sister-sister applications, particularly in the formation of new chapters, this form has been enthusiastically received. When supplementals are again being received, this form may also be used under the same circumstances of reference to an ancestor of recent generation who is used by a relative.

It was with great regret that we had to defer the checking of supplemental papers in order to concentrate on new applications. Such a procedure has been necessary at other times when the size of the staff suddenly has become inadequate for the whole job. Supplementals are important, and we hope that our big volunteer corps, which will work the entire week following Continental Congress, will be able to process much of the backlog. This procedure, of course, is a temporary measure, as heroic efforts are being made to increase the permanent staff. In the meantime, our heartfelt gratitude goes to members for their patience and cooperation, and for the encouraging letters of understanding and appreciation given in regard to our staff problems and new endeavors to be of service.

News of the possible publication of a DAR Patriot Index has DAR members and all genealogists excited. The index, as planned, would contain in alphabetical order the names of all patriots whose service, of whatever kind, has been used for eligibility to membership by DAR members. Complete identification of the patriot, including his rank, State, years of birth and death, and name of wife (or wives) would be given. The records in the registrar general's files would be used. A committee for the compilation and publication of the index has been appointed by the president general at the suggestion of the Executive Committee. Actual work on the preparation of the index, which will be under the supervision of Mrs. Frank Harris, past organizing secretary general, will begin when enough advance orders for the book have been received. More information, including the price, will be available soon.

Some DAR State Societies have published directories that list the ancestors of members, and these have been very helpful, but since they constitute a small fraction of the total and seldom give identification, the present plan for a book of national scope will help fill the void left by the discontinuation of the lineage books and indices for them. The smaller lists of ancestors can still be used to direct attention to the big volume where identification is given. Since many men of the same name often served from a given community, identification is necessary. Use of a full index should save much correspondence between applicants and the registrar general's department. If an applicant finds the name of her ancestor, she need only ask this office for a photocopy of the paper involving him. A check for $2 together with the permission to copy (from the member whose paper is to be used) will be sent to the treasurer general, as usual.

At the DAR Continental Congress meeting of registrars, organizing secretaries, and chairmen of the Genealogical Records, Lineage Research, and Membership Committees, permission was given the DAR State Societies and chapters to exhibit and take orders for any of their publications of a genealogical nature.

Not only has every effort been made to effect economies in time, work, and money within the department, but other help has been given to members in their efforts to increase membership.

The DAR membership commission was authorized by the Executive Committee at the beginning of this administration. It is composed of the registrar general (chairman), the organizing secretary general, and the chairmen of the Genealogical Records, Lineage Research, and Membership Committees. Mrs. Frank Harris is advisor to the commission, which, by coordinating the work of those specifically engaged in membership activity, has found teamwork not only valuable in the exchange of ideas and the formation of plans but helpful in avoiding duplication of effort and possible misunderstandings. Many DAR State organizations and chapter units have organized the membership work by setting up similar commissions, and the reports of this coordinated effort have been enthusiastic.

An article on the work of the NSDAR membership commission, with suggestions for DAR State and chapter teamwork, and other instructive articles by members of the commission have appeared in DAR Magazine. Several future articles are planned, and these will be designed to bring assistance to all those who are engaged in membership work, which is so vital to the Society.

Many members are not aware of the wealth of literature—free booklets and those for which a small charge is made—that is available from the DAR business office to aid in lineage research, in proper preparation of application blanks, and in increasing the membership. The article "Genealogical Research for DAR"—first published in DAR Magazine during the administration of Miss Carraway and since given out by the thousands to those who have requested it—was revised and republished in booklet form in the past year. It is free to those doing DAR research work. Revision of some of the other pamphlets is planned for next year by members of the membership commission.

The national chairman of the Lineage Research Committee, Mrs. Ivan Johnson, has assembled a kit of material valuable to registrars and researchers. The cost of the entire kit is $2. Further details are given in the committee chairman's report.

Credit for the prodigious amount of work accomplished by the registrar general's department in spite of its unfortunate loss of personnel is due to the small but dedicated staff headed by Mrs. Kelly and Miss Morris, chief clerks. The staff has furnished the following statistics on the year's work: Applications received, 7,901; applications verified, 7,016; supplementals received, 127; supplementals verified, 155; total papers verified, 7,171; applications returned unverified, 280; supplementals returned unverified, 15; new records verified, 392; permits issued for insignia, 2,499; letters written, 9,803; postals written, 7,529. The last national number is 516737.

EVELYN C. PETERS
(Mrs. Albert Grover Peters),
Registrar General.

THE HISTORIAN GENERAL

The past year has been one of achievement in the preservation of historic sites, the placing of markers on the graves of Revolutionary War soldiers and DAR members, and increased interest in the study of American history.

At the beginning of this administration it was voted to continue the cataloging, indexing, and preservation of Revolutionary War records. This work began on November 1, with Miss Mabel E. Winslow as the cataloger of the Americana Collection. She reports: "There are numerous documents in various categories signed by Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams and other early Presidents. The National Society is the possessor of three certificates of membership in the Society of the Cincinnati, signed by George Washington at Mount Vernon."

For our collection of signatures of "first governors" we received a document signed by Alexander McNair, first governor of Missouri, and one signed by the first governor of Colorado, John L. Routt. This leaves but five more States to complete this rare collection—Florida, Georgia, North Dakota, South Carolina, and Utah.

Phillip Witten's "Cyphering Book," written by his schoolmaster John Meepe in 1766 and possibly the only one in existence, was presented by the Keystone Chapter, District of Columbia, in memory of Mrs. Susan Witten Neal, a direct descendant of Phillip Witten. "Order of the Day," a book written in longhand by the clerks of the Sixth Virginia Regiment was presented by the White Plains Chapter, White Plains, New York, in honor of Mrs. Robert P. Smith, past regent. George Washington's signature appears several times in the book.

The historian general was asked by the head of the manuscript section of the Library of Congress for a listing of some of our outstanding documents for inclusion in the National Union Catalog of Manuscript Collection, which is prepared and published by the Library of Congress. We were happy to cooperate in the name of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution.

The chairman of the American History Month Committee, Mrs. John Fred Schlafly, performed outstanding work in promoting the essay contest in February.

Mrs. Robert P. Sweeny, designer and distributor of the American history medals, reports that she has filled orders for 5,172 medals. Appreciation is extended to her for the valuable contribution she has made to this work.

Letters of permission to mark historic spots and the graves of Revolutionary soldiers and DAR members numbered 492. Twenty-five documents were received for the Americana collection. The historian general's office received requests for 8,573 American history certificates, 1,009 history posters, and 29,591 history stickers.

The statistics that follow were compiled from reports of the DAR State historians on the year's activities: Anniversaries of 2,071 historic persons and 2,119 historic events were celebrated; 3,949 historical programs were presented (3,091 for adults and 858 for children); 741 historical programs were televised; DAR-sponsored tours to historic places numbered 1,763 for adults and 2,357 for children; the graves of 502 Revolutionary soldiers, of 248 wives or daughters of Revolutionary soldiers, of 82 ancestors of DAR members, and of 985 DAR members were marked; 112 restorations of historic structures were begun and 30 were completed; 21 sites were marked for restoration; and 96 historic markers were placed at sites of completed restorations.

Following are some specific items and events as reported by a few of the DAR State historians.

CALIFORNIA.—A redwood marker was dedicated on February 22, 1966, to the memory of Mrs. Rebecca Purkett Lambert, honorary DAR State regent. The marker is to be placed in the redwood grove named in her honor.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.—The DAR gave $200 to purchase a filing cabinet for the Archives Room in honor of the outgoing regent, Miss Mary McNutt.

IDAHO.—The DAR State historian wrote: "It is an injustice merely to record quantitatively the historic activity of the chapters of the Idaho DAR State Society. On the other hand, a qualitative analysis would run into pages, for the most routine attempts to fulfill the aims of the NSDAR are interesting and exciting."

NEW JERSEY.—A quote from the report of the DAR historian: "The most rewarding efforts have been with the school children. One chapter gave a $50 bond to the senior boy and girl with highest average in history; several chapters escorted students on history tours; one chapter sponsored an unusual quiz program in two schools; one worked closely with the history club of the local high school; and one recommended a teacher to the Freedoms Foundation for an award. Many books on historical subjects were given to school libraries. Reports show an indication of greater interest and understanding of DAR historical objectives."

NEW MEXICO.—Much interest was shown and there were many accomplishments in all phases of the history program. The New Mexico State DAR is cooperating with the Forest Service on a project in White Water Canyon, near Glenwood, on Highway 180. The forest is to be restored and dedicated with a marker.

PENNSYLVANIA.—Features in this report were the activity in the marking of the State's "Highway of History" and the naming of Moshannon as the "Pioneer Chapter." The Moshannon Chapter's project is the marking of the milestones between Philipsburg and Bellefonte on the old Philadelphia-Erie stagecoach road.

ESTHER G. LANGE
(Mrs. Forrest Fay Lange),
Historian General.

THE LIBRARIAN GENERAL

The DAR Library is an integral part of our Society. In the current effort to increase our membership it is of exceptional importance not only to prospective members but to the staff of the registrar general. It is our hope that the DAR Library will continue to grow until it is second to none.

The summer and fall months were very busy ones, as many historians, scholars, genealogists, and other visitors availed themselves of the opportunity of using the library at that time.

The recent expansion has provided more space for workers and books and has greatly enhanced the usefulness as well as the beauty of the library.

We are most grateful for the gift of $5,000 from Miss Pearl Freeman of Columbus, Nebraska, in memory of her sister, Miss Ruby Freeman, a long-time member. A fund known as the Ruby Freeman Library Fund has been established, and the proceeds from it will be used to purchase books.

The National Officers Club, NSDAR, presented two bookstacks—one in honor of the club's four founders, Mrs. Robert G. Hogan, Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, Mrs. George T. Smallwood, and Mrs. William H. Talbot, and the other in honor of Mrs. Roy V. Shrewder, club president, 1964-1966.

DAR State Societies having a librarian in every chapter are Alabama, District of Columbia, Idaho, Maine, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Carolina, and Texas. The following State Societies sent in all the requested books: Connecticut, District of Columbia, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nebraska, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, and Wyoming.

During the year, $5,812.50 was contributed for DAR Library work. The sum of $3,847.48 was spent for State Society work; $622.98 was contributed for rebinding books; and $770.81 was contributed for the microfilming of rare and worn books. The library received 755 books, 353 pamphlets, and 44 manuscripts. Members are reminded that the DAR Library can accept genealogical material only. Before sending books that are not on the list of requested items, members are advised to write the librarian general to determine whether such books can be accepted.

The many cash contributions are greatly appreciated. It is suggested, however, that such contributions be given to the library for use as needed rather than for a specified purpose. Genealogy is the life blood of our Society, and the DAR Library should be of great concern to all members.

Many thanks to the library's efficient staff—Mrs. Walsh, Miss Allmond, Miss Bullard, Mrs. Morgan, Mrs. Johnson, and Mr. Stinger—for its loyalty and untiring efforts in our behalf.

CLARA W. FORREST
(Mrs. Herbert D. Forrest),
Librarian General.

THE CURATOR GENERAL

Several diamond jubilee projects are under way at Memorial Continental Hall and in the DAR Museum proper. Work on the remodeling of the Wisconsin Room has been started. Plans for this project were under consideration for two years and only recently have been brought to completion. The plans call for the reconstruction of a room of the late 17th century, the earliest period to be represented among the State Rooms.

Handsome scenic wallpaper, made in France, was given to the Maryland State DAR. This wallpaper is being prepared for hanging in the Maryland Room.

The engineering design for the air conditioning of the DAR Museum Gallery, for the preservation of manufactures on display there, has been completed. It is hoped that the work on this diamond jubilee project of the Museum Committee can be started in the near future.

Three fine portraits that are on indefinite loan to the National Society through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin E. Campbell of Boston, Massachusetts, have been hung in the Museum Gallery. These portraits are of Colonel Thomas Marshall, who was with General Washington at Valley Forge; of Deacon Samuel Barret, a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company; and of Rebeckah Barrett—all ancestors of Mrs. Campbell. The portrait of Colonel Marshall is by John Singleton Copley. Also on exhibit are portraits of Dr. Joseph Wells Hall and his wife, Henrietta Maria Stockton Hall. These portraits were loaned by Major Chalmers Gaither Hall, a great-grandson of the subjects.

Between March 1, 1965, and February 28, 1966, 47 DAR State Societies contributed $9,159.17 to the Museum Fund and 44 State Societies donated $4,252.75 as Friends of the Museum.

Among the manufactures presented to the Museum by 26 State Societies were some fine pieces of Chinese export porcelain. Of special interest is the Hawkes-Thornton collection of porcelain. The Golden Hill Chapter, New York City, gave to the National Society for its diamond jubilee a handsome 6-piece silver tea and coffee service in memory of Mrs. Alexander William Whiteford, organizing regent.

The Museum loaned silver manufacts for a special exhibition at the Corcoran Gallery of Art. These items, made by regional smiths, provided an exhibit that was most pertinent to the area.

Three Museum "special events"—each for a different group—were held during the year. A fourth, arranged for Members of Congress and their wives, was scheduled for January 30, but it had to be cancelled because of the blizzard. Appreciation is expressed to Mrs. George E. Monk and her committee, to Mrs. Henry F. Bishop, and to the members of the DAR Museum staff—Mr. Klaphor, director-curator, Mr. Cato, assistant curator, Mr. Johnson, assistant curator, Miss Warren, secretary, and Mr. Holliday, museum aide—all of whom rendered such able assistance in connection with these events. Appreciation also is expressed to the museum advisers and to the members of the arts committee for their interest and advice throughout the year.

The annual reception of the curator general was held in the Museum Gallery on April 18. Prior to the reception, the Commodore Perry Chapter, Tennessee, presented the Museum with a Chinese silk shawl owned by Mrs. James K. Polk; and the Harrisburg Chapter, Pennsylvania, presented it with a teapot from the family of Abigail Hartman Rice. Also, Mrs. Muscoe C. Holland, Sr., former DAR Museum Committee chairman, of New Jersey, presented to the New Jersey DAR—as a gift of her daughter, Mrs. John Amen—a fan that belonged to Mrs. Grover Cleveland.

Improvements that included the installation of new gates were made to the State Rooms of Iowa, Michigan, Rhode Island, Texas, Illinois, Maryland, Indiana, New York, Missouri, District of Columbia, and Virginia. The executive offices, the Assembly Room, and other areas in the DAR buildings were redecorated with the assistance of the DAR Museum staff.

The preparation of new color slides was begun; the brochure on the Museum was reprinted; and the Caroline Scott Harrison orchid note-paper was reissued. Museum accessions were the subject of several articles in DAR Magazine.

Awareness and appreciation of the DAR Museum on the part of our members and the public have been evidenced by the large number of visitors during the year.

The Museum awards this year went to the Massachusetts State DAR Society for its handsome State Room and for the loan by Mr. and Mrs. Franklin E. Campbell (the latter is a member of the Sarah Bradlee Fulton Chapter, Boston) of the three portraits mentioned above, and to the Connecticut State Society for the financial support given by Miss Katharine Matthies, honorary vice president general, who is a member of Sarah Ludlow Chapter. Mrs. George S. Tolman, III, DAR State regent, accepted the award for Massachusetts; and Mrs. Henri M. Guilloz, State chairman of the DAR Museum committee, accepted for Connecticut.

GENEVIEVE F. MORSE
(Mrs. Frederick Tracy Morse),
Curator General.

THE REPORTER GENERAL TO THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION

Complying with the terms of our charter granted by the United States Congress, the 68th Report of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, was submitted to the Smithsonian Institution in January 1966. That report, for the period March 1, 1964, to March 1, 1965, was prepared by Mrs. Arthur L. Allen, the outgoing reporter general last spring.

Sincere thanks are expressed to Mrs. Allen for her splendid report and to Mrs. Daum, Miss Ralston, and Mrs. Borkovec for their kind advice and assistance to a newcomer in the work.

Letters were sent to the DAR State regents and to the national committee chairmen regarding preparation of the reports for inclusion in this year's report to the Smithsonian Institution. Letters also were sent to the DAR State historians giving data that would assist in the locating of graves of Revolutionary War soldiers and outlining the manner in which the data of the procured records should be reported for our information and guidance in completing the files. Application forms for the procuring of U.S. Government headstones and markers may be obtained by writing the Chief of Support Services, Headquarters, Department of the Army, attention Memorial Division, Washington, D.C. 20025. In the past year, the State DAR Societies provided data on 216 Revolutionary soldiers whose graves had not previously been reported as located. Because of insufficient data, the names and grave locations of 63 of these will not be published in the 69th report of the National Society.

This officer extended greetings from the president general when she visited many DAR chapters to speak on the "DAR Story" or of the Smithsonian Institution. She attended two national board meetings, two Executive Committee meetings, DAR State conferences, and council meetings, and she was among those attending the Diamond Jubilee Celebration in October, the historic tour of Baltimore and Fort McHenry, the Maryland governor's reception honoring our president general in the old State Capitol at Annapolis, and the Naval Academy.

EFFIE KARR CHAMPIEUX

(Mrs. John James Champieux),

Reporter General to the Smithsonian Institution.

REPORTS OF THE NATIONAL COMMITTEES

AMERICAN HERITAGE

This committee reports the active participation of DAR State Societies and chapters and of entire communities in the work of preserving our rich American heritage.

Cooperating with museums, historical societies, and restoration groups, DAR members served as guides and hostesses, conducted tours, wrote original papers, presented pageants, arranged pilgrimages to historical shrines and homes, and gave many fine antiques and historical items to the DAR Museum, other museums, historical societies, and restorations. All phases of the committee's work were represented in the varied programs on art, crafts, drama, literature, and music.

Exhibits of early American art were sponsored, and programs on American painters were presented. Color slides, including those from the Philadelphia Art Museum with accompanying musical records, were used in chapter programs. A Montana chapter had a community-wide program on "Our Heritage of Natural Beauty" that featured local art and artists.

Paintings were purchased for galleries and donations were made for art collections.

Indian crafts, weaving, leather work, and beading were demonstrated. Subjects of other programs were needlework, quilting, lace-making, crewelwork, and colonial cookery. The hundreds of displays included old bells, flags, and coins, handmade silver, glass, china, pewter, antique jewelry, quilts, dolls, shawls, fans, maps, buttons, furniture, and other articles of colonial times. The participation of DAR members and of residents of the communities in unearthing these articles and making them available to the public received much favorable publicity.

Members wrote papers on the making of stained glass, old Tiffany glass, and early Mary Gregory glass; and the chapters displayed the collections.

Many chapters showed the movie "Williamsburg and the Story of a Patriot." A Milwaukee chapter used the movie on the Louisiana Acadians from 1765-1800 at its booth at the Holiday Folk Fair. It obtained exact copies of Acadian costumes and craftwork from information furnished by the Acadian Museum in St. Martinville, Louisiana. Dramatic plays and skits were staged by many chapters.

An Oklahoma chapter, working with other patriotic and civic groups, planned a community-wide program titled "A Freedom Bell Ringing" that was presented on July 4th. Churches, radio and television stations, and newspapers publicized the event, and the American Legion furnished a Color Guard in full dress. At the appointed hour church bells and chimes rang out over the city. A speaker gave recognition of the day and its purpose in an address before a record crowd.

Early American literature was researched for papers and programs. Members wrote two books and three historical pamphlets based on information culled from old wills, and other records. Many chapters arranged displays of old documents and rare books.

Folk music was collected, studied, and preserved, and one program on this subject used the theme "Where the Spirit of the Lord Is, There Is Liberty." Old musical instruments were displayed in connection with many of the American music programs.

The DAR programs on American heritage were well-attended and well-publicized, and they had an important part in inspiring the communities to aid and encourage the preservation of that heritage.

ROBERT C. CARR
(Mrs. John A. Carr),
Chairman.

MOTION PICTURE

The Motion Picture Committee, consisting of three officers and about 20 reviewers, previewed 190 films in 1965. This work does not close down for the summer, but goes on 52 weeks of the year.

Using the conscientious reports of its reviewers, the DAR joins with nine other groups in the United States to make up the Film Estimate Board of National Organizations, whose purpose is to formulate suggested classifications of motion pictures. The board is not one of censorship, and it does not recommend films; rather it presents critical synopses of the films previewed. Sometimes, in the "Green Sheet," the committee does take an "exception," which means that it adds a particular viewpoint which may differ from that of the others, or it may give a film a different classification that reflects the committee's own judgment.

Of the 190 movies reviewed last year, 42 were deemed suitable for adults only; 75 considered suitable for adults and mature young people; and 73 were considered proper fare for younger children. While the expenses of the Film Estimate Board are borne by the motion picture industry, at no time have representatives on the board ever felt pressure to upgrade a film. The classifications are incorporated into the "Green Sheet," a publication which serves as a guide by giving descriptive information against a background of a wide range of tastes. It is a free monthly paper, available to schools, libraries, churches, and so forth; and DAR chapters have found its information very useful for their motion picture workshop meetings.

In the committee's work and public relations, its members are able to express and publicize the ideals of the DAR on a national scale by virtue of the National Society's position on the "Green Sheet," which is not purchasable, but invitational.

LUCILLE McLOUGHLIN
(Mrs. Maurice E. McLoughlin),
Chairman.

AMERICAN INDIANS

The American Indian Committee chose as its project for the current three-year administration the providing of a home economics center, furnishings for dormitories, an apartment for the house mother and a faculty room in the building now under construction at St. Mary's Episcopal School for Indian Girls, at Springfield, South Dakota. The DAR has pledged $30,000 over the three-year period to attain this goal.

Between March 1, 1965, and March 1, 1966, DAR members contributed $50,440 to the work carried on for the first Americans. An additional $4,000 for food, clothing, shelter, and medicine was sent directly to tribes from DAR chapters in the States where destitute Indians live.

Over 100 Indian boys and girls received scholarship assistance from either DAR State scholarship funds or from the Society's Indian Scholarship Fund.

Bacone College in Bacone, Oklahoma, was the recipient of at least 3,000 pounds of good used clothing for its Thrift Shop, and St. Mary's Episcopal School for Indian Girls received 9,500 pounds of clothing for its store.

A new card catalogue cabinet for the library at Bacone College was given by this committee in honor of Mrs. William H. Sullivan, Jr., the president general.

The Arizona State DAR committee chairman contributed 40 color slides on the Arizona Indians to the Program Committee for use by the chapters.

The Florida State DAR Society reported that on May 30, 1965, one of its scholarship students, William Lawrence Cypress, a Seminole Indian, received a commission as second lieutenant in the U.S. Army and a bachelor of arts degree from Stetson University. Both accomplishments are "firsts" for a Seminole Indian. A full account of this story and other financial aid afforded the Seminoles by the Florida DAR is printed in the March 1966 issue of DAR Magazine.

The California, Illinois, and Washington DAR Societies donate heavily to the Indian Centers in their States, and the State DAR Societies of Louisiana, Maine, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oregon, and Wisconsin contributed much to the Indian schools and families in their own States.

RUTH MARTORELLI
(Mrs. Benjamin O. Martorelli),
Chairman.

AMERICANISM AND DAR MANUAL FOR CITIZENSHIP

The work of NSDAR members to promote Americanism in the naturalization courts and schools and by distributing copies of the "DAR Manual for Citizenship" is truly a story of unselfish, dedicated devotion.

More than 1,100 chapters had programs on Americanism, and some 300 of these presented programs to the public. In some chapters study groups were formed on the "DAR Manual for Citizenship" and the recently passed Immigration Act. Some members taught in Americanization classes, volunteering more than 12,000 hours. Over 20,000 books and magazines were placed in libraries and schools, with some $8,000 being spent on this program.

This committee received many letters from public school personnel, libraries, embassies, and service men whose foreign wives wish to become citizens, praising the "DAR Manual for Citizenship" and the audio-tape "Citizen—USA," which is based on the manual. More than 47,000 copies of the manual were distributed last year to naturalization courts and the above-named groups. Nationally, copies of the manual are given free to the naturalization courts and Americanization schools as a public service. Locally, the chapters pay for the copies distributed to the schools, libraries, etc., as a public service to the community. Over 8,000 copies were given last year for this purpose.

The work at the naturalization courts is an important aspect of this committee's activities, especially at large ports of entry. Many chapters sponsor teas for new citizens following their induction ceremony. Individually, members follow up by taking new citizens to church, historic sites, recreation centers, and to register to vote.

Since its introduction in January 1965, the audio-tape "Citizen—USA" has been used extensively on radio, in public school history classes, in Girl Scout and Boy Scout troops to help with their citizenship badges, and at DAR chapter meetings.

Americanism medals, presented to outstanding naturalized American citizens having qualities of trustworthiness, service, leadership, and patriotism in his community was presented to 58 men and women during the year. A notable recipient was Mr. Artur Rubinstein, who was presented a medal by the District of Columbia DAR following a National Symphony concert in Constitution Hall.

Two occupational therapy scholarships were given to deserving girls who wish to engage in this most worthy occupation. The money for such scholarships is contributed by individual chapters on a voluntary basis.

IRENE I. CAMPBELL
(Mrs. G. Murray Campbell),
Chairman.

CHILDREN OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

The Children of the American Revolution Committee promotes the work and principles of the CAR and interests the DAR chapters in the sponsorship, leadership, and promotion of the CAR Societies' work and activities. The national chairman of this committee thanks the Daughters for their support and cooperation in providing leadership and financial assistance and for opening their homes for CAR Society meetings and providing transportation of CAR members to local, State, regional, and national DAR meetings.

During the past year, 2,523 DAR chapters reported representing 15,375 CAR members; 25 new CAR Societies were organized; and 114 new Societies began the process of organization. There are 431 national promoters and 1,659 State promoters among the DAR members; and 1,132 Daughters serve as senior chairmen of the CAR Societies.

California had the largest number of DAR chapters sponsoring and completing organization of new CAR Societies during the year; New Mexico had the largest percentage of DAR chapters sponsoring and completing organization of new CAR Societies, and the Illinois DAR donated the most money for CAR work.

MARY JANE FAUST
(Mrs. NILE E. FAUST),
Chairman.

CONSERVATION

During the year the DAR members created parks; fought to have unsightly spots eliminated; and spent several thousand dollars to send teachers to conservation workshops and boys to forestry training camps. Children were taught the need for cleanliness and the danger as well as the unsightliness of a littered countryside. Programs on beautification were presented in every State and in most cities. The DAR planted more than 100,000 trees and 550,000 bulbs. Many long-neglected cemeteries were cleaned up and beautified.

The National Society, under the leadership of Mrs. William H. Sullivan, Jr., chose "Save the Redwoods" as its diamond jubilee project. Thousands of letters were written to California officials, and, through the efforts of many, the "old priests"—as the redwoods sometimes are referred to—have received a reprieve, and the heritage of all Americans has been safeguarded, at least for a time. The Redwoods League of California, the U.S. Wildlife Service, and the U.S. Forestry Service were extremely helpful in supplying information. The DAR hopes to contribute $5,000 of the $2 million necessary for the preservation of these trees.

MARGARET S. LIPSCOMB
(Mrs. R. E. LIPSCOMB),
Chairman.

DAR GOOD CITIZENS

The work of this committee is approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, a department of the National Education Association. The DAR Good Citizens Committee stresses the importance of good citizenship and encourages its practice among senior girls in accredited public high schools by helping them to develop the qualities of service, leadership, dependability, and patriotism.

A total of 2,466 DAR chapters in 50 States worked actively in this program during the year. There were 266 more schools participating than there were during the previous year, even though consolidations had reduced the number of high schools in many States. More schools have been contacted by the chapters in several States. Nineteen States had 100 percent DAR chapter participation in the program, and 20 others were only a few chapters short of achieving that rating. A total of 8,478 girls were entered in the DAR Good Citizen contests.

In addition to the $100 U.S. Savings bond given by the National Society, awards amounting to $5,026 in bonds and money were given by DAR chapters, State Societies, and districts. A DAR Good Citizen pin was given to each chapter winner. Additional awards winners included 1,669 copies of In Washington—The DAR Story, 28 flag pins, 8 silver bowls, 3 DAR anniversary plates, silver spoons, corsages, and being entertained at DAR State conferences. Chapters entertained winners and their parents at teas, luncheons, and dinners. In ten States the chapter winners were taken on historical pilgrimages. As in the past, the winner at each high school was presented with a certificate from the National Society, usually at a special chapel meeting or at the graduation ceremony.

The competitive method recommended by the National Society as a basis in selecting the winner includes a questionnaire, recommendations, and transcript of grades. A scholastic rating was required last year, for the first time.

The National Society presented the national winner with a $1,000 scholarship to the college of her choice and a five-inch sterling silver Paul Revere Bowl engraved "National DAR Good Citizen, 1966."

The judging in each division is under the supervision of the national vice chairman, who chooses the judges. The judging for the national DAR Good Citizen was done last year by a committee of school officials.

The national DAR Good Citizen award went to the Oklahoma DAR Good Citizen, Miss Ann Cosgrove, of Norman. First and second honorable mentions, respectively, were given to Mississippi's DAR Good Citizen, Miss Martha Jane Cleland, of Jackson, and Delaware's winner, Miss Rita Regina Hayman, of Georgetown. Other DAR Good Citizens of 1966 (listed by State) were as follows:

Alabama: Cheryl Reid, Birmingham	Nebraska: Pamela Carter, Bridgeport
Arizona: Mary Davidson, Camp Verde	Nevada: Cynthia Geil, Reno
Arkansas: Mary Lynn Joyce, Mountain Home	New Hampshire: Judith Ellen Towers, Lincoln
California: Sunne Wright, Livingston	New Jersey: Dorothy Courtenay Bass, Cherry Hill
Colorado: Debbie Raso, Pueblo	New Mexico: Carolyn Thompson, Clovis
Connecticut: Barbara A. Friswell, Norwich	New York: Sylvia Person, Sherman
Florida: Mildred Tscharna Hartsfield, Lake City	North Carolina: Laura Anne Greer, Whitesville
Georgia: Betty Smith, Winder	North Dakota: Claudia Moen, Hettinger
Hawaii: Lillian Kirjomi Nakagawa, Wahiawa	Ohio: Nelly Maude Case, Washington Court House
Idaho: Clara Louise Collette, Boise	Oregon: Amy Jo Helm, Ashland
Illinois: Nancy Hunter, Harrisburg	Pennsylvania: Carol Kathryn Bancroft, Darby
Indiana: Brenda Sue McCrary, Loo-gootee	Rhode Island: Bonnie Jean Kesner, East Providence
Iowa: Irma L. Johnson, Montezuma	South Carolina: Maggie Dean Pettit, Gaffney
Kansas: Jane Briggeman, Iuka	South Dakota: Phyllis Harrington, Aberdeen
Kentucky: Janice Kaye Coverdale, Bowling Green	Tennessee: Anne Taylor Anthony, Memphis
Louisiana: Julia Leone Dimiterchik, Many	Texas: Nancy Ann McKellar, Houston
Maine: Andrea E. McGinley, Dixfield	Utah: Ruth Christensen, Ogden
Massachusetts: Dianne M. Purpura, Orleans	Vermont: Ruth Allen, East Montpelier
Michigan: Judith Pugh, Detroit	Virginia: Jo Anne Deacon, Lynchburg
Minnesota: Marva Jean Hutchins, St. Cloud	West Virginia: Beverly Ann Dennison, Dunbar
Missouri: Janie McIntire, Rich Hill	Wisconsin: Marjorie E. Weess, Oshkosh
Montana: Sue Kathleen Higham, Missoula	Wyoming: Nancy Wright, Newcastle

Many DAR State chairmen have written to express how rewarding the work of the committee has been and their belief that it represents one of the finest endeavors of the DAR.

Chairman.

DAR MAGAZINE

Although the DAR Magazine Committee began the year with the problem of paying for eleven issues rather than the usual ten, it has emerged with a substantial cash balance. Expenses for the February 1965 and February 1966 issues were paid before the close of the fiscal year, leaving a balance of $67,721.71. For the past eight months the magazine has operated with a full-time editor, and this has proved successful from the standpoints of both economy and efficiency. Salary costs increased by $4,611.07, but the over-all cost of printing the magazine was reduced by $11,443.15. Beginning with the November issue, the layout was handled entirely by the editor and Mrs. Peggy Stanley, and the results have been savings in design costs and more internal control. The substantial cash balance reflected in the report of the treasurer general is a result of the one-dollar increase in subscription price, the large amount of advertising for the year, and the reduced printing costs.

The office staff, which maintains the subscription lists, is under the capable direction of Mrs. Florence Checchia, who is commended for a successful year.

The diamond jubilee issue of DAR Magazine was extremely well-received throughout the country. This beautiful commemorative issue has been widely praised by our members and by nonmembers who were fortunate enough to receive copies. Members of the graphic arts industry were highly complimentary of the typography and design of that issue as well as of the six succeeding issues.

The diamond jubilee issue served as a means of presenting to the public the history of the DAR in its service to the Nation. All members of the staff at National Headquarters who aided in the publication of the beautiful diamond jubilee issue are commended and thanked.

The annual questionnaire sent to all State DAR chairmen of the committee contained the question "Do you like the change in cover?" There were 49 responses, and 36 answered yes.

The October subscription contest has had excellent results for three consecutive years, increasing the circulation by 16,639 during that period. The first prize of $100 for the greatest increase in new subscriptions in October 1965 went to the Virginia State DAR, which had a gain of 4.9 percent in new subscriptions. Prize-winning chapters with the greatest increase in new subscriptions within their respective divisions were as follows:

Gan-e-o-di-ya Chapter, New York, northeastern division, 17.9 percent; Golden Horseshoe Chapter, Virginia, eastern division, 67.4 percent; Old Bute Chapter, North Carolina, southeastern division, 48.4 percent; John Cooke Chapter, West Virginia, east-central division, 68.0 percent; Sagamore Chapter, Kansas, south-central division, 84.6 percent; Captain John Whistler Chapter, Illinois, north-central division, 105.6 percent; and Columbia River Chapter, Washington, western division, 68.4 percent.

Prizes of $10 for first place and $5 for second place were awarded to DAR State Societies as follows: Membership of more than 5,500: Florida, 1st (increase, 92); Virginia, 2d (88)—membership between 3,000 and 5,500: New Jersey, 1st (94); Tennessee, 2d (67)—membership between 1,000 and 3,000: Oklahoma, 1st (25); Minnesota, 2d (19)—with less than 1,000 members: New Mexico, 1st (38); Rhode Island, 2d (15).

Prizes of $10 for the greatest percentage of increase went to the following State Societies: Florida, 5 percent (membership over 5,500); New Jersey, 8.3 percent (membership between 3,000 and 5,500); Minnesota, 5.1 percent (membership between 1,000 and 3,000); and New Mexico, 15.9 percent (membership less than 1,000).

Thanks are expressed to the seven vice chairmen and the DAR State chairmen for their cooperation during the past year.

VERA L. GREENLEASE
(Mrs. Paul R. Greenlease),
Chairman.

DAR MAGAZINE ADVERTISING

DAR Magazine is attractive to advertisers in many fields, but this committee uses discretion in accepting advertising and sees that it is kept at the level of our National Society's high standards. Among the products not acceptable for advertising are tobacco, liquor, and questionable literature.

To be independent of National Society funds, DAR Magazine follows the patterns of other magazines and depends on advertising. During the past year a total of $83,250 in advertising was secured through the participation of 2,138 of the 2,881 DAR chapters in the 50 States and District of Columbia. The ads featured American history, education, and patriotism, and many were commercially sponsored. This program of securing advertising enables DAR chapters to participate actively in making known the DAR story and at the same time allows them to retain monies to be used for DAR State and national projects.

State prizes for advertising for the year went to New Mexico, 1st, and Nevada, 2d (State Societies with less than 1,000 members); District of Columbia, 1st, and Mississippi, 2d (with 1,000 to 4,000 members); Florida, 1st, and Georgia, 2d (4,000 to 8,000 members); and Texas, 1st, and California, 2d (over 8,000 members).

Chapter prizes were awarded as follows: Abigail Hartman Rice Chapter, District of Columbia, 1st; Nolachuckey Chapter, Tennessee, 2d; Abraham Baldwin Chapter, Georgia, 3d; and William Penn Chapter, Pennsylvania, 4th.

The following DAR State Societies had 100 percent chapter participation: Arizona, with 8 chapters; California, 143; Delaware, 9; Hawaii, 1; Illinois, 119; Nevada, 6; New Mexico, 13; and Oklahoma, 41.

DAR MUSEUM

(See Report of Curator General)

DAR SCHOOL

Between March 1, 1965, and February 28, 1966, the office of the treasurer general received $207,630.57 for all schools. This amount includes the National Society's appropriation of $10,000 ($5,000 each for Kate Duncan Smith and Tamasee DAR Schools), $6,435.67 income from invested funds, and $19,644.73 in contributions (being held by the National Society) for the Adèle Erb Sullivan Building at Tamasee. The balance, $171,550.17, was contributed by the State DAR Societies. In addition, the Helen Pouch Scholarship Fund received $8,907.64 from the Junior Membership Committee.

Highlighting the activities of the school program during the past year was this committee's diamond jubilee project, the construction of the Adele Erb Sullivan Building at a cost of $49,500. Contributions to this project have been encouraging, and it is anticipated that the ground-breaking ceremony will be held Founders' Day at Tamasee, on October 23, 1966.

The reports received from 51 State DAR Societies and the Canal Zone chapter reflect sustained interest and support of the schools by DAR members. The seven DAR Approved Schools—Berry College—Berry Academy, Blue Ridge, Crossnore, Hillside, Hindman Settlement School, Lincoln Memorial University, and Northland College—need our encouragement, appreciation, and financial support to further their efforts to extend patriotic education to their students and their communities.

Clothing and other needed articles are sent to the schools, where they are sold at reduced rates or, when necessary, are given to our students and the people in the communities. The revenue from the sales is used for the general expenses of the schools. Concerted effort made this past year to increase the free transportation of these goods to our schools resulted in eight more States (making a total of 24) furnishing free freight.

The transfer of the Tamasee High School students to Tamasee-Salem High School for their classwork has been a successful venture. The students' educational standards were improved. They are well adjusted to their new environment and are participating in the student council and athletic activities of the school while boarding at Tamasee.

The benefits from the challenging accreditation program at Kate Duncan Smith DAR School are encouraging. Approximately 65 percent of the senior class—the largest in the school's history—plan to continue their education and have applied for college entrance.

The three best reports, from the standpoint of contributions on a per capita basis, came from Alabama, Texas, and New York. Outstanding reports came also from Pennsylvania, Georgia, South Carolina, District of Columbia, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, New Jersey, California, Indiana, Virginia, Louisiana, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Rhode Island and Missouri. It is difficult to evaluate all the help given by State DAR Societies, as States with smaller memberships also contributed generously toward the scholarship funds and the support of the schools.

LUCY V. AEBLY
(Mrs. Fred Aebly),
Chairman.

GENEALOGICAL RECORDS

The Genealogical Records Committee is interested primarily in collecting, preserving, and placing on file unpublished vital records, thereby furnishing aid to persons interested in tracing family histories.

Since the formation of the committee in 1913, DAR chapters all over the United States have been collecting vital records found in courthouses, cemeteries, and churches, and from private sources such as Bible records and diaries. These records are typed, bound, and placed in the DAR Library for the use of researchers.

Prior to 1900, only 18 States had laws requiring the registering of births, marriages, and deaths. In view of this fact, it is felt that our collecting of early records from the above-mentioned sources is of significant value.

Many of State DAR Societies make duplicate copies of their collections, placing them in their State, county, and regional libraries as well as in the libraries of historical societies. In this way, the work of the Genealogical Records Committee reaches a large number of persons interested in learning more about their family histories.

Another more recent genealogical project designed to assist persons in tracing their lineage back to the Revolutionary period is the copying of DAR application papers, beginning with the grandparent of the member and going back to the Revolutionary ancestor. While the project is not complete, at present we have 612 bound volumes containing 183,600 lineages, and these volumes may be seen by anyone visiting the genealogical records office at DAR headquarters. The office also answers inquiries by mail.

HELEN W. BROWN
(Mrs. Irvin C. Brown),
Chairman.

HONOR ROLL

Through its national awards program the Honor Roll Committee offers an incentive for the promotion of the historical, educational and patriotic objectives of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution. The awards to chapters are based upon achievements which help to implement the plans of national DAR officers and committees.

Of 2,859 chapters, more than 2,500 participated in the program, and 52 percent of these achieved honor roll status. Five State DAR Societies had more than 70 percent of its chapters on the honor roll—New Mexico, Nevada, Maryland, Virginia, and Illinois. In the 60 percent range were Indiana, Alaska, Alabama, Oklahoma, and Arkansas. Of the units overseas, the France DAR gained honorable mention. More than 80 percent of the members of the Rochambeau Chapter—the only chapter in France—are descendants of the French who aided the American Colonies in the Revolutionary War.

In addition to the activities normally emphasized, the honor roll questionnaire last year recognized the 75th year of the National Society. The question calling for celebration of the diamond jubilee year met with enthusiastic response throughout the country. In honor of the occasion special meetings were held, new projects were undertaken, efforts in the preservation of historical records were renewed, generous donations were made to educational projects, and numerous copies of the book In Washington—The DAR Story were placed in public school libraries.

Every facet of the objectives and activities of the National Society was reflected in the honor roll program.

EDITH B. COGSWELL
(Mrs. William G. Cogswell),
Chairman.

JUNIOR AMERICAN CITIZENS

In 1906 an awareness that "the youth of today are the citizens of tomorrow" prompted the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, to establish a national DAR committee based on work begun in Ohio in 1901 and known as Children of the Republic. The committee functioned under several names until 1936 when "Junior American Citizens" was adopted. The purpose of the work has remained the same for 65 years: "to teach children some knowledge of the underlying principles of our Government, of American sentiment, and of all that will go toward making them good citizens."

DAR chapters, working in cooperation with public, parochial, and private schools, Boys Clubs, Scout Troops, Sunday schools, neighborhood groups and unaffiliated groups of children organize JAC Clubs. Any child, regardless of race, color or creed, from kindergarten through high school, is eligible and welcome to join. An adult club director supervises the meetings and activities, which are planned and executed by the children themselves.

To assist the director and club members, the National Society publishes a handbook offering suggestions for procedure for club organization and election and installation of officers and pertinent information about conducting meetings and activities. The handbooks as well as JAC pins and motto and creed leaflets are distributed free of charge. No child incurs any expense as a member of a JAC Club.

Also, to encourage learning by doing, the Junior American Citizens Committee each year sponsors a JAC contest on a specific theme. Last year the theme was "Faith and Freedom," and 925 items, submitted by clubs in 33 States, included essays, poems, songs, plays, programs, posters, and club projects. The entries were classified and judged according to age groups of contestants and prizes were awarded to the top four winners in each classification and age group.

Almost 335,000 children in more than 8,500 JAC Clubs in 40 States participated in the program this year. In addition, an estimated 60,000 children in Florida are reached by a DAR chapter that works in cooperation with the county history classes in educational television.

Club activities are many and varied. They range from group participation in school projects to the publishing of a school newspaper. Exchange of letters with children in other countries is popular. Members of one group visit a local hospital each week and run errands for patients as needed. In all instances these young people, by doing for others and cooperating with others, are learning the fundamental principles of good citizenship.

(Mrs.) Marian Hause Hobbs,
Chairman.

JUNIOR MEMBERSHIP

The Junior Membership Committee, encompassing all members of the National Society, between the ages of 18 and 35, reports an outstanding year. The goals for the year were to increase (1) the number of new Juniors, (2) the activities of Juniors within their DAR chapters and State Societies, (3) contributions to the Helen Pouch Memorial Scholarship Fund, and (4) participation in the Outstanding Junior Member Contest to 100 percent.

New Juniors admitted to the National Society totalled 2,066, or 31 percent of the total new members enrolled. There are approximately 10,000 Junior members in the United States.

The Helen Pouch Memorial Scholarship Fund, the only national fund-raising project for the Juniors, netted $14,515. This total broke all past records and also brought us over the $10,000 mark for the first time. Florida led in contributions with $2,338.27; Pennsylvania was second with $1,457; and Illinois was third with $1,220. New York and Virginia placed fourth and fifth, respectively. The sale of stationery and the sale of flag lapel pins helped us to reach these new highs. The Junior bazaar at DAR Continental Congress featured articles made by our Juniors. The money collected for the Helen Pouch fund is divided equally between the two DAR schools to provide scholarships.

The Outstanding Junior Member Contest has been held annually for four years. The winning Junior is honored for her contributions to the DAR and for her community activities. Each year seven divisional winners are selected from the DAR State Societies. They are introduced and presented at the Junior Dinner at the DAR Continental Congress; the national winner is announced on the opening night; and the seven divisional winners are feted at the Pages Ball. The State winners as well as the divisional winners are honored at the Junior Dinner and receive certificates of merit.

The first edition of Outstanding Young Women of America, a book in the Who's Who series, listed many Juniors, many of whom had been "Outstanding Junior Members" of State DAR Societies.

More Juniors are serving on the national defense committees within their chapters. Five Juniors hold appointments as vice chairmen of this committee and a Junior holds the chairmanship. The managing editor of DAR Magazine is a new Junior this year.

ELIZABETH PRINCE BENNETT,
Chairman.

LINEAGE RESEARCH

The Lineage Research Committee was organized for the single purpose of assisting potential members to prove their lineage back to a Revolutionary patriot. In the United States there are seven districts, each with a national vice chairman in charge of lineage research. Each DAR State Society has a chairman who is responsible for every chapter in the State and for every chapter chairman of lineage research. The DAR national chairman has an office in Washington with three employees—two efficient genealogists and a secretary.

During the past year emphasis was placed on training volunteer researchers and genealogists in the various States. Workshops and seminars were held in more than half of the States, and many more are planned for the spring and fall. Kits containing outlines for seminars and workshops were prepared, and these are proving very useful and instructive. Leaflets printed by the U.S. Government were purchased for inclusion in these kits. The most valuable leaflets are "Where to Find Births, Deaths, and Marriages" and an index of informational material available in the National Archives.

HELEN C. JOHNSON
(Mrs. Ivan T. Johnson),
Chairman.

MEMBERSHIP

The Diamond Jubilee Celebration added impetus to our gains in membership reported this year.

Eligible guests became genuinely interested in their ancestors and seemed to have realized that their obligations as patriotic citizens have increased tremendously in the last generation. As a result, 8,056 new applications for membership were received this year.

Each DAR State Society and Chapter should give special attention to the next three statistics. During the year there were 3,030 resignations, 3,856 deaths, 785 members dropped for nonpayment of dues. These losses make our gains very insignificant. DAR membership as recorded February 1, 1966, was 183,077, including 3,110 members-at-large. The total number admitted into membership, including reinstatements of 721, amount to 7,737. A total of 391 members of CAR transferred to the National Society for further patriotic service. The present membership, counted for this Continental Congress, was 184,271. There are 2,872 chapters in the National Society, including the four overseas units. Thirty-one percent of our new members were of Junior age.

In the summer of 1965 the committee chairman up-dated the membership guidebook and wrote the "Ten Carat Membership Program" for the diamond jubilee year. If followed step by step, the membership program should produce splendid visible evidence of growth in membership and new chapters; at the same time it should stimulate and activate the tired, weak chapters.

Fifty awards from the national chairman were presented to chapters having the greatest percentage of increase in membership at the various DAR State conferences. Lists of members-at-large were sent to the respective DAR State regents, requesting that every attempt be made to invite such members to join DAR chapters and participate in our program. This effort resulted in two organizing regents of new chapters being confirmed in two States.

The reciprocal membership plan met with splendid results in the few DAR State Societies that have initiated the plan, whereby many relatives of members have found a place in DAR chapters. By such an exchange of information between DAR State Societies, the DAR can make a significant gain in membership and tap a previously untapped reservoir of potential members.

This chairman gained valuable experience by being a member of the task force that toured Maryland to organize ten new Chapters in two years. I am happy to report that the mission was accomplished. Maryland led the nation with six new chapters formed during the past year.

This chairman spoke on nine occasions to groups of prospective members for new chapters, attended the national chairmen forums at the national board meetings, and made numerous trips to Washington on matters pertaining to membership projects. She is most grateful for the help and support of her committee's national vice chairmen and to the State chairmen who cooperated in the work of the committee. Appreciation also is expressed to Mrs. Jackson, chief clerk of the treasurer general's record room, and to her staff for the continued assistance and many courtesies received; and to Mrs. Ash, of the business office, for her valued advice on distribution of educational material.

CLAUDIA P. SHRAMEK
(Mrs. Frank Shramek),
Chairman.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

It is with appreciation of the work of the national vice chairman of National Defense Committee, the State and chapter chairmen and Regents, and the individual members that I present this annual report.

Due to the solid foundation laid by the preceding chairmen of the National Defense Committee, it has been possible to continue and extend the committee's educational program. The National Defender has proved to be a popular publication that has brought many letters of praise. It is sent each month with other selected material to all State and chapter chairmen of the National Defense Committee, to NSDAR officers, and to the regents of DAR State Societies and chapters.

Chapter chairmen were urged to encourage the presentation of DAR Good Citizenship medals in their local schools. Our records show that more than 4,000 of these medals were purchased during the year for distribution to students who have demonstrated the required qualifications for receiving the award.

Annual reports were received from 2,351 DAR chapters. Many chapters made financial contributions to the work of this committee. A gift of money was received from a patriotic citizen in memory of the late Constantine Brown. Such additional funds enable the committee to provide free literature to church groups, ministers, school children, libraries, and other groups and organizations. More than 200 debate kits were distributed to high school debating teams. The debate material was on labor-management.

ENID H. GRISWOLD
(Mrs. Frederick Griswold, Jr.),
Chairman.

PROGRAM

The theme of the year, "Where the Spirit of the Lord Is, There Is Liberty" (II Corinthians, 3:7), was widely used as a subject by speakers. One such talk by a member is now on file in the office of the Program Committee, and a copy has been given to the president general as a memento of the first theme she chose in her administration. The theme inspired a slide program on "Old Existing Churches of Illinois."

For the period ending February 1, 1966, the office of this committee reported 460 reservations for slides and 3,502 requests for papers. Chapters showed enthusiastic interest in presenting programs of the highest quality, and practically all of them made use of the "Outline of Suggested Programs." The content and appearance of most of the chapter yearbooks proved to be a source of pride. With a desire to improve programs and yearbooks still further, the chapters generally have asked that the program suggestions and the letter of instructions from the national chairman be sent to them in May. This request will be honored, and copies of material will be sent to each chapter regent and each State chairman and national vice chairman of the Program Committee. A new program catalogue will be printed later in the summer.

Winner of the special award for the greatest number of DAR diamond jubilee programs in proportion to the number of chapters was Pennsylvania, with 135 chapters and 182 programs. Many jubilee programs were sent in, and a number of others were described in letters. The best original material included two plays, a talk that included two poems and a pledge of rededication, and a script of a television program that called for the showing of the birthplace of the first vice president general, Mrs. William D. Cabell, who was one of the 18 organizing members of the National Society.

Winning first awards in the slide program contest were Cayuga Chapter, Ithaca, New York, and Biloxi Chapter, Biloxi, Mississippi. The Cayuga Chapter sent slides for several programs, including "Historic Houses of the Central Hudson Valley," "Four Houses Near Boston," and "Letchworth State Park." This chapter made a valuable contribution to American history of the Colonial and Revolutionary periods, to American heritage, and to scenes portraying America the Beautiful. The Biloxi Chapter gave a complete picture of the Mississippi Gulf Coast in a program that combined the old and the new and included buildings, industries, trees, flowers, vistas, and so forth.

Winning second places were Davie Poplar Chapter, Chapel Hill, North Carolina, with "Historic Homes and Buildings of Hillsborough, North Carolina"; the Illinois State Society, with "Old Existing Churches of Illinois"; and Remember Allerton Chapter, Monticello, Illinois, for three programs for Junior American Citizens Clubs—"Christmas of Yesteryear," "Tour of Allerton Park," and "Illinois Heritage Trail."

Third-place winners were San Antonio de Bexar Chapter, San Antonio, Texas, for slides of the city's surrounding area; Chester County Chapter, Pennsylvania, for slides of the county; and the Arizona DAR State Society for "Indians of the Southwest."

Other outstanding slide programs were "The Arnold Trail in Maine"; "Old Homes and Buildings in Northampton County, Virginia"; "Old Episcopal Churches in the Norfolk, Virginia, Area"; "Covered Bridges"; "Historic St. Mary's County, Maryland"; and separate sets of slides of Tamasee, Kate Duncan Smith, Berry, and Hillside Schools. "The Guns that Made the Nation" was a 50-minute tape recording. Some of the best papers were titled "Historic White House" (through the Kennedy administration); "Early Patriotic Music of the United States"; "Benjamin Franklin"; "Our Early American Heritage Derived from the Magna Charta"; "McGuffey and His Readers"; and "Lest We Forget."

LAURA DICKERSON,
Chairman.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

The Public Relations Committee had an active and busy year publicizing far and wide the historic, educational, and patriotic accomplishments of the Daughters of the American Revolution, built on the heritage of the past 75 years.

The director of public relations and the national chairman prepared articles for DAR Magazine and channeled to its Editor topics on activities of outstanding interest. Special press releases were distributed to the chapters in order to keep the members fully informed of various fields of DAR activity.

Many DAR State Societies and chapters acted on the recommendation of the public relations office to assemble a "kit of tools" that would contain leaflets, pamphlets and brochures telling of the aims and activities of the various committees, so that factual information would be readily available.

A number of special features were presented throughout the country in recognition of the diamond jubilee year. More than 100,000 specially designed stamps and car stickers in commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, went on sale on October 11, 1965, with an urgent plea to "Put stamps on your letters and in your car, Tell the world, near and far, all about the DAR."

Window displays in many parts of the country depicted DAR activities through the years, and high school papers, church bulletins and college alumnae magazines as well as various magazines and newspapers of city, state or national distribution carried feature stories or news items.

The public heard of DAR through the cooperation of 1,301 radio stations, saw DAR in action through programs and announcements on 333 television stations, and read about DAR activities in 3,013 daily and 1,749 weekly newspapers. The press publicity totaled 723,185 column inches of type and 176,021 column inches in 13,510 photos.

Promoting the incentive to publicize this special year were two contests—for the Best Feature Story and for the best Diamond Jubilee Story. Many chapters in most States participated and competition was keen. Also in contest were 25 "press books" from as many DAR State Societies. Each press book was a masterpiece and received a commendation from the panel of judges.

Senator Dorf of Maryland, presented a Senate Resolution honoring the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Honorable Del Clawson of California recognized the DAR in a speech that appeared in the Congressional Record.

News releases from the public relations office covered items such as: The statement of the president general in support of the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, as amended, and in opposition to a proposed liberalizing of S. 500; the authorization for establishment of a DAR membership commission; the DAR cooperation in the White House program to maintain natural beauty; the appointment of a former Navy officer as managing director of Constitution Hall; announcements regarding Constitution Week; items on the Diamond Jubilee Celebration; the establishing of the $8,000 NSDAR American History Scholarship; and items on the DAR Congress.

MARY ELLEN MINTON

(Mrs. Harvey A. Minton),
Chairman.

STUDENT LOAN AND SCHOLARSHIP

The work of this committee is a true inspiration, and the letters of inquiry that were received during the year show a real interest in the program. More than 150 inquiries were answered.

DAR chapters in several States, including Mississippi, Idaho, and Florida, reported interesting fund-raising projects. Student loan and scholarship funds were established at State universities by several DAR chapters and State Societies.

Prizes, according to membership ranking, went to Hawaii (under 1,000 members), Washington (1,000 to 3,000 members), Michigan (3,000 to 5,500 members), and Texas (over 5,500 members). The Texas DAR Society reported that 118 loans totaling $22,772.43, were made and 35 scholarships, totaling $9,363.75, were awarded. Six State universities have trust funds established for student loans and scholarships.

Hawaii was awarded a prize for the State making the largest contribution percentage-wise. The 127 members of the Hawaii DAR State Society made student loans totaling $6,100.

Following is a summary of reports received from 46 DAR State Societies:

101 Scholarships.....	$28,141.28
545 Student Loans.....	58,220.93
Miscellaneous gifts.....	3,680.40
Scholarships to American Indians.....	9,272.03
Investment Scholarships to Schools.....	15,475.26
Occupational Therapy Scholarships.....	2,500.00
Caroline E. Holt Nursing Scholarships.....	2,600.00
Total	$119,889.90

It is with pride that we look forward to participation in the new NSDAR American History Scholarship Award plans. This is an annual four-year college scholarship for $8,000, to be released at the rate of $2,000 a year for a senior high school boy or girl. The first award will be made in the spring of 1967.

ELIZABETH C. ANGLE
(Mrs. Robert Orr Angle),
Chairman.

THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

During the past year the Daughters of the American Revolution gave more than over 35,000 United States flags to schools, youth groups, naturalized citizens, draftees, community centers, churches, towns, parks, and housing projects. A unique presentation was made by a Texas chapter whose Vice Regent has a son in the Quartermaster Corps in Viet Nam. He wrote that he missed seeing the American flag flying over his base. The U.S. Government leases the land on which the bases are built, and the flag cannot be flown there because it is not United States soil. As his desk is United States property, however, his mother suggested that he obtain permission to have a flag desk set. His area and battalion commanders were most enthusiastic about this idea as a morale builder for the men. As a result, 30 flag desk sets were sent to Viet Nam by this Texas chapter. Other chapters influenced real estate developers to present flags and flag codes to purchasers of houses in new developments. Many chapters studied the flag code during their meetings and over 40,000 were distributed. Almost 980 chapters cooperated this year.

Two chapters in Idaho gave six textured flags for the blind to a school for the deaf and blind. These flags are made of red velvet and white silk grosgrain stripes with raised embroidered white stars on a field of blue felt. By touching these different textures the blind can "see," as it were, the beauty of Old Glory.

On Flag Day, in cooperation with a large shopping center, five chapters in Virginia maintained a booth where the members told the story of the Flag of the United States of America to school children and gave 2,000 flags and 2,000 pieces of flag literature. Other State Societies set up similar booths during the year at State and county fairs and at DAR State conferences.

There has been a growing tendency on the part of American citizens to fail to display proper respect for the flag, and this Committee has placed particular emphasis on curbing this indifference and on strengthening our commitment to American ideals. Last year, nearly 1,000 cases of misuse or disrespect to the flag were corrected. A protest made by this chairman of a woman's undergarment being made in flag colors and advertised as the "Stars 'n Stripes Panty Girdle" resulted in the immediate withdrawal of the garment from the market and an apology from the manufacturer. This incident received world-wide publicity in newspapers and national publicity on radio and television. The BBC in London also carried the story. Hundreds of letters from patriotic men and women were received praising the stand taken by the DAR. An Australian newspaper reporter commented that he did not blame us for objecting to this use of our flag's colors because the people of his country certainly would not want the Union Jack treated that way.

As a special project during the three years of the "diamond jubilee administration," this committee is asking every DAR chapter in the United States and the DAR units overseas to present at least one full program on the Flag of the United States of America.

Following is a summary of the flag material distributed by the 978 DAR chapters that reported their activities of the past year:

Division	Large flags	Small flags	Flag codes
Northeastern.....	108	2,469	2,852
Eastern.....	154	11,012	7,531
Southeastern.....	238	6,012	4,085
East Central.....	102	3,485	5,244
North Central.....	73	1,140	3,643
South Central.....	120	6,263	6,115
Western.....	134	4,388	9,962
Total.....	929	34,769	39,432

The DAR units in England and France reported that the Flag of the United States of America is displayed and the Pledge of Allegiance is given at all chapter meetings.

MALA MANNERS CRITTENDEN
(Mrs. W. Carl Crittenden),
Chairman.

TRANSPORTATION

This committee has two distinct but closely related functions—transportation and traffic safety.

The transportation function includes getting members to chapter meetings and to insure better attendance. It is the senior members who often helped to establish DAR chapters, and their counsel is always needed; and the younger members are the ones who eventually will carry on the work of the various chapters, so their presence at chapter meetings also is needed. In addition this committee cooperates with the Program Committee in arranging pilgrimages to historical areas within a city, county, or State, and it arranges tours to district, State, and national DAR meetings, thus enabling many to attend such meetings who might not be able to do so otherwise.

A total of 1,585 chapters reported having transportation committees with chairmen. Over 20,000 members were reported as having been transported to chapter meetings or to other DAR meetings; and 345 different pilgrimages were reported. Several DAR State Societies planned to have chartered bus tours to the 75th Continental Congress, and one State Society planned to charter a plane.

This committee also is active in the field of traffic safety. Many members have attended traffic safety meetings, and many chapters had programs on that subject. Chapters reported a close working arrangement with their city and highway patrolmen and with all law enforcement officials. Specifically, chapters reported having about 1,000 programs that covered some phase of safety. At least 500 chapters reported the urging or sponsoring of safe driving for high school students, and 900 safety films and lectures were given. One DAR State Society reported that nine chapters have some type of report on safety at each meeting. In some States, DAR members attended court sessions in traffic courts and played important parts in obtaining traffic lights and stop signs where needed. Some State Societies urged legislation on traffic safety and asked that photographs and eye examination results be required on driver licenses.

REPORTS OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE COMMITTEES

AUDITING

The Auditing Committee met on April 14, 1966, in the office of the treasurer general to compare the reports of the treasurer general, Mrs. Henry Stewart Jones, and of Lybrand, Ross Brothers, and Montgomery, independent public accountants.

After careful examination, the reports were found to be in accord:

FLORENCE C. HARRIS
(Mrs. Frank L. Harris),
Chairman.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

Listed below are some of the major improvements and renovations made during the first year of this administration:

The president general's reception room in Constitution Hall was cleaned; an adjoining room was rearranged and redecorated; and the president general's offices on the second floor were completely renovated.

The Assembly Room was painted and refurbished.

The Pennsylvania Lobby and floors were cleaned.

The entrance of the Administration Building on D Street, the corridor beyond the entrance, and the small hall facing the corridor were cleaned and renovated.

A complete renovation of the staff dining room, including new flooring, painting, and installation of new tables. This work is almost finished.

The graveled walk at Founders Memorial was replaced by a flagstone courtyard.

The office of the corresponding secretary general was painted and other renovations were made for better working conditions there.

New plantings were put in around the grounds where shrubs and trees had been severely damaged by winter weather.

Much of the maintenance work was done by our own hard-working men. Their work included the repairing or replacing of motors and the many other items necessary to keep our buildings in first-class working condition.

It has been apparent for several years that renovation of Constitution Hall was again necessary. The wall coverings on the boxes are worn, the stage curtains are in shreds, and the seats have long been needing new upholstery. Although such renovations are costly, it was absolutely necessary that the work be done this year in order to meet competition in future years.

We have had many requests for air conditioning of Constitution Hall over the past years—not only from those renting the Hall but from our own members. It had been believed that the cost of air conditioning would be prohibitive, but after a very thorough survey it was found that—due to the advanced thinking of the architect who designed the Hall—the necessary vents were already in place and the cost of air conditioning would be one-third of that anticipated. To keep in tune with the times, air conditioning was considered necessary for our own protection, for the benefit of our patrons, and for meeting the additional cultural requirements of the city and surrounding area. It also was felt that air conditioning would lengthen the rental season of the Hall, and the optimistic remarks of our main tenants confirmed this feeling. In recent talks with our chief clients it was realized that our rental fees have been quite moderate—low, in fact—and that they should have advanced in accord with higher costs in every field. We are sure that the cost of air conditioning and renovation can be met by a means of increased rentals.

Last season 80 events were held in the Hall, compared to 67 in the same period of the previous season. Projected figures show that 28 events are already scheduled, 17 more than in May of last year.

BETTY NEWKIRK SEIMES
(Mrs. Erwin F. Seimes),
Chairman.

FINANCE

The chairman of the Finance Committee submitted a report covered by vouchers approved in the amount of $1,013,476.50 for the year ending February 28, 1966. Larger amounts allocated to specific funds were as follows:

Postage :	$31, 246. 21
Supplies :	32, 749. 87
Printing :	312, 029. 67
Maintenance and repairs :	46, 576. 21
Awards, gifts and gratuities :	8, 210. 24
Items for re-sale :	27, 645. 59
Appropriations :	18, 465. 08
Gas, electricity, heat and water :	23, 992. 01
DAR Schools :	181, 550. 17
American Indians :	50, 503. 21
Office equipment :	19, 889. 29
Scholarships :	22, 824. 11

A detailed statement is given in the report of the treasurer general.

RUTH W. D. ZIESMER
(Mrs. F. A. Paul Ziesmer),
Chairman.

INSIGNIA

The continuous interest shown by members and chapters all over the country in DAR insignia is inspiring to this chairman, as it reveals the respect accorded to this important aspect of the National Society. Since the Insignia Committee is an administrative one, many DAR State Societies have no chairman of insignia and make no report. Therefore, the following is only a summary of a few facts.

A new State chairman's pin is now available from J. E. Caldwell and Company. The design includes an eagle above a blue enamel bar carrying the name of the committee. It is available in two qualities—14-karat gold and gold-filled—and can be engraved with the name of the State and of the chairman. For all insignia, members should send direct to the jewelers for illustrated folders and price lists.

The beautiful diamond jubilee commemorative plate, available from Caldwell's and priced at $10, is a truly valuable and lasting memento of this 75th anniversary of the National Society. Every member should have one.

A revised leaflet on the DAR insignia will soon be available, as well as new material for programs.

Reports were received of artistic and impressive displays of the insignia in connection with diamond jubilee events and also of gifts of various pins, official ribbons, and other DAR articles as special features of the chapters' observances.

During the past year the National Society received commissions of well over $4,000 from Caldwell and Company on the sale of DAR insignia and related items and of about $300 on the sale of the diamond jubilee plates.

JANE E. BARROW
(Mrs. Edward R. Barrow),
Chairman.

PERSONNEL

This chairman has been at headquarters prior to and during the Executive Committee meetings throughout the year. All members of the Personnel Committee realize the importance of doing everything possible for the well-being and improvement of conditions for our fine staff—these loyal, dedicated people who carry on the work at headquarters during each administration. With the effort being made for new members, the work load naturally has increased, and we have made every effort to get full-time employees where most needed.

We have always had quite a large turnover of new employees, and this has been very costly. Reasons for the high turnover are many—including illness, marriage, change of location, and, of course, the ever-present one of the higher salaries. We now have 138 employees, including the clerical, buildings and grounds, and maintenance staffs. Plans are being made to carefully review salary schedules and job responsibilities so a report may be made to the Executive Committee on how to improve some of the existing salary inequities.

We have many fine employees who carry an enormous work load, and no praise would be too high for these loyal people. Many of them are members of the National Society and this, in some measure, may account for their dedication to duty and excellent cooperation.

BETTY NEWKIRK SEIMES
(Mrs. Erwin F. Seimes),
Chairman.

PRINTING

Our Society, with over 65 administrative, national, special, and other committees, requires tremendous quantities of forms, letterheads, report blanks, etc., just to keep in business. To these, of course, should be added the letters in the so-called "fall mailing." These communications from the Executive Committee, the chairman of the national committees, and a few special committees are especially important at the beginning of an administration when instructions must be sent to the chapters and groundwork laid for efficient operation.

The 75th anniversary celebration in October last year entailed preparation and distribution of special letters describing the events of the celebration week.

All letters, when received, were edited, retyped by Mrs. Yochim for duplication, and then given to Charles Hughes, director of the printing office, who processed them speedily and carefully. Mr. Hughes also was responsible for printing letterheads and envelopes for members of the new Executive Committee and national chairmen, as well as for printing questionnaires, reprints, forms, and charts. It is estimated that such items could well total nearly 2 million.

The recording secretary general revised the popular booklet titled "What the Daughters Do"; the Registrar General prepared a helpful pamphlet on genealogical research; the national chairman of the DAR School Committee brought the school publication up to date; the JAC handbook is being revised; and the first vice president general is busy revising the DAR handbook. The new membership cards and the shortened application form should also be mentioned.

As in the past, outside printers have handled the printing that our shop is not equipped to process, such as the Proceedings of Continental Congress and the Annual Directory of Committees.

I should like to acknowledge the cooperative spirit of Mrs. Yochim, Mrs. Daum, Mrs. Ash, and Mrs. Borkovec, as well as that of the four members of the committee. This assignment was made much less arduous by their ready assistance.

MABEL E. WINSLOW
Chairman.

RESOLUTIONS

On Tuesday, April 12, with 32 members present, the Resolutions Committee began the almost impossible task of culling the more than 300 resolutions that had been sent to the chairman. That first session was devoted to discarding those resolutions which were strictly local or of no concern to our Society.

Next, a decision was made on the 20 resolutions which were to be covered in the final 12 resolutions submitted to the DAR Continental Congress. Incorporated in that list were those subjects which seemed to have the strongest support of State Societies and chapters.

A written ballot then was taken to determine which 12 of the 20 were to be presented in resolution form.

MARJORIE MANLOVE
(Mrs. Stanley T. Manlove),
Chairman.

RESOLUTIONS

Adopted by the Seventy-fifth Continental Congress

National Society
Daughters of the American Revolution

April 18-22, 1966

REDEDICATION

"Where the spirit of the Lord is—there is liberty"

Whereas educational programs of the Daughters of the American Revolution, have recognized and emphasized the value of character building and the development of spiritual fortitude; and

Whereas the precepts set forth in the Holy Bible have influenced indelibly the lives and thinking of free men throughout the centuries and especially gave inspiration to the framers of the Constitution of the United States of America;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, extend sincere congratulations to the American Bible Society on its one hundred and fiftieth anniversary, with appreciation for the immeasurable values contributed to the spiritual development of mankind by making available, through distribution of the Holy Bible, knowledge of the "spirit of the Lord";

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, emphasize rededication to the development of individual spiritual fortitude and to continuing service to Home and Country—a Nation under God with liberty and justice for all.

THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Whereas the Flag of the United States of America is the emblem of the Nation and a symbol of liberty wherever displayed; and

Whereas apathy, indifference and lack of respect for the Flag are becoming increasingly evident by incidents of desecration and sometimes violent destruction; and

Whereas Public Law 829 (Flag Code) does not provide penalties for desecration and misuse of the Flag;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, support legislation which would make desecration of the Flag of the United States of America a Federal offense with penalties of fines and/or imprisonment.

SUPPORT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA ARMED FORCES

Whereas testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee and public statements by high Government officials cause grave concern that the armed forces of the United States of America are being sacrificed in wars without adequate military support and equipment or declared goals of military victory; and

Whereas American military strength has been weakened by crucial shortages; by unilateral United States Disarmament Agency cutbacks of major new weaponry, as well as by serious depletion of American maritime and air strength, by elimination of key foreign bases; reduced nuclear research; and by lack of anti-missile defenses; and

Whereas our armed forces are further undermined by allies plying enemy ports with trade, and now increased American trade and aid to the communist bloc are advocated; and

Whereas important sources advocate coalition goals with communist representatives when coalition historically achieves enemy take-over, dishonors our pledges, and makes senseless the sacrifices of American youth;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, express its whole-hearted support and gratitude to the men serving in our armed forces; assert there should be no continuing commitments of our troops without well-defined national objectives; urge an end to disarmament programs and trade with the enemy; and urge that no American soldier be asked to serve without full military support to assure victory.

EXTENSION OF OCEANOGRAPHIC RESEARCH

Whereas research in oceanography, which leads to knowledge of the geological, chemical and biological resources in ocean space, is vital to the existence of this Nation; and

Whereas oceanography includes the study of the motions in and internal stresses of ocean space—and the exploration of the ocean floor, important in underwater communications—particularly in the area of national defense; and

Whereas there are bills before Congress to provide for sea-grant colleges to train personnel for the needed expansion of our scientific interest in oceanographic research;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, commend Congress, industry and scientific institutions for the development in this field and encourage even more concerted effort to train the scientists and technicians necessary for the expansion of an educational program of oceanography, marine mining, aqua culture and related fields.

PANAMA CANAL

Whereas the United State Senate has the power to block proposed new treaties revoking America's perpetual treaty rights over the Panama Canal by surrender of Canal Zone sovereignty and shared administrative responsibility to the Panama Republic, under terms which could deny to the United States access and defense rights; and

Whereas the Canal Zone is a territorial possession of the United States of America, constitutionally acquired by treaty with Panama and purchased from individual property owners, and the Panama Canal was built at the sole cost of the United States of America and has been efficiently maintained and operated to the great benefit of Panama and the world; and

Whereas loss of this vital artery for peaceful or military transport, essential to national and hemispheric economy and defense, would gravely weaken America; would give away billions of American tax-paid Canal Zone investments; would cause a major loss of our world prestige and power, and would hand a triumph to our enemies, who are now entrenched in the Caribbean;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, favor no United States surrender or further abrogation to Panama of the United States of America's absolute treaty rights over this strategic Canal Zone.

CONSULAR CONVENTION (TREATY)

Whereas the United States Senate Internal Security Subcommittee warns that ratification by the United States Senate of the proposed Consular Convention (treaty) with Soviet Russia would sanction centers of espionage and subversion by allowing establishment of Soviet consulates in our major cities, granting unlimited exemption from criminal jurisdiction for all Soviet consular officials and employees; and

Whereas the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation points out that the great majority of the 800 communist-bloc official personnel, already stationed in the United States, protected by immunity from prosecution, have engaged in intelligence assignments; and

Whereas it has been charged that the agreement contains unprecedented concessions to the communists, while, with the increasingly precarious political situation in Latin America, ratification would, by example, lead to further communist diplomatic establishments throughout this hemisphere; and

Whereas five members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee also charged that ratification will result in unlimited immunity for the consular personnel of 27 other countries with which we have consular conventions, including Communist Romania and Yugoslavia;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, oppose this self-defeating agreement and urge rejection of the proposed Consular Convention as an unwarranted risk to hemispheric defense and national security.

ATLANTIC UNION

Whereas after a long and bitter war, the United States won independence and has endured as a free and sovereign Nation for almost 200 years, an example and hope for all mankind; and

Whereas powerful political forces have launched a new drive for an "Atlantic Union," which in their own words would modify "our ancient idea of sovereignty," would destroy our independence and control our economy; and

Whereas the United States would have to surrender its right and power to coin money, to levy taxes and tariffs, to regulate immigration, to enact citizenship laws, to declare war and to maintain standing armies, and would be subject to the jurisdiction of world courts in which American citizens could be tried and convicted; and

Whereas plans for Atlantic Union which are intended to lead to world government are already far advanced, as enunciated in the Declaration of Paris, and these plans envisage a Federal Union within the framework of the United Nations in which the Soviet Union has potential majorities and enormous powers;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, alert its members to these attempts to destroy the national sovereignty of the United States of America through the participation in any Atlantic or Federal Union.

PROMOTION OF RIFLE PRACTICE

Whereas the National Board for Promotion of Rifle Practice, organized under the Army by Act of Congress 1903, is successfully fulfilling its assigned mission of training civilians of military age in the safe, efficient and responsible use of military-type rifles; and

Whereas the National Rifle Association of America is working in cooperation with the National Board of Promotion of Rifle Practice by organizing adult and junior clubs, furnishing trained instructors, conducting marksmanship tournaments throughout the Country; and

Whereas actual experience has proven that men entering military service with previous rifle training are more capable in combat, thus improving their chances for survival;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, commend the National Board for Promotion of Rifle Practice and the National Rifle Association of America for their work in training civilians of military age and the youth of America as riflemen, so that they may better serve their Country in time of need, and encourage the continuance and expansion of these training programs.

SENATE CONFIRMATION OF FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION DIRECTOR

Whereas the Honorable J. Edgar Hoover has served with distinction and effectiveness since 1924; and

Whereas it becomes urgent upon his possible retirement that a competent and qualified man be appointed to succeed him;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, approve the proposal that this appointment be subject to the "advice and consent" of the Senate as stated in a current bill before the Congress of the United States of America; the said bill containing the following requirements: "Each Director of the F.B.I. shall be appointed only from those individuals who (1) are serving as Associate Director, Assistant to the Director, Assistant Directors, Inspectors and Agents of the F.B.I. at the time of such appointment, and (2) who have served as a full-time officer or employee of the F.B.I for a period or periods aggregating not less than seven years during the ten-year period immediately preceding the date of such appointment."

MONETARY POLICIES

Whereas the American economy, strained by dollar-deficit trade problems, uncurbed domestic and foreign spending, and a rapidly increasing war effort, is suffering an inflation which continues to reduce the purchasing power of the dollar, threaten all life savings, insurance, annuities, bonds and fixed incomes, and raise living costs to a new high; and

Whereas the United States Congress recently authorized the participation of the United States in a new multi-billion dollar Asian Development Bank to aid all Asian countries, "regardless of ideology," which this Country, principally, will be expected to fund; and

Whereas an International or World Monetary System, now proposed, would further encroach on our national sovereignty, block national disciplines necessary to a sound currency, and increase distrust of the American dollar;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, advocate the separation of foreign aid programs from international credit agencies, the restraint of domestic and foreign spending, and oppose participation in international currency systems as a threat to the sovereignty of the Nation.

COMMENDATION OF LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICERS

Whereas lawlessness and mass disobedience are increasing in volume and violence, leaving citizens in fear for life and property; and

Whereas recent decisions of the courts have added to the problems of law enforcement and tended to increase crime; and

Whereas the police are not only under constant harassment which is demoralizing, but also their morale is being lowered by the interference of Civilian Review Boards, resulting in increased police resignation and difficulty in recruiting men of the right caliber;

Resolved, That National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, commend law enforcement officers in their efforts to maintain the basic principles of just and durable government;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, urge positive programs designed to teach respect for law and order.

INTERSTATE COMPACT ON EDUCATION

Whereas an "Interstate Compact on Education" between all states and territories, initiated in 1965 to "promote and encourage local and state initiative in the development . . . and improvement of education," proposes a membership of state governors, state legislators, politically appointed commissioners, and federal appointees; and

Whereas, if ratified by states,* this political approach would add to federal

*The Virgin Islands and the following 15 states have ratified this Interstate Compact either by legislative or executive action as of April 1966: Arkansas, Hawaii, Minnesota, New Jersey, Texas, Illinois, New Hampshire, Idaho, New Mexico, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah, Washington, Wyoming, and Ohio.

educational political controls, which already supersede America's guaranteed constitutional rights to state and local educational controls; and Whereas this Compact has the following disadvantages or added educational costs:

- (1) It would require state education commissions, which are not now mandatory in all states.
- (2) It stresses new research programs, when research programs are now criticized by educational associations as often duplicative or over-extensive.
- (3) It would override state referendums against the cost or potential propaganda misuse of state educational TV networks.
- (4) The Compact would be free from further legislative review of salaries or personnel control, would be self-amending in its purposes and bylaws, and could add immeasurably to present $24 billion state educational costs.
- (5) It duplicates three existing smaller regional compacts and on a national scale could outweigh state governments in dealing with Congress or the United States Office of Education, and might become a vehicle for imposing international control of education;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, oppose state ratification of membership in the "Interstate Compact on Education" because of uncontrolled costs and purposes and because its political orientation makes unlikely the Compact's desirable stated goal of restored state and local educational control and improvement.

EDUCATIONAL DILEMMAS

Whereas public education in the United States of America was established for the acquisition of general knowledge—not for the promotion of political or social ideologies; and

Whereas understanding of the Present is based upon objective knowledge of the Past, with a growing comprehension of the individual's responsibility under the Constitution of the United States of America, and with his acceptance of these responsibilities as coequal with his rights; and

Whereas there are increasing evidences of a slanting or rewriting of textbooks to support a point of view; of the addition to libraries of new books recommended on slanted, professional reading lists, while at the same time the withdrawal of standard works is accomplished; of the inclusion in English classes of books verging upon the obscene—with the result that there is a breakdown of discipline, a deterioration in the student's religious, moral and ethical convictions and less sense of personal pride and dignity;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, work to insure that our schools present unbiased American history; that our children understand the classic meaning of freedom in a constitutional republic; and that our children be educated with a renewed sense of self-discipline and moral obligation.

APPRECIATION TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Resolved, That grateful appreciation is hereby expressed by the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, to the President of the United States of America for his message to the Seventy-fifth Continental Congress.

APPRECIATION TO THE PRESIDENT GENERAL

Resolved, That the Seventy-fifth Continental Congress of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, express sincere appreciation to the President General, Mrs. William H. Sullivan, Jr., for her untiring efforts in making this, the Diamond Jubilee year of the Society, an outstanding one; for her able conduct of this Congress; and for her dedicated devotion to the principles and ideals of our beloved organization.

APPRECIATION TO THE CHAIRMAN OF THE RESOLUTIONS COMMITTEE

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, express to Mrs. Stanley T. Manlove its sincere appreciation for her gracious and capable direction as the Chairman of the Resolutions Committee.

COURTESY RESOLUTION

Whereas the Seventy-fifth Continental Congress of the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, has been inspiring, educational and beneficial; and

Whereas this has been possible through the concerted efforts of those who planned the program, as well as those who took part;

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, express deep appreciation to the Officers, the Chairmen, the Pages, to all who had a part on the program, and especially to:

The entire personnel of the staff for their loyal service throughout the year and during this Congress,

The United States Service Bands for the concerts,

The artists who shared generously of their talents,

The speakers for enlightening and inspiring messages,

The police and firemen for their courteous attention and protection,

The press, radio and television for coverage of these meetings, and

The large number of individual members who contributed to the success of the Seventy-fifth Continental Congress.

REPORTS OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEES

AMERICAN HISTORY MONTH

A DAR American History Scholarship of $8,000 for a college student who will major in American history was established by the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, during the observance of American History Month in February 1966. This award is a significant addition to the already extensive DAR program of assistance in the educational field. The new award will be pro-rated to the student at $2,000 per year at the college of his or her choice. It is hoped that this new award will provide incentive for the study of American history in the upper grades. No affiliation or relationship with the DAR is necessary to qualify for this scholarship.

The American History Month Committee again sponsored its annual American History Essay Contest for the 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th grades. The subject was "George Washington's Advice," and there were 60,362 contestants. The national winners, each of whom won a $25 U.S. savings bond, were Richard Reed of Delhi, New York, 5th grade; Faith Miyamoto of Honolulu, Hawaii, 6th grade; Brad Waller of Weldon, Iowa, 7th grade; Barbara Broadwater, Union Bridge, Maryland, 8th grade. Each of the 24 division winners was awarded a copy of Chronicles of the American Revolution. Hundreds of other prizes were awarded by DAR chapters and State societies. Cooperating in this contest were 2,579 public schools and 977 private or parochial schools.

At the request of the DAR, February was proclaimed American History Month by the governors of 47 States and by the mayors of 1,000 cities. In addition, DAR activity during American History Month resulted in 3,716 stories and editorials and 1,647 pictures in newspapers that totaled 48,257 column inches of newspaper publicity.

The essay contest is not the only American History Month activity sponsored by the DAR in our schools. DAR chapters gave 5,172 DAR American History medals for excellence in American History and 8,573 American history certificates. At the request of DAR chapters, American History Month activities in the schools included 656 school assemblies, 251 articles in school papers, and 1,124 class discussions.

The American History Month Committee issued scripts for radio spot announcements on various historical accounts that ranged in time from 30 to 60 seconds for each day during February. These spot announcements proved to be particularly popular; 5,876 of these announcements were used on radio (21,170 minutes) and 931 were used on television (1,702 minutes). Many schools used these announcements over their loud-speaker systems. In Illinois every day during February, a dairy printed a different DAR American History spot announcement on its 15,000 cartons of milk delivered to 38 towns.

DAR members cooperated fully in the observance of American History Month: 1,770 chapters featured an American History Month program; 513 chapters put on 1,294 displays in various public places; 520 chapters had 2,319 American History Month posters displayed in schools, libraries, stores, banks, town halls, museums, hotels, filling stations, and post offices, and 720 chapters used 30,029 American History Month stickers.

AMERICANA COLLECTION AND NSDAR ARCHIVES

When I reported for duty in the Archives Room I realized how few Daughters (including myself) knew much about this charming and important place or could give even a partial summary of its contents.

Enough material is on display in locked, glass-front cases to pique the curiosity of the Revolutionary researcher, but this represents only a fraction of the items carefully stowed away. Outstanding among the exhibits are several collections of autographs—of Presidents of the United States, First Ladies, members of the Federal (Constitutional) Convention, rulers of European nations at the time of the American Revolution, prime ministers, and officers of the army and navy of France.

Attractively displayed in locked cases on the south and west walls are interesting, and frequently important, documents written by those we love to call our Founding Fathers because they actually did build the foundations of the new Republic. One such document is a rather long letter written by Thomas Jefferson, as President, to Gideon Granger, of Connecticut, urging him to accept appointment as postmaster general, acknowledging that there had been much sniping against the Constitution, and vowing to surround himself with a phalanx of capable men qualified to combat this criticism. Jefferson had a rather unique way of writing—he never used a capital letter to start a sentence.

A prized possession of historical importance is a letter from George Mason in Virginia to Elbridge Gerry in Massachusetts, explaining, article by article, why he would not support a constitution without the addition of a Bill of Rights that would safeguard the rights of the individual. This letter, for which the DAR was given credit, begins: "There is great contrariety of opinion here." This letter was used as a frontispiece of the book Ordeal of the Constitu- tion by Robert A. Rutland of UCLA, cataloger of the George Mason papers.

Resolved, That the National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, express to Mrs. Stanley T. Manlove its sincere appreciation for her gracious and capable direction as the Chairman of the Resolutions Committee.

Washington's signatures are appended to documents of varying subject matter. Several of these are certificates of membership in the Society of the Cincinnati, of which many officers in the French "expeditionary force" were members. Washington's favorite general, Henry Knox, first secretary of war under the Constitution, also was a signing official.

After some familiarity with the contents of the Americana Collection had been obtained, the first real project attempted was enclosure of every flat document in a transparent acetate protector sheet to permit examination without the danger of the document tearing or even crumbling away. Incidentally, sheepskin documents seem to have worn very well, because, although stiff, they have not deteriorated. Some of our documents have reached the ripe old age of 300 years and must be handled tenderly. These documents, stored in boxes according to States and topics, may now rest somewhat more peacefully than in the past, yet both the front and back of each may be examined without damaging it. Unfortunately, some earlier donors to the Americana Collection attempted to mend torn documents with old-fashioned acetate tape, which has turned dark brown, cracked, and otherwise ruined or blocked out the writing it covers. If the torn pieces had only been laid carefully in order on the rough black paper that comes between the leaves of the acetate covering, the roughness would have kept them in place without ruining them with the tape.

The category that contains the largest number of items (these are packed in boxes, according to States) consists of "Indentures" (we would call them deeds.) The deeded (or more frequently, sold) objects run the gamut from salt marsh lands to cow rights and ox fences, or maybe cemetery lots and church "stalls."

There are also boxes of letters, wills, household accounts, bills for ship equipment (including rum), signed statements giving the war service of applicants for Revolutionary War pensions, some diaries, Quaker marriage intentions, and so forth.

Now what would be the best practical use to which this collection of "treasures and trivia" could be put? After a few hundred deeds had been examined, it occurred to me that they offered one means of attaining the president general's objective of building up membership by proving new lines. The method was simplicity itself. It was, simply, to check each of these deeds as well as all other documents in the Americana Collection and to index all the names contained thereon—names of places, of course, arranged so as to get an idea of geographical locations, as well as names of buyers, sellers, witnesses, justices of the peace who attested to the appearance of witnesses, and town registrars who had listed the property concerned in the town land records. Moreover, on second inspection, it was found that many of these deeds also included the names of persons who owned land adjacent to that named on the deed. There may be persons tracing family lines who need proof that an ancestor was living at a certain place at a certain time, that he or she owned property, or that he was considered reliable enough to be accepted as a witness on a document as important as a deed.

In addition, if the persons who signed as justices of the peace or as registrars did so between 1765 and 1791, giving them 10 years on either side of the Revolutionary dates, these men could be considered "officials" and their descendants' applications for membership validated thereby. So far, this list contains names appearing on deeds only, and through New Hampshire includes over 2,500 persons.

Variations in spelling for both signatures and text are frequently puzzling, and amusing as well. Often it takes quite a bit of sleuthing even to unscramble the names of persons and places when they are spelled three or four different ways on one document. Cross-indexing is, therefore, a necessity.

In general, middle names were not in common use until after the Revolution. Many men and women signed with marks, sometimes indicated by a blob of sealing wax. The favorite given names for the Colonial period were Jonathan for the men, Abigail for the women.

The index of names, expected to be most useful for DAR members, will be completed first. This will be followed by indexes of accessions, in numerical order, and of donors, States, counties, chapters, and subjects.

The Historians Committee of the District of Columbia DAR has given a filing cabinet that will house these indexes, match other furniture in the room, and honor the retiring District of Columbia State regent, Anna Mary McNutt.

MABEL E. WINSLOW,
Cataloger.

CLEARING HOUSE

The Clearing House Committee works to help straighten out problems of the National Committees when requested to do so.

In the past year the relationship between the American Heritage Committee and the DAR group working with the Motion Picture Board was discussed with the national DAR representatives on the Board. It was brought out that the work in motion pictures is concentrated and peculiar to New York and that the DAR Motion Picture Committee would lose prestige by being a subcommittee of the American Heritage Committee. The work actually national, and it is accomplished by a group that gives much time and energy to it every week of the year. The work of the reviewers does not appear often in DAR Magazine because newly reviewed films are quickly obsolete when they conform to a publication schedule.

As a result of the findings, the Clearing House Committee recommended that the DAR group working with the Motion Picture Board no longer be a subcommittee of the American Heritage Committee but that it be made a national committee with the name Motion Picture Committee, as it was when first established.

MABEL S. MADDOX
(Mrs. Jack F Maddox),
Chairman.

CONSTITUTION WEEK

President Lyndon B. Johnson issued the Constitution Week proclamation on 26 July 1965 and "of the Independence of the United States of America the 189th Year."

Due to unusual circumstances the national chairman's letter with questionnaire and a bulletin put out by the U.S. Department of Justice on Citizenship Day and Constitution Week did not go out until the last of August. This made it much too late for some DAR State chairmen to use the material. Many of the chairmen, however, gathered material from past years and went to work during the summer. For this I certainly thank them all.

All State Societies reported except Alaska. Forty-one governors and 1,445 mayors proclaimed Constitution Week; and 2,159 DAR chapters displayed the flag during the entire week of September 17-23. Chapters arranged 5,655 displays in banks (261), post offices (60), department stores (2,564), libraries (745), schools (1,315), Chambers of Commerce (112), and other locations (598).

Spot announcements on radio numbered about 800, and these, plus television and several interviews on television amounted to many hours of publicity. Newspapers, especially in the South, provided excellent publicity through 244 pictures and 112,970 column inches that included 563 editorials and 1,986 stories.

Programs were held at 1,305 DAR chapter meetings; DAR members arranged for programs at 1,627 schools, 715 Service clubs, 538 Scout meetings; announcements were made by 733 churches; 39 DAR chapters joined in a parade, and 31 chapters gave awards. In addition, the chapters distributed 16,500 items—citizenship books, flag codes, booklets on "What the Constitution Means to Me," and flags.

In many States the DAR produced or sponsored interesting and unusual displays, programs, and projects:

Arizona.—The DAR sent out 100 letters, each with a copy of the mayor's proclamation.

California.—Members around Los Angeles urged other members to see the play "Architects of Freedom," a dramatic story of the Constitution of the United States of America written by Judge Newcomb Condee. The play has been presented annually by the Masons since 1952. Many special meetings were held, with resulting publicity.

Colorado.—The DAR mailed letters to 603 school principals.

District of Columbia.—There was 100 percent chapter participation, and the DAR secured a proclamation from the city commissioners.

Florida.—Contests were held in 132 schools. Two boys sponsored by the Francis Broward Chapter won Freedoms Foundation Award on the topic "My Individual Freedom under the Constitution."

Georgia.—A contest was held among the chapters.

Hawaii.—Citizenship Day and Constitution Week were celebrated with naturalization services.

Illinois.—A message commemorating Constitution Week was printed on 10,000 milk cartons distributed to 38 towns over a three-day period. The DAR had two pages of publicity in the magazine Illinois Bell News.

Iowa.—Informational material on the DAR was sent to the State Fair to publicize the work of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Children of the American Revolution.

Louisiana.—A DAR booth at the State Fair displayed Constitution Week material.

Michigan.—Constitution Week was publicized in unusual editorials. One chapter had an advertisement in the Piety Hill Antique Show brochure.

Minnesota.—The Sons of the American Revolution joined with the DAR in commemorating Constitution Week. A store display featured examples of all flags used by the United States along with furniture of the same periods.

New Jersey.—The DAR State historian had a long article in the paper giving the historical background of how we gained our Constitution.

New Mexico.—The DAR presented a radio skit.

New York.—The DAR State Society sponsored a poster contest, had many column inches of publicity in newspapers, and gave out an unusual amount of material.

North Carolina.—The DAR chapters were responsible for more than 1,700 column inches of publicity on Constitution Week in newspapers and magazines.

North Dakota.—The DAR joined with the Sons of the American Revolution in commemorating Constitution Week. Signs were placed on lamp posts.

Ohio.—About 450 cards that were placed on menu folders bore the following message: "Our Constitution a Living Document. Signed 9-17-1787, ratified 6-31-1788, in effect 1789. Our Forefathers fought for it—it behooves each of us to preserve it. Pay Homage—Fly The Flag during this week."

Pennsylvania.—The DAR presented medals and arranged for announcements in church bulletins.

Rhode Island.—Libraries and schools were presented with pictures of the signing of the Constitution.

Tennessee.—The DAR was joined by the Sons of American Revolution and Children of the American Revolution in observance of Constitution Week.

Virginia.—The State DAR had a float in the Constitution Week parade and joined with the Armed Forces in a Constitution Day parade.

West Virginia.—An essay contest was sponsored, and place mats printed with the words "Daughters of the American Revolution" and "Constitution Week" were placed in restaurants.

Chairman.

DAR SCHOOL SURVEY

All nine of the DAR schools were contacted by the DAR School Survey Committee and valuable information was obtained for the 1965-68 DAR School survey. A questionnaire for the survey was compiled and a copy was given to each member of the national board, to indicate the extent of the committee's examination to be made of each school. An evaluation of the answers on this questionnaire will form a significant part of the committee's recommendations that will be made to the national board.

The DAR School Survey Committee feels that in view of the construction of the Adèle Erb Sullivan Building at Tamasee and the large debt incurred at Kate Duncan Smith, these schools should be given preference in monetary contributions from individuals and DAR chapters and State Societies in the coming year.

MARION M. BIEL
(Mrs. John Garlin Biel),
Chairman.

DAR SPEAKERS STAFF

The DAR speakers staff is comprised of Daughters who have had experience and training in the work of the Society. These members are serving or have served the DAR in various capacities on national and State levels and are fully informed as to the principles and objectives of the Society.

The committee has three aims: to help promote the president general's goal of 200,000 members in this administration; to act as liaison between the National Society and the chapters by stimulating greater interest and understanding at the chapter level of the functions and set-up of the DAR; and to speak before civic groups in order to present a true picture of the DAR.

Although this committee has been functioning for less than a year, reports from its 65 members have shown that they have been actively engaged in speaking at DAR chapter meetings, State DAR conferences, CAR meetings, and to Junior DAR groups and civic groups within their respective communities. They have spoken on current events of the Society and have stressed the history and objectives of the DAR in this 75th anniversary year. The newspaper publicity accompanying the reports sent to this chairman has been excellent and should go far in creating good public relations.

Each member of the speakers staff is kept fully informed by the National Society on all current developments through press releases from the public relations office and information from headquarters; consequently, she is fully prepared at all times to carry out the functions of the committee.

DAR State regents are not required to appoint members of this committee in their States, but the chairman would appreciate the regents recommending members they believe are qualified to serve on this committee. Members of the speakers staff are appointed by the president general. There are no representatives at the chapter level.

The roster of this committee were included in the December mailing from headquarters and will be printed in the next directory of committees.

I wish to express my appreciation to all those at headquarters who in their respective departments have been responsible for the mailings and information sent to the committee members.

JEANNETTE O. BAYLIES
(Mrs. George U. Baylies),
Chairman.

FRIENDS OF THE MUSEUM

From the time of its reestablishment in 1962, until last year the Friends of the Museum Committee had been under the direction of the curator general. After the present administration took office it was made a special committee under the direction of this chairman.

Funds subscribed to the Friends of the Museum Committee are used for the purchase of portraits and other art objects. There are six different categories for subscriptions to the Friends of the Museum. Only five State Societies have separate chairmen for this committee. In the others, the work of the DAR Museum Committee and Friends of the Museum Committee is carried out under a single chairman.

In addition to the letter sent to all DAR State chairmen in August, a letter was sent in November with enclosure of forms for reporting subscribers from the chapters to the office of the director of the DAR Museum. Also enclosed was the beautiful brochure of the Museum which could be obtained in quantity from the same office.

All forms, with names of subscribers and addresses where given, were copied and sent to Washington for inclusion in the bulletin published by the curator general's office.

Post cards were sent in March to all State Society chairmen, (except those of Hawaii and Alaska) reminding them that their reports were due. Reports have been received from 39 States.

For the first year of a new administration, the committee has done fairly well, but we must redouble our efforts for the coming year if we are to fulfill the confidence expressed by the administration in making this a special committee.

A total of $4,252.75 was subscribed for the work of this committee for 1965-1966.

ELIZABETH HOPKINS BAKER
(Mrs. Allen Langdon Baker),
Chairman.

PROGRAM REVIEWING

During the past year the Program Reviewing Committee received 54 pieces of material from 50 DAR chapters in 25 States, showing the widespread interest in the work of the Committee. The DAR State Societies sending in the most material were those of Kentucky, Missouri, New Jersey, and Virginia.

Subjects ranged through the entire scope of DAR work, with emphasis on historical subjects. Programs on American music were in general use, and several good papers on national heroes were received. The greatest number of papers were on the Constitution and what happened to its signers. Christmas programs were excellent. A number of chapters sent in manuscripts with historical and educational background, making a valuable addition to the files of the Program Committee.

The members of the Program Reviewing Committee have been gratified to note the high type of programs being given in our chapters and the interest displayed in every phase of DAR work.

RUTH MALCOLM FLEMING
(Mrs. James Surran Fleming),
Chairman.

REVISION OF BYLAWS

This committee has given careful consideration to all suggestions and proposals for amendments to the bylaws of the National Society.

A report was made to the National Board of Management in October without recommendations.

(Mrs. G. W. S. Musgrave),
Chairman.

SEVENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

The 75th anniversary of the founding of our National Society—an event that took place in Washington, D.C., on October 11, 1890—was celebrated during the week of October 10, 1965. The events connected with the Diamond Jubilee Celebration were attended by nearly all the national officers, several honorary presidents general and honorary vice presidents general, and a large number of DAR State regents and other members of the Society.

The celebration was initiated with an inspiring service of tribute to the four founders—Miss Eugenia Washington, Mrs. Mary Smith Lockwood, Mrs. Ellen Hardin Walworth, and Miss Mary Desha—that was held in Constitution Hall the afternoon of October 10. That evening the National Symphony Orchestra gave a gala concert in the Hall.

The beautifully appointed Diamond Jubilee Banquet, made gay with flowers, flags, music, and a fine program, was held on the evening of October 11. On October 13 the celebrants made a pilgrimage to Baltimore and Annapolis, where impressive programs were held and historic spots visited.

The Diamond Jubilee Celebration was featured in the October and December issues of DAR Magazine and a beautiful commemorative plate was issued to mark the Society's 75th year.

Unfortunately, records of the diamond jubilee achievements are incomplete, since many State regents failed to send reports. Among the State Societies with outstanding reports are Pennsylvania, Ohio, Texas, New York, Maryland, Iowa, Illinois, and the District of Columbia. There were a number of other very fine reports, including several from Western States having small memberships but great enthusiasm.

JANE E. BARROW
(Mrs. Edward R. Barrow),
Chairman.

National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution Washington, D.C.

We have examined the financial statements of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution listed below:

Statement of current and special funds for the year ended February 28, 1966.

Supporting statements of current and special fund cash receipts and disbursements and supporting schedules for the year ended February 28, 1966.

Schedule of investments as of February 28, 1966.

Statement of cash receipts and disbursements of the Trustees, National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution Pension Trust Fund for the year ended February 28, 1966.

Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included confirmations from depositaries and custodians of cash and investments held at February 28, 1966, and such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The statements and supporting schedules have been prepared generally on the cash receipts and disbursement basis and therefore do not purport to present the results of operations as they would appear had generally accepted accrual basis accounting principles been applied. Cash receipts and disbursements do not include dispositions and acquisitions of securities respectively except for gains or losses thereon.

In our opinion the aforementioned statements and supporting schedules present fairly the cash balances and investments at February 28, 1966 and the information set forth therein for the year then ended on the basis indicated which is consistent with that of the preceding year.

DAR OVERSEAS UNITS

UNITS OVERSEAS

It is obvious that the DAR units overseas cannot operate exactly as do those within our boundaries, but they encourage interest in the Society and the affairs of our country.

England.—The DAR increased in membership, aided Tamassee and Kate Duncan Smith Schools, and gave DAR Good Citizens medals. George Washington's birthday was celebrated with a luncheon that was attended by many English guests. The members think of the DAR as a bridge of understanding between the United States and England.

France.—Here, also, the DAR members feel the responsibility of maintaining good relations between the American and French nations. They are meticulous in celebrating all patriotic holidays.

Canal Zone.—The DAR unit, now 40 years old, observed American holidays and gave to a local school and home as well as to our own DAR Schools. As in Cuba, and Puerto Rico, the members operate under rather trying political conditions. The members in Cuba are now widely dispersed.

Mexico.—A lively and interested group of DAR members worked with many children, and especially with 65 little girls in an orphanage. The Daughters provided food and, at Christmas, they gave necessities such as sweaters and blankets in addition to toys, candies and other individual gifts. They also provided the Christmas dinner at the orphanage. In addition, they contributed to Tamassee and Kate Duncan Smith DAR Schools. Patriotic holidays were celebrated and press relations were excellent.

ADELAIDE LAWRENCE CUFF
(Mrs. Frank B. Cuff),
Chairman.

PART III

GRAVES OF SOLDIERS OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION LOCATED FROM MARCH 1, 1965, TO MARCH 1, 1966

The gathering of data on unmarked Revolutionary soldiers' graves commands special attention, as this is not just a public service but constitutes a continuing task entrusted to the DAR long ago. It is done specifically for the Government, no Federal bureau, department, or other agency having this responsibility. (Wars other than the American Revolution are covered through Government for this service.)

Locating and marking Revolutionary graves by DAR was started in 1897-98. During the first year 32 graves were reported; in the interim the number has run to 8,000 in one year. New ones recorded average 250 to 300 per year. Location of graves is not confined, as might be supposed, to the east coast and the 13 Original Colony States. A number have been verified west of the Mississippi, even into Canada. The actual number of States represented yearly ranges from 25 to 30.

Between March 1, 1965, and March 1, 1966, the DAR located 267 graves of soldiers of the American Revolution in 20 States. Data on those located graves are provided in the following tabulation:

REPORT OF THE NATIONAL SOCIETY, CHILDREN OF THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, 1965-66

The 70th Annual CAR National Convention, held in the Sheraton Park Hotel in Washington, D.C., April 1965, elected new national officers headed by Susan Hollingsworth Lewis. The senior national board, headed by Mrs. Nile E. Faust, continued in the second year of its term.

Activities of the convention began with a continental breakfast. A special visit was made to the White House, arranged through the courtesy of the First Lady, Mrs. Johnson. The CBS News network gave convention coverage through an interview with the national president concerning the work of the CAR. Opening exercises at the convention were enhanced with a colorful "Flag Story" given by the 1st Battalion, 3rd Infantry (Old Guard), U.S. Army, accompanied by the U.S. Army Band.

Highlights of the 70th convention included presentation of the CAR national president's award to Standard Oil Company of California for its sponsorship of "Standard School Broadcast"; the receipt of the George Washington Honor Medal from Freedoms Foundation of Valley Forge (CAR becoming the first group to have won the award for six consecutive years); the reading of excerpts from a tribute to CAR from the Congressional Record of April 14th, and the presentation of CAR endowment pins. The sum of $17,066 had been added to the Endowment Fund during the fiscal year with 144 new pin recipients of pins. A total of 165 pins have been issued since the inception of the CAR Endowment Fund program.

The national project of the 71st year of the CAR became two-fold: a membership drive and a continuation of support of the Endowment Fund. Emphasis was placed on the need for members and money to make CAR strong and secure to carry on its patriotic and philanthropic programs.

The four issues of the CAR National Magazine not only extended coverage of the special national projects but carried vital information pertinent to all of the 20 national standing committees. Special coverage of the 750th anniversary of the signing of the Magna Carta was given in the September issue, the story of "Music in America" unfolded in the December issue; various facets in the field of conservation were treated in the March issue; and the June issue featured the revitalized work of the Endowment Fund.

On the Fourth of July a wreath was placed on the grave of General Lafayette at Picpus Cemetery in France, and all across the United States members participated in the bell ringing and other special programs and parades. CAR also participated in extending coverage of Constitution Week and Patriotic Education Week through window displays, securing proclamations from governors and mayors, and participating in special programs and parades.

The CAR Nature Trail in the George Washington National Forest was dedicated on October 16. Mr. Edward Cliff, chief of the U.S. Forest Service was the principal speaker during the ceremonies. The National Society, CAR, also took part in the Yorktown Day wreath laying on October 19 at Victory Monument, Virginia, and its members were among the observers of the special battlefield program. It also assisted in the showing of Moore House.

The 1965 recipient of the annual national CAR award presented to a cadet of the Air Force Academy for excellence in intercollegiate forensics went to Cadet Richard Barton, Jr.

National cabinet officers traveled extensively to represent the NSCAR at many patriotic events and also at the 44 State CAR conferences and the 10 regional meetings that convened during the 71st year.

Three national essay contests were sponsored: "The Origin of Freedom and Its Meaning"; "Who Has Contributed the Most to American Literature and Why?"; and "Magna Carta's Influence in American Liberties." The national oratorical contest had as its title "Private Enterprise—The Initiative of the American Way of Life." A total of 23 different contests were incorporated in the program of the NSCAR.
